and as a Beverage it has no superior in the world. It is manufactured by the proprietor, at Schiedam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spiritous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, Bladder and Kidney Complaints, &c. &c.

Put up in quart and pint bottles, in Cases of one dozen quarts, and two dozen pints, with the proprietor's name on the bottle, cork and label. For sale by all the respectable Country Merchants and Druggists. Look out for counterfeits and imitations, as the whole country is flooded with them

I beg leave to call the attention of the American Public to the following Certificate from the Government Chemist for the Island of Cuba and the Spanish West Indies, and who is known to the Scientific men of London, Paris, Madrid, Cuba and America to be the first Chemist in the world.

UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHEMICAL TESTIMONY.

D. Jose Luis Casaseca, Corresponding Member of the Royal Academies of Madrid and Munich, a Graduate in Sciences of the Faculty of Paris, formerly Professor of Chemistry, as applied to the Arts, of the Royal Conservatorio of Madrid, and of Physics and Chemistry, as applied to the Industry and Agriculture of the country, in the Royal University of this Island, at present H. M.'s Director of the Institute of Chemical Investigation, &c., &c.

Do hereby certify, that at the request of the house of Gottig & Will, of this place, I have made an analytical examination of U. Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps, with the object of ascertaining if it contained any substance noxious to health, and to inform them as to its true composition and relative quality with the other gins that are offered in the market, and the results of my observations and experiments are as follows:—

Udolpho Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is a spirituous liquid, of a very agreeable aromatic odor, completely transparent and almost colorless, having only a very slight tint of yellowish gray; its flavor is strong and very agreeable to the palate. It marks 20 degrees in Cartier's alcohol weigher or 52 degrees 5 hundredth in Gay Lussac's alcohometre. By the distillation in a balnium maria, with an apparatus consisting of a glass retort and a recipient surrounded with ice, I have collected in this recipient an alcoholic liquid with a very agreeable aroma completely colorless and transparent, which marked 90 degrees in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, or 70 degrees 8 hundredth on Gay Lussac's alcohometre; and which represented as a whole 57 per cent. of aromatic Schiedam schnapps subject to distillation in the retort. This liquid did not soil the transparency of the distilled water in mixing it with the same, and its agreeable aroma is doubtless due to a very trifling amount of an essential oil inseparable from alcohol.

From the remainder of the distillation which was left in the retort, I have obtained, through evaporation in a vapor bath, a substance of a yellowish brown color, clear, and having a bitter taste, which is not disagreeable, and which afterwards becomes aromatic and leaves the mouth perfumed with that fragrance peculiar to the vanilla. I am inclined to think that this bitter and aromatic extractive substance, soluble in water and alcohol, the medicinal properties which are attributed to this gin are due. I have not found in 100 parts of Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps any mineral or organic substance other than the extractive one already named and the aromatic one obtained by distillation. Finally, Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps consists simply of an aromatic alcohol of 20 degrees of graduation in Cartier's alcoholic weight, or, and of an extractive bitter aromatic substance, which perhaps, is medicinal; and, on account of its not containing any matter injurious to the health, as well as its odor and good flavor—a fact which no doubt arises from the choice substances employed in its manufacture, and from the peculiar manner of its distillation, it could in my opinion, be preferred to all the Holland, Belgic and German gins which are found in this island which it has been my business to examine. These gins as I have often proved it, exhale a disagreeable odor, and have a more or less disagreeable flavor, some of them having left as was the case with the superior gin from the distillery of Mr. Henry Deetjen (of Bremen,) as residum after evaporation by steam, a substance almost insipid and very trifingly aromatic, with flavor of vanilla, but in no wise with the delicious bitter and aromatic flavor of that of Udolpho Wolfe; and others, such as that labelled "Genuine Samaritan," "Extra Superior." Messrs. Turner have furnished me with a very small quantity of a greenish substance, of harsh metallic taste and very disagreeable, which extractive organic matter was mixed with a salt of copper, with signs of iron, owing perhaps, to a bad system of distillation.

I certify that all that is here stated is the truth and agrees with the experiments I have made with the greatest care, and I authorize the house of Gottig & Will, of this city, to give publicity to this certificate, in Spanish and in foreign languages, in all countries where it may suit their interest to do so. DR. SWETT'S
CORDIAL OF DANDELION,
SPIKENARD & BONESET,

A remedy unsurpassed for Liver Complaints, such as Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, Universal Debility, and the whole family of Consumptive Complaints.

Hundreds of testimonials might be added, proving the many cures by this pleasant and effectual medicine, especially of people advanced in life, whose debilitated constitutions have been greatly recruited by it. A trial of it is warranted to well pay the aged and dyspeptic. Price 75 cents.

[From Mrs. Ira Burnham, Exeter, N. H.]

I have suffered many years from the liver and heart complaint. By these distressing diseases I was reduced so low, some two years since, that I could not sit up more than ten or fifteen minutes at a time, when I began to take Dr. Swett's Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset, which has so fully restored my health that I now daily labor and attend to the business of my large boarding house. STATE RESOLUTIONS ON NATIONAL AFFAIRS.

The following Resolutions, introduced by Mr. Cragin, were, after a long discussion, adopted by the Legislature on Monday evening.

WHEREAS, Our fathers, in rearing the magnificent structure of a free Republic, laid its foundations broad and deep in the eternal principles of right and justice—declaring as self-evident truths that ALL MEN are created equal, and endowed by their Creator with the inalienable right to life, Liberty and the pursuit of happiness; and, whereas, there is a growing tendency on the part of those who control the powers of the General Government to overlook these great and fundamental truths, and to depart from the early principles upon which the Government was based; therefore,

Resolved, 1. That the people of New Hampshire through their Representatives in Legislature assembled, declare their firm and devoted attachment to the principles embodied in the Declaration of Independence—principles which triumphed in the Revolution and hallowed the Constitution; and that, in accordance with the exhortation of James Madison, they will ever remember that the rights for which America contended, "WERE THE RIGHTS OF HUMAN NATURE."

2. Resolved, That the Government of the United States was formed to "establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of Liberty;" that the institution of domestic slavery, which the framers of the Constitution regarded as an evil, temporary in its nature, is directly opposed to all these ends, inasmuch as it violates the first principles of justice; is a fruitful source of domestic discord, and an element of national weakness, trampling under foot not only the rights of the slave, but endangering the liberties of freemen; that it is anti Republican, at war with the interests of free labor, upon which the growth, development and prosperity of our country mainly depend.

3. Resolved, In the language of the Legislature of New Hampshire in 1848, "that we are firmly and unalterably opposed to the extension of slavery," and to the further increase of slave representation, believing, as we do, that Freedom is the eternal and paramount law; that it is stamped upon the territories of the nation, and should be protected and maintained there by the Constitution and all authority under the Constitution.

4. Resolved, That the doctrine of the United States Supreme Court in the Dred Scott decision, and maintained by the "Democratic" administration, that slavery legally exists in all the national territories under the Constitution, and which, if carried to its legitimate results, would establish slavery in all the States, is subversive of the well established principles of the common law, and is in direct conflict with all the earlier decisions of the Supreme Court itself; and that the people of New Hampshire reject and abhor the doctrine therein contained, that the Constitution authorizes man to hold property in man.

5. Resolved, That we regard all suggestions and propositions of every kind, by whomsoever made, for a revival of the African slave trade, as shocking to the moral sentiments of the enlightened portion of mankind; and that any action on the part of the Government or people, conniving at or legalizing that horrid and inhuman traffic, would justly subject the government and the citizens of the United States to the reproach and execration of all civilized and Christian people.

6. Resolved, That the development of extravagance and corruption in the administration of the national affairs, impose upon the people the important duty of casting out those who have proved faithless, and placing in power men who can be relied upon to reduce the public expenditures, lessen the burdens of taxation, and protect the treasury.

7. Resolved, That we regard the usurpation and abuse of power by the executive, manifested by the present and preceding national administrations as tending to a centralized despotism, alike dangerous to the liberties of the people and the rights of the States; and we warn the people to watch with jealous eyes the present tendencies to steal power from the many and deposit it with the few.

8. Resolved, That as no people can long be free, happy and prosperous, unless labor finds ready employment and suitable reward, and believing that the gold taken from our mines could be better employed in paying our own laborers than to be sent abroad to pay for the production of foreign labor, we regard the encouragement of home industry and home products by the fostering hand of government as an object eminently worthy of American statesmanship.

9. Resolved, That we cordially invite all men of all parties to join with us in earnest endeavors to prevent the extension of slavery, and to restore the government to its original purity, and to preserve the proud heritage of American rights and institutions transmitted to us by our fathers, complete and unimpaired to those who may come after us.

BY THE USE OF

Winchester's Genuine Preparation of Dr. J. F Churchill's Compound of the

HYPOPHOSPHITES

OF LIME, SODA AND POTASH.

Originally discovered and prescribed by him as a Specific Remedy for

CONSUMPTION!

The use of the Hypophosphites in CONSUMPTION, scrofula, Nervous debility, Asthma, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Female Complaints, and all other diseases depending upon a DEFICIENT VITALITY OR THE ALBUMEN OF THE BLOOD, have proved their UNIVERSAL EFFICACY. MORE THAN HALF of cases in Europe and America are established the claim of the discoverer, that they are a SUE PREVENTIVE, and a

SPECIFIC REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION.

Dr. Churchill says: "In no single instance have I found the remedy fail to produce everything that could be reasonably expected from it. In most instances the benefit derived from it has FAR EXCEEDED what could at first have been hoped for, when taking into account the degree and extent of the injury sustained by the lungs previously to the use of the remedy. . . . Out of twenty-two cases in the third or last stage, treated at my Dispensary during the past year, EIGHT HAVE COMPLETELY RECOVERED, eight have died, and six are still under treatment. THIS RESULT IS ALTOGETHER UNPARALLELED IN THE ANNALS OF MEDICINE."

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to procure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions, and opinions given, for advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents in other countries, the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered from elsewhere. The subscriber has given proof that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for procuring patents so reasonable, and with despatch. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him the only person in this city to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration of their claims. Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leaves me no recourse but to advise inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. EDMUND BURKE.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on SIXTEEN rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Patent Self-Ventilating Refrigerator.

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and that the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous and offensive tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has introduced a description of it in his new work on natural philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

CRANE'S PATENT

METALLIC BURIAL CASKET.

A newly invented Burial Case, fashioned to accord with the feelings of the bereaved, and yet retaining all the requisites of an appropriate receptacle for the dead. There is no reason why such an article should be made to sweat, by its appearance, disagreeable sensations. Under such bereavements whatever tends to soften or make less hideous the gloomy, cold, dark receptacle itself to our consideration. So much that is repulsive has been discarded in the arrangement and shape of this Case, that its name, the "Casket Burial Case," is an involuntary suggestion. We, therefore, do not hesitate to aver that there has never been in use anything so entirely chaste, appropriate, and withal, convenient, as this invention.

The Case permits a view of the entire body after it is enclosed, the lid being composed of beautiful French plate glass, which is divided into three sections, between two of which is inserted the name-plate. For each of these sections of glass there is an elaborately ornamented cap.

The Subscribers being sole Agents for this vicinity, have always onhand every size of the above, from 2 ft. to 6 ft. 4 inches.

Also, FISKE'S METALLIC BURIAL CASES; Walnut, and Imitation Rosewood COFFINS, of superior finish.

All orders will receive our personal attention, and may be supplied at one hour's notice at

HOME AND EUROPEAN DEMAND.

The reason why, is that by Nature's own process it restores the natural color permanently after the hair becomes gray; supplies the natural fluids, and thus makes it grow on bald heads, removes all dandruff, itching, and heat from the scalp, quiets and tones up the nerves, and thus cures all nervous headache, and may be relied upon to cure all diseases of the scalp and hair; it will stop and keep it from falling off; makes it soft, glossy, healthy, and beautiful, and if used by the young two or three times a week it will never fall or become gray; then, reader, read the following and judge for yourselves:

NEW YORK, Jan. 8, 1858.

MESSRS. O. J. WOOD & CO.,

Gentlemen: Having heard a good deal about Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and my hair being quite gray, I made up my mind to lay aside the prejudices which I, in common with a great many persons, had against all manner of patent medicines, and a short time ago I commenced using your article, to test it for myself.

The result has been so very satisfactory that I am very glad I did so, and in justice to you, as well as for the encouragement of others who may be as gray as I was but who having my prejudices without my reasons for setting it aside, are unwilling to give your Restorative a trial till they have further proof, and the best proof being conclusive demonstration, I write you this letter, which you may show to any such, and also direct them to me for further proof, who live in and out of the N. Y. Wire Railing establishment every day.

My hair is now its natural color and much improved in appearance every way, being glossier and thicker and much more healthy looking. I am, yours respectfully, HENRY JENKINS.

Cor. Columbia and Carroll Sts., Brooklyn.

LEXINGTON, Ala., Feb. 14, 1858.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative has done much good in this part of the country. My hair has been slightly diminishing for several years, caused, I suppose, from a slight burn when I was quite an infant. I have been using your Restorative for six weeks and I find that I have a fine head of hair now growing, after having used all other remedies known, to no effect. I think it the most valuable remedy now extant, and shall do all in my power to make it known. Yours, &c. H. Huntington.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my bald head have lost its covering—was in fact BALD. I have used but 2 half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the top of my head is well stocked with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours, respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D.,

No. 464 Vine Street.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

Knowing that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, who are rendering their lives the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies, who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice he has treated more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Hughes. Do not be lured from the right path. He is persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious names at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of the edifice of human constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are universally lauded in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing no pain, sickness or any other. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions lately being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the effects of medicine.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country by addressing the Doctor. Remember the number—13 Howard street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jl dly

A HINT TO SMOKERS.

Come, Smokers, gather round the board,
And listen to my song;
I'll sing dear-bought experience,—
I won't detain you long.
My song is of a "luxury,"
Some deem it such, at least,
But what a sad absurdity,
To make yourself a beast.
Nay, worse than that; for Pig don't smoke,
Till he is in the tub,
And butcher, busy with his knife,
Is turning him to grub.
But just reflect a moment now,
While I the theme rehearse;
And I'll attempt to illustrate
The habit in a verse.
The smoker is a married man,
We'll for the time suppose;
A wife greets him at home to tea,
But after tea he goes,
And lights his fancied "luxury,"
And smokes and smokes away:
He taints the breath which God has given,
To lengthen out his day.
The smoking done, now comes the test;
If he's a husband true,
He seats himself beside his wife,
To pass an hour or two.
And now observe the nice effect
That smoking will produce—
Her sense of smelling should be blunt,
To stand such vile abuse.
If the effect with him would end,
It were a little better,
But no! the smoke breathes it, though
She bears it like a martyr.
Another "subject," I propose
To make a little mention;
And he's the "nice young man" who pays
A pretty girl attention.
As doth the former, after tea,
He has his good Havana,
And smokes and spits till half past seven,
Then goes to see his "Hannah."
But on the way he makes a call
On the confectioner;
And gets some cloves, or peppermint
To hide his breath from her.
He is not married yet you see,
And he might "get the mitten,"
If she should smell his nasty breath,
Although she seems so smitten.
But there, I've said enough to you;
I should have been more brief,
But I am so disgusted with That bane, Tobacco leaf.

HENNESSEY.

NEW ACADEMY IN WASHINGTON,—Perley says, writing to the Boston Journal:

This is "Commencement week" here in the Federal District, and there are to be public displays of the proficiency of the young gentlemen graduating from the Columbian (Baptist) College, and the Georgetown (Jesuits') College, with a more attractive exhibition at the Convent of the Visitation. The academy for young ladies at the Convent is very largely attended from every portion of the continent and the West India Islands, so the fair pupils present a constellation of beauty; some are finished musicians, and their performances enhance the pleasure of the exhibition. Although no attempts are made to influence the religious belief of the pupils, many Protestant parents are unwilling to send their children there, and as there is no other establishment above a common school in the District for the education of young ladies, members of Congress and Government officials having daughters have been forced to leave them at home, or send them elsewhere. The want of a first class seminary for young ladies has thus been felt, and it is, I learn, to be supplied. Mrs. T. B. Smith, the founder and Principal of the famed "Mystic Hall Seminary," has yielded to urgent solicitations from the clergy and prominent citizens here, and is about to establish a similar academy here.

Quite a number of estates, in Washington and in Georgetown, were submitted to Mrs. Smith as locations, but she finally selected the house now belonging to Surgeon-General Lawson, next to the house belonging to Edward Everett, now occupied by Secretary Thompson. It was originally built, I believe, for William Wirt, when he was in the Cabinet, and it has since had a succession of illustrious tenants. The large drawing-rooms and other conveniences will be admirably calculated for the proposed Academy, while spacious grounds are to be so enlarged that horse-back riding, and the other admirable exercises for which Mystic Hall is so justly noted, can be practiced. Depend upon it, this "Yankee notion" will be a success, and it will soon be crowded with pupils from every part of the country.

GREELEY'S PATENT ELASTIC BACK AND CENTRE
SUSPENSION PANTALOONS.
Patented June 29, 1858.
J. E. HAM & CO.,
Have purchased the right to manufacture the above named Pantaloons. The advantages of this invention over the usual method of making Pants is: they may be made long to the person, and still be as easy as though they were uncommonly large. Pants that are easy to stand in are easy to sit or stoop in.
Also for sale, GREELEY'S BRACE SUSPENDER—a superior Suspender for Skirts or Pants, and far superior to any other BRACE in the market. may25

Oleine Diamond Oil.
GREATEST ILLUMINATOR OF THE AGE.
This Oil is entirely free from treachery, so that a lamp may be left burning any length of time desired, without filling a room with lamp-black or soot.
It burns in the common oil lamp, with or without a chimney.
The light is far more pleasant than gas, as it is free from the disagreeable flickerings always attending a gas light, and is cheaper. We claim for this Oil:
1. That it is cheaper than any other artificial light.
2. That it has no odor.
3. That it will not smoke
4. That it will burn with or without a chimney, hence it is portable.
5. That it will stand a lower degree of temperature than any other Oil.
6. That it is free from each of the objections that are brought against every other article heretofore or now being offered to the public for illuminating purposes.
Price $1.25 per gallon.
For sale, wholesale and retail, at
96 Market Street, Portsmouth,
where the public are invited to call and examine for themselves.

Dr. B. S. Goodwin, Indian Physician,
Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the Diseases that man is subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr. Goodwin would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.
ADVICE FREE.
Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are purely Vegetable, and prepared by himself, and are calculated to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.
THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY DR. GOODWIN.
Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Diseases of the Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Palsey, Fits, Gravel, Diarrhea, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsey, Worms, all Diseases peculiar to Females, Humors of all descriptions, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.
No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blisters!
Our philosophy of practice is founded on the laws of Nature; our theory of Disease the theory of experience and evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 14, 1858.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, JULY 7, 1859.

WHAT SPAIN DID FOR US.

If the history of our own country, and other countries connected with it by friendly acts, were better known,there would be less national jealousy.

In Boston, at the city celebration on the 4th, Mr. George Sumner began his oration with an enumeration of the many friendly acts of foreign powers, in behalf of the American colonies during their struggle for independence, giving the greatest prominence to those of France and Spain. The long catalogue of Spanish favors which he recounted surprised many of his auditors. When news of the Declaration of Independence reached Madrid, Spain promptly welcomed the new flag of America to her ports, and soon followed this act of friendship by a present of one million francs to the commercial agent of Congress; sent to us military stores; placed at our service three thousand barrels of powder stored at New Orleans; opened to us the port of Havana on the same terms as to the French; sent blankets for ten regiments as a present to Congress; and when John Jay appeared at Madrid as Minister for the new States, without being provided with money to pay even his house rent, made to him, for us, another gif. of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars in hard cash.

But Spain was not alone ready to assist us with money and munitions of war. Augmenting her navy at vast expense she joined her fleet with that of France, and intercepted the troops and supplies sent to aid in our conquest. Her minister, Florida Blanca, made a treaty with the Emperor of Morocco, which closed his ports against the English; fomented the war which Hyder Ali maintained in India against England; and used all the arts of diplomacy in making difficulties for England in every quarter of the globe.

Beyond all these acts of assistance, Mr. Sumner declared that we are indebted to Spain for such aid as the Armed Neutrality gave us, that act to which John Adams declared that we owed the blessings of peace —for it was that same friendly Minister, Florida Blanca, who by his ingenuity and perseverance led Russia and the northern powers to adopt it. In summing up these important acts of friendship on the part of Spain in behalf of America, Mr. Sumner remarked, —"When we are disposed to stretch the hand of covetousness toward any possession of now weakened Spain, let us remember the helping hand she gave to us in our hour of suffering and of peril."

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE.—The Boston Journal learns from a correspondent at Hanover, that some trouble has lately occurred between the faculty and four of the senior class—two of whom have abandoned their connection with the college, and will graduate elsewhere. They are students of high ability, and have ever sustained a good reputation. One of them had been elected class officer for class day, which will now be given up, as all the class officers intend to resign. The offence was absence of a week from college—the penalty loss of standing. Unable to see the President to gain permission to absent themselves, they sought to be excused after their return, but without success.

☞ Beecher says, "The day is coming when a man, though he may be as orthodox as John Knox, if he does not live a good life, will not be recognized by the world as a sound Christian; and when a man, though he may be wild on every point of doctrine, if he does live a good life, and if he loves his God and his fellow men, and has faith in Christ and is in communion with him,will be acknowledged by the world to be a sound Christian.

"Men have been taught that they could not be true followers of Christ unless they believe as Calvin did, or as Wesley did, or as Arminius did, or as Edwards did. And the best of it is, that every one of these men was a new-school man, a man of progress, who bore witness to the truth of his love.—When they were living they were denounced as fanatics and madcaps; but the next generation built sepulchres to them, and erected them into deities or inspired men, models of faith."

☞ In Newburyport, on the evening of the 4th, a fire occurred on Summer street, just after nine o'clock, entirely destroying the dwelling house known as the Radcliff house, belonging to Mr. Richard W. Drown, who thereby loses $1000, on which there is no insurance. The fire was probably caused by some stray piece of rocket that set fire in the rear, and there being no person in the house at the time, it was all of a blaze before the fire was discovered. The fire was confined to the building where it originated. The house was occupied by two widows,who lost the little all they possessed.

A quartz gold mine, which yields well, has been discovered in Talladego County, Ala.

DEATH FROM LIGHTNING.—During the severe thunder storm of Wednesday evening, Mr. John Bushnell, of Winthrop, (Killingworth, Ct.,) was struck by lightning and instantly killed. He had just returned home and unharnessed a horse which he had been driving. He then stepped into the house, and on passing out of the door to see if the animal was securely fastened, he met his death. The horse was standing a few feet from the door, under a wood shed, and was likewise killed. The house was set on fire, but the flames were soon extinguished by the neighbors. Mr. Bushnell was about 40 years of age, and leaves a wife and three children.

RAILROAD BRIDGE BURNT.—The bridge on the line of the Vermont Central Railroad, over the White River, near Woodstock, was destroyed by fire on Friday night. It was 500 or 600 feet in length, and the loss is at least $15,000. There was an insurance of $10,000 on the structure.—Saturday the passengers and freight were carried across the river on rafts, and it will take two or three weeks to repair damage. The fire was probably caused by sparks from a locomotive.

☞ A young man named Baldwin, was killed in North Bradford, Ct., Monday, by the bursting of a cannon.

Hiram M. Keith of West Sandwich, Ms., while loading a cannon at Hyannis, Monday, by a premature explosion had both arms blown off at the elbow, and also lost his right eye. He was blown some distance from the cannon.

A little girl in Boston, 9 years old, was burnt by crackers which she was firing, so as to cause her death.

For the Chronicle.

"IT IS I; BE NOT AFRAID."

Life hath its days of darkness,
When thick the storm clouds lower;
When waves dash fiercely round thee,
And threaten to devour:
But still thou need'st not falter,
There's One forever nigh,
Who speaks above the tempest:
"Fear not, for it is I."

He walks the waves beside thee,
No storm can drive him thence;
He bids the waters bear thee,
His arm is thy defence.
His face shines on the billows,
Let all thy terror fly;
Follow the path illumined;
He beckons: "It is I!"

PIKE'S PEAK.—Leavenworth, July 3.—Later advices from Pike's Peak are still encouraging. A letter from Horace Greely says there is gold there in paying quantities, some claims yielding nearly $600 per day; $100 a day was considered a fair average for each sluice. New and rich discoveries were being made every day, and it was calculated that 500 Sluices would be in operation by next August. Large prospecting parties were being organized for an extensive exploration of the Mountain District. Business was reviving at Denver City.

Our correspondent tells us that considerable gold dust is now at the latter place, waiting an opportunity for shipment, and specie was in great demand to make purchases.

A large conflagration on the prairies had occured on the Divide, between Gregory's and Jackson's Diggings, and it was reported that 20 lives were lost. Five bodies had been recovered, names not ascertained.

Sufferers from Scrofula and Scrofulous affections, clean up! Why wear your Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores? Why have the life twisted out of you by Dyspepsia, Rheumatism and Gout? Why suffer Syphilitic and Mercurial diseases to rot the bones in your body, or the flesh off your bones? why let your sluggish blood drag and scatter its distempers through your veins? AYER'S COMP. EXT'T of Sarsaparilla cures these complaints and cleanses them out of the system. Use it faithfully and you bring to society a healthier, cleanlier, and far more acceptable member.—Democrat, Baltimore, Md.

THE MICHIGAN SOUTHERN RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Cleveland, July 5.—Superintendent Campbell, or the Michigan Southern Road makes the following statement: The number of dead to date is exactly 40. Constant search has been made since the accident, and it is believed that all the dead have been found, and that all or most of the wounded will recover. Mr. Campbell denies having telegraphed, as published in the Albany Statesman, on the 29th ult., that the number of dead to date was 72.

FROM UTAH.—St. Louis, July 4.—Later advices from Salt Lake state that Judge Cradlebaugh, who had just returned from his Circuit, had issued during his tour nearly 100 warrants against persons engaged in the Mountain Meadow massacre, and various other murders.

The Judge says that for eighty miles along his route, before reaching Santa Clara, he found human skeletons on almost every camping ground. He also says that eighty white men were concerned in the massacre of Mountain Meadow.

DOVER, July 4.—The corner-stone of the Second Congregational Church was laid at 8 o'clock this morning. Hon. John P. Hale and others made eloquent addresses on the occasion.

The term Second Congregational is a misnomer. It is called the Belknap Church.—The Unitarian is the Second Congregational Church in reality, though not in name.

☞ Rev. E. B. Fernald, pastor of the Freewill Baptist Church in Candia about 3 years, has removed to Sandwich.

☞ The Methodist meeting house in Rye has been repaired and re-opened by appropriate religious services.

☞ The Freewill Baptist meeting house in Hampton has been newly fitted inside, and furnished with an organ.

☞ A bell has been hung in the belfry of the Town Hall in Raymond. This is the first that ever was hung in the town.

☞ There was a fall in flour in Boston Friday, of about fifty cents per barrel.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Common Sense rules the mass of the people, whatever the misnamed and misanthrope philosophers may say to the contrary. Show them a good thing: let its merits be clearly demonstrated, and they will not hesitate to give it their most cordial patronage. The masses have already ratified the judgment of a physician, concerning the virtues of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, as may be seen in the immense quantities of this medicine that are annually sold in every section of the land. It is now recognized as greatly superior to all other remedies yet devised for diseases of the digestive organs, such as diarrhœa, dysentery, dyspepsia, and for the various fevers that arise from derangement of those portions of the system. Hostetter's name is rapidly becoming a household word,from Maine to Texas; from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pacific. Try the article and be satisfied.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

DYSENTERY.—For Dysentery and similar complaints of the Summer season, the PERUVIAN SYRUP has proved a remarkable preventive and cure. By imparting tone to the intestinal mucous membrane, it places this surface in the best possible condition to resist the irritation of crude and indigestible articles of food.

Dyspepsia.

Considering the various forms in which this disease developes itself, it may well be called hydra-headed. Its train follow Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, Heartburn, Water Brash, Costiveness, Piles, Acidity, Oppression after Eating, Jaundice, Flatulency, Torpor of the Liver, Dizziness, Debility, Female Complaints, &c. Some of the first men in our land have given their written certificates relative to the cures effected in their own persons by the OXYGENATED BITTERS; while testimonials from other sources, editorial opinions and voluntary expressions from persons averse to see their names in print, are perfectly overwhelming.

Read the following from a highly respectable Clergyman:

EAST TAUNTON, Mass., Feb. 9, '58.

To the Editor of the Portland Mirror.—SIR:—OXYGENATED BITTERS.—For more than twenty five years I have been a sufferer from the dyspepsia. Besides losing the patronage of my family physicians in the almost useless trial of their various prescriptions, I have tried a great variety of patent medicines with a similar result. Through the kindness of my family physician, I received last March, half a dozen bottles of the OXYGENATED BITTERS. I began to use them without any hope of derriving benefit from them. Being determined to give them a fair trial, I continued their use, but without any perceptible benefit till June.

Since then I have gradually improved in health till I am entirely free from acidity of the stomach, and from the consequent flatulency, and the awful and almost distracting "sick headache," which often, for days together, has wholly unfitted me for study and for all other ministerial duties, and rendered life a burden.

I feel that I owe it, as an expression of gratitude to Messrs. Fowle & Co., and also a duty to the public, to recommend their Oxygenated Bitters, as, in my estimation, a sure remedy for that most trying, most vexing, and cruel of all diseases, to which poor human flesh is heir, the dyspepsia. Having suffered so long, and tried so many different remedies with no good result, I can recommend the Oxygenated Bitters with a confidence few others can. If any of the readers of the Mirror suffering, should see fit to make trial of these Bitters without delay.

SCROFULA CURED IN TWENTY DAYS.

William Miles, aged 37, had been afflicted with Scrofula for 11 years. On the 1st of August, by the advice of Dr. William Root, of Marietta, Ga., he commenced the use of RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT. In 6 hours he felt a change for the better; in 12 hours small pustules were seen covering the whole surface of the body; in 24 hours he was covered with discharging sores. He still took the Resolvent freely, but finding his bowels very costive, he took six of RADWAY'S REGULATORS. They operated powerfully and pleasantly. He afterward took one Regulator at night. The sores caused him some irritation, which he allayed by bathing them with the Resolvent. The fourth day the sores all healed up. He continued the Resolvent and the Regulators for 20 days. Since the last day, which was on the night of the 20th day, he has not experienced any returning symptoms or uneasiness. His blood is pure, skin clear, and bowels regular.

R. R. R. is sold by Druggists everywhere.

Now is the time to use the great Spring and Summer Medicine.

Dr. Langley's Root and Herb Bitters.

Composed of Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Yellow Dock, Prickly Ash, Thoroughwort, Rhubarb, Mandrake, Dandelion, &c., all so compounded as to act in concert with Nature, and their effect is truly wonderful. They absolutely cure

LIVER COMPLAINT, INDIGESTION,
COSTIVENESS, DIZZINESS,
HEADACHE, HEARTBURN,
PILES, FLATULENCY,
WEAKNESS, LOSS OF APPETITE.

All kinds of Humors, and every disease arising from a disordered stomach or bad blood, are broken in large doses. Fever and Ague may be broken up and cured at once.

This has been known as a standard Medicine, and is decidedly the Best in the World. Try it once, and you will be sure to do so again. The price is cheap—only 25 cents for a pint, and 37½ cents for a large bottle. You can't get a bottle for much, for the time is fast approaching when you will have all sorts of bad feelings if you don't take the Root and Herb Bitters and drive them away. Sold by all Medicine Dealers everywhere.

TO THE CITIZENS OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

This Gin, distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveilance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some other valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, SPRINE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

TROUBLE AT THE SHOALS.— Christian Johnson, of Gosport, Isles of Shoals, had five men brought before Justice Odell of this city, July 2, on a charge of breaking the windows and tearing off the doors of Johnson's house in said Gosport, on the 29th of June, whereby the house was greatly damaged, the peace of the State broken, and its dignity insulted.

The men accused were Daniel Clark, Elvin Newton, Moses Garland, John Caswell, and Wm. Berry.

They plead not guilty, and asserted that Johnson sold liquors at his place—of which no proof was exhibited. But it appeared that some of the accused had been drinking. The five were ordered to give $500 for their appearance to be tried at the Supreme Judicial Court in October.

Johnson also brought a complaint against the same parties for beating him at the same time when they damaged his house. And on this also they gave $500 bonds.

At the same court, Elvin Newton complained against Christian Johnson for keeping a disorderly and ill-governed house in which idle and disorderly persons meet and drink, &c., &c.

This case was postponed to Saturday.

Johnson is a Norwegian, has lived in this city for years, and had hardly got his house furnished to live in at the Shoals. He says the slanderers attacked him from Native American feelings, declaring no foreigners should live there. Christian was served in rather an un-christian manner, at any rate.

☞ The circus that will visit this city on Friday, the 8th inst., has some new features that have never before been exhibited.—This was last year the best circus ever in this place. The riding is excellent; the driving of forty horses at once is a feat accomplished by no other lady but Madame Mason. The educated bull will be an attraction, and the four clowns will be pleasing to many. Everybody will want to see the performances. **

The Roman correspondent of the London Weekly Register writes that Her Majesty Queen Victoria has forwarded an autograph letter to the Pope, thanking his Holiness for his present of a beautiful mosaic table. It is added that the Pope was much gratified with the friendly sentiment expressed by her Majesty.

Queen Victoria, or somebody else, has forwarded a new Canadian red cent to Uncle Toby, bearing the image and superscription of Her Majesty. It is a neat, pretty coin, near the size of an old cent, and about half as thick. Uncle T. is much gratified with it, and also with the friendly talk between the Heads of the two Churches, Pio of the Roman, and Vic of the Anglican.—He hopes to hear no more ecclesiastical curses, after these days of amity between the Pope and Queen.

NEW YORK, July 5.—Pat. Hearn, a well known sportsman, and very wealthy, died Sunday night, of congestion o the brain.

The Cricket match between 18 Americans and 11 Englishmen, resident players, commenced yesterday, with a score on first innings of 71 for former, and 90 for the latter. The match was resumed to-day.

Factory No. 2, of the Eagle Lock Co., at Terryville, Conn., was burned this morning. It was a wooden building of great size. Loss unknown.

The full and accurate Bank Statement for the week shows an increase of $645,700 in loans, $679,137 in specie, $155,214, in circulation and $959,624 in net deposits.

INDIAN REVOLT IN SONORA.—St. Louis, July 4.—The revolt of the Opata and Yagin Indians was creating great consternation in Sonora. The Indians had defeated the government troops in four engagements, and were marching on Guaymas, where the foreign residents had taken refuge on board of vessels in the harbor.

☞ A dispatch dated Queenstown, June 21, records the total destruction by fire at sea of the ship Stalwart, from New Orleans for Liverpool. Capt. Lucas and crew were saved by the barque Princess Helena, and landed at Queenstown. The Stalwart's cargo was 2856 bales of cotton and $35,000 in specie. She was 1108 tons.

☞ Hon. J. Everett Sargent of Wentworth, at present Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, has been appointed by the Governor and Council, a Judge of the Supreme Judicial Court.

Ex-Judge French it is said, is about removing to Boston for the practice of law.

SIXTEEN LIVES LOST.—Cleveland, O., July 4.—A sail boat containing 28 persons, capsized to-day on Clear Lake, Indiana.—Sixteen persons, mostly ladies and children, were drowned. No names have been reported as yet.

☞ Dr. Henry Northall, the acting British Vice Consul at the port of Gloucester, committed suicide by hanging on Sunday night. Dr. N. was a dentist, and some ten or twelve years ago resided in Boston, having an office on Cambridge street.

☞ It is reported that Hon. Chas. Sumner, now in Paris, is about to be married to Mrs. Thayer, (nee Granger,) widow of the late John E. Thayer of Boston, also now in Paris.

☞ We could fill our sheet with accidents by fireworks, gunpowder and rum, on the 4th; but we only make a small selection.

At Hookset, N. H., by the explosion of a can of powder, Jonathan Bennett was burnt, and both eyes, it is feared, ruined. Oscar Goodale was burnt on the side of his face. Geo. Towle was injured, but less severely.

At Pittsfield, N. H., several rockets accidentally exploded in the crowd. Benj. F. Leavitt of Chichester was mutilated in the face and head, and Calvin Garland of Barnstead received serious injuries in the chest, but there is a prospect that both may survive. A boy named Willey badly hurt.

A son of Rev. Rufus Clark, formerly of East Roston, lost a finger by an explosion of a pistol at Brooklyn, N. Y.

FROM CALIFORNIA AND OREGON.—St. Louis, July 5.—The overland mail arrived to-day, with California dates of June 13.

Business at San Francisco continued dull, and most of the leading staples had declined. Money was scarce. The next shipment of treasure to the east would be large.

Accounts from the mines are favorable.

The legislature of Oregon had adjourned without electing a U. S. Senator.

Advices from Frazer river mines continue unfavorable; crowds of emigrants thither were returning to California, and many others were settling in Oregon and Washington Territory.

Charles A. Angel has been arrested at Victoria, charged with embezzling $20,000 from the Custom House in that city.

The shipment of gold dust from Victoria for May reached $245,000.

BY THE USE OF
Winchester's Genuine Preparation of Dr. J. F Churchill's Compound of the
HYPOPHOSPHITES
OF LIME, SODA AND POTASH,
Originally discovered and prescribed by him as a Specific Remedy for CONSUMPTION!

The use of the Hypophosphites in CONSUMPTION, Scrofula, Nervous Debility, Asthma, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Female Complaints, and all other diseases depending upon a DEFICIENCY VITALITY IN THE ELEMENTS OF THE BLOOD, have proved their INVARIABLE EFFICACY in thousands of cases in Europe and America, and established the claim of the discoverer, that they are a SUE PREVENTATIVE, and a
SPECIFIC REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION.

Dr. Churchill says: "In no single instance have I found the remedy fail to produce everything that could be reasonably expected from it. In most instances the benefit derived from it has FAR EXCEEDED what could at first have been hoped for, when taking into account the degree and extent of the injury sustained by the lungs previously to the use of the remedy. * * * * * Out of twenty-two cases in the third or last stage, treated at my Dispensary during the past year, EIGHT HAVE COMPLETELY RECOVERED, eight have died, and six are still under treatment. TO MARRIED LADIES.

The "Indian Emmenagogue" is a new and elegant medicine, designed expressly for females. It is prepared from an Indian plant, which from time immemorial has rendered parturition among the natives so easy, and is now for the first time offered to the public. The name and virtues of this wondrous plant was recently obtained from Siewan-to-sah, an Oneida Chief, now residing at Syracuse, N. Y. It is neatly put up in two ounce bottles, with full directions for using, and is warranted to cure any case of female obstruction in twenty-four hours. This may seem incredible, but if it fails in any case, the price will be refunded.—Purely vegetable and perfectly safe, at all times. ☞ Remember! This is the only medicine of the kind that is warranted in all cases; none other is worthy of confidence. Sent by express to all parts of the country. Sold only at the Remedial Institute, No. 12 Suffolk Place, Boston.

Circulars and references with pamphlet on diseases of women and private maladies generally.—Sent free on receipt of stamp—addressed to Remedial Institute, No. 12 Suffolk Place, Boston, Mass.

and as a Beverage it has no superior in the world. It is manufactured by the proprietor, at Schiedam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spiritous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, Bladder and Kidney Complaints, &c. &c.

Put up in quart and pint bottles, in Cases of one dozen quarts, and two dozen pints, with the proprietor's name on the bottle, cork and label. For sale by all the respectable Country Merchants and Druggists. Look out for counterfeits and imitations, as the whole country is flooded with them

TO THE PUBLIC.

I beg leave to call the attention of the American Public to the following Certificate from the Government Chemist for the Island of Cuba and the Spanish West Indies, and who is known to the Scientific men of London, Paris, Madrid, Cuba and America to be the first Chemist in the world.

UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHEMICAL TESTIMONY.

D. Jose Luis Casaseca, Corresponding Member of the Royal Academies of Madrid and Munich, a Graduate in Sciences of the Faculty of Paris, formerly Professor of Chemistry, as applied to the Arts, of the Royal Conservatorio of Madrid, and of Physics and Chemistry, as applied to the Industry and Agriculture of the country, in the Royal University of this Island, and present H. M.'s Director of the Institute of Chemical Investigation, &c., &c.

Udolpho Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is a spirituous liquid, of a very agreeable aromatic odor, completely transparent and almost colorless, having only a very slight tint of yellowish gray; its flavor is strong and very agreeable to the palate. It marks 20 degrees on Cartier's alcohol weigher or 52 degrees 5 hundredth in Gay Lussac's alcohometre. By the distillation in a balnium maria, with an apparatus consisting of a glass retort and a recipient surrounded with ice, I have collected in this recipient an alcoholic liquid with a very agreeable aroma completely colorless and transparent, which marked 90 degrees in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, or 70 degrees 5 hundredth on Gay Lussac's alcohometre; and which represented as a whole 57 per cent. of aromatic Schiedam schnapps subject to distillation in the retort. This liquid did not soil the transparency of the distilled water in mixing it with the same, and its agreeable aroma is doubtless due to a very trifling amount of an essential oil inseparable from alcohol.

From the remainder of the distillation which was left in the retort, I have obtained, through evaporation in a vapor bath, a substance of a yellowish brown color, clear, and having a bitter taste, which is not disagreeable, and which afterwards becomes aromatic and leaves the mouth perfumed with that fragrance peculiar to the vanilla. I am inclined to believe that to this bitter and aromatic extractive substance, soluble in water and alcohol, the medicinal properties which are attributed to this gin are due. I have not found in Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps any mineral or organic substance other than the extractive one above mentioned and the aromatic one obtained by distillation. Finally, Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps consists simply of an aromatic alcohol of 20 degrees of graduation in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, and of an extractive bitter aromatic substance, which perhaps, is medicinal; and, on account of its not containing any matter injurious to the health, as well as for its odor and good flavor—a fact which no doubt arises from the choice substances employed in its manufacture, and from the peculiar manner of its distillation, it should in my opinion, be preferred to all the Holland, Belgic and German gins which are found in this island which it has been my business to examine. These gins as I have often proved it, exhale a disagreeable odor, and have a more or less disagreeable flavor, some of them having left as was the case with the superior gin from the distillery of Mr. Henry Deetjen (of Bremen,) as residuum after evaporation by steam, a substance almost liquid and very trifling aromatic, with flavor of vanilla, but in no wise with the delicious bitter and aromatic flavor of that of Udolpho Wolfe; and others, such as that labelled "Genuine Samaritan," "Extra Superior." Messrs. Tracner have furnished me with a very small quantity of a greenish substance, of harsh metallic taste and very disagreeable, which extractive organic matter was mixed with a salt of copper, with signs of iron, owing perhaps, to a bad system of distillation.

I certify that all that is here stated is the truth and agrees with the experiments I have made with the greatest care, and I authorize the house of Gottig & Will, of this city, to give publicity to this certificate, in Spanish and in foreign language, in all countries where it may suit their interest to do so. JOSE LUIS CASASECA.

DR. SWETT'S
CORDIAL OF DANDELION,
SPIKENARD & BONESET,

A remedy unsurpassed for Liver Complaints, such as Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, Universal Debility, and the whole family of Consumptive Complaints.

Hundreds of testimonials might be added, proving the many cures by this pleasant and effectual medicine, especially of people advanced in life, whose debilitated constitutions have been greatly recruited by it. A trial of it is warranted to well pay the aged and dyspeptic. Price 75 cents.

[From Mrs. Ira Burnham, Exeter, N. H.]

I have suffered many years from the liver and heart complaint. By these distressing diseases I was reduced so low, some two years since, that I could not sit up more than ten or fifteen minutes at a time, when I began to take Dr. Swett's Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset, which has so fully restored my health that I now daily labor and attend to the business of my large boarding house. ELIZABETH BURNHAM.

Morning Chronicle.

THE LAST LEDGER STORY.—The Salem (Mass.) Register tells a good story of a teacher in a district school in that neighborhood, who is in the habit of questioning the children under his charge as to what they know in regard to various historical characters they happen to meet with in their books. A few days ago the name of Washington occurred in the morning lesson, and those who had anything to say about him were asked to raise their hands. Of course up went all hands, and young America once more paid a tribute to him "who was first," &c.

"He never told a lie," shouted one.

"Ate out of a tin plate all through the war."

"Never sailed for nine years," cried a third.

"He was the father of his country," piped several.

"Edward Everett is getting money to buy his grave," and so forth.

"Now, then," said the teacher, "who can tell me about Edward Everett?"

No hand was raised.

The teacher, somewhat surprised—"is there no one here who knows anything about Edward Everett?" No hand was up.

"Well, we shall see what we can find out about Edward Everett before to-morrow."

P. M.—Before school opens, up runs a little girl, in great excitement, as the teacher enters the school-room.

"I know something about Edward Everett."

"Well, what is it?" asked the teacher eagerly.

"He writes for the New York Ledger!" She read it in large letters on the fence as she went home.

Such is "fame."

FRAUDS IN TRADE.—The punishment in Paris for petty frauds, such as selling washed jewelry for gold, or misrepresenting to a purchaser the value and material of which an article is made, is so heavy that it is very rare a stranger is "taken in and done for," as is so common elsewhere.—Those shops which keep the imitation gold jewelry for sale are obliged, if they exhibit it in their windows to tack a card to each article, stating its precise character. A store keeper who should sell for silk a dress made of cotton and silk mixed, would be liable to fine and imprisonment, so that any of the sharp practices of trade, which are admissible to some other quarters of the world, are seldom attempted in Paris.

All these are contrasts which tell to the disadvantage of American cities, but we have never seen any good reason why there should not be as much honesty, as much justice, and as much of law and order in New York as in Paris. We abuse our liberties here most shamefully, and it is a double sin and disgrace, that public opinion, or rather political partialities and indifferences, tolerate such an abuse of authority and decency, as we are every day called upon to deplore. There is no city in the world so free from the annoyances which usually beset the stranger, as Paris, under the rule of Napoleon. But why should not New York under the rule of a Mayor and Board of Aldermen, be just as free as Paris from the hundred and one petty cheats, and rascalities which so much disgrace this metropolis?

Why should a despotism have any advantage over a republic? Why a military government over a government purely civil? This is a question for the executors of the law, rather than the law makers to answer, for we have plenty of law without any just abridgement of personal liberty, to secure the best government under the sun. Our charter is sufficient, the State enactments abundant,—the law officers numerous, and the expense enormous for the administration of justice, and yet how little we get for our liberty or our money. If we cannot learn any thing from free institutions, let us, in some things be taught, even by the example of such a city as Paris.—N. Y. Express.

"O DEAR! SHALL WE EVER BE DONE LYING?"—An honest old gentleman, in telling us his troubles, gave great prominence to the necessity he was frequently under of disappointing his customers, whose work could not be finished as soon as he had promised. After explaining the difficulty, he looked up with great earnestness, and exclaimed, "O dear, shall we ever be done with this lying?" We have often wondered ourselves whether such a consummation would ever take place. "Your boots shall be done on Saturday without fail." Nevertheless, you may have to go to church with gaping shoes for want of them. "Your coat shall be sent home by nine o'clock on Saturday night;" and you get it in fact, the Wednesday after. "Will you lend me your wheelbarrow? I will return it to-night." You wait for it till next week, and then send for it. My carpenter solemnly agreed to finish my house by November; but it was July before I could get the key. My wood was to be split on Saturday afternoon—enough for the Sabbath; so it was—but I had to do it.

My money was to be paid the next week; and then, next week; and then NEXT week—and then as soon as he could get it; he did get and spend it; and then it should be paid when he got it again—he got it again, and paid another debt because the man treated him more savagely than I would.—The strength laid out in running for this money, if it had been economically applied to labor, would nearly have earned the whole debt. The fellow never paid me at last; but Death came along and he paid him promptly. 'O dear, shall we ever get done with this lying?' It is one of the few domestic manufactures which need no protection, and flourish without benefit either to the producer or consumer.—Henry W. Beecher.

Patent Self-Ventilating Refrigerator.

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and that the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous and offensive tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has introduced a description of it in his new work on natural philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

All sizes of these celebrated Refrigerators for sale at the Stove and Furnishing Warehouse of the subscriber, No. 46 Market street.

CRANE'S PATENT
METALLIC BURIAL CASKET.

A newly invented Burial Case, fashioned to accord with the feelings of the bereaved, and yet retaining all the requisites of a suitable and appropriate receptacle for the dead. There is no reason why such an article should be made to create, by its appearance, disagreeable associations, when it is designed for a place where tends to soften or make less keen the poignancy of our grief, commends itself to our consideration. So much that is required has been discarded in the arrangement and SHAPE of this Case, that its name, the "Casket Burial Case," is an involuntary suggestion.—We, therefore, do not hesitate to aver that there has never been in use anything so entirely chaste, appropriate, and withal, convenient, as this invention.

The Case permits a view of the entire body after it is enclosed, the top being composed of beautiful French plate glass, which is divided into three sections, between two of which is inserted the name-plate. For each of these sections of glass there is an elaborately ornamented cap.

The Subscribers being sole Agents for this vicinity, have always onhand every size of the above, from 2 ft. to 6 ft. 4 inches.

Also, FISKE'S METALLIC BURIAL CASES, Walnut, and Imitation Rosewood COFFINS, of superior finish.

All orders will receive our personal attention, and may be supplied at our office, or house at

The Liver Invigorator.
PREPERED BY DR. SANFORD,
COMPOUNDED ENTIRELY FROM GUMS,
Is one of the best PURGATIVE and LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These GUMS remove all morbid matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, instead of making the stomach, causing food to digest well, PURIFYING THE BLOOD, and giving health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of disease, instead of only giving a radical cure.

One dose often repeated, will prove a sure preventive of CHOLERA MORBUS, and a preventive of CHOLERA.

BILIOUS ATTACKS are cured, and, what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of Jaundice after a long sickness.

One bottle taken before eating, prevents Nausea and Sick Headache.

One bottle taken before eating gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently and cures Costiveness.

One dose, often repeated, cures CHRONIC DIARRHŒA in its worst form, while SUMMER & BOWEL COMPLAINTS yield almost to the first dose.

One dose taken after each meal will cure DYSPEPSIA.

A few bottles will cure DROPSY by exciling the absorbents.

One dose taken every morning, will relieve SICK HEAD-ACHE.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for FEVER and AGUE, CHILL FEVER, and all Fevers of a BILIOUS type, as we can do with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

Only one dose immediately relieves COLIC.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

THE ONLY ARTICLE
UNRIVALLED IN THE MARKET,
WITH IMMENSE
HOME AND EUROPEAN DEMAND.

The reason why, is that by Nature's own process it restores the natural color permanently after the hair becomes gray; supplies the natural fluids, and thus makes it grow on bald heads, removes all dandruff, itching, and heat from the scalp, quiets and tones up the nerves, and thus cures all nervous headache, and may be relied upon to cure all diseases of the scalp and hair; it will stop and keep it from falling off; makes it soft, glossy, healthy and beautiful, and if used by the young two or three times a week it will never fall or become gray; then, reader, read the following and judge for yourselves:

NEW YORK, Jan. 8, 1858.

MESSRS. O. J. WOOD & CO.,
Gentlemen: Having heard a good deal about Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and my hair being quite gray, I made up my mind to lay aside the prejudice which I, in common with a great many persons, had against all manner of patent medicines, and a short time ago I commenced using your article, to test it for myself.

The result has been so very satisfactory that I am very glad I did so, and in justice to you, as well as for the encouragement of others who may be as gray as I was, who having my prejudice, will without my reasons for setting it aside, are unwilling to give your Restorative a trial till they have further proof, and the best proof being ocular demonstration, I write you this letter, which you may show to any such, and also direct them to me for further proof, who am in and out of the N. Y. Wire Railing establishment every day.

My hair is now its natural color and much improved in appearance every way, being glossier and thicker and much more healthy looking. I am, yours respectfully, HENRY JENKINS,
Cor. Columbia and Carroll Sts., Brooklyn.

MOBILE, ALA., Feb. 14, 1858.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative has done much good in this part of the country. My hair has been slightly diminishing for several years, caused, I suppose, from a slight burn when I was quite an infant. I have been using your Hair Restorative for six weeks and I find that I have a head of hair now growing, after having used all other remedies known, to no effect. I think it the most valuable remedy now extant, and advise all who are afflicted that way to use your remedy.

You can publish this if you think proper.

Yours, &c. S. W. MIDDLETON.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—was in fact BALD. I have used but 2 half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the top of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours, respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D.,
No. 48 Vine Street.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion than the medium, and retails for $3 a bottle.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,
Knowing that there are at this moment thousands of persons in this and surrounding towns, suffering their lives to be the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies, who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the full description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.
Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secresy preserved.
DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of diseases of the urinary organs, originally treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.
Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines rent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.
Be particular in finding Dr. Hughes. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments at the cost of your health, and at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.
This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE REMEDIATING PILLS. These pills are universal in efficacy and superior excellence in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the most efficacious.
The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under the opprious and fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.
All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.
These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—13 Howard street, Boston.

YOU HAD BETTER TRY
MY MOTHER'S SALVE

This celebrated preparation has obtained an enviable reputation throughout the WORLD—with good reason, for its GREAT CURATIVE PROPERTIES, and has been the agent in relieving so many suffering and restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon the Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.

"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered from the forest, and possesses Healing, Soothing and Pain-Relieving Virtues never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve" is safe and effectual and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a Permanent Cure.

"My Mother's Salve" is a BURN or SCALD takes out the inflammation, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth.

Directions for using "My Mother's Salve" are simple. Every mother and nurse knows how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all will use the Salve will apply it in proportions proper at times, as good judgement may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat and such like ills, rub on Salve, and cover with a warm flannel.

PREPARED BY A. M. BURRILL & HUNTING, Sole Proprietors, 6 & 8 Fremont Street,

DR. SWETT'S
CORDIAL OF DANDELION,
SPIKENARD & BONESET,

A remedy unsurpassed for Liver Complaints, such as Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, Universal Debility, and the whole family of Consumptive Complaints.

Hundreds of testimonials might be added, proving the many cures by this pleasant and effectual medicine, especially of people advanced in life, whose debilitated constitutions have been greatly recruited by it. A trial of it is warranted to well pay the aged and dyspeptic. Price 75 cents.

[From Mrs. Ira Burnham, Exeter, N. H.]
I have suffered many years from the liver and heart complaint. The most distressing diseases I was reduced so low, some two years since, that I could not sit up more than ten or fifteen minutes at a time, when I began to take Dr. Swett's Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset, which has so fully restored my health that I now do my labor and attend to the business of my large boarding house. ELIZABETH BURNHAM.
Exeter, June 1, 1859.
The testimony of my wife is correct.
IRA BURNHAM.

[From Mr. Ebenezer Blazo]
GREENLAND, NOV. 20, 1858.
DR. SWETT—Dear Sir:—The distressing disease called the heart complaint, which has so long afflicted me, and which has baffled the skill of all my former physicians, has been fully cured by the two bottles of your Cordial which I had of you last spring. Yours with respect,
SALLY BLAZO.

This unequalled medicine, together with others carefully prepared by Dr. SIMEON SWETT, from innocent but effectual vegetables, are for sale by him at No. 12 CABOT ST., Portsmouth, N. H.

Oleine Diamond Oil.
GREATEST ILLUMINATOR OF THE AGE.
This Oil is entirely free from treachery, so that a lamp may be left burning any length of time desired, without filling a room with lamp-black or soot.
It burns in the common oil lamp, with or without a chimney.
The light is far more pleasant than gas, as it is free from the disagreable flickerings always attending a gas light, and is cheaper. We claim for this Oil:
1. That it is cheaper than any other artificial light.
2. That it has no odor.
3. That it will not smoke
4. That it will burn with or without a chimney, heneath a portabolo.
5. That it will stand a lower degree of temperature than any other Oil.
6. That it is free from each of the objections that are brought against every other article heretofore or now being offered to the public for illuminating purposes.
Price $1.25 per gallon.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, JULY 8, 1859.

☞ Our celebration of the Fourth, (says Uncle Toby,) was on the Hills of Nottingham. From the Square, which is an elevated and beautiful spot, about 450 feet above the level of the sea, the prospect is very fine in every direction, and on almost every side as extensive as the range of vision.

Toward the west, however, at the apparent distance of a mile or two, the prospect is bounded by three mountains which rear their heads above all surrounding objects, and form the most abrupt and marked feature in the landscape, which every lover of nature has spread out before him, as he looks from the Square, or from the tower of the old church which is soon to come down.

To see the mountains from afar is pleasure. To go among them and climb to their tops is another pleasure, to those who love exercise and enjoy variety of surface in walking as well as in seeing.

Here was a day of leisure, without a special toil or care; with a fresh and bracing wind and fair weather.

A walk, in the morning, of five or six miles over hill and dale, (the greater part hill,) brought us to the foot of one mountain, and a pleasant scramble of half a mile carried us to the top;—not in a hurry, however, for the hill being mostly stripped of wood, and the season being favorable, strawberries and raspberries abounded, of large size, well ripened, and saying as plainly as berries could say, Come and eat us!

So we did, eat a great many,—and our eyes were enlightened, as Jonathan's were when he ate honey in the woods;—and so when we were fairly at the top, and could see many things there, among them we saw the highest mountain, and resolved to climb that also.

Coming down this hill was an easy matter compared with going up. Facilis descensus, &c., you know. All we had to do was to loosen the brakes and come down with good speed.

Then, in our progress across the lower grounds we saw a gigantic stone image of a Dog, chiselled out by the same hand which made real Dogs. As we passed behind the image, it modified itself, like a dissolving view, into a gigantic frog, bigger than the ox which the frog in the fable wished to surpass: and then, when we had got on the other side completely, the image was only a shapeless boulder, twice as high as a man, and weighing perhaps twenty tons.

Another half hour's climbing up the steep and wooded mountain side, brought our feet to stand on the ledge at the summit, where the U. S. Coast Survey party had their station. Here, the prospect, northward, southward, eastward and westward, was as grand as human eye need desire,—reaching to the ocean one way, and to ranks and rows of mountains the other, embracing city, village, forest and plain.

There are three principal mountains here, with a dozen hills that would seem mountains on a level country.

At the base of these hills is a beautiful reservoir Pond, of 1200 acres, and around, a picturesque collection of farm buildings, dwellings, and cultivated fields.

At the top, we heard the fourth of July bells, at noon, from neighboring towns—and after feasting the eye with the view, descended, making haste slowly, to avoid collision with rocks and trees. With a good dinner, eaten with an appetite that needed not to be ashamed, and another five-mile walk homeward to the Square, the remnant of the day was disposed of, to the satisfaction of all concerned.

A more pleasant excursion, or mountain and lake scenery more inviting, are rarely to be found—and all of these are to be enjoyed by a carriage ride of 25 miles from Portsmouth, or of 10 from Epping or Raymond depot.

STEAM WHALERS.—There are now fourteen steamships employed by Scotch companies in the whale and seal fisheries of the Arctic regions. We believe that none of our American companies have yet employed steam vessels in fishing operations. So successful have been these Scotch fishing steamers that their number is increasing every year.

BAYONET EXERCISE IN THE U. S. ARMY. An order has been issued by command of Lieut. General Scott, in which he alludes to the report of the Inspector General as evidence that the subject of bayonet exercise and target practice for small arms has been almost entirely neglected by the troops, especially the bayonet exercise, and he directs that hereafter the troops be regularly and systematically instructed in the full use of the several weapons placed in their hands.

☞ There were great temperance celebrations of the 4th, at Abington Grove and Milford, Mass.—and in Framingham, there was the usual festival of the New England Anti-Slavery Society.

EXETER CORRESPONDENCE.

EXETER, July 4, 1859.

Messrs. Editors:—I have been waiting to Chronicle the doings of the young men and others, as in my last I chronicled their sayings, in regard to the intemperance and free rum of this place. But I must confess that I have not seen so much as "a mouse." The bar-rooms of both the public houses are open, the gambling saloon and other places where rum is sold, ditto; the expressmen bring it, the same as ever, though one of them is the first Selectman of the town;—and it comes as freight by land and water, while all that can be said is, the "people love to have it so," as was said of the Jews in olden time.

The evils of this state of things are increasing. Beside the English girl mentioned in my last, whose husband was imprisoned for striking her mother, another one, a bride of a year or less, has taken her child and gone to her mother, or is about doing so, in consequence of the intemperance of her husband. An Irish woman was howling all night with delirium tremens, and yesterday a drunken Irishman, in front of the Unitarian meeting house, threatened to cut his throat, and started off. Two women that were with him ran after, and tumbled down. Probably they were drunk, also.

It is not to be expected that intemperance will be a solitary vice. It never is, long. An Irishman, with a wife and seven children, started with an Irish lass to go off together. Her sister informed the wife, and she went to the depot and found them in the cars. He thought it best to return with her. The girl left, and he has since gone, leaving his wife to "vindicate her honor" and support herself as best she may. As he is a son of the only true church, the "temporal punishment can be remitted," provided he has money enough.

By the way, what has become of Sickles? What a comfort it must be to a man to have a wife whose virtue he must protect! What would the wives of the Puritans, or the mothers of the Revolution have said to being protected? Or Florence Nightingale in the Crimea? I take it that a wife, young or old, who cannot protect herself in her own house, has and is only waiting for an opportunity to go over.

At the poor-house is a woman, deaf, dumb and blind, in consequence of licentiousness, or of medicines taken to cure the disease peculiar to it. Her husband allowed himself to be run over by the cars, while she was in them, a year or two since. Over the sick bed of another might be written in characters of fire, "The wages of sin is death."

I am told that the brewery is to be converted into a whisky distillery, after having supplied as many as wished it with a barrel or half barrel of pure malt liquor. As it takes but one drop of strychnine to bitter eighty pounds of water, I presume the chemists will not trouble themselves to look for it.

Two of the churches here are without settled pastors. The houses are well filled with attentive listeners, for the most part, though they hear, in my opinion very little

"God
Of the grace of our forgiving."

The Catholics have but half a day's service a month, and there are many American and English families who do not go to meeting at all.

When the Unitarian Society was organized here, it was deprecated as an evil, and the other denominations, as such, have treated the pastor of it, a devout and venerable man, as if he were "a heathen and a publican," never exchanging with him or inviting him on any occasion to preach in their houses. It is very possible that they may yet acknowledge that they have learned a lesson from them in the practice of Christianity.

Not long since a young lady went out West, and news came that the climate did not agree with her, and she was advised to return to Exeter. She was an orphan, with but little if any property. It became known to a lady of that society, who offered her a home, which was accepted. For a time she seemed better, and it was hoped she might recover. She grew worse, however, and after being nursed with the tenderest care and surrounded with all the comforts and elegancies that an invalid with refined feelings appreciates and loves, she passed suddenly away to the "home of the blest:"—the lady realizing the fulfilment of the promise attached to the injunction of the Apostle "to entertain strangers, as they might thereby entertain angels unawares."

I never heard but one Unitarian sermon before I came to this place, and believe in the trinity as firmly as I believe in my own three-fold life—intellectual, moral and physical; but I confess to hearing more appropriate and devout prayers, and more Biblical sermons from the Unitarian pulpit than any other one in the town, and the services being held at different hours at some seasons of the year, I have been able to compare the preaching of two or three a day occasionally.

I have written in haste and without method, as this must be my valedictory from this place. Wherever I am, I hope to receive the Chronicle, provided it does not contain too many advertisements of brandy, gin and bitters. * I may write from another place, if there are items of interest to communicate. I shall ever be found on the side of temperance; and when my time comes, buckle on the harness and work, battling with what Whitefield called "half demons and half brutes," in the shape of rumsellers, even to the death, "if need be." SCRIBBLER.

* We advertise many things which we do not use, and would not recommend; just as every servant of the public does some things for his employers which do not square with his personal notions or opinions. Our editorial and advertising columns are entirely distinct and unconnected—the first for the expression of our own sentiments or ideas, the latter for the use of the public, within reasonable limitations.—Pub. Chron.

GREAT BALLOON VOYAGE.—The telegraph has announced that Messrs. Wise, LaMountain and Gager, with Mr. Hyde, reporter of the St. Louis Reporter, who started from St. Louis on the evening of July 1st, had been heard from via Troy, N. Y., at which place Mr. Gager arrived the 2nd. He gives the following:—

"On Saturday, at 1 1-2 P. M., St. Louis time, were abreast of Rochester, over Lake Ontario, when the altitude was increased on account of the wind, which was blowing a perfect hurricane, unaccompanied by rain. The supply of gas was small, consequently the balloon did not reach an altitude above the storm. The vessel was immediately headed for shore.

"When the storm was highest the vessel was only about 30 feet above the Lake.—We reached land in few seconds in the town of Henderson, Jefferson county, with all hands on board. We landed in an edge of woods, with the basket swinging to and fro, making rapid motions among the higher branches of the trees, the passengers clinging to the rigging. The strength and general excellence of the arrangements of the balloon basket probably saved the party. The balloon was left in a tree, swinging above the boat and much damaged. The whole distance traveled is 1150 miles; we started at 6.40 P. M., on Friday from St. Louis and landed at Henderson, Jefferson county, at 2.40, P. M."

This is the most remarkable aerial voyage ever made. They will immediately try another voyage from Chicago, and it certainly looks as though they might cross the Atlantic—much more does it look so than it did that steamboats would cross, when Fulton tested his boat on the Hudson. It will be seen that their flight through the air was very rapid, and under favorable circumstances the 1600 miles from Newfoundland to Ireland would quickly be passed.

SUICIDE FROM DESTITUTION.—At Toronto, Canada, last week, a man named James Estley shot himself by placing the muzzle of a loaded gun in his mouth and firing it off. It is stated that the act was committed during a temporary fit of insanity, caused by the destitute condition of his family.

DISCHARGED.—Cleveland, July 6.—The trial of Jennings, Howe, Mitchell, and Davis, for kidnapping, was commenced to day. At the instance of their counsel an arrangement was made by which nolle prosequis were entered in their case and those of the Oberlin rescuers, who were awaiting trial, and the prisoners on both sides were discharged.

ANTICIPATIONS CUT OFF.—A neighboring farmer, who owns a nice onion field that gives an average crop of seven hundred bushels, has had the crop so destroyed by the maggots, that to-day there is no prospect remaining of a single bushel.—Newburyport Herald.

Seven Octave Piano --- New Scale.

The Subscriber having just received a superior SEVEN OCTAVE PIANO-FORTE, made according to his order by the celebrated firm of HALLET, DAVIS & CO., would offer it for the inspection of persons desirous of purchasing. H. L. & Co. have recently made great improvements in the manufacture of Pianos, the most important of which is the New Scale, which, while obviating the weakness which has hitherto been found in the upper part of square Seven Octave Pianos, gives it a power of tone nearly equal to that of the Parlor Grand.

Having been for several years Agent for the sale of Pianos of the above make, Mr. F. is prepared to state that the instruments which they are now making, far excel any of their former manufacture.

Purchasers will find it greatly to their advantage to call and examine the above mentioned Piano, as it is the only one in Portsmouth which contains the NEW SCALE.

LIGHT FRENCH FELTS,

FASHIONABLE SHAPES,

At Head's - - - - 14 1-2 Market St.

Sparhawk Estate, Kittery Point, Me.,

FOR SALE.

I judge it best on account of my business,—although contrary to my inclinations in most other respects—to offer for sale the above named place, which has been my residence for the last six years.

To any person in a situation to improve its advantages, and who would value the pure and beautiful, this, it is believed, is one of the most attractive and desirable residences.

The house was built by the daughter of Sir Wm. Pepperrell, and is liberally arranged and magnificent—it has a compass of view embracing ocean, river, creek and land scenery, NE to SW, 3 to 4 miles, NW to SE, 20 miles and upwards—and is in fair sound condition—has attached about three acres of excellent land, and a barn.

The best description may be had on the spot, and any person would be well repaid for the small journey, by the visit.

I would name, as an outside price, $4000 for the whole, and if all the land is not wanted, a reduction may be agreed upon. Address

ANDREW JOHN PENHALLOW, Portsmouth, N.H.

If wanted for immediate occupancy, the furniture now in the house can be purchased also.

Washington House, Rye Beach, N. H.

N. L. THOMPSON, of Haverhill, Mass., would respectfully inform his friends and the public that he has taken the above named house, in company with Mr. CARR LEAVITT, the old proprietor of the House, and they will endeavor to keep a FIRST-CLASS

Temperance Boarding House.

They would therefore solicit the encouragement of his friends and all lovers of temperance and good order who may wish to visit this beautiful watering-place.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Common Sense rules the mass of the people, whatever the misnamed and misanthrope philosophers may say to the contrary. Show them a good thing: let its merits be clearly demonstrated, and they will not hesitate to give it their most cordial patronage. The masses have already ratified the judgment of a physician, concerning the virtues of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, as may be seen in the immense quantities of this medicine that are annually sold in every section of the land. It is now recognized as greatly superior to all other remedies yet produced for diseases of the digestive organs, such as diarrhœa, dyscentery, dyspepsia, and for the various fevers that arise from derangement of those portions of the system. Hostetter's name is rapidly becoming a household word, from Maine to Texas; from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pacific. Try the article and be satisfied.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

DYSENTERY.—For Dysentery and similar complaints of the Summer season, the PERUVIAN SYRUP has proved a remarkable preventive and cure. By imparting tone to the intestinal mucous membrane, it places this surface in the best possible condition to resist the irritation of crude and indigestible articles of food.

Dyspepsia.

Considering the various forms in which this disease developes itself, it may well be called hydra-headed. In its train follow Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, Heartburn, Water Brash, Costiveness, Piles, Acidity, Oppression after Eating, Jaundice, Flatulency, Torpor of the Liver, Dizziness, Debility, Female Complaints, &c. Some of the first men in our land have given their written certificates relative to the cures effected in their own persons by the WOODWARD'S BITTERS; while testimonials from other sources, editorial opinions and voluntary expressions from persons averse to see their names in print, are perfectly overwhelming.

Read the following from a highly respectable Clergyman:

EAST TAUNTON, Mass., Feb. 9, '58.

To the Editor of the Portland Mirror,—Sir:—

OXYGENATED BITTERS.—For more than twenty five years I have been a sufferer from dyspepsia. Besides trying the patience of my family physicians in the almost useless trial of their various prescriptions, I have tried a great variety of patent medicines with a similar result. Through the kindness of my physician, I received last March, half a dozen bottles of the OXYGENATED BITTERS. I began to see relief before any hope of deriving help from them. Being determined to give them a fair trial, I continued their use, but without any perceptible benefit till June.

Since then I have gradually improved in health till I am entirely free from acidity of the stomach, and from the inconvenient flatulency, and the awful and almost distracting sick headache, which often, for days together, has wholly unfitted me for study and for performing other ministerial duties, and rendered life a burden.

I feel that I owe it, as an expression of gratitude to Messrs. Fowle & Co., and also a duty to the public, to recommend the Oxygenated Bitters, as, in my estimation, a sure remedy for that most trying, most vexing, and cruel of all diseases, to which my humble frame has been the dyspepsia. Having suffered so long, and tried so many different remedies with no good result, I can recommend the Oxygenated Bitters with a confidence few others can. If any of the readers of the Mirror are suffering, I beg of them to make trial of these Bitters without delay.

None genuine unless signed "I. BUTTS" on the outer wrapper.

Prepared by S. W. FOWLE & CO., Boston, and for sale by Wm. R. Preston, David Kimball, Nathan P. Thacher, J. H. Thacher, and E. Hutchins, Portsmouth; J. P. Packer, Greenland; and dealers everywhere. spnot 4wd&w

SCROFULA CURED IN TWENTY DAYS.

William Miles, aged 37, had been afflicted with Scrofula for 11 years. On the 1st of August, by the advice of Dr. William Root, of Marietta, Ga., he commenced the use of RADWAY'S REGULATING RESOLVENT. In 6 hours he felt a change for the better; in 12 hours small pustules were seen covering the whole surface of the body; in 24 hours he was covered with discharging sores. He still took the Resolvent freely, but finding his bowels very costive, he took six of RADWAY'S REGULATORS. They operated very gently and pleasantly. He afterward took one Regulator at night. The sores caused him some irritation, which he allayed by bathing them freely in the Resolvent. The fourth day the sores all healed up. He continued the Resolvent and the Regulators for 20 days. Since the last day, which was on the night of the 20th day, he has not experienced any returning symptoms or uneasiness. His blood is pure, skin clear, and bowels regular.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

This Gin, distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the supervision of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable vegetable extracts of the Pharmacopœia, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent medical men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., while the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "the only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to change of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, liquor dealers and confectionaries. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st.; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Packer, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. SINCLAIR'S LECTURES AND SPLENDID EXHIBITION.—A resident of Philadelphia, having unexpectedly met with the Scotch prince, and looked upon Mons. Andrieu's fine paintings, desires to express his satisfaction in listening to Sinclair's charming addresses and in looking upon the exquisite work of art which is now in his hands, and made so life-like to men and women, youth and children. I hope none of your people, old or young, will fail to see Peter Sinclair's panorama, now to be exhibited for the last time in the Portsmouth Temple. *

This panorama, as a work of art, is superior—being painted by the same artist who painted the National Panorama so highly esteemed in this city last year, including the Sugar Plantation.

☞ We know not what significance there may be in the course of the Rye Beach hotel-keepers, regarding liquor-drinking, or rather selling, the present season. First, the proprietors of the Ocean House announced that their bar would be closed on Sundays; next, the Atlantic House bar is stated by the landlord to be closed; and now, the Washington House is advertised as a strictly temperance (no liquor) house. If this is to be so, people visiting the beach, who prefer temperance to drunkenness,—there being really but one dividing line between the two, total abstinence,—should discriminate in favor of the house which agrees the nearest to their own professions and practices. And of course they will do so, when they rightly appreciate the matter.

☞ Any reader intending to purchase a Piano will do well to examine the "new scale" instrument advertised this morning. There are a large number of pianos in this city, from the manufactory of Hallett, Davis & Co., some of which have been in use for years—and all have given entire satisfaction. The new arrangement is pronounced by the judges to be a great improvement over everything heretofore invented in the piano line.

☞ It will be seen that Auerbach & Co. have taken a store in Penhallow street, till their own place of business shall be rebuilt. The principal member of the firm has long been desirous of visiting his home in the Fatherland—but is afraid to go now, lest he might be impressed into the army. We don't believe he would make much of a soldier, however,—though he might do to lead a retreat perhaps. He can trade and talk better than fight, we guess—and we recommend that he stick to that business.

☞ There is, we presume, no question but that the exhibition of Nixon & Co., to be seen in this city to-day, is one of the best of the kind which has ever appeared in this country. It has been entirely successful in Boston, New York, &c.

☞ D. Knight & Co. are to close off their stock of Hats, Caps, Umbrellas, Trunks, &c., at the Store of J. B. Adams, No. 3, Congress Block.

☞ The "Ninety-Eighth Semi-Annual Statement of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company," issued May 1st, 1859, shows an immense and safe business for this old and reliable Company. Mr. John Sise is agent in this city.

Also at the Congress Block Sales Room, Saturday, at 10 o'clock.

☞ It will be seen that the Sparhawk Estate, at Kittery Point, is advertised for sale. This is indeed a rare chance to procure a delightful summer residence.

☞ Plumer, the mutineer, was baptized in Boston jail, on Thursday morning, by Rev. Dr. Lothrop.—He was to have been baptized at some time before his execution, if not reprieved;—and he wished it done, no less after the commutation, than before.

ANOTHER BATTLE.

We have Liverpool dates to June 25, giving us some interesting items of news from Europe. The very latest is by telegraph from Paris to Galway.

PARIS, Saturday, June 25.—The Emperor telegraphs the following to the Empress:

CANDIA, Friday Evening.—Great battle. Great victory. Whole Austrian army formed line of battle, extending five leagues in length.

We have taken all their positions, captured many cannon, flags and prisoners.

Battle lasted from four in morning till eight in evening.

A Vienna dispatch supplies the confirmation of the above, but states that the battle was progressing. No details.

Prussia was about to move an army to the Rhine.

The attitude of the allied armies at the seat of war was unchanged.

The main body of the Austrians was on the left bank of the Mincio.

The Emperor of Austria had removed his headquarters to Valeido. It was believed that he had 280,000 troops on the Mincio.

The entire French force had passed the Montchiardo, and pushed a reconnoissance as far as Gotio.

The Piedmontese had advanced towards Peschier.

Napoleon had joined the camp.

Preparatory to mediation Prussia had demanded permission to march 31,000 troops through Hanover to the Rhine.

It was believed that the basis proposed by Prussia for peace, would not be acceptable to France, thereby involving Prussia in the war.

It is reported that Russia will unite with the "States," against the raising of an Hungarian Legion, and that Prussia threatens to assist in suppressing any insurrection in Hungary.

Prince Napoleon was on the borders of Modena.

ENGLAND.—Parliamentary proceedings are suspended until the Ministers of the New Government are re-elected.

It is rumored that the new Ministry will curtail naval expenditures.

ROME.—Three regiments of Swiss troops had been sent from Rome to Peruzia, to suppress the rising. They had a desperate encounter with the people, and shot them down indiscrimately.

PARIS, June 23.—The Bourse is depressed, and Rentes closed at 61 fr. 83 c.

The Liverpool Cotton and breadstuffs markets are quiet and dull.

PLUMER'S SENTENCE.—Friends of Plumer, the mutineer, arrived at Washington on Saturday, with a large number of petitions, together with additional evidence in his behalf, tending to mitigate his crime, all of which was laid before the President. The whole subject was considered in Cabinet Council, and after a thorough examination, the President decided to commute his sentence to imprisonment for life. Accordingly a mesenger was despatched to convey the glad tidings to the doomed man and his friends.

J. M. Cooper, a special messenger from the office of the Attorney General of the United States, arrived in Boston on Wednesday, bringing to Marshal Freeman, an official document, signed by the President, commuting the sentence against Cyrus W. Plummer to imprisonment for life. The Marshal, with the Messenger, proceeded at once to the jail, and the document was read to the prisoner in the presence of Dr. Winslow, Rev. Dr. Lothrop, and others interested. Plumer was deply affected, but controlled his feeling. Plumer expresses his thanks in the following card:—

"I desire to express my thanks to all the friends and editors of public journals, who have been active in my behalf; to all the signers of petitions in my favor; to many friends at Washington, to the members of the Cabinet, and especially to the President of the United States, for the change that has been made in my sentence, and to assure them that my future conduct shall show that interest has not been misplaced or mercy shown to a bad or unworthy man. (Signed) C. W. PLUMER.

———, July 2, 1869.

Messrs. Editors:—I think your correspondent, Traveller, ought not to call this place Sodom just because the bar-room of its first public house is down cellar, and only eight persons went in there in a half hour. Does he not know that it is quite fashionable for a landlord to keep a temperance house and let out his bar for a high rent on a share of the profits, and that he can hold up his head, look people in the face, and have a clear conscience? What could be better? Did not the English government shift the responsibility of the Opium trade on to the British East India Company in the same way? I once heard of a rumseller, who refused to take boarders, saying that there was more profit on a barrel of whiskey than on a boarder for three months. Who shall say that they shall not make their profits in that way? Besides, there is a class of gentlemen who like to go to bed drunk, and get up sober; and be great friends to the Temperance cause, who will pay extra for such a glorious privilege. Shall they not be accommodated? A CITIZEN.

☞ An old man of 73 years, by the name of Circy, was murdered last week by a young travelling companion, while on the way from Kentucky to visit his sons at Carlenville, Ill. The body was robbed of about two thousand dollars. The murderer, who formed an acquaintance with his victim on the boat from New Orleans, has as yet escaped detection.

☞ The Portland Transcript reports that there are now residing in Bloomfield, Me., a Mrs. Weston and her son, Capt. Joseph Weston, whose united ages amount to 174 years.

☞ Rev. Alexander Gregg of of Cheraw, S. C. has formally accepted his appointment to the Bishopric of the diocese of Texas.

HEALTH OF NEW ORLEANS.—New Orleans, June 6.—There are no cases of yellow fever here as yet, and the health of the city is excellent.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under date of 1836.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions, and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON.
Commissioner of Patents.

I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 3, 1858.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, Jan. 1, 1859. R. H. EDDY.

CONSUMPTION IS CURABLE!

BY THE USE OF

Winchester's Genuine Preparation of Dr. J. F Churchill's Compound of the

HYPOPHOSPHITES

OF LIME, SODA AND POTASH,

Originally discovered and prescribed by him as a Specific Remedy for

CONSUMPTION!

The use of the Hypophosphites in CONSUMPTION, Scrofula, Nervous Debility, Asthma, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Female Complaints, and all diseases depending upon a DEFICIENT VITALITY IN THE ELEMENTS OF THE BLOOD, have proved their INVARIABLE EFFICACY in thousands of cases in Europe and America and established the claim of the discoverer, that they are a SUE PREVENTATIVE, and a

SPECIFIC REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION.

Dr. Churchill says: "In no single instance have I found the remedy fail to produce everything that could be reasonably expected from it. In most instances the benefit derived from it has FAR EXCEEDED what could at first have been hoped for, when taking into account the degree and extent of the injury sustained by the lungs previously to the use of the remedy. * * * * Out of twenty-two cases in the third or last stage, treated at my Dispensary during the past year, EIGHT HAVE COMPLETELY RECOVERED, eight have died, and six are still under treatment. TO MARRIED LADIES.

The "Indian Emmenagogue" is a new and elegant medicine, designed expressly for females. It is prepared from an Indian plant, which from time immemorial has rendered parturition among the native squaws, and is now for the first time offered to the public. The name and virtues of this wondrous plant was recently obtained from Sesan-to-ah, an Oneida Chief, now residing at Syracuse, N. Y. It is neatly put up in two ounce bottles, with full directions for using, and is warranted to cure any case of female obstruction in twenty-four hours. This is incredible, but if it fails in any case, the price will be refunded.—Purely vegetable and perfectly safe at all times. Remember! This is the only medicine of the kind that is warranted in all cases; none other is worthy of confidence. Sent by express to all parts of the country. Counterfeit Bank Notes!

SEVENTY-EIGHT NEW COUNTERFEITS IN THE MONTH OF JUNE! ACCORDING TO THE TYPOGRAPHICAL BANK NOTE REPORTER.

Of the four hundred and thirty-two fac-similes of genuine notes in the FIRST THREE NUMBERS of the Encyclopedia, there are

Two Hundred and Sixty-Six

SPURIOUS RAISED AND ALTERED NOTES now in circulation:—altered in the name and location of the bank; altered in the denominational value, and made, in almost every instance, from the worthless bills of broken banks, and entirely unlike the genuine.

If you wish to be safe from such frauds, buy the FAC-SIMILE

Encyclopedia of American Currency.

YOU HAVE ONLY TO PLACE THESE FRAUDULENT NOTES BESIDE THE FAC-SIMILES TO DETECT THEM AT A GLANCE!!

Why will you DEPEND upon a

Printed Description, full of Errors, and printed in the smallest type, when you can save all the time, thus consumed, by reference to a fac-simile of the genuine note itself, which requires but a glance of the eye to insure you against any loss?

YOU ARE LIABLE AT ANY MOMENT TO RECEIVE A SPURIOUS NOTE, RAISED FROM ONE DOLLAR TO FIFTY.

The Encyclopedia is issued in Weekly Numbers, each containing one hundred and forty-four fac-similes, the whole Work to be completed in a year.

and as a Beverage it has no superior in the world. It is manufactured by the proprietor, at Schiedam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more mild extract is distilled and received in its spiritous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, Bladder and Kidney Complaints, &c. &c.

Put up in quart and pint bottles, in Cases of one dozen quarts, and two dozen pints, with the proprietor's name on the bottle, cork and label. For sale by all the respectable Country Merchants and Druggists. Look out for counterfeits and imitations, as the whole country is floooded with them

TO THE PUBLIC.

I beg leave to call the attention of the American Public to the following Certificate from the Government Chemist for the Island of Cuba and the Spanish West Indies, and who is known to the Scientific men of London, Paris, Madrid, Cuba and America to be the first Chemist in the world.
UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHEMICAL TESTIMONY.

D. Jose Luis Casaseca, Corresponding Member of the Royal Academies of Madrid and Munich, a Graduate in Sciences of the University of Paris, formerly Professor of Chemistry, as applied to the Arts, of the Royal Conservatorio of Madrid, and of Physics and Chemistry, as applied to the Industry and Agriculture of the country, in the Royal University of this Island, at present H. M.'s Director of the Institute of Chemical Investigation, &c., &c.

Udolpho Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is a spirituous liquid, of a very agreeable aromatic odor, completely transparent and almost colorless, having only a very slight tint of yellowish gray; its flavor is strong and very agreeable to the palate. It marks 20 degrees in Cartier's alcohol weigher or 52 degrees 5 hundredth in Gay Lussac's alcohometre. By the distillation in a balaium maris, with an apparatus consisting of a glass retort and a recipient surrounded with ice, I have collected in this recipient an alcoholic liquid with a very agreeable aroma completely colorless and transparent, which marked 90 degrees in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, or 70 degrees 5 hundredth on Gay Lussac's alcohometre; and which represented as a whole 57 per cent. of aromatic Schiedam schnapps subject to distillation in the retort. This liquid distilled with the transparency of the distilled water in mixing it with the same, and its agreeable aroma is doubtless due to a very trifling amount of an essential oil inseparable from alcohol.

From the remainder of the distillation which was left in the retort, I have obtained, through evaporation in a vapor bath, a substance of a yellowish brown color, clear, and having a bitter taste, which is not disagreeable, and which afterwards becomes aromatic and leaves the mouth perfumed with that fragrance peculiar to the vanilla. I am inclined to believe that to this bitter and aromatic extractive substance, soluble in water and alcohol, the medicinal properties which are attributed to this gin are due. I have not found in Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps any mineral or organic substance other than the extractive once already named and the aromatic one obtained by distillation. Finally, Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps consists simply of an aromatic alcohol of 20 degrees of graduation in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, and of an extractive bitter aromatic substance, which perhaps, is medicinal; and, on account of its not containing any matter injurious to the health, as well as for its odor and good flavor—a fact which no doubt arises from the choice substances employed in its manufacture, and from the scrupulous care of its distillation, it should in my opinion, be preferred to all the Holland, Belgic and German gins which are found in this Island which it has been my business to examine. These gins as I have often proved it, exhale a disagreeable odor, and have a more or less disagreeable flavor, some of them having left as was the case with the superior gin from the distillery of Mr. Henry Deetjen (of Bremen,) as residum after evaporation by steam, a substance almost insipid and very trifingly aromatic, with flavor of vanilla, but in no wise with the delicious bitter and aromatic flavor of that of Udolpho Wolfe; and others, such as that labelled "Genuine Samaritan," "Extra Superior." Messrs. Tracner have furnished me with a very small quantity of a greenish substance, of hazel metallic taste and odor, and disagreeable, which extractive organic matter was mixed with a salt of copper, with signs of iron, owing perhaps, to a bad system of distillation.

I certify that all that is here stated is the truth and agrees with the experiments I have made with the greatest care, and I authorize the house of Gottig & Will, of this city, to give publicity to this certificate, in Spanish and in foreign languages, in all countries where it may suit their interest to do so.
JOSE LUIS CASASECA.

WINSHIP'S
Patent Self-Ventilating Refrigerator.

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and that the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous and offensive tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has introduced a description of it in his new work on natural philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

CRANE'S PATENT
METALLIC BURIAL CASKET.

A newly invented Burial Case, fashioned to accord with the feelings of the bereaved, and yet retaining all the requisites of an appropriate receptacle for the dead. There is no reason why such an article should be made to create, by its appearance, disagreeable sensations. Under such bereavements what can be more in order or maketess keen the poignancy of our grief, commends itself to our consideration. So much that is repulsive has been discarded in the arrangement and usage of this Case, that its name, the "Casket Burial Case," is an involuntary suggestion.—We, therefore, do not hesitate to aver that there has never been in use anything so entirely chaste, appropriate, and withal, convenient, as this invention.

The Case permits a view of the entire body after it is enclosed, the top being composed of beautiful French plate glass, which is divided into three sections, between two of which is inserted the name-plate. For each of these sections of glass there is an elaborately ornamented cap.

The Subscribers being sole Agents for this vicinity, have always onhand every size of the above, from 2 ft. to 6 ft. 4 inches.

Also, FISKE'S METALLIC BURIAL CASES, Walnut, and Imitation Rosewood COFFINS, of superior finish.

DR. SWETT'S
CORDIAL OF DANDELION,
SPIKENARD & BONESET,

A remedy unsurpassed for Liver Complaints, such as Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, Universal Debility, and the whole family of Consumptive Complaints.

Hundreds of testimonials might be added, proving the many cures by this pleasant and effectual medicine, especially of people advanced in life, whose debilitated constitutions have been greatly recruited by it. A trial of it is warranted to well pay the aged and dyspeptic. Price 75 cents.

[From Mrs. Ira Burnham, Exeter, N. H.]
I have suffered many years from the liver and heart complaint. By these distressing diseases I was reduced so low, some two years since, that I could not sit up more than ten or fifteen minutes at a time, when I began to take Dr. Swett's Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset, which has so fully restored my health that I now daily labor and attend to the business of my large boarding house. ELIZABETH BURNHAM.
Dover, June 1, 1859.
The testimony of my wife is correct.
IRA BURNHAM.

[From Mrs. Ebenezer Blaze.]
GREENLAND, Nov. 20, 1858.
DR. SWETT—Dear Sir:—The distressing disease called the heart complaint, which has so long afflicted me, and which has baffled the skill of all my former physicians, has been fully cured by the two bottles of your Cordial which I had of you last spring. Yours with respect,
MARY BLAZO.

This unequalled medicine, together with others carefully prepared by Dr. SIMEON SWETT, from innocent but effectual vegetables, are for sale by him at No. 12 CABOT ST., Portsmouth, N. H.

GREELEY'S PATENT ELASTIC
BACK AND CENTRE
SUSPENSION PANTALOONS.
Patented June 29, 1858.
J. E. HAM & CO.,
Have purchased the right to manufacture the above named Pantaloons. The advantages of this invention over the usual method of making Pants is: they may be made snug to the person, and still as easy as though they were uncommonly large. Pants that are easy to stand in are easy to sit or stoop in.
Also for sale, GREELEY'S BRACE SUSPENDER—a superior Suspender for Skirts or Pants, and far superior to any other BRACE in the market. may35

CURRANTS AND DATES.
3000 LBS. for sale low by the package or pound, by HENRY F. GERRISH, j2 15 Daniel Street.

Oleine Diamond Oil.
GREATEST ILLUMINATOR OF THE AGE.
This Oil is entirely free from treachery, so that a lamp may be left burning any length of time desired, without filling a room with lamp-black or soot.
It burns in the common oil lamp, with or without a chimney.
The light is more pleasant than gas, as it is free from the disagreeable flickering always attending a gas light, and is cheaper. We claim for this Oil:
1. That it is cheaper than any other artificial light.
2. That it has no odor.
3. That it will not smoke
4. That it will burn with or without a chimney, hence it is portable.
5. That it will stand a lower degree of temperature than any other Oil.
6. That it is free from each of the objections that have been urged against every other article heretofore or now being offered to the public for illuminating purposes.
Price $1.25 per gallon.
For sale, wholesale and retail, at
96 Market Street, Portsmouth,
where the public are invited to call and examine for themselves.
JOSEPH HARVEY & SON.

Dr. B. S. Goodwin, Indian Physician,
Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the Diseases that man is subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr. G. would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.
ADVICE FREE.
Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are purely Vegetable, and prepared by himself, and are calculated to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.
THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY DR. GOODWIN. Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Liver Complaint, Erysipelas, Disease of the Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Palsey, Fits, Gravel, Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsey, Worms, all Diseases peculiar to Females, Humours of all descriptions, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.
No Mercury to Salivate, No Blisters!
The theory of practice is founded on the laws of Nature; our theory of Disease the theory of experience and evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 14, 1858.

Rice's Bakery, Daniel Street.

FRENCH
Steam Scouring and Fancy Dyeing,
IN BOSTON
A. LEWANDO pledges himself, from long study and practical experience in his native country and throughout Europe, in the art of Chemistry and coloring, that he can produce superior fast colors, and his mode of preparing goods for coloring is such that the fabric will retain its former strength and lively grace, and in no instance assume that dull, decayed look, unavoidably produced by dyers in this country.
Particular attention given to Dyeing and Refinishing, in a NEW and VERY SUPERIOR STYLE Silks, Satin, Velvet, Merino, Thibets and Cashmere Shawls, Canton and Italian Crapes, Gimps, Fringes, Curtains, Diamond Table Covers, Blankets, &c. Feathers colored and curled—by a newly discovered process, far surpassing anything yet offered to the public. He is prepared to dye and cleanse every kind of Ladies' and Children's Dresses, Silk, Velvet or Wool, plain or embroidered, without removing the trimmings, or taking to pieces—Spots taken out without fading or changing color.
Silks, Silk Dresses and Ribbons watered.

THE PLATFORM.

The editor of the Democratic Herald, Beloit, Wis., says in his paper of June 29:

We record, with no pleasure, the historical fact, that Hon. S. A. Douglas has given his conditional consent to the use of his name, at the Charleston Convention, in connection with the Presidency. The condition is, that any platform that the convention may adopt shall sustain his doctrine of squtter or popular sovereignty in the territories and shall not support the re-opening of the slave trade.

We find it very difficult to bring ourselves to a serious discussion of the very grave matters involved in these conditions. There is, to our mind, too much absurdity and monstrosity, for serious discusion, in the doctrine that a few squatters and settlers in a Territory, the common property of all the citizens of the United States, should claim, and be alowed the right and authority to exclude from such Territory a specie of property known to and protected by the laws of most of the original States, at the time of the adoption of the Federal Constitution, and recognized and protected by that Constitution, and the laws of the United States; and that property belonging to a citizen of the United States, and one of the common owners of the Territory desirous of taking it there!

And there is little, if any, less absurdity in the other brand of the condition—that the platform shall not support or recommend a re-opening of the slave trade.—Who desires a re-opening of this trade, and what interests would be promoted by such re-opening? Certainly the interests of the slaveholders now in the United States could not be promoted by it. Therefore, as an individual slaveholder, Mr. Douglas may, from private motives, be opposed to the cheapening of slaves and their productions by re-opening the slave trade. But we should liked to be informed of the scource of the apprehension that a move is likely to be made in the Convention for its re-opening.

Or is this a dexterous stroke of the Hon. Senator to revivify the dying spirit of sectional strife and animosity? Are not professed abolitionists and republicans capable of keeping this flame sufficiently aroused and active without the aid of anti-abolition democrats?

☞ The republican state convention of Maine, assembled at Portland, Thursday, July 7, when 206 towns were represented by 655 delegates. Gov. Morrill was nominated for re-election, (and will no doubt be chosen,) having 596 votes out of 610; scattering 14.

They passed a series of resolutions, with great unanimity. The most important of them, viz. the second, we give in full.

Resolved, That we hold unequivocally to the doctrine of genuine popular sovereignty, and the right of the people in every State and territory to establish their own institutions in their own way, subject only to the constitutional powers of Congress and the restraints of a just morality. But we deny the right of any community to oppress the weak, or to enact laws that do not operate with equal and exact justice upon every man who is subject to them. And we denounce the heresy that one class of men have a right to enslave another, as an audacious denial of the doctrine in question, and a bold assault upon the only just foundation of government, and dangerous to the liberties of the people.

The convention of the democratic party had previously nominated Mr. M. H. Smith, of whom the Bath Times says:—

There is but one reason why Hon. M. H. Smith may not make one of the best Governors one State has ever had, and that is the lack of votes. This will be the only thing lacking in his case, and the people have power to control even this difficulty. Will they do it? Let the masses answer.

Although our candidate for Governor has been called in the telegraphic reports the "administration" candidate, which is true enough when liberally interpreted, we say distinctly that he stands unequivocally on the popular sovereignty platform adopted by the Convention.

The Portland Argus, speaking of the republicans of Maine, says:—

They counted on a divided and qurrreling Democracy, and they found it united—determined with one accord to overthrow black republicanism in Maine. Let them rail, then, as much as they please. They had better spend their time and breath, however, in preparation for a voyage up Salt River. That's where they are bound: its where the Democracy have made up their minds to send them at the next election.

If it should turn out so, we'll make a note on't.

In case the poet Saxe should be elected Governor of Vermont, the little Green Mountain precinct had better be erected into a regular Democratic kingdom, and go henceforward by the name of Saxony—so says the Boston Ledger.

Here are two queer notions—1st, that of a democratic kingdom, which is a contradiction in terms; and 2d, the chance,—if he should be elected, which is a contradiction in fact.

☞ A correspondent of the St. John, N. B., Morning News says the herring and salmon fisheries this spring have been unusually successful. A very large proportion of the salmon caught would weigh thirty, thirty-five and forty pounds each.

☞ Burleigh thinks the sum of $300,000 will not pay for the fireworks consumed in the Empire State on the Fourth.

SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTE.—This is a more valuable institution than most people are aware of, as the following items will show. It is located at Washington, where our government gives it a meagre support.

In work of Audubon and Bachman, published in 1852, 197 species of mammals are enumerated. Of these, however, specimens of only 160 were attainable by them. The Smithsonian collection not only supplies this deficiency of specimens of 37 of the species, enumerated in the above work, but has added 80 new species to the list, 60 of which have not been described by any naturalist. The entire number of species of mammals represented in this collection is 240, exclusive of bats and cetaceas.

Of North American birds, the Smithsonian collection embraces nearly 700 species, of which Audubon enumerates only 500.—More than a quarter of the additional 200 species have been added by the Institute.

More than 400 species of North American reptiles are here represented. The latest general work on this subject—that of Dr. Holbrook, mentions about 160 species.

No collection in the world will bear any comparison with this in the department of Ichthyology, especially in regard to those specimens found on the Pacific coast. In short, in all the departments enumerated, the Smithsonian collection embraces specimens of all species found in any other Museum, and many which are entirely unique.

INTERESTING DECISION.—The High Court of Errors and Appeals in Mississippi, the Court of last resort in that State, has decided that a free negro of another State cannot take property by will in Mississippi. The course of the reasoning appears to be this: "In the absence of a positive law in force within the State, the citizens or inhabitants of other States have no other rights within the State, except those resulting from the comity of nations. Under the constitution of the United States, negroes are incapable of becoming citizens; but are of an inferior class, towards whom there is no comity under the law of nations. Their legal character is that of alien strangers, and have no rights except those specifically granted to them by the jurisdiction in which they are, and these are not transmissible beyond the jurisdiction. In Mississippi, all negroes are, prima facie, slaves. Alien free negroes are prohibited by statute from entering the State. A free negro, within the State by permission, is only capable of the customary rights found on the jus gentium; but a free negro, prohibited under the law, is without the pale of comity, incapable of acquiring rights of property. Hence the courts will not maintain any rights to property in the State, by bequest to free negroes out of it, who would not be permitted by law to reside in Mississippi."

We suppose this passes for law in Mississippi—and gospel, too, perhaps. Rather a black sort of law, too. But we think Mississippi is not classed among the Black Republican States, but is esteemed unmistakably Democratic. We presume that popular sovereignty there means that slavery reigns supreme.

SUICIDE.—Rufus Rood resided at New Hartford, Conn. He was a quiet, sedate, sensitive man, between fifty and fifty-five years of age, and highly respected by all his neighbors. He had a wife and son and daughter. On the Fourth they went to attend a picnic; he went to his field to hoe corn. At noon he requested his mother (or mother-in-law) to get supper early. Returning from work between 5 and 6 o'clock, appearing as usual, he washed himself and went up stairs. Soon the mother heard an explosion in the room which he had entered. She dared not go up, but called a neighbor, who went over. On entering the room, it appears Mr. Rood loaded an old fashioned musket with powder only, placed the muzzle in his mouth and pulled the trigger with his toe. The top of his head was blown entirely off. His family heard of the awful event on their way home from the picnic. Mr. Rood was a farmer in comfortable circumstances, and was one of the last of whom such an act would have been predicted.—No cause is known, unless it is to be found in some indistinct rumors respecting family troubles.

☞ The following felicitous toast was offered by Hon. I. Washburn, Jr., at the Bangor celebration on the 4th;

Our Country.—Our country, right or wrong; when right, to be kept right—when wrong, to be put right.

☞ In Providence, on Monday, Frank McCormick, a man between forty and fifty years old, set his clothes on fire while intoxicated, and was burnt to death.

OBITUARY OF A GAMESTER.—On Saturday morning Patrick L. Hearn, for many years the most prominent of the sporting fraternity of New York city, died at his residence, No. 6 Clinton place, of a stroke of apoplexy. Mr. Hearn, says the Express, was long celebrated as the prince of gamblers. He was exceedingly polished in his manners, and made friends of all who became acquainted with him. Even his victims spoke well of him. His house in Broadway was the resort of many of the wealthiest men of the community, and no stranger had pretended to "live" without paying a visit to Pat Hearn's brilliant saloons. The principal business of his life was faro, and all young New York has suffered by his singular chance. But he consoled them with rare suppers and with occasional loans; and he carried his good breeding so far that he never spoke to gentlemen in the street, thereby exhibiting a judicious polish for which very many have been grateful.

DEFALCATIONS OF A SPECULATING CLERK.—Late accounts from Paris state that another clerk in Rothschilds' house has just been condemned to five years' imprisonment for embezzlement. This time no excuse or extenuating circumstances could be found in the state of want or destitution of the guilty party. He was well to do in the world, possessing the confidence of his masters and the esteem of his comrades. He was earning 9000 francs a year in Paris, an enormous sum for an employe. He suffered himself to be dazzled by the fortune acquired by a fellow clerk, who one day came to visit him in a splendid carriage, and driving his own blood bays. From that hour the unfortunate employe knew no more happiness. He resolved to try his luck likewise, and soon having risked and lost his own fortune, he began to dip into the strong box of the Rothschilds. Vast sums disappeared, until at length he found the Bourse and all its airy visions changed for prison walls and the Court of Assizes.

PROSPECTS IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—The Traveller is informed by a gentleman who has just returned from a trip to Northern and Central New Hampshire, that the prospects for good crops this season are very encouraging. The hay crop, particularly, will be unusually large, and it is anticipated that the price of labor for the season will be larger than before for several years. In all the grass-growing region the crop is very heavy and the bottom unusually thick.—The same encouragement is given in relation to the wheat, corn and potato crop.

In Wakefield, and some other towns, the frost injured corn of the first planting, and much had to be re-planted, but the delay was not long enough to make the coming crop backward. Apples, too, promise to be very plenty, and every species of wild fruit and berries are more plentiful than before for many years.

INTERIOR OF AFRICA.—A young Frenchman, who has often visited the American Missionaries on the Gaboon river in Africa, informed them of a recent excursion of his up the river Nazareth, east of Cape Lopez. He penetrated three hundred and fifty miles into the country, and describes it as beautiful, the population dense, industrious and ingenious. He crossed prairies sixty miles long, covered with verdure, and abounding with wild cattle and other animals. The people raise large quantities of tobacco, and also cotton of a fine quality, which they manufacture into cloth.

☞ In New York, on the 4th, two boys fired a cannon loaded with pebbles, when one of the pebbles struck Mrs. Jane Cleveland, a young married woman, in the breast, and passed through her body. It is thought she cannot recover. Michael Gallagher, while passing along the street, received a shot in the neck, inflicting a mortal wound. Numbers of individuals were burned by the carless use of firearms and fireworks, and many fires resulted from the same cause.—In its report of the occurrences in the different wards, the N. Y. Post says—"Fourth Ward—nothing serious transpired, except hard drinking."

REV. THEODORE PARKER,—Senator Sumner.—A letter from a friend at Lake Leman, Switzerland, dated June 17, contains the following good news:

"Rev. Theodore Parker and family are to be here next week. He has consulted Baron Louis in Paris, who makes a most encouraging report, after a thorough examination of the patient. He pronounces one lung entirely sound, and the other but slightly diseased, and sees no reason why Mr. P. should not, with proper care, be restored to perfect health. This news, which I have from head-quarters, will give joy to many hearts.

He has met his friend, Charles Sumner, in Paris, and speaks of him as marvelously improved in health, seeming indeed almost like a well man."—Transcript.

☞ While a ladies' fair was in progress in Waldboro', Me., on the Fourth, a lamp fell to the floor, and setting fire to some combustibles, created a panic and a stampede. In the rush for the doors, several persons were thrown down and badly bruised, and a girl of ten or twelve years, daughter of W. F. Storer, is supposed fatally injured.

Sparhawk Estate, Kittery Point, Me.,

I judge it best on account of my business,—although contrary to my inclinations in most other respects—to offer for sale the above-named place, which has been my residence for the last six years.

To any person in a situation to improve its advantages, and who would value the pure and beautiful, this, it is believed, is one of the most attractive and desirable residences.

The house was built by the daughter of Sir Wm. Pepperell, and is liberally—arranged and magnificent—it has a compass of view embracing ocean, river, creek and land scenery; NE to SW, 3 to 4 miles, N W to SE, 20 miles and upwards—and is in fair sound condition—has attached about ten acres of excellent land, and a barn.

The best description may be had on the spot, and any person would be well repaid for the small journey, by the visit.

I would name, as an outside price, $4000 for the whole, and if all the land is not wanted, a reduction as may be agreed upon. Address

ANDREW J. PENHALLOW, Portsmouth, N.H.

If wanted for immediate occupancy, the furniture now in the house can be purchased also.

Washington House, Rye Beach, N. H.

N. L. THOMPSON, of Haverhill, Mass., would respectfully inform his friends and the public that he has taken the above-named house, in company with Mr. CARR LEAVITT, the old proprietor of the House, and they will endeavor to keep a FIRST-CLASS

Temperance Boarding House.

They would therefore solicit the encouragement of his friends and all lovers of temperance and good order who may wish to visit this beautiful watering-place.

Visitors going to the Beach will take Coaches at North Hampton, or Greenland Depots.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Common Sense rules the mass of the people, whatever the misguided and misanthrope philosophers may say to the contrary. Show them a good thing; let its merits be clearly demonstrated, and they will not hesitate to give it their most cordial patronage. The masses have already ratified the judgement of a physician, concerning the virtues of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, as may be seen in the immense quantities of this medicine that are annually sold in every section of the land. It is now recognized as greatly superior to all other remedies yet devised for diseases of the digestive organs, such as dyspepsia, dysentery, dyspepsia, and for the various fevers that arise from derangement of those portions of the system. Hostetter's Bitters is rapidly becoming a household word, from Maine to Texas; from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pacific. Try the article, and be satisfied.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

DYSENTERY.—For Dysentery and similar complaints of the Summer season, the PERUVIAN SYRUP has proved a remarkable preventive and cure. By imparting tone to the intestinal mucous membrane, it places this surface in the best possible condition to resist the irritation of crude and indigestible articles of food.

Dyspepsia.

Considering the various forms in which this disease developes itself, it may well be called hydra-headed. In its train follow Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, Heartburn, Water Brash, Costiveness, Piles, Acidity, Oppression after Eating, Jaundice, Flatulency, Torpor of the Liver, Dizziness, Debility, Female Complaints, &c. Some of the first men in our land have given their written certificates relative to the cures effected in their own persons by the OXYGENATED BITTERS; while testimonials from other sources, editorial opinions and voluntary expressions from persons averse to see their names in print, are perfectly overwhelming.

Read the following from a highly respectable Clergyman:

EAST TAUNTON, Mass., Feb. 9, '58.

To the Editor of the Portland Mirror,—Sir:—

OXYGENATED BITTERS.—For more than twenty five years I have been a sufferer from the dyspepsia. Besides trying the patience of my family physicians in the almost useless trial of their various prescriptions, I have tried a great variety of patent medicines, all to no purpose. Though the kindness of my physician, I received last March, half a dozen bottles of the OXYGENATED BITTERS. I began to use them without any hope of deriving help from them. Being determined to give them a fair trial, I continued their use, but without any perceptible benefit till June.

Since then I have gradually improved in health till I am entirely free from acidity of the stomach, and from the consequent flatulency, and the awful and almost distracting sick headache, which often, for days together, has wholly unfitted me for study and for all other ministerial duties, and rendered life a burden.

I feel that I owe it, as an expression of gratitude to Messrs. Fowle & Co., and also a duty to the public, to recommend the Oxygenated Bitters, as, in my estimation, a sure remedy for that most trying, most vexing, and cruel of all diseases, to which poor human flesh is heir, the dyspepsia. Having suffered so long, and tried so many different remedies with no good result, I can recommend the Oxygenated Bitters with a confidence few others can do. If any of the readers of the Mirror are suffering, I beg of them to make trial of these Bitters without delay.

SCROFULA CURED IN TWENTY DAYS.

William Miles, aged 37, had been afflicted with Scrofula for 11 years. On the 1st of August, by the advice of Dr. William Rock, of Marietta, O., he commenced the use of RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT. In 6 hours he felt a change for the better; in 12 hours small pustules were seen covering the whole surface of the body; in 24 hours he was covered with discharging sores. He still took the Resolvent freely, but finding his bowels very costive, he took six of RADWAY'S REGULATORS. They operated powerfully and pleasantly. He afterward took one Regulator at night. The sores caused him no irritation, which he allayed by bathing them with the Resolvent. The fourth day the sores all healed up. He continued the Resolvent and the Regulators for 20 days. Since the last day, which was on the night of the 20th day, he has not experienced any returning symptoms or uneasiness. His blood is pure, his skin clear, and his health good.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

This Gin, distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveiance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant and diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale by druggists at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st.; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Packer, 20 Elm st.; J. P. Morse, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. LOCAL.

☞For the sum of $200, the Portsmouth Cornet Band are ready to give twelve of their excellent out-door Concerts, on Tuesday evening of each week, from 8 to 10 o'clock, on Market Square—unless some other selection of time or location should be desired by subscribers. Shall the money be raised, for the benefit of all citizens as well as that of the Band? A paper for subscriptions may be found at W. R. Preston's and David Kimball's; and it will also be circulated.

Mr. Editor:—In your editorial guessing of the 8th inst., about the principal of the firm of Auerbach & Co., as to his cowardice, retreat, &c., he says in vindication of himself, that you are mistaken, for if a man keeps out the Jurisdiction of Prussia, not to be impressed in the army, it does not signify that he would not be patriotic, if he enters into military service volenteerly. You cannot judge of a man's bravery, because he is not a pugilist; besides it is more rational for a man to trade and talk rather than fight—which as a generall thing is not very agreeable; and as for my taking the lead in retreating, everybody knows he would soon bring up in the rear. NEW YORK FINANCIERS.—Mr. E. Pollock, a well known broker in New York, preferred at the Police Court, on Tuesday, against James M. Smith, James M. Dickson, and another, a charge of grand larceny. like nearly all swindling and kite financiering, the affair is so complicated, obscure and mystified, that an honest man can hardly understand the details as stated. It is mixed up with an attempt of the financiers to buy up the Weare Bank, at Hampton Falls, for which purpose they raised $16,000 and proceeded to that place. The negotiation for the control of the bank seems to have failed, though it is averred that some of the parties obtained an interest in the bank and had $26,000 discounted there. Nothing appears in the transaction however, to lead to the supposition that the bank is not well secured on the loan. As the parties seem to have found they could not make their connection with the bank profitable, the presumption is in favor of the Bank.—Traveller.

SOMBRE ACCOUNTS FROM PIKE'S PEAK. Leavenworth, K. T., July 7.—Mr. McCoy, who left Denver City June 24, informs the St. Joseph Gazette that only eight or ten claims had yet been discovered that pay;—these are on the Gregory road, the rest being all a desert. He says the reports of the richness of other mines are false, and the miners were leaving in large numbers.—Some 3000 wagons are on a return trip. Mr. McCoy estimates that there now at the mines about 25,000 persons, most of whom are doing nothing or working for their board. He says the mines will not support more than five thousand people, and advises everybody to stay at home.

Seven Octave Piano --- New Scale.

The Subscriber having just received a superior SEVEN OCTAVE PIANO-FORTE, made according to his order by the celebrated firm of HALLET, DAVIS & CO., would offer it for the inspection of persons desirous of purchasing. H. D. & Co. have recently made great improvements in the manufacture of Pianos, the most important of which is the New Scale, which, while obviating the weakness which has hitherto been found in the upper part of Square Seven Octave Pianos, gives it a power of tone nearly equal to that of the Parlor Grand.

Having been for several years Agent for the sale of Pianos of the above make, Mr. P. is prepared to state that the instruments which they are now making, far excel any of their former manufacture.

Purchasers will find it greatly to their advantage to call and examine the above mentioned Piano, as it is the only one in Portsmouth which contains the NEW SCALE.

and as a Beverage it has no superior in the world. It is manufactured by the proprietor, at Schiedam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spiritous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, Bladder and Kidney Complaints, &c. &c.

Put up in quart and pint bottles, in Cases of one dozen quarts and two dozen pints, with the proprietor's name on the bottle, cork and label. For sale by all the respectable Country Merchants and Druggists. Look out for counterfeits and imitations, as the whole country is flooded with them

TO THE PUBLIC.

I beg leave to call the attention of the American Public to the following Certificate from the Government Chemist for the Island of Cuba and the Spanish West Indies, and who is known to the Scientific men of London, Paris, Madrid, Cuba and America to be the first Chemist in the world.

UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHEMICAL TESTIMONY.

D. Jose Luis Casaseca, Corresponding Member of the Royal Academies of Madrid and Munich, a Graduate in Sciences of the Faculty of Paris, formerly Professor of Chemistry, as applied to the Arts, of the Royal Conservatorio of Madrid, and of Physics and Chemistry, as applied to the Industry and Agriculture of the country, in the Royal University of this Island, at present Chief H. M's Director of the Institute of Chemical Investigation, &c., &c.

Udolpho Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is a spirituous liquid, of a very agreeable aromatic odor, completely transparent and almost colorless, having only a very slight tint of yellowish gray; its flavor is strong and very agreeable to the palate. It marks 20 degrees in Cartier's alcohol weigher or 52 degrees 5 hundredth in Gay Lussac's alcohometre. By the distillation in a balnium maria, with an apparatus consisting of a glass retort and a recipient surrounded with ice, I have collected in this recipient an alcoholic liquid with a very agreeable aroma completely colorless and transparent, which marked 90 degrees in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, or 70 degrees 5 hundredth on Gay Lussac's alcohometre; and which represented as a whole 57 per cent. of aromatic Schiedam schnapps subject to distillation in the retort. This liquid did not soil the transparency of the distilled water in mixing it with the same, and its agreeable aroma is doubtless due to a very trifling amount of an essential oil inseparable from alcohol.

From the remainder of the distillation which was left in the retort, I have obtained, through evaporation in a vapor bath, a substance of a yellowish brown color, clear, and having a bitter taste, which is not disagreeable, and which afterwards becomes aromatic and leaves the mouth perfumed with that fragrance peculiar to the vanilla. I am inclined to believe that to this bitter and aromatic extractive substance, soluble in water and alcohol, the medicinal properties which are attributed to this gin are due. I have not found in Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps any mineral or organic substance other than the extractive one already named and the aromatic one ascertained by distillation. Finally, Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps consists simply of an aromatic alcohol of 20 degrees of graduation in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, and of an extractive bitter aromatic substance, which perhaps, is medicinal; and, on account of its not containing any matter injurious to the health, as well as for its other qualities, I have no fact which no doubt arises from the choice substances employed in its manufacture, and from the peculiar manner of its distillation, Rebaudi' in my opinion, be preferred to all the Holland, Belgic and German gins which are found in this Island which it has been my business to examine. These gins as I have often proved it, exhale a disagreeable odor, and have a more or less disagreeable flavor, some of them having left as was the case with the superior gin from the distillery of Mr. Henry Deetjen (of Bremen,) as residum after evaporation by steam, a substance almost insipid and very trifingly aromatic, with flavor of vanilla, but in no wise with the delicious bitter and aromatic flavor of that of Udolpho Wolfe; and others, such as that labelled "Genuine Samaritan," "Extra Superior," Messrs. Tresner have furnished me with a very smallquantity of a greenish substance, of harsh metallic taste and very disagreeable, which extractive organic matter was mixed with a salt of copper, with signs of iron, owing perhaps, to a bad system of distillation.

I certify that all that is here stated is the truth and agrees with the experiments I have made with the greatest care, and I authorize the house of Gottig & Will, of this city, to give publicity to this certificate, in Spanish and in foreign languages, in all countries where it may suit their interest to propose. JOSE LUIS CASASECA.

NEW MASONIC HALL.

Congress Hall, the third story of the Congress Block on Congress street, has been leased for a series of years to the Lodges in this city, and has undergone a thorough renovation and re-construction. The entrances are by the former drawing rooms on each side, and passageways and apartments of about eight feet in width are extended the whole length of the Hall on the north and south sides. Through ground glass the light is admitted from these side rooms into the interior Hall. This Hall, 45 feet long, 31 broad and 19 high, is finished and furnished in a most beautiful manner. The fresco painting by Mr. Philip A. Butler of Massachusetts, formerly of this city, is a most beautiful specimen of the art. It is hard to be convinced on entering the room, that the rich certain on the east is not the product of the loom instead of the brush. Masonic emblems are tastefully displayed in the pannel work, and on the ceiling may be seen the blue sky, the moon and stars, and toward the east the beams of opening day.

DEDICATION.—The New Masonic Hall in Congress Block, is to be dedicated with appropriate Masonic ceremonies, on Thursday evening next, under the auspices of the Grand Lodge of N. H., Moses Paul, Esq., of Dover, M. W. Grand Master. It is expected that a large number of the brethren of neighboring Lodges will be present. After the Dedication, the brethren, with ladies will partake of a supper at some place not yet determined upon.

ANDRIEU'S TEMPERANCE PANORAMA, contrasting in a series of views the progress and consequent miseries of Intemperance, with Temperance and its rewards, has been on exhibition at the Temple this week, and is, together with the remarks of Mr. Sinclair, one of the most effective lectures on Temperance we have ever attended. The paintings possess many traits of excellence and well repay the attendance. There is to be another exhibition this Saturday evening, and one to the children, at a very low price, on Saturday afternoon. Aside from its merits as a painting, it claims the patronage of all friends of humanity, as a very efficient means to promote the cause of Temperance.

DIMAN'S HIGHLAND COTTAGE, on the 4th, was the great centre of attraction from the neighboring towns. About a thousand were in attendance, and many bushels of strawberries, all in prime order, went to regale the inner man, while the music of the Portsmouth Cornet Band filled the ear—and the beautiful garden scenery and its delicious fragrance supplied two other mediums of sensation.

It is a pleasant excursion to those who have but little time to spare, to take the Concord cars at 20 minutes past four—spend three fourths of an hour at Diman's, and return again to Portsmouth at six o'clock. The scenery in that vicinity is beautiful.

A GOOD CHANCE FOR BARGAINS.—Messrs. Jones & Mendum, wishing to reduce their stock of Goods in anticipation of removal, will offer their whole stock at greatly reduced prices, till Sept. 1st. all the balance of their summer stock will be offered without regard to cost for cash or short approved credit. See the advertisement.

From the N. H. Gazette.

☞Those of our political friends who think any repudiation of the Slave Code doctrine gratuitous and uncalled for; who flatter themselves that there is no such demand made by Southern Democrats, and consequently no propriety in discussing the subject at all, will please read the following from the Richmond Enquirer:

From every quarter of the South we are informed that this question of protection of Slavery in the Territories will be made an issue before the Charleston Convention as an article in the platform of the party. The denial or evasion of it, will involve the party in hopeless defeat in the South. The Convention will, in our opinion, meet the issue, and upon the Dred Scott decision, affirm the duty of Congress to protect rights judicially acknowledged.

The fact is, that the Slave Code doctrine is more generally advocated by the Southern Democratic press, than it is repudiated by the Northern. "Oh Hush!" is the policy in this quarter, meanwhile the South is cheated into the belief that the Northern Democracy will acquiesce through conviction, or at least, through cowardice. There may be a masterly policy in this silence, some very nice contrivance by which the integrity of the party is to be preserved without an effort, but to the people it has more the look of contemplated treachery. Wonders never cease, and the mum policy may after all be just the thing needed in this crisis. Let our Southern brethren discuss and settle the matter. In order that they may keep ahead of the "Opposition" in the extravagance of their claims for the peculiar institution, the Northern Democracy must be left to perish beneath the accumulated burdens heaped upon it, while not a word of remonstrance, not even a groan escapes its palsied lips. What will be the result of this indifference or cowardice (we know not which to call it) no one can doubt; our worst enemies would not recommend us to pursue a different course than to go right on with shut eyes and closed ears, till the time for successful resistance is passed away forever.

"This legislation is founded upon principles as ancient as government itself, and in accordance with them has simply declared that the PEOPLE OF A TERRITORY, like those of a State, shall decide for themselves whether slavery shall or shall not exist within their limits."

Upon this pledge Mr. Buchanan received the electoral votes of fourteen of the fifteen slave states of the Union. The exception (Maryland) gave her vote for Mr. Fillmore, who, on the slave question, held precisely the same views. It will not do, at this day, for southern ultraists to attempt to dragoon the party into a reversal of its position, by which the black Republican dogma of the right of intervention will be conceded.

☞The Know Nothing Executive Committee of Georgia, have issued a circular to their despairing brethren, in which they say, "it is impossible to close their eyes to the fact that their party has no longer a national existence"—and then proceed to denounce the National Democratic party of the country as everything vile, and tinctured with abolitionism!

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under date of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions, and legal opinions given rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any other office to afford them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none of MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him t. accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more competent of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is pending, which is unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.

FROM Sept 17, 1857, to June 1, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, Jan. 1, 1859. R. H. EDDY.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

A compound remedy in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentration of the best Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the disease Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will a complish their cure must be of immeasurable value to the largest one of our afflicted fellow citizens. How completely this compound will do it, has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:—

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, BOILS, TETTER, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud.—Multitudes can bear witness of this, who ascribe themselves from the encurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do it, through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed or sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, many enjoy better health and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with the pestilence of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any other drug.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for a dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Active bitter and pulmonic disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with humbug and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the black obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have grounds for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to accomplish this, without injuring the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle. PREPARED BY

DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,
LOWELL, MASS.

PRICE, $1 PER BOTTLE; SIX BOTTLES FOR $5.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has won for itself such a renown for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidence of its virtues to those who have been cured. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it is now as safe and sure to do for their relief as it has ever been found to do.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR THE CURE OF

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

They are sugar-coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly. They are the most powerful yet perfect purgative that art can produce, and the most efficacious medicine in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

PRICE, 25 cents per box; five boxes for $1.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen and eminent personages, have lent their names to certify the unparalleled excellence of these remedies, but our space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agent below named furnishes gratis our American Almanac, in which they are given; with also full descriptions of the above complaints, and the treatment that should be followed for their cure.

Do not be put off with unassorted dealers with other preparations they make more profit on.—Demand AYER'S, and take no other. The sick who the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

All our remedies are for sale by W. R. Preston, Portsmouth, and by all druggists and merchants in the civilized world. 6m—jel8

Patent Self-Ventilating Refrigerator.

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and that the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous and offensive tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has introduced a description of it in his new work on natural philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

COMPOUNDED ENTIRELY FROM GUMS, is one of the best PURGATIVE and LIVER REMEDIES now before the public.

CRANE'S PATENT
METALLIC BURIAL CASKET.

A newly invented Burial Case, fashioned to accord with the feelings of the bereaved, and yet retaining all the requisites of an appropriate receptacle for the dead. The Proprietor knows such an article should be made to create, by its appearance, disagreeable sensations. Under such bereavements as now prevail, it often or more less keen the poignancy of our grief, commends itself to our consideration. So much that is repulsive has been discarded in the arrangement and SHAPE of this Case, that its name, the "Casket, Burial Case," is an involuntary suggestion.—We, therefore, do not hesitate to aver that there has never been such an anything so entirely chaste, appropriate, and withal, convenient, as this invention.

The Case permits a view of the entire body after it is enclosed, the top being composed of beautiful French plate glass, which is divided into three sections, between two of which is inserted the name-plate. For each of these sections of glass there is an elaborately ornamented cap.

The Subscribers being sole Agents for this vicinity, have always on hand a very size of the above, from 2 ft. to 6 ft. 4 inches.

Also, FISKE'S METALLIC BURIAL CASES. Walnut, and Imitation Rosewood COFFINS, of superior finish.

CONSUMPTION IS CURABLE!
BY THE USE OF
Winchester's Genuine Preparation of Dr. J. F. Churchill's Compound of the
HYPOPHOSPHITES
OF LIME, SODA AND POTASH,
Originally discovered and prescribed by him as a Specific Remedy for CONSUMPTION!
The use of the Hypophosphites in CONSUMPTION, Scrofula, Nervous Debility, Asthma, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Female Complaints, and all other diseases depending upon a DEFICIENT VITALITY OF THE BLOOD, HAS DEMONSTRATED THEIR INVARIABLE EFFICACY in thousands of cases in Europe and America and established the claim of the discoverer, that they are a SUE PRESERVATIVE and a SPECIFIC REMEDY for CONSUMPTION. Dr. Churchill says: "In no single instance have I found the remedy fail to produce everything that could be reasonably expected from it. In most instances the benefit derived from it has FAR EXCEEDED what I had ever been hoped for, when taking into account the degree and extent of the injury sustained by the lungs previously to the use of the remedy. * * * Out of twenty-two cases in the third or last stage, treated at my Dispensary during the past year, EIGHT HAVE completely recovered, eight have died, and six are still under treatment. SUCH A RESULT IS ALTOGETHER UNPARALLELED IN THE ANNALS OF MEDICINE."
BE SURE TO PURCHASE WINCHESTER'S GENUINE PREPARATION
which is certified by Dr. James R. Chilton to be "PROPERLY MADE and chemically pure. My fac simile signature is upon every bottle.

THE ONLY ARTICLE
UNRIVALLED IN THE MARKET,
WITH IMMENSE
HOME AND EUROPEAN DEMAND.
The reason why, is that by Nature's own process it restores the natural color permanently after the hair becomes gray; supplies the natural fluids, and then makes it grow on the bald head or smooth face; dandruff, itching, and heat from the scalp, quiets and tones up the nerves, and thus cures all nervous headaches; and may be relied upon to cure all diseases of the scalp and hair; it will stop and keep it from falling off; makes it soft, glossy, healthy and beautiful, and will last by the strong two or three times a week it will never fail or become gray; then, render, read the following and judge for yourselves:
NEW YORK, Jan. 8, 1858.
MESSRS. O. J. WOOD & CO.,
Gentlemen: Having heard a good deal about Professor Wood and his Restorative, and hearing it being quite gray, I made up my mind to lay aside the prejudices which I, in common with a great many persons, had against all manner of patent medicines and to try your Restorative. I commenced using your article, to test it for myself.
The result has been so very satisfactory that I am very glad I did so, and I feel it to be my duty, as well as for the encouragement of others who may be as gray as I was but who having my prejudices will not try it, from the reasons for setting it aside, are unwilling to give your Restorative a trial till they have further proof, and the best proof being occular demonstration, I write you this letter, which you may show to anyone who desires to witness the effect of further proof, who and by and out of the N. Y. Wire Railing establishment every day.
My hair is now its natural color and much improved in appearance every way, being glossier and thicker and much more healthy looking. I am, yours respectfully, HENRY JENKINS,
Cor. Columbia and Carroll Sts., Brooklyn.
LIVINGSTON, Ala., Feb. 14, 1858.
PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative has done much good in this part of the country. My hair has been slightly diminishing for several years, caused, I suppose, from a slight burn when I was quite an infant. I have been using your Hair Restorative for six weeks and I find that I have a fine head of hair now growing, after having used all other remedies known, to no effect. I think it the most valuable remedy now extant, and advise all who are afflicted that way to use your remedy.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, &c. S. W. MIDDLETON.
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1857.
PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—was in fact BALD. I have used but 2 half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the top of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours, respectfully,
D. R. THOMAS, M. D.,
No. 464 Vine Street.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the medium is half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for 75 cents; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,
Knowing that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of secret diseases, and many, who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any such medicines will be sent by express, or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directions followed.
Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.
DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics, have received the care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.
Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, Box 1, Boston, Mass., will receive all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.
Be particular in finding Dr. Hughes. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at an expense equal to that which is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.
This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.
The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by administering a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicine.
All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.
These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—13 Howard street, Boston.
P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. j2 tly

YOU HAD BETTER TRY
MY MOTHER'S SALVE!
This celebrated preparation has obtained an enviable and WORLD-WIDE reputation for curing rheumatism, sores, ulcers, contusions, sprains, burns, &c. It relieves at once the most severe cases of rheumatism. It has been the agent of relieving so many suffering, that it is now a household word in many families, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth.
Directions for using "My Mother's Salve" are simple. Every mother and nurse knows how to spread a plaster and bind dress a sore, and all who use the Salve will apply it in proportion, removing at times, as good judgment may direct. For Piles, apply the ointment and rub the parts smartly with Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ills, rub as for rheumatism. In COSTLY CRANBERRY MEADOW.—Capt Capon has expended one thousand dollars upon a single acre to bring it into cranberry meadow, and with the strong expectation that it will be a good investment. This is the most costly acre of cranberry land that we ever heard of. If it will pay thus to fill in deep swamps, and then give them a coat of three or four inches of mud, with a top dressing of sand, it is quite evident that those who have little else to do to their meadows but break them up with a plow, and set out the vines, ought at once to be about it. A situation where the meadow can be flooded until June or July is thought to be best, but there are different opinions. we find, in regard to the whole theory of cranberry culture.—Barnstable Patriot.

☞ Four persons on the 4th inst. were drowned in Ossipee Pond, at Ossipee, N. H., by the upsetting of a sail-boat. A Mr. Young, his wife and child, and two other children, were sailing on the pond, at a short distance from the shore, when a squall struck them, and Mr. Young and the children were drowned. Mrs. Young succeeded in reaching the shore and was saved.—One of the children was thirteen years old, and the others were younger. The bodies were all recovered.

POLITICAL. — Southern papers blaze away at Douglas with even more fury than is their wont. The Memphis Avalanche says that "no Democrat who has the spirit even of a sepoy, can read Mr. Douglas's letter without feeling that it is an indignity offered him and his party—an attempt at dictation, which he is bound by every principle of personal and political independence to spurn with contempt and resist by every means in his power."

☞ Rev. John G. Wilson was installed over the Congregational Church in Swanzey, June 29th. Sermon by Rev. Mr. Bradford, of Grafton. Vt. Address to the people, by Rev. Dr. Barstow of Keene.

Mr. Wilson succeeds the venerable Dr. Rockwood, who had been the pastor of this church for nearly 22 years, but who ceased from his labors in death about a year since.

☞ The woman who leaped overboard from South Boston Bridge, was Mrs. Mary Lahey. The deceased assaulted a Mrs. Devine, who obtained a warrant from the Police Court for the arrest of Mrs. Lahey. This so frightened the deceased that she left her bank book—showing that about $700 was due her, with her husband, and put an end to her existence as before stated.

☞ The Little Pig Monthly, for July, price 25 cents, is just issued by Shepard, Clark & Brown, Boston, and may be had of James H. Head in this city. It should be observed that the magazine has 50 pages of illustrations to 58 of letter-press, and is designed not for children alone, but for the entertainment of the entire family circle.

☞ Almost all, if not all, the special correspondents of the French journals at the theatre of war, have been sent back to Paris. It is reported that the Emperor, in giving an order for their expulsion, said: "These gentlemen "describe my battles as they would a new piece at the circus."

CONVERSION OF A PRIEST—Bartolomeo, Gualtieri, a parish priest of Tuscany, in excellent standing, and in the enjoyment of one of the most comfortable livings, has recently left his charge and his country, as a convert to the religion of the Bible.—"This I do," says the convert, in a letter to the Archbishop, "for motives of conscience, and from religious principles."

☞ Charles Nutting of Concord, N. H., was severely burnt on his arms, chest and face on the 1st., by the premature explosion of a charge of powder, while engaged in blasting rocks. His life was at first despaired of, but he is now likely to recover.

☞ In Boston, Thursday evening, a young man, 23 years of age, named Justin McCarty, was fatally shot in a drinking cellar, by James F. Colgan, bar keeper, who is also about 23 years old.

GREELEY'S PATENT ELASTIC BACK AND CENTRE
SUSPENSION PANTALOONS.
Patented June 29, 1858.
J. E. HAM & CO.,
Have purchased the right to manufacture the above named Pantaloons. The advantages of this invention over the usual method of making Pants is that they may be made snug to the person, and still be as easy as though they were uncommonly large. Pants that are easy to stand in are easy to sit or stoop in.
Also for sale, GREELEY'S BRACE SUSPENDER—a superior Suspender for Skirts or Pants, and far superior to any other BRACE in the market. may25

Oleine Diamond Oil.
GREATEST ILLUMINATOR OF THE AGE.
This Oil is entirely free from treachery, so that a lamp may be left burning any length of time desired, without filling a room with lamp-black or odor.
It burns in the common oil lamp, with or without a chimney.
The light is far more pleasant than gas, as it is free from the disagreeable flickerings always attending a gas light, and is cheaper. We claim for this Oil:
1. That it is cheaper than any other artificial light.
2. That it has no odor.
3. That it will not smoke
4. The light will burn with or without a chimney, hence it is portable.
5. That it will stand a lower degree of temperature than any other Oil.
6. That it is free from each of the objections that are brought against every other article heretofore or now being offered to the public for illuminating purposes.
Price $1.25 per gallon.
For sale, wholesale and retail, at
96 Market Street, Portsmouth,
where the public are invited to call and examine for themselves.

Dr. B. S. Goodwin, Indian Physician,
Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the Diseases that man is subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr G would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.
ADVICE FREE.
Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are purely Vegetable, and prepared by himself, and are calculated to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.
THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY DR. GOODWIN.—Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Diseases of the Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Palsey, Fits, Gravel, Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsey, Worms, all Diseases peculiar to Females, Humors of all descriptions, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.
No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blisters!
Our philosophy of practice is founded on the laws of Nature; our theory of Disease the theory of experience and evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 14, 1858.

MONDAY, JULY 11, 1859.

THE OLDEN TIME.

The following old document, drawn up in 1740, will show the form of Indentures used in those days for "binding out" apprentices to service. It was furnished to us for publication by Samuel Langdon, Esq., who has considerable regard for old documents.

This fashion of the world has passed away, almost entirely—but the old indenture was not without its good influence on its subjects, both master and man—irksome and unendurable as it may seem to the boys of the present day. No better school or discipline can be furnished a boy or young man than a long apprenticeship with a faithful master. Finished, thorough mechanics, artizans and business men are much less plentiful, now-a-days, it seems to us, than in the days of long indentures.

This Indenture Witnesseth, That Joseph Holms Junr, Son to Joseph Holms of the parish of Rye, Seener, Doth of his own free Will and Accord, and with the Consent of his said father, doth Put and Bind himself to be an Apprentice unto Mr. Joseph Langdon of Portsmouth, Gentlman, and Misrs Mary Langdon, his wife, to learn his Art, Trade or Mystery, and with him, the said Mr. Joseph Langton, after the manner of an Apprentice, to Dwell and Serve him from the Day of the Date hereof, for and during the full and just Term of Two Years and Six Months, shall be Ended August twenty-first, 1742, next ensuing, and fully to Compleat and Ended. During all which said Term, the said Apprentice his said Master and Mistress honestly and faithfully shall Serve, his Secrets keep close, his lawful and reasonable commands every where gladly Do and Perform; Damage to his said Master and Mistress he shall not willfully do; his Master's Goods he shall not Waste, Embezel, Purloine or Lend unto others, nor suffer the same to be wasted or purloined; but to his power shall forthwith Discover and make Known the same unto his said Master and Mistress. Taverns or Ale-houses he shall not frequent; at Cards, Dice or any other unlawful game he shall not Play; Fornication he shall not commit, nor Matrimony contract with any Person, during said Term; From his Masters and Mistress Service he shall not at any time unlawfully Absent himself; But in all things as a good, honest and faithful Servant and Apprentice, shall bear and behave himself towards his said Master and Mistress during the full Term of Two Years as abov said, Commencing as aforesaid.

And the said Joseph Langdon Doth for himself Do Covenant, Promise, Grant and Agree unto, and with the said Apprentice in Manner and Form following, that is to say, That he will teach the said Apprentice, or cause him to be Taught by the best Ways and Means that he may or can, the Trade, Art or Mystery of a House Carpenter, provided that (if the said Apprentice be capable to learn) and will Find and Provide for and unto said Apprentice, good and sufficient meat, drink, and apperl and all other things necessary or fitting for an Apprentice during said term; and at the end of said Term to dismiss said Apprentice with one suit of good aperal for Sabbath Day, with his other wearing Cloaths.

In Testimony whereof, The said Parties to these present Indentures have interchangeably set their Hands and Seals, the twenty-first day of March and in the thirteenth year of the reign of George Second, by the Grace of God, King of Great Britain, France and Ireland; And in the Year of our Lord, One Thousand Seven Hundred and Forty. JOSEPH LANGDON.

JOSEPH HOLMES.

Signed, Sealed and Delivered in Presence of Joseph Holmes, Stephen Batchelder, Edward Randell.

☞ The effect of the European war upon breadstuffs has been the reverse of what was most generally expected. The London correspondent of the New York Commercial Advertiser, after noticing that wheat had declined 9 cents a bushel, says that "the wants of the French, Sardinian and Austrian armies must be much smaller than military experience would lead persons to suppose, and the damage to agricultural operations from European war must also prove singularly slight."

☞ The North American Review for July, No. 184, is before us, from the editor. Contents:—The Life and Poems of Michael Angelo; Judicial Ordeals; British Strictures on Republican Institutions; Life of Lord Cornwallis; Nature and Art in the Cure of Disease; Contemporary French Literature; Chief Justice Parsons; Fowler's English Grammar; Critical Notices.

☞ It is reported that, on Saturday afternoon, a man named Rosseau was carried over the Falls of Niagara. He lived at Chippewa, and had been over to Schlosser in a boat. Just before the gale commenced blowing, he started to return, but is believed never to have reached the other shore.—Pieces of a boat, thought to be his, were found at a later hour on the shores of Goat Island, leading to the belief that he went overthe Canada Fall.

☞ Some time since, it was stated that a diabolical attempt was made in Cleveland to blow a man's head off, by leaving upon his table filberts charged with detonating powder. The fellow who placed these infernal machines upon the table has been discovered, tried, convicted and sentenced to five years' imprisonment.

BATTLE OF SOLFERINO.

At last, by the steamer Hungarian, from Liverpool June 29, we have some particulars, but not many, of the great battle of the 24th June. The Austrian official account, it will be seen, admits a defeat, and that their loss was extraordinarily heavy.—The Austrians seem to have commenced the battle by attacking the French lines. No report of the losses is given from any reliable source. Some rumors make the total loss of the Austrians 30,000 to 35,000, and of the allies 12,000 to 15,000.

Large reinforcements are marching towards both armies. The Arch Duke Albert, it is stated, will soon join the Austrian army at the head of 150,000 new troops, fresh from Hungary.

The gist of the news is contained in the following dispatch from the French Emperor Napoleon, to the Empress.

CAVRIANA, June 25.—It is impossible as yet to obtain the details of the battle of yesterday. The enemy withdrew last night. I have passed the night in the room occupied in the morning by the Emperor of Austria.

CAVRIANA, June 26, 11:30 A. M.—The Austrians who had crossed the Mincio for the purpose of attacking us with their whole body, have been obliged to abandon their position, and withdraw to the left bank of the river.

They had blown up the bridge of Goito. The loss of the enemy is very considerable, but ours is much less.

We have taken 30 cannon, more than 7000 prisoners, and three flags.

Gen. Neil and his corps d'armee have crowned themselves with glory, as well as the whole army.

The Sardinian army inflicted great loss on the enemy, after having contended with great fury against superior forces.

The Paris Presse says that private messages from Berne are spoken of, which put down the Austrian loss at 35,000 hors du combat, and 15,000 taken prisoners, together with 16 flags and 17 pieces of cannon.—This, however, lacks confirmation.

Circumstantial accounts of the battle had reached Paris.

It was inferred from the telegrams that the French army suffered so severely that two days after the battle it was still unable to resume the offensive.

There were vague rumors of 10,000 to 12,000 troops having been killed and wounded.

The following is the Austrian official account of the battle:

VERONA, June 25.—The day before yesterday our right wing occupied Pozzolonga, Salferino and Cavriana, and the left wing pressed forward as far as Guidizzalo, and Cascioffereda, but were driven back by the enemy. A collision took place between the two entire armies at 10 A. M., yesterday. Our left, under Gen. Wimper, advanced as far as Chiese. In the afternoon there was a concentrated assault on the Salferino.—Our right wing repulsed the Piedmontese, but on the other hand the order of our centre could not be restored, and our losses are extraordinarily heavy. The developments of powerful masses of the enemy against our left wing and the advance of his main body against Volta, caused our retreat, which began late in the evening.

The Austrian Kesewes, 175,000 in number, were on their way to Italy. They are considered the flower of the Austrian army. Not a man of them has served less than eight years.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times says it was expected that another battle would be fought before the siege operations would come on.

Patriotic demonstrations by the working classes in Paris were universal.

Large reinforcements for the French army were constantly quitting France for Italy.

A dispatch from Vienna says that the attack of the French on Venice and Tagliamento, about 45 miles southwest of Venice, was expected to take place on the 28th of June.

A SCRUPULOUS WITNESS.—Some years since, in the Newburyport Police Court, Judge M presiding, a man was arraigned for assaulting, kicking, and otherwise much maltreating another individual. At the trial there was present a very conscientious witness for the plaintiff, who after having sworn that he "would tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, God helping him," was asked if he saw defendant kick plaintiff. "Well," said he, speaking very slowly and cautiously, "I can't say that I did, but I saw him take away his foot three times!"

☞ The Belton (Texas) Independent says that it is ascertained that most of the outrages charged upon the Reserve Indians are mere fiction, and that the strongest circumstantial evidence that they have ever committed murder on the frontier has failed, and leaves it all presumptive. These Indians are certainly a much abused people.

☞ At the commencement of the Antioch College, Ohio, last week, sixteen young gentlemen and two young ladies graduated. The College has now two hundred students and is free from debt.

The commencement of Marietta College, Ohio, occurred on the 30th ult. The graduating class numbered ten.

UNION.—Rev. M. M. Langley, late pastor of the Congregational church in Peru, Me., has acceded to the invitation to take charge of the Congregational and Methodist churches in Washington, Me., a township of 1085 inhabitants.

It is a remarkable fact that however well young ladies may be versed in grammar, very few of them can decline matrimony.

☞ Mary McShane died suddenly in Boston, Wednesday night; and as foul play is suspected, the coroner comes and finds she died by violence; Paddy McShane, her husband, who is an Irish tippler, and beats his wife, has run away: and this turns suspicion on him.

P. S.—Paddy McShane has turned up. He did not run away, but got drunk and was sent to Deer Island. He has now been put in jail, to be tried for manslaughter.

OPPOSITION TO TAMMANY.—New York, July 8.—The ex-Mayor Wood General Committee held a meeting last evening, and adopted resolutions favoring the choice of the delegates to the Charleston Convention by congressional districts, and announcing an independent ticket in opposition to Tammany.

INTOLERANCE IN FRANCE.—A Protestant in France has been fined fifty francs for lending his neighbor a book on the "Immaculate Conception." The complaint accused him of "Colportage," or distribution of pamphlets without a license!

It is a Chinese maxim, that for every man who does not work, and for every woman who is idle, somebody must suffer cold and hunger.

Seven Octave Piano --- New Scale.

The Subscriber having just received a superior SEVEN OCTAVE PIANO-FORTE, made according to the order by the celebrated firm of HALLET, DAVIS & CO., would offer it for the inspection of persons desirous of purchasing. H. D. & Co. have recently made great improvements in the manufacture of Pianos, the most important of which is the New Scale, which, while obviating the weakness which has hitherto been found in the upper part of Square Seven Octave Pianos, gives it a power of tone nearly equal to that of the Parlor Grand.

Having been for several years Agent for the sale of Pianos of the above make, Mr. P. is prepared to state that the instruments which they are now making, far excel any of their former manufacture.

Purchasers will find it greatly to their advantage to call and examine the above mentioned Piano, as it is the only one in Portsmouth which contains the NEW SCALE.

Sparhawk Estate, Kittery Point, Me.,
FOR SALE.

I judge it best on account of my business,—although country life my inclination—to move in most other respects to offer for sale the above named place, which has been my residence for the last six years.

To any person in a situation to improve its advantages, and who would value the pure and beautiful, this, it is believed, is one of the most attractive and desirable residences.

The house was built by the daughter of Sir Wm. Pepperell, and is liberally arranged and magnificent—it has a compass of view embracing ocean, river, creek and land scenery. NE to SW. 3 to 4 miles, NW to SE. 20 miles and upwards—and is in fair sound condition—has attached about ten acres of excellent land, and a barn.

The best description may be had on the spot, and any person would be well repaid for the small journey, by the visit.

I would name, as an outside price, $4000 for the whole, and if all the land is not wanted, a reduction as may be agreed upon. Address,

ANDREW J. PENHALLOW, Portsmouth, N.H.

If wanted for immediate occupancy, the furniture now in the house can be purchased also.

Washington House, Rye Beach, N. H.

N. L. THOMPSON, of Haverhill, Mass., would respectfully inform his friends and the public that he has taken the above-named House in company with Mr. CARR LEAVITT, the old proprietor of the House, and they will endeavor to keep a FIRST-CLASS

Temperance Boarding House.

They would therefore solicit the encouragement of his friends and all lovers of temperance and good order who may wish to visit this beautiful watering-place.

Visitors going to the Beach will take Coaches at North Hampton, or Greenland Depots.

PRIME SOAP WITHOUT MAGIC.—Adams & Curtis, at their Soap Works in Washington street, are manufacturing a superior article of soap for all the purposes for which the magic soap is used—and without magic or miracle it performs the wonderful work of "bringing a clean thing out of an unclean," without destroying the clothing or injuring the hands. This soap is not only better but cheaper than the old fashioned ordinary soap—so the makers say, and you can try it and see.

It is sold by the grocers and by the manufacturers.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Common Sense rules the mass of the people, whatever the misnamed and misanthrope philosophers may say to the contrary. Show them a good thing: let its merits be clearly demonstrated, and they will not hesitate to give it their most cordial patronage. The masses have already ratified the judgment of a physician, concerning the virtues of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, as may be seen in the immense quantities of this medicine that are annually sold in every section of the land. It is now recognized as greatly superior to all other remedies yet devised for diseases of the digestive organs, such as diarrhœa, dyscentery, dyspepsia, and for the various fevers that arise from derangement of those portions of the system. Hostetter's name is rapidly becoming a household word, from Maine to Texas; from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pacific. Try the article and be satisfied.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

Agent for Portsmouth, J. H. THACHER, cor. of State and Pleasant Sts., and No. 12 Market Sq. Weeks & Potter, Boston, General Agents for the New England States.

DYSENTERY.—For Dysentery and similar complaints of the Summer season, the PERUVIAN SYRUP has proved a remarkable preventive and cure. By imparting tone to the intestinal mucous membrane, it places this surface in the best possible condition to resist the irritation of crude and indigestible articles of food.

Dyspepsia.

Considering the various forms in which this disease developes itself, it may well be called hydra-headed. In its train follow Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, Heartburn, Water Brash, Costiveness, Piles, Acidity, Oppression after Eating, Jaundice, Flatulency, Torpor of the Liver, Dizziness, Debility, Female Complaints, &c. Some of the first men in our land have given their written certificates relative to the cures effected in their own persons by the OXYGENATED BITTERS; while testimonials from other sources, editorial opinions and voluntary expressions from persons averse to see their names in print, are perfectly overwhelming.

Read the following from a highly respectable Clergyman:

EAST TAUNTON, Mass., Feb. 9, '58.

To the Editor of the Portland Mirror.—Sir:—OXYGENATED BITTERS—For more than twenty five years I have been a sufferer from the dyspepsia. Besides trying the patience of my family physicians in the almost useless trial of their various prescriptions, I have tried a great variety of patent medicines with a similar result. Through the kindness of my physician, I received last March, half a dozen bottles of the OXYGENATED BITTERS. I began to use them without any hope of deriving help from them. Being determined to give them a fair trial, I persevered their use, but without any perceptible benefit till June.

Since then I have gradually improved in health till I am entirely free from acidity of the stomach, and from the consequent flatulency, and the awful and almost distracting sick headache, which often for days together, rendered me incapacitated me for study and for all other ministerial duties, and rendered life a burden.

I feel that I owe it, as an expression of gratitude to Messrs. Fowle & Co., and also a duty to the public, to recommend their Oxygenated Bitters, as, in my estimation, a sure remedy for that most trying, most vexing, and crowd of all diseases, to which poor human flesh is heir, the dyspepsia. Having suffered so long, and tried so many different remedies with so little good, I can recommend the Oxygenated Bitters with a confidence few others can. If any of the readers of the Mirror are suffering, I beg of them to make trial of these Bitters without delay.

SCROFULA CURED IN TWENTY DAYS.

William Miles, aged 37, had been afflicted with Scrofula for the last 10 years. On the 1st of August, by the advice of Dr. William Root, of Marietta, Ga., he commenced the use of RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT. He is now well. He felt a change for the better; in 12 hours small pustules were seen covering the whole surface of the body; in 24 hours he was covered with discharging sores. He still took the Resolvent freely, but finding his bowels very costive, he took six of RADWAY'S REGULATORS. They operated powerfully and pleasantly. He afterward took one Regulator at night. The sores caused him some irritation, which he allayed by bathing them with the Resolvent. The fourth day the sores were healed up. He continued the Resolvent and the Regulators for 20 days. Since the last day, which was on the night of the 20th day, he has not experienced any returning symptoms, or uneasiness. His blood is pure, skin clear, and bowels regular.

R. R. R. is sold by Druggists everywhere.

R. R. R. Office, 162 Fulton street, New York.

N. B.—For Scrofula, Syphilis, Female Complaints, use R. R. Resolvent. For Irregularity, use Radway's Regulators.

Now is the time to use the great Spring and Summer Medicine.

Dr. Langley's Root and Herb Bitters.

Composed of Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Yellow Dock, Prickly Ash, Thoroughwort, Rhubarb, Mandrake, Dandelion, &c., all so compounded as to act in concert with Nature, and their effect is truly wonderful. They absolutely cure

LIVER COMPLAINT, INDIGESTION,
COSTIVENESS, DIZZINESS,
HEADACHE, HEARTBURN,
PILES, FLATULENCY,
WEAKNESS, LOSS OF APPETITE

All kinds of Humors, and every disease arising from a disordered Stomach, or bad Blood. If taken in large doses, Fever and Ague may be broken up and cured at once.

This has become a standard Medicine, and is decidedly the Best in the World. Try it once, and you will be satisfied to do so again. The price is cheap—only 25 cents for a pint, and 87½ cents for a large Bottle. You can't get a bottle too quick for the time is fast approaching when you will feel all sorts of bad feelings if you don't take the Root and Herbs and drive them away. Sold by all Medicine Dealers everywhere.

Orders addressed to Dr. O. LANGLEY, or to GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., 11 & 12 Marshall St. Boston, wholesale Dealers in Family Medicines of every description, will receive prompt attention. Merchants generally to examine their stock. m13

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

This Gin, distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the supervision of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable remedies of the pharmacopœia, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever met with."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co. 11 Marshall st.; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; E. Pecker, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 67 Blackstone st.; R. Smith & Co., 20 Exchange st.; Gilbert, Abbott & Co., 1 Broad st.; Deland & Snow, 84 Elm st. and others. In Portland, Me., of H. H. Hay & Co., C. W. Atwell, and C. C. Mitchell & Son.

LOCAL.

For the Chronicle.

☞ Christian Johnson has for some time kept at Star Island a place for gambling and drinking and incidental luxuries. Several of the friends of good order and temperance have for a long time lamented the existence of such a place. Some of the citizens, in consequence of rough treatment of one of their friends when intoxicated, a few days ago, broke some glass and removed the doors from the groggery. Whereupon Johnson instituted the prosecution mentioned some days ago in the Chronicle.—The friends of good order at the same time prosecuted Johnson for keeping a disorderly house. Johnson prevailed upon the Court to give him a week to prepare for the trial.

On Saturday the trial occurred, and a large part of the people of Star Island were before our Police Court. Ten witnesses were examined in support of the prosecution, and seven for the defence. It was not quite clear whether the witnesses for the prosecution or defence were most damaging to the deft. It was proved that the deft kept a grog shop and gambling saloon of a low grade, to the disturbance, injury and disgrace of the neighborhood.

It is much to the credit of some of the most prominent young men of that place that they, at considerable expense, have undertaken to bring this offence to justice and abate this nuisance.

Johnson was bound over in the sum of $300 for his trial at the next Court.

☞ A regular meeting of the Board of Engineers was held on Tuesday evening last, Chief Engineer J. G. Hadley in the chair.

The Chief Engineer reported that the necessary repairs on the building corner of State and Pleasant streets had been completed.

Reported that the hydrant corner of Vaughan street was completed and ready for use—arranged to be used by Engine Cos. Nos. 1, 2 and 6.

Complaint was made of the building corner of Pleasant and Washington streets;—also of the building corner of Fleet and Hanover streets, as being unsafe, and the subject was referred to the following committee for examination:—J. G. Hadley, C. E. Main, and J. E. Rider.

Sundry bills were approved, and certificates granted to Engine Co. No. 2.

How the Day Began.—The Bath Times, in giving an account of the celebrated Fourth, says:

"No sooner had the hammer of the Elm street clock marked the departed Sabbath at 12 o'clock midnight, than the boys commenced their part of the exercises, and such a confusion of sounds arose as proceed from tin horns, fire-crackers, pistols, old muskets, drums, and every conceivable thing that could be pressed into the service to make a discordant noise, and to render sleep an impossibility. This din and confusion was kept up on the Park and in the streets until sunrise, when the big gun on the Park announced that bigger boys were engaged in creating bigger noises.

Some of our citizens appear to think that Portsmouth is the only place where such rowdyism prevails—but did they read the newspapers from other cities, they would learn differently. From sunrise to sunset, however, would seem to be plenty of time to license the boys, big and little, to make as much noise as they please.

☞ Naval Constructor W. L. Hanscom has been transferred from this Naval Station to Charlestown. Mr. Grice, from the Philadelphia Navy Yard, takes Mr. Hanscom's place here;—and Henry Hoover takes his place in Philadelphia.

☞ Patrick Cosgrove, a Bowery Boy, known as "Cockroach," died of a stab received in a row in New York some time since. He refused to divulge the name of his murderer, meaning to get well and punish him himself. But his plans were frustrated.

☞ The Louisville papers note the death of Victor F. Ward, aged twenty years.—He was the boy who was whipped by Butler, the school teacher, which whipping was the first act in the Matt Ward tragedy in Louisville.

☞ A dispatch received at the Boston Merchant's Exchange from New York states that the Collins steamers Adriatic, Atlantic, and Baltic have been sold to go on the California line via Aspinwall.

☞ The Beaver Dam (Wis.) Democrat says a man named David Bowers, of New Leipsic, died on the 23d ult., from the bite of a spider. He was at work in the woods when the poisonous insect bit him on the lip, causing his death in eight days.

☞ A Washington letter says, "General Pierce expects to return home next month, recent indications in Mrs. Pierce's health being less encouraging than heretofore.—This intelligence saddens a large circle of her personal friends here."

M. Blondin has performed the feat of crossing Niagara river on a rope with a sack over his head. He laid down upon the rope in the sack and performed some other tricks.

New York, July 9.—The Times' Washington correspondent says it is now understood that the Russian government wholly repudiate Perkins' claim as without merit, there being no proof of any contract.

The Tribune's Washington correspondent says an effort is making by interested parties there and in New York to press a treaty with Mexico on the administration, by which to obtain a perpetual right of way for the Tehuantepec and other routes, to the Pacific, and a right of way on a line from the Rio Grande to the Gulf of California, for $25,000,000, the awards of a mixed commission to sit on claims, and awards to American claimants to be deducted from this sum. It is contended that this plan relieves Juarez from embarrassment in regard to the cession of the Territory, and yet virtually secures to the United States such acquisition as would be maintained against reclamation.

By an arrival from Rio Janeiro, at this port, we have dates from that place to the 25th of May, and later intelligence from the river Plate, from which it appears that the anticipated difficulty between the government of Buenos Ayres and Gen. Urquiza has at last come to a head, resulting in active preparations for war. There is also a prospect of a difficulty between Montevideo and Brazil.

The Portsmouth Chronicle criticises with some severity an article from our paper, but we do not feel called upon to notice this criticism for the reason that the article in question was written by a worthy "sub" in our absence at Bangor. Perhaps we might have chosen different language had we written upon that subject.—Bath Times.

☞ At a recent prize fight in Ballymena, Ireland, one of the pugilists was knocked down sixty-one times and had his eyes completely "closed up;" and yet he came unflinchingly to "the scratch."

☞ The daughter of John Rafferty, of Cincinnati, has been killed in trying to "do the Niagara feat" in a small way, over a porch in the second story of the house.

DR. SWETT'S
CORDIAL OF DANDELION,
SPIKENARD & BONESET,

A remedy unsurpassed for Liver Complaints, such as Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, Universal Debility, and the whole family of Consumptive Complaints.

Hundreds of testimonials might be added, proving the many cures by this pleasant and effectual medicine, especially of people advanced in life, whose debilitated constitutions have been greatly recruited by it. A trial of it is warranted to well pay the aged and dyspeptic. Price 75 cents.

[From Mrs. Ira Burnham, Exeter, N. H.]

I have suffered many years from the liver and heart complaint. By these distressing diseases I was reduced so low, some two years since, that I could not sit up more than ten or fifteen minutes at a time, when I began to take Dr. Swett's Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset, which has so fully restored my health that I now daily labor and attend to the business of my large boarding house. ELIZABETH BURNHAM.

Exeter, June 1, 1859.

This testimony of my wife is correct.

IRA BURNHAM.

[From Mrs. Ebenezer Blazo.]

GREENLAND, Nov. 20, 1858.

DR. SWETT—Dear Sir:—The distressing disease called the heart complaint, which has so long afflicted me, and which has baffled the skill of all my former physicians, has been fully cured by the two bottles of your Cordial which I had of you last spring. Yours with respect,

SALLY BLAZO.

This unequalled medicine, together with others carefully prepared by Dr. SIMEON SWETT, from innocent but effectual vegetables, are for sale by him at No. 12 Cabot St., Portsmouth, N. H.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under date of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents to inventors in States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below, will prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF SKILL, VANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1859. R. H. EDDY.

and as a Beverage it has no superior in the world. It is manufactured by the proprietor, at Schiedam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spiritous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, Bladder and Kidney Complaints, &c. &c.

Put up in quart and pint bottles, in Cases of one dozen quarts, and two dozen pints, with the proprietor's name on the bottle, cork and label. For sale by all the respectable Country Merchants and Druggists. Look out for counterfeits and imitations, as the whole country is flooded with them

TO THE PUBLIC.

I beg leave to call the attention of the American Public to the following Certificate from the Government Chemist for the Island of Cuba and the Spanish West Indies, and who is known to the Scientific men of London, Paris, Madrid, Cuba and America to be the first Chemist in the world.
UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHEMICAL TESTIMONY.

D. Jose Luis Casaseca, Corresponding Member of the Royal Academies of Madrid and Munich, a Graduate in Sciences of the Faculty of Paris, formerly Professor of Chemistry, as applied to the Arts, of the Royal Conservatorio of Madrid, and of Physic and Chemistry, as applied to the Industry and Agriculture of the country, in the Royal University of this Island, at present H. M's Director of the Institute of Chemical Investigation, &c., &c.

Udolpho Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is a spirituous liquid, of a very agreeable aromatic odor, completely transparent and almost colorless, having only a very slight tint of yellowish gray; its flavor is strong and very agreeable to the palate. It marks 20 degrees in Cartier's alcohol weigher or 52 degrees 5 hundredth in Gay Lussac's alcohometer. By the distillation in a balnium maria, with an apparatus consisting of a glass retort and a recipient surrounded with ice, I have collected in this recipient an alcoholic liquid with a very agreeable aroma completely colorless and transparent, which marked 90 degrees in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, or 70 degrees 5 hundredth on Gay Lussac's alcohometre; and which represented as a whole 57 per cent. of aromatic Schiedam schnapps subject to distillation in the retort. This liquid did not soil the transparency of the distilled water in mixing it with the same, and its agreeable aroma is doubtless due to a very trifling amount of an essential oil inseparable from alcohol.

From the remainder of the distillation which was left in the retort, I have obtained, through evaporation in a vapor bath, a substance of a yellowish brown color, clear, and having a bitter taste, which is not disagreeable, and which afterwards becomes aromatic and leaves the mouth perfumed with that fragrance peculiar to the vanilla. I am inclined to believe that to this bitter and aromatic extractive substance, soluble in water and alcohol, the medicinal properties which are attributed to this gin are due. I have not found in Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps any mineral or organic substance other than the extractive one already named and the aromatic one obtained by distillation. Finally, Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps consists simply of an aromatic alcohol of 20 degrees of graduation in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, and of an extractive aromatic substance, soluble in water and alcohol, the medicinal properties which are attributed to this gin are due. I have not found in Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps any mineral or organic substance other than the extractive one already named and the aromatic one obtained by distillation. Finally, Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps consists simply of an aromatic alcohol of 20 degrees of graduation in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, and of an extractive aromatic substance, soluble in water and alcohol, the medicinal properties which are attributed to this gin are due. I have not found any deleterious substance, such as metallic salts, which would result from the choice substances employed in its manufacture, and from the peculiar manner of its distillation, it should in my opinion, be preferred to all the Holland, Belgic and Genevan gins which are found in this Island which it has been my business to examine. These gins as I have often proved it, exhale a disagreeable odor, and have a more or less disagreeable flavor, some of them having left as was the case with the superior gin from the distillery of Mr. Henry Deetjen (of Breemen,) a residum after evaporation by steam, a substance almost insipid and very trifling aromatic, with flavor of vanilla, but in no wise with the delicious bitter and aromatic flavor of that of Udolpho Wolfe; and others, such as that labelled "Genuine Samaritan," "Extra Superior," Messrs. Tracher have furnished me with a very considerable quantity of a greenish substance, of harsh metallic taste and very disagreeable, which extractive organic matter was mixed with a salt of copper, with traces of iron, owing perhaps, to a bad system of distillation.

I certify that all that is here stated is the truth and agrees with the experiments I have made with the greatest care, and I authorize the house of Gottig & Will, of this city, to give publicity to this certificate, in Spanish and in foreign languages, in all countries where it may suit their interest to do so. JOSE LUIS CASASECA.

From the N. H. Gazette.

The Bangor Convention.

Hon. M. H. Smith, the candidate for Governor, on accepting the nomination made a very good speech. He is said to be a good speaker, and his voice should be heard frequently in the coming campaign. Mr. Smart received a large vote, and but for the singular action of the York County delegation, would have been nominated on the first ballot. But on the whole, it is probably as well for the party that Smith should be the candidate this heat. The contest in the choice of delegates to the Charleston Convention was spirited, and resulted in the choice of two men from each of the tickets circulated. The reports to Boston papers class them thus: Bion Bradbury, Amos M. Roberts, Douglas men; Geo. F. Shepley and E. W. Farley, Administration men. This is an unauthorized and incorrect statement. Neither of them are Douglas men nor Administration men, in the offensive sense implied by the use of those designations. They are all Popular Sovereignty men, reject the Slave Code and the Constitutional Slavery invention, and will cast their votes in the Convention as a unit for the man, under all the circumstances, best fitted to be the standard bearer of the National Democracy. Who that man may be, time and circumstances will determine. It is sufficient that they stand on the platform laid down by the Convention that elected them. This, and the honorable character of the gentlemen elected, gives sufficient assurance that their action will be such as will be cordially approved by the members of the party they represent.

The resolutions are most admirable ones; they were reported unanimously by a Committee of one from each County, chosen by the respective County delegations, and represented by the newspaper reporters to consist of nine "Douglas men" and six "Administration men." They were adopted by a nearly unanimous vote, only one man raising his voice against them. The reporter of the resolutions, Hon. Geo. F. Shepley, United States District Attorney, supported them in an eloquent and logical speech, which in connection with that of Mr. Smith, we publish in another column.

We presume the fight about the proper interpretation of Popular Sovereignty that has been going on for sometime past between the Democratic papers of Maine, will now cease. Those who construe it as Douglas does, are evidently a large majority of the party, and any further setting up of Dred Scott as a Democratic deity, can only be regarded as an attempt to debauch and destroy the party, by making it false to its own platform. Appearances are very favorable for the Democracy of Maine, and their complete triumph in the coming election is not at all improbable. There is now no further occasion nor justification for rows among the faithful. May every Democrat, in the language of the Bangor Union, "henceforth cease all bickering and strife, and march shoulder to shoulder in unbroken ranks, on the opposition. Do this, and victory shall be ours."

AN ACT IN RELATION TO HAWKERS AND PEDDLERS.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives, in General Court convened:

SECTION 1. Every peddler, or other person going from place to place, either on foot or with a horse or otherwise, carrying to sell, or otherwise exposing for sale any goods, wares or merchandise without license, shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars.

SEC. 2. The provisions of the preceeding section shall not apply to any citizen of this State who shall present to the clerk of the Supreme Judicial Court a certificate from the selectmen of the town in which he resides, of his inability to earn a subsistence by manual labor, by reason of ill health or decrepitude, which certificate shall be no protection until the same shall have been recorded by such clerk, for which he shall be entitled to receive of such person producing the certificate the sum of twenty-five cts; nor shall said preceding section apply to any person going about, or otherwise selling or exposing for sale fish, fruits, vegetables, provisions, fuel, carriages, farming utensils, live animals, brooms, newspapers, maps, books, pamphlets, agricultural products of the United States, and any britannia, brass, earthern, tin, iron, wooden, glass or stone ware, wherever raised or manufactured, nor to any citizen of the State selling any other articles lawfully raised or manufactured in this State, except distilled spirits, playing cards, lottery tickets and jewelry.

SEC. 3. Every license granted under the provisions of this act, shall specially provide that the licensee shall not sell or expose for sale distilled spirits, playing cards, lottery tickets or jewelry; and every such licensee or other hawker or peddler who shall be guilty of selling or offering for sale any playing card, lottery ticket or jewelry, shall be punished as is provided for a violation of the first section of this act.

SEC. 4. The clerk of the Supreme Judicial Court for the county in which any applicant, being a resident of this State, may reside, or of any county, if such applicant be not a resident of this State, may grant such license for one year only, upon application and satisfactory evidence, on oath, of the residence and good moral character of the applicant being recorded in the office of said clerk.—Such license shall also be recorded, and a copy de livered to the party applying, and said clerk shall receive for his fees, for recording and copying such license, the sum of one dollar, to be paid by the applicant.

SEC. 5. No license granted in pursuance of the provisions of this chapter shall be of any avail until the party applying shall, if a resident of this State at the time of such application, and for at least one year next prior thereto, have paid to the county treasurer of the county in which he resides the sum of ten dollars, or if not such resident, until such applicant shall have paid to the county treasurer of each county in which he shall carry to sell or expose to sale goods, wares or merchandise, the sum of ten dollars, and such treasurers shall have signed a receipt for the same on the back of such license.

SEC. 6. Nor shall any such license be of any avail to authorize the sale of goods, wares or merchandise, the property of any person or persons who shall not at the time of such application, and for at least one year next prior thereto, have been an inhabitant or resident of this State, until such applicant shall have paid to the several county treasurers, as mentioned in the fourth section of this act, the sum of fifteen dollars, and said treasurers shall have so receipted for the same on the back of such license.

SEC. 7. If any peddler, or other person licensed as aforesaid, shall transfer his license to any other person, with intent that the same shall be fraudulently used by him, or if any person, licensed aforesaid, shall refuse to show his license, when requested by any person to whom he offers such goods for sale, he shall be punished in the same manner as for selling without license.

SEC. 8. Every justice, on complaint for a violation of this chapter, may, by a warrant, cause the offender to be arrested, and order him to recognize with sufficient sureties for his appearance at the next trial term of the Supreme Judicial Court in the county where the offence be committed, to answer for the same.

SEC. 9. Chapter 2086 of the Pamphlet Laws, passed June session, A. D. 1858, and all other acts or parts of acts, inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed.

SEC. 10. This act shall take effect from and after the passage thereof.

Approved, June 28, 1859.

The Liver Invigorator.

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

COMPOUNDED ENTIRELY FROM GUMS,

Is one of the best PURGATIVE and LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

Those who generally take cathartics, use all prudicic or bad matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, and giving the BLOOD, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease, effecting a radical cure.

BILIOUS ATTACKS are cured, and, at a better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents NIGHTMARE.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently and cures COSTIVENESS.

One dose taken after each meal will cure DYSPEPSIA.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will relieve SICK HEADACHE.

Only one dose immediately relieves COLIC.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

CONSUMPTION IS CURABLE!

BY THE USE OF

Winchester's Genuine Preparation of Dr. J. F. Dewees' Celebrated Compound of the

HYPOPHOSPHITES

OF LIME, SODA AND POTASH,

Originally discovered and prescribed by him as a Specific Remedy for

CONSUMPTION!

The use of the Hypophosphites in CONSUMPTION, Scrofula, Nervous Debility, Asthma, Bronchitis, Rickets, Chronic Diarrhœa, and all other diseases depending upon a DEFICIENT VITALITY IN THE ELEMENTS OF THE BLOOD, have proved their PARAMOUNT EFFICACY in thousands of cases in Europe and America and established the claim of the discoverer, that they are a SURE PREVENTATIVE, and a

SPECIFIC REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION

Dr. Churchill says: "In no single instance have I found the remedy fail to produce everything that could be reasonably expected from it. In most instances the benefit derived from it has FAR EXCEEDED what could at first have been hoped for, when taking into account the deep seated nature of the injury sustained by the lungs previously to the use of the remedy. * * * * * Out of twenty two cases in the third or last stage, treated at my dispensary during the past year, EIGHT HAVE COME PERFECTLY RECOVERED, eight have died, and six are still under treatment. THE ONLY ARTICLE

UNRIVALLED IN THE MARKET,

WITH IMMENSE

HOME AND EUROPEAN DEMAND.

The reason why, is that by Nature's own process it restores the natural color permanently to white or hair becomes gray; supplies the natural fluids, and thus makes it grow on bald heads, removes all dandruff, itching, and heat from the scalp, quiets and tones up the nerves, and thus cures all nervous headache, and may be relied upon to cure all diseases of the scalp and hair; it will stop and keep it from falling off; it makes it soft, healthy and beautiful, and if used by the young two or three times a week it will never fall or become gray; then, reader, read the following and judge for yourselves:

NEW YORK, Jan. 8, 1858.

MESSRS. O. J. WOOD & CO.

Gentlemen: Having heard a good deal about Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and my hair being quite gray, I made up my mind to lay aside the prejudices which I, in common with a great many persons, had against all manner of patent medicines, and a short time ago I commenced using your article, to see if it proved to be as represented. I have been so very satisfactory that I am very glad I did so, and in justice to you, as well as for the encouragement of others who may be as gray as I was but wish to hide it, I feel bound to send out my reasons for setting it aside, are unwilling to give your Restorative a trial till they have their proof, and the best proof I can give, after this illustration, I write you this letter, which you may show to any such, and also direct them to me for further proof, who am in and out of the N. Y. Wire Railing establishment every day.

My hair is now its natural color and much improved in appearance every way, being glossier and thicker and much more healthy. Yours, &c., I am, yours respectfully, HENRY JENKINS.

Cor. Columbia and Carroll Sts., Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, L. I., Jan. 1, 1858.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative has done much good in this part of the country. My hair has been slightly diminishing for some years, caused, I suppose, from a slight burn when I was quite an infant. I have been using your Hair Restorative for six weeks and I find that I have a fine head of hair growing, after having used all other remedies known, to no effect. I think it the most valuable remedy now extant, and advise all who are afflicted that way to use your remedy.

You can publish this if you think proper.

Yours, &c. S. W. MIDDLETON.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head, where I is of curling—was in fact BALD. I have used but 2 half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the top of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal experience, that it can induce many others to try it. Yours, respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D.,
No. 404 Vine Street.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion than the medium, retails for $3 a bottle.

CRANE'S PATENT

METALLIC BURIAL CASKET.

A newly invented Burial Case, fashioned to accord with the feelings of the bereaved, and yet retaining all the requisites of an appropriate receptacle for the dead. There is no reason why such an article should be made to create, by its appearance, disagreeable sensations. Under such circumstances the mind is prone to dwell on and less keen the poignancy of our grief, commends itself to our consideration. So much that is repulsive is directed in the arrangement and shape of this Case, that its name, the "Casket Burial Case," is an involuntary suggestion.—We, therefore, do not hesitate to aver that the Casket here in view is neither repulsive nor entirely chaste, appropriate, and without, convenient, as this invention.

The Case permits a view of the entire body after it is enclosed, the top being composed of beautiful French plate glass, which is divided into three sections, between two of which is inserted the mirror-plate. For each of these sections of glass there is an elaborately ornamented cap.

The Subscribers being sole Agents for this ricinity, have always onhand every size of the above, from 2 ft. to 6 ft. 4 inches.

Also, FISKE'S METALLIC BURIAL CASES, Walnut, and Mahogany Rosewood COFFINS, of superior finish.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

Knowing that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives and their business hours of certain dangerous maladies, who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by regular practitioners, of from one and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Persons treated by Dr. Hughes, requesting Dr. Hughes' post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

In particular in finding Dr. Hughes. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of health, and that is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions and spurious preparations by attributing a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders to be assumedly ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country by following directions. Remember the number—13 Howard street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jz dly

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

A compound remedy in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of this Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will a complish their cure must be of immense service in this large class of our afflicted fellow citizens. How completely this compound will do it, has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:—

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, VENEREAL AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling diseases are nipped in the bud—Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the encumrance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find it, for whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health and live live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated, extracts of it' contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or anything else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no sensitive properties whatever. Aence bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly cspised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to imply such a remedy as shall restore the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have grounds for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,
LOWELL, MASS.

PRICE, $1 PER BOTTLE; SIX BOTTLES FOR $5.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has won for itself such a renown for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidence of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
FOR THE CURE OF

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Gravel, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

They are sugar-coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Price, 25 cents per box; five boxes for $1.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen and eminent personages, have lent their names to certify the unparalleled usefulness of these remedies, but our space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agent below named furnishes gratis our American Almanac, in which they are given; with also full descriptions of the above complaints, and the treatment that should be followed for their cure.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations they make more profit on.—Demand Ayer's, take no other. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

All our remedies are for sale by W. R. Preston, Portsmouth, and by all druggists and merchants in the civilized world. 6m—je14

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, UNCONVICTED 11.57.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claim of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE RESPECTED AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would call that in his case, to be well established, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him t. accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All expenses of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON.
Commissioner of Patents.

I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 27, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made ON TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1859. R. H. EDDY.

NEW STYLE!!
GREELEY'S PATENT ELASTIC
BACK AND CENTRE
SUSPENSION PANTALOONS.
Patented June 29, 1858.
J. E. HAM & CO.,

Have purchased the right to manufacture the above named Pantaloons. The advantages of this invention over the usual method of making Pants is: they may be made strong to the person, and will be as easy as though they were uncommonly large. Pants that are easy to stand in are easy to sit or stoop in.

Also for sale, GREELEY'S BRACE SUSPENDER—a superior Suspender for Skirts or Pants, and far superior to any other BRACE in the market. may25

TRUNKS, VALISES, CARPET BAGS.

A good assortment at
HEAD'S, 14½ Market Street.

Oleine Diamond Oil.
GREATEST ILLUMINATOR OF THE AGE.

This Oil is entirely free from treachery, so that a lamp may be left burning any length of time desired, without filling a room with lamp-black or soot.

It burns in the common oil lamp, with or without a chimney.

The light is far more pleasant than gas, as it is free from the disagreeable flickering always attending a gas light, and is cheaper. We claim for this Oil:

1. That it is cheaper than any other artificial light.
2. That it has no odor.
3. That it will not smoke
4. That it will burn with or without a chimney, hence it is portable.
5. That it will stand a lower degree of temperature than any other Oil.
6. That it is free from each of the objections that are brought against every other article heretofore or now being offered to the public for illuminating purposes.

Price $1.25 per gallon.

For sale, wholesale and retail, at
96 Market Street, Portsmouth,
where the public are invited to call and examine for themselves.

TUESDAY, JULY 12, 1859.

IMPORTANT LAW CASE.

The Supreme Judicial Court, composed of Chief Justice Perley, Judges Eastman, Bell, Sawyer and Fowler, commenced their law term for Cheshire and Sullivan, on Tuesday, July 5, in Keene. The Sentinel gives the following report of an interesting law case, and an important decision.

On Wednesday the Chief Justice occupied three hours in delivering, to quite a large audience, the opinion of the court in the chancery suit of the Trinitarian Society of Dublin, to divert to their use the fund of $5000, left, in 1817, by the late Rev. Edward Sprague, for the support of the Christian ministry of the "Congregational persuasion" in Dublin, where he had officiated as their minister for about forty years.

A small portion of the society seceded, many years after the unanimous settlement of Rev. Dr. Leonard, in 1820, and now sue for the use of the fund, though for 35 years after Mr. Sprague's death, no such claim was preferred.

The plaintiffs depended mainly on the assumed ground that Unitarians are not Congregationalists;—that they do not adhere to the Assembly's Catechism, &c. &c.

The decision mainly rested on the fully established belief of the court, that Congregationalism had especial reference to church government and polity, and not to any set of particular doctrines. Dr. Leonard's views were well known at his settlement, as well as the Rev. Mr. Sewall's, to whom a call was previously given. Plainly, the fund was intended for the then existing Congregational society. "We do not find that the plaintiffs have made out their case."

Judge Perley's decision was a learned paper, showing long and patient research, and of course covering English as well as American decisions, with references to existing cases.

As the Chief Justice took occasion to remark that he was himself a member of Rev. Dr. Bouton's society in Concord, it may not be improper to say it is understood that four of the five justices attend orthodox churches.

PRICES OF GAS.

The following is a list of prices at which gas is furnished to consumers by the different gas companies of the United States, as reported in John B. Murray & Co.'s American Gas Light Journal of July 1, 1859.

1	company	charges	per	1000 cubic ft.	$7.50
7	"	"	"	"	7.00
1	"	"	"	"	6.70
8	"	"	"	"	6.00
3	"	"	"	"	5.00
5	"	"	"	"	4.50

12	"	"	"	"	3.00
2	"	"	"	"	2.70
8	"	"	"	"	2.50
1	"	"	"	"	2.25
1	"	"	"	"	1.50

The above list excludes many of the gas companies of small capital, in country places, which have not reported themselves to the editor of the Journal.

The prices are fixed at abatements off, for prompt pay.

The price of gas in Portsmouth has sometimes been considered by consumers to be higher than anywhere else; but the list proves that it only classes among the greatest number of the same price, viz. $4 net.

The cheapest place, where $1.50 is the price, is Pittsburg, where coal abounds.

IMPORTANT TO GAS CONSUMERS.—Professor Ben. Silliman, Jr., testified before the Hartford (Conn.) Committee having the gas matter in charge, that the long continued action of fire on the orifices of the gas burners caused a sensible enlargement of those orifices. It is natural that there should be an abrasion under the circumstances; and gas consumers may find it good economy to throw their old burners into the streets, and put in new tips, occasionally.

The Philadelphia Press says:—"There is another principle of human nature that also operates in this matter. We become habituated to the use of gas, and turn on from year to year a fuller supply. It is the old and well known law of habit, but its results are seen in swollen gas bills; and then the customers run to the newspapers with their ghastly gas bills."

☞ An awkward mistake occurred to a German paper in Wheeling, one day last week. The name of a well known preacher was inadvertently placed at the bottom of a lager beer saloon advertisement, and the lager man was announced to preach at the reverend gentleman's church. It was a simple transposition of names, and might occur under the most careful eyes,—yet behold what a jumble the types made.—They had to issue handbills to set it right.

☞ On last Friday, George F. Shelmire, proprietor of the Spread Eagle tavern, at Huntingdon Valley, Pa., met with an awful accident, by accidentally falling over a mowing machine while it was in motion.—One of his hands was cut entirely off above the wrist, and the other one cut through the wrist, and the hand nearly off.

LARGE DEPOSITS IN THE SAVINGS BANKS.—The New York Herald says that the best evidence that the late financial revulsion through which we have passed has not very seriously affected the working classes in that city, is to be found in the amounts deposited in the savings banks. In the savings banks of New York and Brooklyn there are upwards of $30,000,000 deposited, bearing interest at rates varying from four to six per cent., which have been made since the 1st of January, 1859.

On the 1st of this month they paid to sewing girls and working people generally, in dividends, a million and a half of dollars. It is clear, then, that these classes have not been very sorely distressed by the financial panic. A considerable portion of the savings banks deposits is invested in public loans, State and federal; thus our working classes, like those of France, England and Prussia, are lenders to the government, though in a different fashion, and every one who deposits money in a savings bank is, to a certain extent, interested in the public debts of the confederation.

We do not think it is quite clear that the working classes are "not seriously affected" by the revulsion. We rather think the revulsion has put the workers upon the thought that it is well to lay up something against a rainy day.

COURT HOUSE BLOWN UP AND ROBBED. A despatch from Vicksburg, Miss., of July 1, says that at about four o'clock on the morning of that day some scoundrels ignited a keg of powder that had previously been placed under the Court House at Port Gibson, and about half the building was blown to atoms. The Sheriff's office, adjoining, was also destroyed, and his vault robbed of about $10,000. The occupants of the building all escaped uninjured. The damage to the building is estimated at from $10,000 to $12,000. No clue has yet been discovered to the perpetrators.

No keenness or culture of intellect that does not embrace culture of health—no wealth, no morality, and not even a religion that does not embrace the preservation of the physical system from all deterioration, and its culture to the highest perfection, will ever last long. No nation or people will ever preserve the weight of influence to which they were naturally entitled, among others, without manliness of development as the only reliable foundation of manliness and reliability of character. All that tends to produce that, is so far a vital good.

RESULT OF HOLDING ON TOO LONG FOR HIGH PRICES.—The Springfield, Illinois, State Journal, says that "some of the boarded wheat, in view of the coming crop, is now brought out for sale. The millers and merchants expecting a better article for the new crop, do not care to buy of the old; offer only fifty cents for it. Better sold it when it was worth a dollar,—hadn't you?"

☞ The old Jaffrey, N. H. Rifle Company, which was organized as early as in 1814, has recently disbanded. The captain sold at public auction all the equipage of the company, consisting of castridge boxes, canteens, uniforms, and other "pomp and circumstance" of glorious war. The armory, which occupied a conspicuous place, was struck off to the highest bidder.

☞ At Oskaloosa, Iowa, a young woman, whose husband came home drunk the other day, took down an ox goad and chastised him most gloriously—until he promised not to do so again. He laid the blame upon a friend who asked him to drink. She then whaled him again for not having stability to refuse.

☞ Hearing of the Massachusett's 'Leven' who went to New York to play the great game of cricket, and got beaten, Mrs. Partington remarked that she wondered they should send to Massachusetts for leaven when they had a Yeast River so close at hand.

☞ The biggest pike ever heard of, excepting Pike's Peak, was one ponded by a German Emperor in 1262. It lived 235 years, and weighed, when caught in 1490, 350 pounds, measuring 19 feet.

☞ Levi Baldwin, who died a few days ago in Washington, confessed having committed a murder in Pittsburgh, for which another person was tried, and several others implicated.

☞ On the 11th ult., a fishing party in Pennsylvania, near the "Blue Juniata," were chased by a pack of wolves, four in number, and only escaped by the tallest kind of running.

SUICIDE. — Joseph Hanson, teamster, aged 50, hanged himself at Salem on Saturday. Cause unknown, but supposed disease which produced insanity.

☞ The Cincinnati Press says of the police of that city:—"The people know that a considerable portion of the wrongs of community are attributable directly and indirectly to the police."

☞ It is said that Mrs. Browning's new poem about man, to be published as a companion to "Aurora Leigh," will be called "A Roaring Lay."

☞ A jury in Albany, N. Y., found a man guilty of manslaughter in the third degree, because he allowed his vicious horse to run at large, causing injury to a child.

MAN.

If he wears a good coat,
Lift him up, lift him up;
Though he but a cloat,
Lift him up.
If he has not common sense,
But can boast a few pence,
Lift him up.
If his face shows no shame,
Lift him up, lift him up;
Though crime is his name,
Lift him up;
Though disgrace be his sport,
Let your daughters him court—
Lift him up.

WOMAN.

If woman once errs,
Kick her down, kick her down;
If misfortune is hers,
Kick her down;
Though her tears fall like rain,
And she ne'er smiles again,
Kick her down.
If a man breaks her heart,
Kick her down, kick her down;
Redouble the smart—
Kick her down;
And if low in condition,
On, on to perdition,
Kick her down!

NEW YORK, July 10.—A disgraceful fight occurred near the Bowling Green this afternoon, between Engine Companies 16 and 20. It lasted 15 minutes, during which pistols, brickbats and stones were fired in every direction, and several parties were injured, though no one was killed. No arrests were made. The names of the injured were withheld by their associates.—Both companies will doubtless be disbanded.

Seven Octave Piano --- New Scale.

The Subscriber having just received a superior SEVEN OCTAVE PIANO-FORTE, made according to his order by the celebrated firm of HALLET, DAVIS & CO., would offer it for the inspection of persons desirous of purchasing. H. D. & Co. have recently made great improvements in the manufacture of Pianos, the most important of which is the New Scale, which, while obviating the weakness which has hitherto been found in the upper part of Square Seven Octave Pianos, gives to a power of tone nearly equal to that of the Parlor Grand.

Having been for several years Agent for the sale of Pianos of the above make, Mr. F. is prepared to state that the instruments which they are now making, far excel any of their former manufacture.

Purchasers will find it greatly to their advantage to call and examine the above mentioned Piano, as it is the only one in Portsmouth which contains the NEW SCALE.

Sparhawk Estate, Kittery Point, Me.,
FOR SALE.

I judge it best on account of my business,—although continuing my individuals in most other respects—to offer for sale the above-named place, which has been my residence for the last six years.

To any person in a situation to improve its advantages, and who would value the pure and beautiful, this, it is believed, is one of the most attractive and desirable residences.

The house was built by the daughter of Sir Wm. Pepperell, and is liberally arranged and magnificent—it has a compass of view embracing ocean, river, creek and land scenery. NE to SW, 3 to 4 miles, NW to SE, 20 miles and upwards—and is in fair sound condition—has attached about ten acres of excellent land, and a barn.

The best description may be had on the spot, and any person would be well repaid for the small journey, by the visit.

I would name, as an outside price, $4000 for the whole, and if all the land is not wanted, a reduction as may be agreed upon. Address

ANDREW J. PENHALLOW, Portsmouth, N.H.

If wanted for immediate occupancy, the furniture now in the house can be purchased also.

Washington House, Rye Beach, N. H.

N. L. THOMPSON, of Haverhill, Mass., would respectfully inform his friends and the public that he has taken the above-named house, in company with Mr. CARR LEAVITT, the old proprietor of the House, and they will endeavor to keep a FIRST-CLASS

Temperance Boarding House.

They would therefore solicit the encouragement of his friends and all lovers of temperance and good order who may wish to visit this beautiful watering-place.

Visitors going to the Beach will take Coaches at North Hampton, or Greenland Depots.

Boats for Pleasure-Sailing and for Fishing-Parties always in readiness. Terms Liberal.

Passengers on the Eastern Railroad will always find Coaches at North Hampton Depot, for the Atlantic House.

By leaving Portsmouth in the 11:15 train, and returning in the half past 7 train, visitors can have an agreeable half day at the Beach, and most pleasant conveyance to and fro.

PRIVATE SUMMER BOARDING.

From twenty to twenty-five persons, Families or single boarders, can be furnished with good accommodations for Summer recreation, at the house of the subscriber, on Sagamore Road, about 2½ miles from Portsmouth, and a short distance from the Ocean. Good advantages for Riding, Sailing, Sea-Bathing, and Roaming in the Woods; and within church-going distance from Portsmouth—in a quiet, yet convenient location.

Liberal arrangements made to convey visitors to and from the Cars.

PRIME SOAP WITHOUT MAGIC.—Adams & Curtis, at their Soap Works in Washington street, are manufacturing a superior article of soap for all the purposes for which the magic soap is used—and without magic or miracle it performs the wonderful work of "bringing a clean thing out of an unclean," without destroying the clothing or injuring the hands. This soap is not only better but cheaper than the old fashioned ordinary soap—so the makers say, and you can try it and see.

It is sold by the grocers and by the manufacturers.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Common Sense rules the mass of the people, whatever the misnamed and misanthrope philosophers may say to the contrary. Show them a good thing: let its merits be clearly demonstrated, and they will not hesitate to give it the most cordial patronage. The masses have already ratified the judgment of a physician, concerning the virtues of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, as may be seen in the immense quantities of this medicine that are annually sold in every section of the land. It is now recognized as greatly superior to all other remedies, yet devised for diseases of the digestive organs, such as dyspepsia, dysentery, dyspepsia, and for the various fevers that arise from derangement of those portions of the system. Hostetter's name is rapidly becoming a household word, from Maine to Texas; from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pacific. Try the article and be satisfied.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

DYSENTERY.—For Dysentery and similar complaints of the Summer season, the PERUVIAN SYRUP has proved a remarkable preventive and cure. By imparting tone to the intestinal mucous membrane, it places this surface in the best possible condition to resist the irritation of crude and indigestible articles of food.

Dyspepsia.

Considering the various forms in which this disease developes itself, it may well be called hydra-headed. In its train follow Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, Heartburn, Water Brash, Costiveness, Piles, Acidity, Oppression after Eating, Flatulency, Torpor of the Liver, Dizziness, Debility, Female Complaints, &c. Some of the first men in our land have given their written certificates relative to the cures effected in their own persons by the OXYGENATED BITTERS, while testimonials from other sources, editorial opinions and voluntary expressions from persons averse to see their names in print, are perfectly overwhelming.

Read the following from a highly respectable Clergyman:

EAST TAUNTON, MASS., Feb. 9, '58.

To the Editor of the Portland Mirror,—SIR:—OXYGENATED BITTERS.—For more than twenty five years I have been a sufferer from the dyspepsia. Besides trying the patience of my family physicians in the almost useless trial of their various prescriptions, I have tried a great variety of patent medicines with a similar result. Through the kindness of my physician, I received last March, half a dozen bottles of the OXYGENATED BITTERS. I began to use them without any hope of deriving help from them. Being determined to give them a fair trial, I continued their use, but without any perceptible benefit till June.

Since then I have gradually improved in health till I am entirely free from acidity of the stomach, and from the consequent flatulency, and the awful and almost distracting sick headache, which often, for days together, has wholly unfitted me for study and for all other ministerial duties, and rendered life a burden.

I feel that I owe it, as an expression of gratitude to Messrs. Fowle & Co., and also a duty to the public, to recommend their Oxygenated Bitters, as, in my estimation, a sure remedy for the most trying, most vexing, and cruel of all diseases, to which poor human flesh is heir, the dyspepsia. Having suffered so long, and tried so many different remedies with no good result, I can recommend the Oxygenated Bitters with a confidence few others can. If any of the readers of the Mirror are suffering, I beg of them to make trial of these Bitters without delay.

SCROFULA CURED IN TWENTY DAYS.

William Miles, aged 37, had been afflicted with Scrofula for 11 years. On the 1st of August, by the advice of Dr. William Root, of Marietta, Ga., he commenced the use of RADWAY'S RESOLVENT. In 6 hours he felt a change for the better; in 12 hours small pustules were seen covering the whole surface of the body; in 24 hours he was covered with discharging sores. He still took the Resolvent freely, but finding his bowels very sensitive, he took six of RADWAY'S REGULATORS. They operated powerfully and pleasantly. He afterward took one Regulator at night. The sores caused him some irritation, which he allayed by bathing in some well-the Resolvent. The fourth day the sores all healed up. He continued the Resolvent and the Regulators for 20 days. Since the last day which was on the night of the 20th day, he has not experienced any returning symptoms or uneasiness. His blood is pure, skin clean, and bowels regular.

R. R. R. is sold by Druggists everywhere.

TO THE CITIZENS OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

This Gin, distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, combining it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, GRAVEL, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing miseries which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS GENUINE.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st.; J. Morse, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. LOCAL.

☞ The new Post Office and Custom House building in this city, is rapidly approaching completion—and will probably be entirely finished by the first of November next. It is a very handsome structure, and when surrounded by beautiful trees, and enclosed with a neat iron fence, will form altogether the most attractive square in the city. The landscape view from the top is delightful.

When are we to have our new City Building? There is some talk of buying the old Post Office and Custom House for that use. When that is done, we hope the next move will be to place the old Court House on Market Square, and return the Girls' High School to the dingy old bridewell under the present Court House. Out upon such parsimony—and let us have a City Building which will be an ornament to the place and a source of gratulation to every citizen worthy of notice, who has taste sufficient to distinguish beauty from distortion.

☞ The accounts of the Chronicle have usually been settled as often as semi-annually — subscriptions for either Daily or Weekly being payable yearly or half-yearly in advance. We have not many long-standing accounts for our paper—if subscribers can't or don't pay in a year, we can't afford to print for them longer for nothing, but generally mark their names from our lists.

We have, however, a few such old bills which we intend soon to advertise for sale at auction to the highest bidder—after giving the inexcusable delinquents due notice.

In reply to frequent inquiries, we would state, that the price of the Daily Chronicle will remain $4 a year—but we will send two copies, to one subscriber, say one to his place of business and another to his house, for $6.

☞ Andrieu's Painting of "The Drunkard's Progress," exhibited by Mr. Sinclair, in this city last week, was not very extensively patronized. Perhaps our public thought they were already sufficiently acquainted with such downward progress—and one would naturally suppose they might be.

Nixon & Co's Circus was largely attended—their receipts, afternoon and evening, amounting, we hear, to upwards of a thousand dollars. Who say "a quarter" is too high for tickets to a show?

The Circus was indisputably a great affair of its kind, and entirely successful—but nobody claims that it has any elevating influence; while Andrieu's paintings are really those of an artist, and do furnish food for reflection, and Peter Sinclair is a more interesting and witty talker than all the "clowns" we ever heard.

☞ Mr. Charles Ricker of this city, was an officer on board the ship Stalwart, which was burnt at sea on the 14th of June, in lat. 46° 30 N., lon. 33° 30 W. By the presence of mind and coolness manifested by all, and the good order preserved on board, all lives were saved, including three lady passengers. The crew and passengers were taken off by barque Princess Helene, and carried to Cork. There was $35,000 in gold aboard, most of which was saved.—Mr. Ricker's account of the scene, as sent home, is very interesting.

☞ We are indebted to Mr. Nathan Martin, an old subscriber at the South End, for a box of the largest and most delicious Strawberries we have ever seen; from his garden, where he has raised about twenty-five quarts this season. We are glad to find so many persons who have a little land, making so good disposition of it, as appropriating a portion to a strawberry bed.—Strawberries, the most delicious of all berries, have been unusually plenty this year,—and though mostly sold at a low price, have paid the raisers well. Besides the large quantities brought into Portsmouth, from all the neighboring towns and from Boston, quite a respectable number of boxes are raised in the city—and in addition to some others whom we have already mentioned, no one has marketed them in better condition, than Mr. Roswell W. Webster, who lives on Middle, near La Fayette Road.

☞ The grocery store of J. B. Upham, on Market street, was entered by prying open the back door, on the wharf, Sunday night, and a few cents taken from the drawer. This is the second time this store has been thus entered within a short time.

☞ Citizens or strangers in search of a pleasant summer boarding place, will find the house of Mr. Woodbury Seavey, advertised in our columns, to combine many advantages and attractions—being at once in a retired situation, and yet convenient of access; and while conducted in the most home-like manner, still sufficiently extensive to afford every social facility.

DEATHS IN PORTSMOUTH.—The record of mortality in this city, during the month of July, shows but six deaths, out of a population of 10,000 or upwards.

Males two—aged 65 and 70 years.
Females four—aged 46, 53, 54, 75.

SHIP MORNING GLORY, of this port, Hobbs, was lying full of water at Victoria, Vancouver's Island, June —. Captain Hobbs has arrived at San Francisco, and reports that the ship struck on a ledge at the entrance of Straits of Fuca, and came off after one tide, but being lumber loaded, she could not sink, although full of water. The underwriter's agent would leave with Capt. Hobbs June 11th for Victoria, with a steam pump and submarine diver. It was thought they would be able to stop the leak, and bring the ship to San Francisco.

☞ When Rev. Baron Stow, D. D., of Boston, who is now in Europe, was at Munich, the capital of Bavaria, he was announced in the city papers as der Herr Baron aus Amerika—My Lord, the Baron from America.

☞ At the annual meeting of the Eastern Railroad Corporation, in Boston on Monday, the old Board of Directors was re-elected, with the change of Franklin Haven in place of Mr. Howe, resigned.

☞ Rev. Mr. Patterson, of this city is to preach at Newington, next Sunday, at 5 P. M.

A DEATH IN BROOKLYN FROM YELLOW FEVER.—On the 29th of June the brig John Boynton, from Port-au-Prince, arrived at this port with a cargo of coffee and logwood. According to the Health Officer's report to the Board of Health, the captain had been several days ill with bilious fever, and one of the crew was down "with a fever of doubtful character." Under the stringent Quarantine regulations of preceding years the brig would have been sent to the lower anchorage, and the sick on board taken to the Marine Hospital.—But by the different policy now prevailing, the captain was permitted to go at once to his house in Brooklyn, where yesterday, according to Health Officer Boyd, he died of well-marked yellow fever.—N. Y. Times.

CHINA.—The trade with Canton seems to be, by various means, in a fair way to be destroyed. Advices to April 28 state that the rebels hold the passes to the tea districts, and have intercepted what was on the way down, and was also interfering with the cultivation in some districts.

There have been lately many and gross instances of kidnapping Chinese, in order to send them as Coolies to Havana. Both at Canton and Whampoa, men detected in these outrages have been seized by the people and crucified.

A high officer has been recently decapitated for favoritism in the literary exam nation. For a consideration in silver the examiner surreptiously exchanged essays, giving his favorite the benefit of a first rate one in place of one of no merit, for which he received the silver, but lost his head.

The phrase "Hors du combat," so often found in the war news from Europe, is likely to be misunderstood. In the despatches by the Hungarian, we are told that the Austrian loss was 38,000 hors du combat, and 15,000 taken prisoners. The French papers interpret the phrase to include not only the killed and wounded but the prisoners also—all who are taken from the effective force of the army.

☞ The six year old Page Mare, raised by Dr. Pollard of Orrington, Me., recently purchased for $950, has been sold to Mr. John T. Harris of Boston. She was sired by the Old Drew Horse, is of a sorrel color, and is said to be the fastest horse in Maine.

SPEAK WELL OF OTHERS.—Were we to give a receipt for rendering every neighborhood a comparative paradise, it would be, "speak well of others." Short as it may appear and simple as it seems, if universally adopted, it would be found omnipotent for good, and productive of untold happiness.

☞ Rice straw or Leghorn hats without any trimming save their "own dear loveliness," are the style with Parisian ladies this summer, writes a French "feller" who ought to know. They cost a great deal—like some Panamas—as high as $200 apiece—the hats, of course, not the ladies.

A man who had brutally assaulted his wife was brought before Justice Cole of Albany, lately, and had a good deal to say about "getting justice." "Justice!" replied Cole, "you can't get it here. This Court has no power to hang you."

A MISNOMER.—Mrs. Temperance Baxter, and her daughter, Miss Temperance Baxter, of Hyannis, Mass., have been prosecuted and convicted for selling intoxicating liquors contrary to law.

☞ A lad 13 years old, son of Miles Durgin, Esq., was drowned in Lamprey river, Newmarket, on Saturday, while bathing.

GOOD FOR KIDNEY AND BLADDER COMPLAINTS,
and as a Beverage it has no superior in the world. It is manufactured by the proprietor, at Schiedam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spiritous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, Bladder and Kidney Complaints, &c. &c.
Put up in quart and pint bottles, in Cases of one dozen quarts, and two dozen pints, with the proprietor's name on the bottle, cork and label. For sale by all the respectable Country Merchants and Druggists. Look out for counterfeits and imitations, as the whole country is flooded with them

TO THE PUBLIC.
I beg leave to call the attention of the American Public to the following Certificate from the Government Chemist for the Island of Cuba and the Spanish West Indies, and who is known to the Scientific men of London, Paris, Madrid, Cuba and America to be the first Chemist in the world.
UDOLPHO WOLFE.
CHEMICAL TESTIMONY.
D. Jose Luis Casaseca, Corresponding Member of the Royal Academies of Madrid and Munich, a Graduate in Sciences of the Faculty of Paris, formerly Professor of Chemistry, as applied to the Arts, of the Royal Conservatorio of Madrid, and of Physics and Chemistry, as applied to the Industry and Agriculture of the country, in the Royal University of this Island, at present H. M.'s Director of the Institute of Chemical Investigation, &c., &c.
Udolpho Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is a spirituous liquid, of a very agreeable aromatic odor, completely transparent and almost colorless, having only a very slight tint of yellowish gray; its flavor is strong and very agreeable to the palate. It marks 20 degrees in Cartier's alcohol weigher or 52 degrees 5 hundredth in Gay Lussac's alcohometre. By the distillation in a balnium maris, with an apparatus consisting of a glass retort and a recipient surrounded with ice, I have collected in this recipient an alcoholic liquid with a very agreeable aroma completely colorless and transparent, which marked 90 degrees in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, or 70 degrees 5 hundredth on Gay Lussac's alcohometre; and which represented as a whole 57 per cent. of aromatic Schiedam Schnapps subject to distillation in the retort. This liquid did not soil the transparency of the distilled water in mixing it with the same, and its agreeable aroma is doubtless due to a very trifling amount of an essential oil inseparable from alcohol.
From the remainder of the distillation which was left in the retort, I have obtained, through evaporation in a vapor bath, a substance of a yellowish brown color, clear, and having a bitter taste, which is not disagreeable, and which afterwards becomes aromatic and leaves the mouth perfumed with that fragrance peculiar to the vanilla. I am inclined to believe that to this bitter and aromatic extractive substance, soluble in water and alcohol, the medicinal properties which are attributed to this gin are due. I have not found in Udolpho Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps any mineral or organic substance other than the extractive one already named and the aromatic one obtained by distillation. Finally, Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps consists simply of an aromatic alcohol of 20 degrees of graduation in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, and of an extractive bitter aromatic substance, which perhaps, is medicinal; and, on account of its not containing any matter injurious to the health, as well as for its odor and flavor—a fact which no doubt arises from the choice substances employed in its manufacture, and from the peculiar manner of its distillation, it should in my opinion, be preferred to all the Holland, Belgic and German gins which are found in this Island which it has been my business to examine. These gins as I have often proved it, exhale a disagreeable odor, and have a more or less disagreeable flavor, some of them having left as was the case with the superior gin from the distillery of Mr. Henry Deetjen (of Bremen,) as residum after evaporation by steam, a substance almost insipid and very trifingly aromatic, with flavor of vanilla, but in no wise with the delicious bitter and aromatic flavor of that of Udolpho Wolfe; and others, such as that labelled "Genuine Samaritan," "Extra Superior," Messrs. Trenor have furnished me with a very small quantity of a greenish substance, of harsh metallic taste and very disagreeable, which extractive organic matter was mixed with a salt of copper, with signs of iron, owing perhaps, to a bad system of distillation.
I certify that all that is here stated is the truth and agrees with the experiments I have made with the greatest care, and I authorize the house of Gottig & Will, of this city, to give publicity to this certificate, in Spanish and in foreign languages, in all countries where it may suit their interest to do so. JOSE LUIS CASASECA.

Morning Chronicle.

THREE ITEMS.

1. We understand the Democratic party are raising a purse to secure the services of Horace Greeley permanently in Kansas.—A single additional visit to the Territory, from that distinguished Republican, would wipe out the last vestige of that party in the Territory.—Herald of Freedom.

2. All the Democracy desire, is that the Republican party shall continue in the future, as in the past, to endorse Greeley as its embodiment—as the exponent of its principles—and we will not trouble him to make another pilgrimage. Our victories will be easily won.—Leavenworth (Kansas) Herald.

3. The Kansas Constitutional Convention covened on the 5th. Politically the members are reported to stand, 35 Republicans —17 Democrats.—Boston Courier.

All three of the above named papers are anti-republican. The item number three, however, uses up the other two.

ACCIDENT.—A lad by the name of John Doran, was run over by the cars in Yarmouth, Me., on Wednesday morning. His leg and one foot were crushed to a jelly, and he died in the evening of the same day. This accident should serve as a caution to boys. He was standing as near the cars as he could, while they passed him, and probably became dizzy by their motion. He pitched forward upon the track, in front of the rear car, and was fatally wounded, as stated. It is, we are told, a common practice for boys to place their feet upon the rails, or to stand upon the track as the cars approach, as an evidence of courage and daring. This is reprehensible in the extreme, and has cost many a boy his life.—Argus.

WESTERN REPORTING.—From a half column report of a recent suicide at Cincinnati published in a journal of that city, we publish the following paragraph, verbatim:—

"One night he (the deceased) burst from the white imprisonment of the encircling arms of his wife and rushed into the embrace of death, by leaping from the second story window of his house to the pavement below, a distance of forty feet, crushing his body so that, after suffering severely for several days, his burdened soul found peace, we hope, in another world."

☞ Lord Boyle, of some diplomatic note, is about marrying Lady Lascelles, the literary sister of Lord Harewood. She once wrote that no English lady should marry an Irish noble. She now in her own case "clears the way."

We reported yesterday that a man named Coyle had been found dying in New York, and that he had been shot by some person or persons unknown. It has since been ascertained beyond a doubt that on Tuesday night the man went intoxicated to his home, climbed to the roof, and from thence rolled over into the street where he was found.—Boston Courier.

☞ The Niagara Mail refers to a fact which had escaped our observation, namely, that in fixing the rope for the performance of Blondin's feat at the Falls, one life has already been lost—one of the men employed in fixing the rope having fallen over the bank.

DR. SWETT'S
CORDIAL OF DANDELION,
SPIKENARD & BONESET.

A remedy unsurpassed for Liver Complaints, such as Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, Universal Debility, and the whole family of Constipative Complaints.

Hundreds of testimonials might be added, proving the many cures by this pleasant and effectual medicine, especially of people advanced in life, whose debilitated constitutions have been greatly recruited by it. A trial of it is warranted to well pay the aged and dyspeptic. Price 75 cents.

[From Mrs. Ira Burnham, Exeter, N. H.]

I have suffered many years from the liver and heart complaint. By my friends distressing disease I was reduced so low, some two years since, that I could not sit up more than ten or fifteen minutes at a time, and I began to take Dr. Swett's Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset, which has so fully restored my health that I now daily labor and attend to the business of my large boarding house. ELIZABETH BURNHAM.

Exeter, June 1, 1859.

This testimony of my wife is correct.

IRA BURNHAM.

[From Mrs. Ebenezer Blazo.]

GREENLAND, Nov. 20, 1858.

DR. SWETT—Dear Sir:—The distressing disease called the heart complaint, which has so long afflicted me, and which has baffled the skill of all my former physicians, has been fully cured by the two bottles of your Cordial which I had of you last spring. Yours with respect,

SALLY BLAZO.

This unequalled medicine, together with others carefully prepared by Dr. SIMEON SWETT, from innocent but effectual vegetables, are for sale by him at No. 12 CABOT ST., Portsmouth, N. H.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,
Knowing that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, suffering their lives to be miserably shrunk of certain dangerous maladies, who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his complaints will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

He always treats with the utmost secrecy Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Hughes. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and pretending men, at the expense of deferring what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is speedy and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

Ladies are hereby cautioned to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—13 Howard street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jd diy

YOU HAD BETTER TRY
MY MOTHER'S SALVE

This celebrated preparation has obtained an enviable and world wide reputation for its GREAT CURATIVE PROPERTIES, and has been the agent in restoring to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.

"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered from the forest, and possesses Healing, Soothing and Invigorating Virtues never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve" is safe and effectual, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, BAD LEGS, SORE EYES, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a Permanent Cure.

"My Mother's Salve" In a BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth.

Directions for using "My Mother's Salve" are simple. Every mother and nurse knows how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all who use the Salve will accomplish as much as desired at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with Salve. In cases of Cough, tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ails, rub as in rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A. M. Beck.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

A compound remedy in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will a complish their cure must be of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow citizens. How completely this compound will do it, has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:—

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR THE DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling diseases are nipped in the bud.—Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the encurrance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of the impurities, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find it impurities will breaking through the skin in pimples, eruptions or sores;—cleanse it when you find it is obstructed or sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health and live lives of longer for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; and nine tenths of the maladies of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or stopped.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of Sarsaparilla but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or anything else.

During late years the public have been misled by mere notices, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly espised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall relieve the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have grounds for believing it has virtues which are irresistible to the overcoming of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,
LOWELL, MASS.
PRICE, $1 PER BOTTLE; SIX BOTTLES FOR $5.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has won for itself such a renown for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidence of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR THE CURE OF
Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions, Dull Humors, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

They are sugar-coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Price, 25 cents per box; five boxes for $1.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen and eminent personages, have lent their names to certify the unparalleled usefulness of these remedies, but our space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agent below named furnishes gratis our American Almanac, in which they are given; with also full descriptions of the above complaints, and the treatment that should be followed for their cure.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations they may have more profit on. Demand AYER'S, and take no other. The sick want the best and there is for them, and they should have it.

All our medicines are for sale by W. R. Preston, Portsmouth, and by all druggists and merchants in the civilized world. 6m—jel4

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, apr14 ly 14.37.
70 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments, recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or assessing the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered from elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove this more MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense labor of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him t. accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person on more competent a & trustworthy, and more capable of putting the application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors of ability to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, Jan. 1, 1859. R. H. EDDY.

NEW STYLE!!
GREELEY'S PATENT ELASTIC BACK AND CENTRE SUSPENSION PANTALOONS.
Patented June 29, 1858.
J. E. HAM & CO.,
Have purchased the right to manufacture the above named Pantaloons. The advantages of this invention over the usual method of making Pants is: they may be made snug to the person, and still be as easy as loose, though they wrinkle commonly large. Pants that are easy to stand in are easy to sit or stoop in.

Also for sale, GREELEY'S BRACE SUSPENDER—a superior Suspender for Skirts or Pants, and far superior to any other BRACE in the market. may27

TRUNKS, VALISES, CARPET BAGS.
A good assortment at
HEAD'S, 14½ Market Street.

Oleine Diamond Oil.
GREATEST ILLUMINATOR OF THE AGE.

This Oil is entirely free from freshness, so that a lamp may be left burning any length of time desired, without filling a room with lamp-black or odor.

It burns in the common oil lamp, with or without a chimney.

The light is far more pleasant than gas, as it is free from the disagreeable flickering always attendant on a gas light, and is cheaper. We claim for this Oil:

1. That it is cheaper than any other artificial light.
2. That it has no odor.
3. That it will not smoke.
4. That it will burn with or without a chimney, beneath a bushel.
5. That it will stand a lower degree of temperature than any other Oil.
6. That it is free from each of the objections that are brought against every other article heretofore or now being offered to the public for illuminating purposes.

Price $1.25 per gallon.

CITIZENSHIP.

It is decidedly humiliating to reflect that a democratic administration has committed itself to doctrines, in relation to the rights of naturalized citizens, which are more objectionable than the Massachusetts two years' amendment. The whole theory of Mr. Cass has got to be repudiated by the party, or it will contribute largely to its ruin. The doctrine of the eloquent and patriotic Marcy is the only defensible ground on which democrats can stand, while that of Mr. Cass is alike outrageous to our adopted citizens and disgraceful to our national honor. It is to be regretted that the Bangor Convention did not think to put itself right on this matter.—Bath Times.

The Bangor Convention did wisely to let this matter alone. The Massachusetts people, in the exercise of their popular sovereignty, decided wisely that they would not be ruled by a gang of fresh imported voters, driven or bribed to the polls by demagogues, —and Mr. Cass, as wisely decided to offer no more protection than we can properly give.

The truth is, that we never ought to have had any naturalization laws at all;—but men in the country when Independence was achieved, and when the Constitution was made, should have been citizens;—and those born in the country thereafter should have been citizens. Immigration should have been encouraged by other means,—but never by citizenship and suffrage.

The immigrant should have been protected in person and in his property—his children should have been educated in our schools—but he should never have been suffered to be a ruler in a country about which he knows nothing.

Our naturalization laws, as expounded by Mr. Cass, are a humbug. Here, the immigrant, presto change, is a ruler, and turns the scale in elections—going back to Europe, he is a soldier and a slave,—and Mr. Cass says truly, he can't help it.

No matter what party it damages. The truth is, our laws cannot change those of Austria.

☞ A mulatto woman in Cambridge, Ms., has poisoned her step-child, and tried to poison her husband and another step-child, in hopes to get a little property of her husband's. She is in jail,—and should go to the State's Prison for life. By the way, for such criminals as she, there should be solitary working cells, as in one of the Pennsylvania prisons.

☞ Rope-making formerly was an extensive business in Newburyport, as also here, but for the last ten years there has been no cordage-making, but "white work"—cod, pollock and mackerel lines, factory banding, skirt cords, lines for lake fishing, bed cords, clothes lines, &c. The value of goods manufactured annually, is $33,800.

☞ One of the best photographers in Europe took a bank note for 5000 francs on the Bank of France, and photographed one so much like it that the Bank's judges, the photographer himself, and in fact all who have seen the two, are unable to distinguish which from t'other. The bank considers such success rather dangerous.

☞ Rev. A. Kingman Nott, pastor of the Broome street Baptist church in New York, was drowned in the Raritan river on the 8th inst. He was a very amiable and popular young man, the son of Rev. Handel G. Nott, pastor of the Baptist church at Kennebunkport, Me., where the remains were taken for interment.

LAWRENCE.—On the 4th, Thomas Burke of Lawrence was stabbed in the abdomen by Jeremiah Leary of Lowell. Burke lingered until Thursday when he died. Leary undertook to pass a counterfeit bill, when Burke rebuked him, and told him he ought to be arrested for coming down from Lowell to pass bad money; upon which Leary attacked him, and in the course of the fight drew a knife and stabbed him badly in the abdomen. Leary was arrested and is now in jail.

SINGULAR POISONING CASE.—On the 8th ult., during the great fire in Salem, Daniel Crowley stole what he supposed to be a bottle of gin from the Essex House, and gave some to James Hayes, who sickened and died. It turned out that the bottle contained corrosive sublimate. A case of a somewhat similar character occurred at Newton Corner a few weeks since.

PENALTY FOR SHOOTING ROBINS.—Mr. Nath'l Morse of Newburyport was fined $27 in the Police Court of that city, last Saturday, for shooting ten robins. His defence was that the birds visited his cherry trees and partook of the fruit.

☞ The venerable Rev. Dr. Emerson, formerly Professor in Andover Seminary, on Sunday last accepted an invitation of Rev. Willard Spaulding, of Newburyport, and preached in the Universalist Church there.

LETTER FROM TEXAS.

BOERNE, Kerr Co. Texas, June 21.

Dear Chronicle:—From this point a view is obtained which will remind the emigree from New Hampshire of his own native hills, only differing in the coat of verdure which covers the sides of the acclivities to the very summit. In this portion of the State there have been recent rains, and the change from the sere, dry, dusty, heated prairie below.

From the start at Indianola until our arrival at New Braunfels, we found the country extremely parched up by drought, and no crop will be raised from Victoria to Seguin, excepting cotton.

The cattle, however, are in excellent order, and the lover of good beef has only to try some of that of Texas before it is driven to death, to come to the conclusion that "it is very good."

I noticed a short time since an article in the Boston Commercial Bulletin, advocating the establishment of a line of light-draft vessels between that port and Lavaca, to secure the growing trade of this State.—Now I suggest to the owners of some of the schooners around the Piscataqua, that a fine chance will be opened for them as soon as our new Railroad to Manchester is finished. Cotton, wool, and hides are to be exported hence in immense quantities. The two first will supply our factories, while the latter will supply the material for the revival of an almost extinct branch of business in Portsmouth—tanning.

The manufacture of shoes in the vicinity of your city makes a greater market for leather, and some of the bark from the adjacent forests can be as profitably employed in tanning the Texian hides as elsewhere.

The Indian troubles still continue. A few nights since a horse was shot in this village, not forty rods from where I sit, and the smoke from the signal fires of the Comanches are to be seen nearly every day, slowly rising above the hills.

From a visit to Mr. Kendall's ranche one returns with a fine impression of sheep-raising, and, in fact, all the stock in the state is looking well.

The stories about venomous reptiles and insects are exaggerated to the highest possible extent — and no one need fear much on that score.

The thermometer ranges pretty high during the day, and yet, as there is almost always a fine breeze, we do not mind it so much as many of the summer days of New England.

The black tongue has affected the cattle in a slight degree, and rendered the deer nearly extinct in this section. JON.

☞ The Newport correspondent of the New York Times, thus describes the ladies who summer there :—

"As to beauty, the ladies appear, even thus early, in perfect bloom—some, a little in the autumn of their beauty, in such startling bloom, indeed, as to make one fear they cannot so suddenly have caught it from the sea. Naughty, incredulous people, might fancy it connection—otherwise, what Lord Campbell, now Lord Chancellor, in his unsophisticated Saxon vernacular, calls 'a thick veneering of carbine,' which he says the wife of his predecessor, Lord Tenderden, was much addicted to; her love-blinded spouse never suspecting the artificiality, and fancying the coming and going of her complexion depended upon the state of her chest, instead of the condition of the rouge-box."

DRUNKENNESS.—Of all vices, drunkenness is the most gross and brutish. There are vices wherein are a mixture of knowledge, diligence, valor, prudence, dexterity and cunning, that evince some soul—that possess something of the high and generous; while this is absolutely low and beastly.—The thickest skulled nation to-day in Europe is that where drunkenness is the most in fashion. Other vices discompose the understanding; this totally overthrows it and stuns the body.

When fumes of wine have filled the swelling veins
Unusual weight throughout the body reigns;
The legs, so nimble in the race before,
Can now exert their wonted power no more;
Falters the tongue, tears gush into the eyes,
And hiccoughs, noise and jarring tumults rise.

A man can be placed in no worse condition, than that wherein he loses the knowledge and government of himself.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ According to the report of the New Hampshire State Liquor Agent,—the amount of liquor sold by the Agency from the first of September, 1858, to May 20, 1859, was $26,177.24, of which $11,290 was in the form of New England rum.

☞ The Mayor of a certain town out West proposes to kill half the dogs of his town, and tan their hides with the bark of the other half.

GOLD.

The glittering end of life is gold,
The "golden rule" is the golden test,
The "golden mean" means gold alone,
And the goldenest thing is e'er the best;
Then bring me wisdom if you will,
But bring me gold, though you bring me ill.

Nought potent is on earth but gold,
Love by its side is but a farce,
While beauty in its presence fades,
And goodness fails where gold is scarce;
Then bring me virtue, bring me truth,
But bring me gold, though you bring me ruth.

God 's but a sterner name for gold,
Or gold a softer name for God,
Who tempts us with a golden crown,
And rules us with a golden rod;
Then bring the crown, tho' you bring the cross,
And bring me gold, tho' you bring me dross.

We bow before a golden shrine,
And worship, all, the golden calf;
While those who weep are those who lose,
And those who win alone who laugh;
Then bring me honor, bring me fame:
But bring me gold, tho' you bring me shame.

"Give us this day our daily gold,"
Is evermore our daily prayer;
For gold will make the bad man good,
The good man—bah! all good is there.
Then bring me wisdom, bring me worth,
But bring me gold, and I'll rule the earth.

CAUTION.

Because you flourish in wordly affairs,
Don't be haughty, and put on airs,
With insolent pride of station!
Don't be proud and turn up your nose
At poorer people in plainer clothes,
But learn for the sake of your mind's repose,
That wealth's a bubble that comes and goes,
And that all proud flesh, wherever it grows,
Is the subject of irritation.

—J. G. Saxe.

If a young lady "throws herself away," understand she has married for love; if she is "comfortably settled," understand, that she married a wealthy old man whom she hates.

FREEDOM.—Say, what is freedom?—Rightly understood, a universal license to be good.

Seven Octave Piano --- New Scale.

The Subscriber having just received a superior SEVEN OCTAVE PIANO-FORTE, made according to his order by the celebrated firm of HALLET, DAVIS & CO., would offer it for the inspection of persons desirous of purchasing. H. D. & Co. have recently made great improvements in the manufacture of Pianos, the most important of which is the New Scale, which, while obviating the weakness which has hitherto been found in the upper part of Square Seven Octave Pianos, gives it a power of tone nearly equal to that of the Parlor Grand.

Having been for several years agent for the sale of Pianos of the above make, Mr. P. is prepared to state that the instruments which they are now making, far excel any of their former manufacture.

Purchasers will find it greatly to their advantage to call and examine the above mentioned Piano, as it is the only one in Portsmouth which contains the NEW SCALE.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Best Medicine in the World.

YES—DECIDEDLY THE BEST—IS

Dr. Langley's Root and Herb Bitters.

They are made from the most valuable Roots, Herbs and Plants in the vegetable kingdom.—They act at once upon the very seat of disease.—They remove all obstructions from the internal organs—regulate the bowels—purify the Blood—remove Humors—cleanse the Liver to healthy action—give strength and tone to the stomach—cure Jaundice and Dyspepsia—create an appetite—increase and renew the circulation—remove all Bilious diseases—cure Piles, Headache, Weakness, &c., and are the best medicine ever discovered for all Female Complaints. The purify, heal, strengthen, build up and keep in order "the house you live in."

Doctors' prescriptions, clothed in Latin verbs,
Now yield the palm to Langley's Roots and Herbs;
Forsake vile drugs and cull from Nature's store,
As did the Patriarchs in days of yore.
Roots, Herbs and Barks, the best in Nature's store,
From broad Atlantic to Pacific's shore,
From North to South, their healing virtues lend,
And in those Bitters prove the people's friend.
They'll strengthen, warm, your bodies vigorous make,
Rouse drooping spirits and new blood create.

So if you wish to feel well, act well, do well and keep well, use this standard valuable medicine.

Only 25 cts. for a pint, 38 cts. for a large bottle. Sold by all dealers in medicine everywhere.

Orders addressed to J. O. LANGLEY, or to GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., BOSTON.

Common Sense rules the mass of the people, whatever the misnamed and misanthrope philosophers may say to the contrary. Show them a good thing: let its merits be clearly demonstrated, and they will not hesitate to give it their most cordial patronage. The masses have already ratified the judgment of a physician, concerning the virtues of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, as may be seen in the immense quantities of this medicine now consumed in every section of the land. It is now recognized as the best, superior to all other remedies yet devised for diseases of the digestive organs, such as diarrhœa, dysentery, dyspepsia, and for the various forms that arise from derangement of those portions of the system. Hostetter's name is rapidly becoming a household word from Maine to Texas, from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pacific. Try the article and be satisfied.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

Agent for Portsmouth, J. H. THACHER, cor. of State and Pleasant Sts., and No. 12 Market Sq. Weeks & Potter, Boston, General Agents for the New England States.

DYSENTERY.—For Dysentery and similar complaints of the Summer season, the PERUVIAN SYRUP has proved a remarkable preventive and cure. By imparting tone to the intestinal mucous membrane, it places this surface in the best possible condition to resist the irritation of crude and indigestible articles of food.

Dyspepsia.

Considering the various forms in which this disease developes itself, it may well be called hydra-headed. In its train follow Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, Heartburn, Water Brash, Costiveness, Piles, Acidity, Depression after Eating, Nausea, Flatulency, Torpor of the Liver, Dizziness, Debility, Female Complaints, &c. Some of the first men in our land have given their written certificates relative to the cures effected in their own persons by the OXYGENATED BITTERS; while testimonials from other sources, equally conclusive and voluntary expressions from persons averse to use their names in print, are perfectly overwhelming.

Read the following from a highly respectable Clergyman:

EAST TAUNTON, Mass., Feb. 9, '58.

To the Editor of the Portland Mirror—Sir:—

OXYGENATED BITTERS—For more than twenty five years I have been a sufferer from the dyspepsia. Besides trying the patience of my family physicians in the almost useless trial of their various prescriptions, I have tried a great variety of patent medicines with a similar result. Through the kindness of my physician, I received last March, half a dozen bottles of the OXYGENATED BITTERS. I began to use them without any hope of deriving help from them. Being determined to give them a fair trial, I continued their use, but without any perceptible benefit till June.

Since then I have gradually improved in health till I am entirely free from acidity of the stomach, and from the consequent disturbance, the awful and almost distracting sick headache, which often, for days together, has wholly unfitted me for study and for all other ministerial duties, and rendered life a burden.

I feel that I owe it, as an expression of gratitude to Messrs. Fowle & Co., and also a duty to the public, to recommend this Oxygenated Bitters, as, in my estimation, a sure remedy for that most trying, most vexing, and cruel of all diseases, to which poor human flesh is heir to, viz: Dyspepsia. Having suffered so long, and tried so many different remedies with no good result, I can recommend the Oxygenated Bitters with a confidence few others can. If any of the readers of the Mirror are suffering, I beg of them to make trial of these Bitters without delay.

Yours, JAMES R. CUSHING.

SCROFULA CURED IN TWENTY DAYS.

William Miles, aged 37, had been afflicted with Scrofula for 11 years. On the 1st of August, by the advice of Dr. William Root, of Marietta, Ga., he commenced the use of RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT. In 10 hours he felt a change for the better; in 12 hours small pustules were seen covering the whole surface of the body; in 24 hours he was covered with discharging sores. He still took the Resolvent freely, but finding his bowels very costive, he took six of RADWAY'S REGULATORS. They operated powerfully and pleasantly. He afterward took one Regulator at night. The sores caused him some irritation, which he allayed by bathing them with the Resolvent. The fourth day he was able to work up. He continued the Resolvent and the Regulators for 20 days. Since the last day, which was on the night of the 20th day, he has not experienced any returning symptoms or uneasiness. His blood is pure, skin clear, and bowels regular.

R. R. R. is sold by Druggists everywhere.

R. R. R. Office, 162 Fulton street, New York.

N. B.—For Scrofula, Consumption, Syphilis, Rheumatism, Complaints, use R. R. Resolvent. For Irregularity, use Radway's Regulators.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

This Gin, distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a bouquet of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant for medicinal purposes.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, FEVER AND AGUE, FEVER AND AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a cure from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 21 Marshall st; J. M. S. Bury & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. LOCAL.

☞ The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire, was holden here on Tuesday. Gov. Goodwin, President of the Corporation, called the meeting to order, and presided. A motion was made and carried that the meeting adjourn to the Court House. A large number of stockholders were in attendance, incited no doubt by the rumor of a proposition to claim of the Eastern R. R. a large sum alleged to be due this Corporrtion, as its portion of the earnings of the joint roads, under the lease, and which has caused a purchase by speculators of considerable amount of stock within a few months past. The report of the Investigating Committee was read by Mr. Rollins, which states that if all sums above the payments contemplated in the lease, are divided between the Roads in proportion to the capital stock, there would be due to this Road what would amount to a dividend of about 23 3-4 per cent. After considerable discussion the meeting proceeded to the election of Directors,—choosing Ichabod Goodwin, Portsmouth; Stephen A. Chase, Salem; Benj. T. Reed, Boston; Daniel P. Drown, Portsmouth; George M. Browne, Dorchester, by a large majority.

This is the old Board, with the exception of Mr. Browne, who fills the vacancy created by the death of the late Hon. Isaiah Breed of Lynn. The meeting at 5 o'clock dissolved.

THE WAR.—The Paris correspondence of the London Times says in regard to the battle of Solferina:—

The Zouaves are said to be much cut up, and the 1st Chasseurs of Algeria terribly treated. Four Generals were wounded and one killed. 14,000 beds have been commanded at Milan for the wounded.

According to positive information, 25,000 Sardinians held ground against 50,000 Austrians who occupied a formidable position, from which they were dislodged by the Sardinians, under the orders of the King. The loss of the Sardinians is said to be about 1000 killed, and the same number wounded.

The details of the massacre at Perugia state that neither age nor sex were spared. Among the murdered by the soldiers, after the fighting had ceased, were three married couples, five elderly ladies, three unmarried females, a girl 4 years old, &c. An infant was taken from its mother's breast and thrown into the Tiber.

The main body of the French army was quickly confronted by the whole force of the Austrians in Lombardy, with the Emperor Francis Joseph at their head. The battle began at 4 in the morning, but fairly at 10 o'clock, allowing thus six hours for concentrating, the collision of the two entire armies took place.

The left wing seems to have commenced the attack, forcing back the French right. It is claimed also that the Austrian right wing had an early success against the Sardinians, but unfortunately for the Austrians, it happened that while their two wings were thus victorious, their centre was broken.

The French Emperor directed his early efforts against this part of the enemy's line, and the Austrians simply say—"The order of our centre could not be restored." From that moment the battle seems to have been lost to the Austrians.

On Sunday the Te Deum was to be sung in all the churches in France, in celebration of the victory of Solferino.

The Empress and all the great bodies of the State, were to attend the service in Notre Dame.

☞ The editor of the N. Y. Their letters were published in the Times of Tuesday morning.

A PRESENTATION.

A few days since a party of the numerous friends of Mr. John L. Hobbs paid him a visit at his home at North Hampton, and were most kindly received and liberally entertained.

An agreeable day was passed in the interchange of civilities, and the worthy host left nothing undone that could contribute to the enjoyment of the party. In the course of the day Mr. Hobbs was presented with a "testimonial" from the company, in the shape of a silver goblet and salver, accompanied by the following letter.

July 8th, 1859.

MR. JOHN L. HOBBS—

Dear Sir:—The gentlemen who compose this party,—most of whom, if not all, were present at a former gathering of this kind—have again availed themselves of your kind invitation to meet you at your house.

The recollection of the former meeting is yet fresh in their minds. They recall with the liveliest emotions, the pleasant hours passed on that day, and all of them have often expressed in unqualified terms the pleasure they derived from their visit.

The charming day—that seemed to have been made specially for our enjoyment;—the ever beautiful face of Nature, then arrayed in her choicest robes of summer; the pleasant ride about the country, and above all, the unbounded hospitality we received at your hands, caused the day to be remembered as an unusually bright one in the course of events, and endeared your memory to the hearts of each and every one of them.

The unusual kindness with which we were received, and the liberal manner in which we were entertained, caused the day to be recalled with feelings of sincere regard for yourself, and revived many very pleasant recollections; and each and every member of the party has ever been happy to confess that he knew Mr. Hobbs.

Fortunate indeed were those who could claim such an acquaintance,—for the name proved to be a synonym for good cheer and enjoyment; and though its owner had chosen a life of single blessedness, we found him unlike many bachelors,—for time had not warped his sympathies, or hardened his sensibilities, or choked up the channels of his affections; but his heart still beat with generous love for his fellow men, and with open hand he greeted us and bade us welcome.

Again we meet to renew these pleasing associations, and to partake of your hospitality.

It is needless for us to say how cheerfully we respond to your invitation. Our presence proves that the occasion is one of much interest to all of us.

But in accepting your kind invitation, and partaking of your entertainment, we desire to offer you some more substantial token of our appreciation of your kindness than could be conveyed in mere words.—We therefore beg leave to present you with this goblet and salver, as a testimonial of our regard for our worthy host, and as a memento of these pleasant re-unions.

The material of the cup is pure, but not more so than the friendship we cherish for you. Its shape is cylindrical and without end; neither is there any end to the kind feelings we entertain for its recipient. Its exterior is engraven, but not more deeply than the pleasure we derive from these visits shall be engraven on our memories.—Age cannot efface them; time will not rust or corrode them.

Please accept this gift, and with it the best wishes of the donors for your future prosperity and happiness. As each successive season rolls round, may fortune smile on all your labors. May your broad acres ever be productive, and may your barns be bursting with plenty, so that you shall be reminded of the Divine promise—"While the earth remaineth, seedtime and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night, shall not cease."

May the future years of your life be full of happiness,—and may you long continue to merit that respect and esteem which you now enjoy.

Very respectfully, your friends,
DANA L. SMITH,
E. B. YOUNG,
GEO. RUSSELL,
For the Donors.

Mr. Hobbs replied briefly, regretting that the sudden surprise rendered him almost speechless. He however thanked them kindly for the substantial token of their regard, and assured them that it occasioned him the most sincere pleasure to meet them all; and promising the gentlemen that whenever they should come to North Hampton, they would certainly find the latch string out.

The whole occasion was one of much pleasure, and will be long remembered by all who participated in it.

What a devil of a great giant Wendell Phillips is! He threatens to take the State of Mississippi by the nape of the neck, and shake every decrepid white man out of it, and give it into the hands of the slaves that now till it, and make America to represent the ideal to which our fathers consecrated it." Edmund Quincy is "some pumpkins" too—he hopes "to live to see the time,—and that too, without living to be an octogenarian like his father,—when if a United States Judge dares to disobey the laws of Massachusetts, he will be taken from the bench and set to honest work in the penitentiary, and the United States defied to take him out."—Post.

Make thy recreation servant to thy business, lest thou become a slave to thy recreation. When thou goest up into the mountain, leave thy servant in the valley; when thou goest to the city, leave him in the suburbs; and remember that the servant must not be greater than his master.

☞ The execution of the Sunday liquor law in New York city, closed 4000 grog shops on that day.

and as a Beverage it has no superior in the world. It is manufactured by the proprietor, at Schiedam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose mucilaginous extract is distilled and rectified with its spiritous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, Bladder and Kidney Complaints, &c. &c.
Put up in quart and pint bottles, in Cases of one dozen quarts, and two dozen pints, with the proprietor's name on the bottle, cork and label. For sale by all the respectable Country Merchants and Druggists. Look out for counterfeits and imitations, as the whole country is flooded with them

TO THE PUBLIC.
I beg leave to call the attention of the American Public to the following Certificate from the Government Chemist for the Island of Cuba and the Spanish West Indies, and who is known to the Scientific men of London, Paris, Madrid, Cuba and America to be the first Chemist in the world.
UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHEMICAL TESTIMONY.
D. Jose Luis Casaseca, Corresponding Member of the Royal Academies of Madrid and Munich, a Graduate in Sciences of the Faculty of Paris, formerly Professor of Chemistry, as applied to the Arts, of the Royal Conservatorio of Madrid, and of Pharmacy and Chemistry, as applied to the Industry and Agriculture of the country, in the Royal University of this Island, at present H. M's Director of the Institute of Chemical Investigation, &c., &c.
Do hereby certify, that at the request of the house of Gottig & Will, of this place, I have made an analytical examination of U. Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps, with the object of ascertaining if it contained any substance noxious to health, and to inform them as to its true composition and relative quality with the other gins that are offered in the market, and the results of my observations and experiments are as follows:—
Udolpho Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is a spirituous liquid, of a very agreeable aromatic odor, completely transparent and almost colorless, having only a very slight tint of yellowish gray; its flavor is strong and very agreeable to the palate. It marks 20 degrees of Cartier's alcohol weigher or 52 degrees hundredth in Gay Lussac's alcohometre. By the distillation in a balnium maria, with an apparatus consisting of a glass retort and a recipient surrounded with ice, I have collected in this recipient an alcoholic liquid with a very agreeable aroma completely colorless and transparent, which marked 90 degrees in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, or 70 degrees 5 hundredth on Gay Lussac's alcohometre; and which represented as a whole 57 per cent. of aromatic Schiedam schnapps subject to distillation in the retort. This liquid did not soil the transparency of the distilled water in mixing it with the same, and its agreeable aroma is doubtless due to a very trifling amount of an essential oil insepurable from alcohol.
From the remainder of the distillation which was left in the retort, I have obtained, through evaporation in a vapor bath, a substance of a yellowish brown color, clear, and having a bitter taste, which is not disagreeable, and which afterwards becomes aromatic and leaves the mouth perfumed with that fragrance peculiar to the vanilla. I am inclined to believe that to this bitter and aromatic extractive substance, soluble in water and alcohol, the medicinal properties which are attributed to this gin are due. I have not found in Udolpho Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam schnapps any mineral or organic substance other than the extractive one already named and the aromatic one obtained by distillation. Finally, Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps consists simply of an aromatic alcohol of 20 degrees of graduation in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, and of an extractive bitter aromatic substance, which perhaps, is medicinal; and, on account of its not containing any matter injurious to the health, as well as for its odor and agreeable flavor—a fact which no doubt arises from the choice substances employed in its manufacture, and from the peculiar manner of its distillation, it should in my opinion, be preferred to all the Holland, Belgic and German gins which are found in this Island which it has been my business to examine. These gins as I have often proved it, exhale a disagreeable odor, and have a more or less disagreeable flavor, some of them having left as was the case with the superior gin from the distillery of Mr. Henry Doetjch (of Bremen) no residum after evaporation by steam, a substance almost insipid and very trifling aromatic, with flavor of vanilla, but in no wise with the delicious bitter and aromatic flavor of that of Udolpho Wolfe; and others, such as that labelled "Genuine Samaritan," "Extra Superior." Messrs. Trenor have furnished me with a very small quantity of a greenish substance, of harsh metallic taste and very disagreeable, which extractive organic matter was mixed with a salt of copper, with signs of iron, owing perhaps, to a bad system of distillation.
I certify that all that is here stated is the truth and agrees with the experiments I have made with the greatest care, and I authorize the house of Gottig & Will, of this city, to give publicity to this certificate, in Spanish and in foreign language, in all countries where it may suit their interest to do so. JOSE LUIS CASASECA.

Morning Chronicle.

TIMES ITEMS.—The Bath Times of Saturday, contains these four items.

It does not trouble us that our account of the Convention has been copied by republican papers, so long as we know that it was true. When Democracy demands that we should lie in its defence, or even conceal the truth, we will abandon the pen and chair editorial, and go to burning charcoal or digging clams for an honest living.

The telegraph has announced the nomination of Gov. L. M. Morrill for re-election, by the republican convention in Portland. If we must have a Governor from the opposition, we are quite satisfied it should be no worse man.

The Republican Convention in Portland was fully attended. Over 600 delegates were present, and all the votes but some ten or a dozen were given for Gov. Morrill. Speeches were made, pleasant stories told, and all the comfort was taken consistent with "the poor dying rate" at which that party is now living.

A very large number of accidents on the 4th occurred in Massachusetts, but we hear of very few in this State. Probably our people kept freer from the influence of poor liquor.

DROUGHT IN SCOTLAND.—A party from Scotland state that the drought during May and a part of June, was more severe than during any past year since 1826. The rivers Earn and Tay were nearly dry—the famous Doon, immortalized by Burns, would slide through a gallon measure, and other well known streams and rivers were thoroughly dried up. In some places water was so scarce that in villages it was sold at five shillings per barrel! and many had to go miles for water for their cattle. The crops notwithstanding, are reported as looking excellent; and recent rains will no doubt advance them considerably.—Traveller.

SAVAGES IN ST. PETERSBURG.—A party of Samoieds from the northern part of the Government of Archangel, had arrived at St. Petersburg and set up their tent near the Admiralty ship-yard. They are described as having round flat faces, almost without a nose, and with little dots of eyes. They like raw meat better than cooked, and all their garments, from the top of their heads to the sole of their feet, are made of reindeer skin. They brought with them a number of reindeer, and have made a good deal of money by driving the curious, and especially the children, in their sledges on the ice.

England has expended, it is estimated, 40,000,000 pounds sterling for the suppression of the African slave trade, and yet it prevails to a frightful extent. Cuba is the great slave market of the world, and, humiliating as may be the fact, the traffic is carried on mainly under our flag—that flag being rarely used by those who have no right to its protection.

It is proposed by the admirers of the picture of Mr. Everett as the Orator, that a companion piece be painted of the distinguished "landator" to be known under the title of Mr. Everett the contributor, in which he shall be represented as reading the Ledger, comparing upon the open page the merits of the "Mount Vernon Papers" with those of "The Hidden Hand."

Good temper is the philosophy of the heart, a gem of the treasury within, whose rays are reflected on outward objects; a perpetual sunshine, imparting warmth, light and life, to all within the sphere of its influence.

We cannot all of us be beautiful, but the pleasantness of a good-humored look is denied to none. We can all of us increase and strengthen the family affections and the delights of home.

A bill is pending in one of our Western Legislatures to empower women to make contracts. They should by all means be authorized to contract—they have been expanding too much.

☞ It is reported that the Venus recently discovered at Rome, is about to be sent to St. Petersburg, having been purchased by the Russian Government for 75,000 fr.

Happiness, it has been wisely observed, is the proportion of the number of things which we love, and the number of things that love us.

DR. SWETT'S
CORDIAL OF DANDELION,
SPIKENARD & BONESET,

A remedy unsurpassed for Liver Complaints, such as Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, Universal Debility, and the whole family of Consumptive Complaints.

Hundreds of testimonials might be added, proving the many cures by this pleasant and effectual medicine, especially of people advanced in life, whose debilitated constitutions have been greatly recruited by it. A trial of it is warranted to well pay the aged and dyspeptic. Price 75 cents.

(From Mrs. Ira Burnham, Exeter, N. H.)

I have suffered many years from the liver and heart complaint. By the above distressing disease was reduced so low, some two years since, that I could not sit up more than ten or fifteen minutes at a time, when I began to take Dr. Swett's Cordial of Dandelion, spikenard and Boneset, which has so fully restored my health that I now daily labor and attend to the business of my large boarding house. ELIZABETH BURNHAM.

Exeter, June 1, 1859.

(From Mrs. Ebenezer Blaso.)

GREENLAND, Nov. 20, 1858.

DR. SWETT—Dear Sir:—The distressing disease called the heart complaint, which has so long afflicted me, and which has defied the skill of all the former physicians, has been fully cured by the two bottles of your Cordial which I had of you last spring. Yours with respect,

SALLY BLAZO.

This unequalled medicine, together with others carefully prepared by Dr. SIMEON SWETT, from innocent but effectual vegetables, are for sale by him at No. 12 CABOT ST., Portsmouth, N. H.

CONSUMPTION IS CURABLE!

BY THE USE OF

Winchester's Genuine Preparation of Dr. J. F Churchill's Compound of the

HYPOPHOSPHITES
OF LIME, SODA AND POTASH,

Originally discovered and prescribed by him as a Specific Remedy for

CONSUMPTION!

The use of the Hypophosphites in CONSUMPTION, Scrofula, Nervous Debility, Asthma, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Female Complaints, and all other diseases originating in a DEPOSIT OF STARVE IN THE ELEMENTS OF THE BLOOD, have proved their INVARIABLE EFFICACY in thousands of cases in Europe and America and established the fact, that they are the most powerful and pure RESTORATIVE, and a

SPECIFIC REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION.

Dr. Churchill says: "In no single instance have I found the remedy fail to produce everything that could be reasonably expected from it. It must ultimate the benefit desired from it has FAR EXCEEDED what could at first have been hoped for, when taking into account the degree and extent of the injury sustained by the lungs previous to the use of the remedy. * * * * * Out of twenty-two cases in the third or last stage, treated at my Dispensary during the past year, eight are NOW COMPLETELY RECOVERED, eight have died, and six are still under treatment. SUCH A RESULT IS ALTOGETHER UNPARALLELED IN THE ANNALS OF MEDICINE."

BE SURE TO PURCHASE WINCHESTER'S GENUINE PREPARATION,

which is certified by Dr. James R. Chilton to be "PERFECTLY MILD and chemically pure. My formula signature is upon the wrapper."

☞ Price $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5, with full directions for use. Write for Circulars, which will give RELIABLE INFORMATION, and save them an possibility of deception. Sold wholesale, at the lowest discount for cash, at the Sole General Depot in the United States, by J. WINCHESTER, American and Foreign Agency, 49 John street, New York.

THE ONLY ARTICLE

UNRIVALLED IN THE MARKET,

WITH IMMENSE

HOME AND EUROPEAN DEMAND.

The reason why, is that by Nature's own process it restores the natural color permanently after the hair becomes gray; supplies the natural fluids, and thus makes it grow on bald heads, cures all humors, drufi, itching, and heat from the scalp, quiets and tones up the nerves, and thus cures all nervous headache, and may be relied upon to cure all diseases of the scalp; it will stop the hair and keep it from falling off; makes it soft, glossy, healthy and beautiful, and it used by the young two or three times a week will prevent the hair ever falling off. Then, reader, read the following and judge for yourselves:

NEW YORK, Jan. 3, 1858.

MESSRS. O. J. WOOD & CO.,

Gentlemen: Having heard a good deal about Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and my hair being quite grey, I made up my mind to lay aside the prejudices which I, in common with a great many persons, had against all manner of patent medicines, and to which class I had commenced using your article, to test it for myself.

The result has been so very satisfactory that I am very glad I did so, in justice to you, as well as for the encouragement of others who may be as gray as I was but who having my prejudice without my reasons for setting it aside, are unwilling to give your Restorative a trial till they have further proof, and the best proof being occular demonstration, I write you this letter, which you may show to any such, and also direct them to call further proof, who am in and out of the N. Y. Wire Railing establishment every day.

My hair is now in natural color and much improved in appearance, every way, being glossier and thicker and much more healthy looking. I am, yours respectfully, HENRY MATTHEWS.

Cor. Columbia and Carroll Sts., Brooklyn.

LIVINGSTON, Ala., Feb. 14, 1858.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative has done myself good in the part of the country. My hair has been slightly diminishing for several years, caused, I suppose, from a slight burn when I was quite an infant. I have been using your Hair Restorative for six weeks and I find that I have a fine head of hair now growing, after having used all other remedies known, to no effect. I think it the most valuable remedy now extant, and advise all who are afflicted that way to use your remedy.

You can publish this if you think proper.

Yours, &c. S. W. MIDDLETON.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—was in fact BALD. I have used but a half pint bottle of your Restorative, and now the top of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its share. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours, respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D.,
No. 464 Vine Street.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, the large medium, and small, the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Sold, wholesale and retail, in Portsmouth, by J. H. THACHER.

LOTTERIES.

THE LOTTERIES OF
WOOD, EDDY & CO.,

Are chartered by the States of Delaware and Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything is conducted with the utmost fairness and honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as though they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Delaware or to Georgia, as the Lotteries of

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,

are authorized by the Legislature of either State.

A Lottery will be drawn every day during the year at Wilmington, Delaware, and also at Augusta, Ga. All orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after same comes to hand.

Whole tickets are $10; halves, $5; and quarters, $2.50.

No ticket sent unless the money accompanies the order. Prizes vary from $20 to $50,000.

Every prize is drawn, and the result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ Parties can watch the plan of receiving it. All communications strictly confidential.

Write your address plainly, and direct to

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,
Wilmington, Delaware.

Or to WOOD, EDDY & CO.,
Augusta, Georgia.

☞ All letters to our address will be promptly acknowledged—and prizes cashed without delay.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Those who prefer not sending money by mail, can use the "ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY," whereby money for tickets, in sums of ten dollars, and upwards, can be sent us

AT OUR RISK AND EXPENSE,

from any city or town where they have an office. The money and order must be enclosed in a "GOVERNMENT POST OFFICE STAMPED ENVELOPE," or the Express Company cannot receive them.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

Knowing that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies, who still refuse from false delicacy to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may enclose the money to the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of the number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and enclosure fee in the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Hughes. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, namely the constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best of the kind. The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—13 Howard street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. j2 d1y

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

A compound remedy in which we have labored to produce the most efectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Pars Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will a complish their cure must be of immense service to the thousands of our afflicted fellow citizens. How completely this compound will do it, has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:—

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTI NS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud.—Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the encumance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions or sores;—cleanse it when you find it is obstructed or sluggish in its volue; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health and live live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been erroneously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or anything else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Acnce bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla with blood the market, until the name itself is justly cspised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have grounds for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,
LOWELL, MASS.
PRICE, $1 PER BOTTLE; SIX BOTTLES FOR $5.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has won for itself such a renown for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidence of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more tean assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
FOR THE CURE OF

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a cluner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

They are sugar-coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Price, 25 cents per box; five boxes for $1.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen and eminent personages, have lent their names to certify the unparalleled usefulness of these remedies, but our space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agent below named furnishes gratis our American Almanac, in which they are given, with also full descriptions of the above complaints, and the treatment that should be followed for their cure.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations that yield them more profit on.—Demand AYER'S, and take no other. The sick wan the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

All our remedies are for sale by W. R. Preston, Portsmouth, and by all druggists and merchants in the civilized world. 6m—jel4

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, quarter ... 11437.
76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents, and other questions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have the best facilities for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS is THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him t. accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON.
Commissioner of Patents.

I have no hesitation in securing inventors the cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
BOSTON, February 3, 1858.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twenty rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, Jan. 1, 1859. R. H. EDDY.

Oleine Diamond Oil.
GREATEST ILLUMINATOR OF THE AGE.
This Oil is entirely free from treachery, so that a lamp may be left burning any length of time desired, without filling a room with lamp-black or soot.
It burns in the common oil lamp, with or without a chimney.
The light is far more pleasant than gas, as it is free from the disagreeable flickerings always attending a gas light, and is cheaper. We claim for this Oil:
1. That it is cheaper than any other artificial light.
2. That it has no odor.
3. That it will not smoke
4. That it will burn with or without a chimney, hence it is portable.
5. That it will stand a lower degree of temperature than any other Oil.
6. That it is free from each of the objections that are brought against every other article heretofore or now being offered to the public for illuminating purposes.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, JULY 14, 1859.

☞ Speaking of the Republican resolutions on Popular Sovereignty, the Bath Times says:—

By the "qualifications" referred to we do not allude to what is said of "the restraints of a just morality." We take no exceptions to that phrase. We contend the people of a Territory have the political right, as against all other communities whether state or territorial, to establish as well as prohibit slavery. That they have the moral right to do so is another thing, for which we have not contended, do not design to contend.—In what we say upon this subject of rights we want that word to be understood only and exclusively in its political sense.

Even ingenious and honest men often deceive themselves with a word.

Strictly speaking, there are no such things as political rights, though there are political privileges and powers. Right is right, and wrong is wrong.

Take if you please for an example, the holding of slaves, mentioned by the Bath Times in the above brief extract.

The editor does not and will not say, the people of a Territory have the moral right to establish or legalize slavery there. Well, then they have no right at all. They may have the power, physically, and the privilege, or permission, politically, to do so,—but it is not a right.

Again, take this very example of a squatter's right, in a Territory, to hold slaves. If it be a political right, by what juggle in politics has it become so? Suppose some man from New or old England, from Ireland or Spain, should take it into his head to establish slavery in some wilderness within our country's limits, over which as yet, Congress has not extended the usual territorial government? Has he a political right to sell his own child into slavery, or to buy some other person's child, and hold him as a slave?

If yes be the answer, then we ask, by what law? or decision? or usage? Perhaps some ultra slavite might say, Slavery is a Divine Institution, and any man who can, has the moral and political right to make a slave of another. This is the only defence but the Times will not take this ground.

If the squatter, however, has not the political right to establish slavery, before Congress spreads a territorial shield over him,—then the question comes up,—Can Congress confer a political right?

We say, Congress cannot confer any rights whatever—though they may confer political privileges,—and invest men with political powers. And we think, in this particular, the Times will not disagree with us.

That which is a moral wrong, cannot be a political right, though it may be a political power.

This is not a mere difference in words or terms, but in substantial things.

COSMOPOLITAN ART JOURNAL.—The July number of this splendid Quarterly is received. It contains about fifty-eight pages of choice articles, many of them finely illustrated. "The American Eagle guarding the spirit of Washington," is a bold picture, but not much to our taste. This Journal is published by the Cosmopolitan Art Association, and is furnished to members of the Association gratis, and to others at two dollars a year. The subscription price of members is only three dollars, entitling them to the Journal for the year, a copy of a beautiful steel engraving of Shakespeare and his Friends, free admission to the galleries of the Association, and a chance in the distribution of works of art.

☞ All the criminals that were to be hanged in New York on the 22d inst., have received a further lease of life. Appo, the Chinaman, who murdered his landlady, was reprieved by the Governor; Stephens, the wife poisoner, and Shepherd, the incendiary, were reprieved by writs of error and stays of proceedings; and on Friday Judge Clerke granted similar orders in favor of Sanchez, who killed his father-in-law.

VALOR REWARDED.—Her Britanic Majesty's government, at the instigation of the British consul at Boston, has awarded first class gold medals to pilots Dolliver and Chandler, and also to the Hon. Judge Russell and his lady, of Boston, who were on board the pilot boat, and assisted in saving the life of the captain of the schooner Caroline, wrecked near Deer Island. The Judge modestly disclaims any pretension to such reward, but accepts it as a proof of the zealous care with which Great Britain watches the interests of her sailors in every quarter of the globe.

☞ A sea captain went into a house of ill repute in New York on Monday last, with $800 in his pockets. He was taken out of the house, Friday night, with only $300 left, and so badly drugged with liquor as to be insensible.

If you do when you are alone what you are unwilling to do in the presence of your acquaintances, you respect them more than you do yourself.

FROM NEW YORK.

New York, July 8, 1859.

Dear Chronicle:—For a whole year we have mercifully spared the patience of your compositors and the nerves of your readers. But you are not forgotten. Every day we steal for a few minutes away from the mazy complications of Ledgers and Day-books, from files of papers and stacks of letters, to bask under the bright light of your morning face, as it comes to us smiling joyously with good tidings, or sadly with bad news, and ever well freighted with intelligence from the most interesting corner of the Land of bright onions and white beans,

Of short, but sweetest kind of grass,
Of maids, who, ere they reach their teens
Can make the best of pumpkin sass.

What if the narrative of your local column is two days old? It is as fresh to us as if we grasped the sheet damp from the press as it bids good morning to the sun and the new Custom House, at the portals of the Exchange Buildings. Even the items of news from this portion of the world are perused with new interest. But I have been pained to observe that you are prone to the habit which is prevalent thoughout provincial newspaperdom, of drawing largely from the dark side of metropolitan life, from its catalogue of crime, rather than from its record of progress. Our city is, it is true, great in wickedness, but it is proportionally great in goodness, great in its daily panorama of real life, in its progressive influence, and in the untiring energy and unequalled talent of its merchants and people, that element which is the foundation of all that makes it the pride of our country, the chief ornament in America's crown of prosperity.

The echoes of the glorious epoch of squibs and powder, cakes and small beer, broken heads and patriotism, have just died away, and the city is relapsing into that comparatively calm state which prevails during the month of July. From Sunday morning to Monday night, the air was resonant with the noise of all imaginable explosive materials and contrivances, and reeking with the odor of gunpowder and smoke. For a season, New York seems not to belong to New Yorkers, but to be abandoned to the vast influx from the rural districts, "come down to see the sights." The Jerseymen, Long Islanders, visiting Bostonians, and other provincials, must be amused. Upper-tendom endures, while the lower ten thousand celebrate.

Great interest is felt here among the news readers in the prevailing war in Europe. Ordinary items of intelligence are lost behind the shadow of the prominent topic. Crimes, casualities, exploits and hoaxes are read with indifference, while the arrival of one of our tri-weekly ferry-boats from the old world, occasions an eager excitement, and the avidity with which the newsboys are assailed and relieged of their load of literature, would cause the eyes of a country-weekly editor to glisten.

Those embryo merchants, the circulators of the "Erald, Times, and Tribune," are an omnipresent class whose characteristics are in New York alone developed to perfection. The news vender in other districts, is at best but a machine, who distributes his stock and receives his pennies with the coolness and apathy of a dry goods clerk, but the urchin whose ubiquitous mug thrusts itself upon you from the steps of our hotels, the gangways of our steamers, and the corners of our streets is a specimen of anomalous mortality peculiar to this region alone. Independent, enthusiastic and enterprising, the newsboy is a miniature prototype of the American Republic. Reared in such a nursery and educated in such a school as the streets of New York, characters are formed, which, in the vicissitudes of fortune, often act prominent parts on the stage of life. While many are drawn by the vicious influences with which they are in daily contact, into careers of crime, not a few rise by their own exertions, up the ladder of prosperity, to positions of honor among their fellow men. Two of the directors of one of our largest banks, men well-known and highly respected, each commenced their business life with twenty-five cents and a bundle of newspapers. There may be some among the present ragged horde who are to be our future governors and senators, and, perhaps a president.—Many of them have a better chance for attaining the latter distinction than ha

ISLINGTON.

"Are those pure canaries?" asked a gentleman of a bird dealer, with whom he was negotiating for a "gift for his fair." "Yes, sir," said the dealer, confidentially; "I raised them 'ere birds from canary seed."—It was deemed sufficient proof of their purity.

LARGE GOOSEBERRIES.—Mr. John Adams of Saco, has gooseberries in his garden that measure three and one half inches in circumference.

Be thy purse never so full, thou art poor, if proud; be thine never so low, thou art rich, if humble; for "the kingdom of heaven" is for "the poor in spirit."

A CURE WORTH TRYING.—The Harrisburg (Pa.) Patriot says that half a cranberry put on a corn, will kill it in a single night.

☞ He who would thrive must advertise.

YOUR BABY.

BY SPENCER W. CONE.

Out of all the little people
That you know,
Great folks' children, poor folks' babies,
High or low;
Big or little, blondes, brunettes,
Dark-haired beauties, blue-eyed pets;
Or the ugliest of abortions
With pug-noses for their portions—
Noses pug for facial handles!
Hair that curls like pounds of candles—
Out of all the little people
You can bring,
Nine miles round, from any steeple,
In a ring—
Did you ever see a darling
Whom its "ma," like Hotspur's starling,
With unending iteration,
Didn't say beat all creation
Into bits?

No, ma'am—no, sir—miss, or master—
Never came such sad disaster
To maternal bosom tender—
No! one horrid doubt would send her
Into fits.

Don't you pity Mrs. Snivens?
Don't you feel for Mrs. Bivins?
Snivens' baby has red hair;
Bivins' squints, I do declare.
Did you ever?
But my baby—oh, the precious!
Ain't he perfectly delicious?
Papa's nose, and mamma's eyes;
And so good; he never cries—
Never! never!

This, and nothing more, my moral,
(And with it who dares to quarrel?)
Babies are to women given
By the special grace of heaven,
And that alone;
By divine interposition,
To compel from her admission
That one perfect thing may be,—
Yes, a baby! Hum! what baby?
Wretch!—her own.

The Subscriber having just received a superior SEVEN OCTAVE PIANO-FORTE, made according to his order by the celebrated firm of HALLET, DAVIS & CO., would offer it for the inspection of persons desirous of purchasing. H. D. & Co. have recently made great improvements in the manufacture of Pianos, the most important of which is the New Scale, which, while obviating the weakness which has hitherto been found in the upper part of Square Seven Octave Pianos, gives it a power of tone nearly equal to that of the Parlor Grand.

Having been for several years Agent for the sale of Pianos of the above make, Mr. P. is prepared to state that the instruments which they are now making, far excel any of their former manufacture.

Purchasers will find it greatly to their advantage to call and examine the above mentioned Piano, as it is the only one in Portsmouth which contains the NEW SCALE.

The Best Medicine in the World.

YES—DECIDEDLY THE BEST—18

Dr. Langley's Root and Herb Bitters.

They are made from the most valuable Roots, Herbs and Plants in the vegetable kingdom.—They act at once upon the very seat of disease.—They remove all obstructions from the internal organs—regulate the Bowels—purify the Blood—remove Humors—excite the Liver to a healthy action—give strength and tone to the stomach, for Jaundice and Dyspepsia—create an appetite—increase and renew the circulation—remove all Bilious diseases—cure Piles, Headache, Weakness, &c., and are the best medicine ever discovered for all Female Complaints. The purify, heal, strengthen, build up and keep in order "the house you live in."

Doctors' prescriptions, clothed in Latin verbs, Now yield the palm to Langley's Roots and Herbs; Forsake vile drugs and cull from Nature's store, As did the Patriarchs in days of yore.

Roots, Herbs and Barks, the best in Nature's store, From broad Atlantic to Pacific's shore,

From North to South, their healing virtues lend, And in these Bitters prove the people's friend.

They'll strengthen, warm, your bodies vigorous make,

Rouse drooping spirits and new blood create.

So if you wish to feel well, act well, do well and keep well, use this standard valuable medicine.

Only 25 cts. for a pint, 38 cts. for a large bottle. Sold by all dealers in medicine everywhere.

Orders addressed to J. O. LANGLEY, or to GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., BOSTON.

Common Sense rules the mass of the people, whatever the misnamed and misanthrope philosophers may say to the contrary. Show them a good thing: let its merits be clearly demonstrated, and they will not hesitate to give it their most cordial patronage. The masses have already ratified the judgment of a physician, concerning the virtues of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, as may be seen in the immense quantities of this medicine that are annually sold in every section of the land. It is now recognized as greatly superior to all other remedies yet devised for diseases of the digestive organs, such as diarrhœa, dysentery, dyspepsia, and for the various fevers that arise from derangement of those portions of the system. Hostetter's name is rapidly becoming a household word, from Maine to Texas, from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pacific. Try the article and be satisfied.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

DYSENTERY.—For Dysentery and similar complaints of the Summer season, the PERUVIAN SYRUP has proved a remarkable preventive and cure. By imparting tone to the intestinal mucous membrane, it places this surface in the best possible condition to resist the irritation of crude and indigestible articles of food.

Dyspepsia.

Considering the various forms in which this disease develops itself, it may well be called hydra-headed. In its train follow Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, Heartburn, Water Brash, Costiveness, Piles, Acidity, Oppression after Eating, Jaundice, Flatulency, Torpor of the Liver, Dizziness, Debility, Female Complaints, &c. Some of the first men in our land have given their written certificates relative to the cures effected in their own persons by the OXYGENATED BITTERS; while testimonials from other sources, editorial notions and voluntary expressions from persons averse to see their names in print, are perfectly overwhelming.

Read the following from a highly respectable Clergyman:

EAST TAUNTON, Mass., Feb. 9, '58.

To the Editor of the Portland Mirror,—Sir:—OXYGENATED BITTERS—For more than twenty five years I have been a sufferer from the dyspepsia. Besides trying the patience of my family physicians in the almost endless trial of the various prescriptions, I have tried a great variety of patent medicines with a similar result. Through the kindness of my physician, I received last March, half a dozen bottles of your OXYGENATED BITTERS. I began to use them without any hope of deriving help from them. Being determined to give them a fair trial, I continued their use, but without any perceptible benefit till June.

Since then I have gradually improved in health till I am entirely free from acidity of the stomach, and from the consequent flatulency, and the awful and almost distracting sick headache, which often, for days together, has so long tried me for study and for all other ministerial duties, and rendered life a burden.

I feel that I owe it, as an expression of gratitude to Messrs. Fowle & Co., and also a duty to the public, to recommend their Oxygenated Bitters, as in my estimation, a sure remedy for the most trying, most vexing, and cruel of all diseases, to which poor human flesh is heir, the dyspepsia. Having suffered so long, and tried so many different remedies with no good result, I can recommend the Oxygenated Bitters with a confidence few others can. If any of the readers of the Mirror are suffering, I would say to them to make trial of these Bitters without delay.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

This Gin, distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restorative properties of the Berry are imparted in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so obnoxious to many.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, publitcans and merchants throughout the United States. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

☞ May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st.; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Packer, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. BATTLE OF SOLFERINO.

VIENNA, July 1.—The Austrian Correspondence says the loss at the battle of the 24th, as yet ascertained, is 1900 killed, 8100 wounded. Further information will be published.

VERONA, July 1.—Since June 24th, there have been merely unimportant skirmishes between the outposts.

The Paris Moniteur has the following from the French Emperor:

The whole army has passed the Mincio. The Sardinians have invested Peschiera.

The Moniteur contains the official bulletin of the battle of Solferino: The force of the army was from 250,000 to 270,000. The new artillery produced terrible effect. The loss of the French is 720 officers hors du combat, 120 of whom are killed; 12,000 privates killed and wounded. Among the killed are seven Colonels, six Lieutenant Colonels. Among the wounded are five Generals.

☞ The New York Times contains two long letters, one written by Mr. Raymond, one of the editors, and the other by a correspondent, from the seat of war in Italy, giving an account of the great battle which they saw. They are much too long for our limits; they confirm the statements of great loss of life in the Austrian army,—and they make the French loss larger than other accounts.

One writer saw one ditch in which 2500 men were buried.

The correspondent of the N. Y. Times, "Malakoff," who, with the editor of that paper, Mr. Raymond, was present at the battle of Solferino, estimates the number of French placed hors du combat at twenty-five thousand.

☞ Liverpool dates, per Canada, are to July 2. They give us a few items of news from the war, and a very little commercial news.

There had been no more fighting, and the allies continued their movement across the Mincio unmolested.

The Emperor Napoleon had changed his head-quarters from Volta to Vallegio.

The Sardinians had completed the investment of Peschiera, from the Lago di Garda to the Mincio.

The Emperor of Austria was expected to remain in Italy.

The new English Ministry has pronounced for a strict neutrality.

Mr. Cobden had declined a seat in the Cabinet.

In Liverpool, sales of cotton for the week, 57,000 bales. Prices of lower qualities declined 1-8 per lb.

Breadstuffs market drooping, and all descriptions were slightly lower.

Provisions dull, and quotations barely maintained.

Consols for account closed on Friday at 93 3-8.

DEATH FROM THE BITE OF A RATTLESNAKE.—The Cincinnati Gazette reports the death of Mr. Jas. Wright of Lewis Co, Ky., from the bite of the rattlesnake.

"The deceased was engaged in the woods, on the forenoon of the 4th, when in turning over a log, a rattlesnake suddenly spring at him, and stuck his fangs in the back of his hand. Alarmed at the probable consequences, he immediately started for the town and ran the entire distance.—By the time he reached Vanceburg he was entirely blind, and his body and head were covered with spots. The usual remedies were immediately resorted to, to neutralize the poison, but without effect. He continued to sink rapidly and expired between three and four o'clock next morning.

☞ At Haverhill, Mass., Monday afternoon, a man named George Stevens, about thirty years of age, was drowned in Plug Pond while bathing. It is supposed he was seized with the cramp. After diligent search, his body was found in about twenty feet of water. In his trunk were found two letters, one from his father, dated at Springfield, N. H., in November last, and another from his wife, dated at the same place, in April. From the tenor of these letters it is evident he had abandoned his family from causes not stated.

Mr. Nicholas Hoyt, of West Amesbury, an insane man, much advanced in years, committed suicide a few days since, by hanging.

☞ The Concord Statesman publishes the official report of the whole amount of sales of liquors made to the different cities and towns in New Hampshire, by E. A. Boardman, Esq., agent under the liquor law, from September 1, 1858, to May 20, 1859, inclusive. The Statesman says—"A more exact or more honorable business man is probably not to be found in Boston. The total amount of sales is $26,177.24."

☞ The Cleveland Leader announces the arrival in that city of Mr. George Raymond, all the way from Salt Lake City, via Cherry Creek mines and Kansas, having come the entire distance driving a span of elk before a wagon. The elk in question are only three years old, and actually traveled as fast as 100 miles in a single day.

☞ A Congregational Society in Connecticut, at a recent meeting, were talking about settling a young man fresh from a theological school as pastor of their society, but a farmer said, "For his part, he was tired of breaking steers,"—so the young preacher wasn't settled.

☞ Powers' wretched statue of Webster is to be placed within the Massachusetts State House grounds, in front of the State House, between the portico and the east fountain.

SICKLES.—The N. Y. Tribune has the following:

We are credibly informed from various sources that Hon. Daniel E. Sickles has become entirely reconciled with his wife, and is now living with her in marital relations, as before the death of the late Philip Barton Key. We are also assured that in taking this remarkable step, Mr. Sickles has alienated himself from most, if not all, of those personal and political friends who devotedly adhered to him during his recent imprisonment and trial. The reconciliation between Mr. and Mrs. Sickles was consummated, as we are informed, while Mr. S. was residing at the house of a friend on the Bloomingdale road, about half a mile from the former house of Mr. S., which, for some time past, Mrs. Sickles has occupied, either alone or with some of the members of her own family. The suspicions of his host were excited by the repeated absence of Mr. S. at unusual hours; and when he came in very early one morning he was interrogated by the host and another friend who was present, and on his positively denying their right to question him, and refusing to give an explanation, they shook hands with him for the last time, and he withdrew. It is said that he has since addressed letters to his former intimate associates, notifying them formally of the resumption of conjugal relations between himself and Mrs. Sickles.

We can see no good reason why such a pair should not live together. The woman is as good as the man,—and most of "those political and personal friends who devotedly adhered to him," are also of about equal goodness.—If the Honorable Daniel E. Sickles were not the claimant of a seat in the next Congress, from the most national democratic district in New York, he might sink down to the usual level of the Five Pointers, of whom he is so fit a Representative.—But as it is, he must be a lion when Congress meets,—and why not she a lioness?

TEMPERANCE IN MAINE.—A report of the Maine (Orthodox Congregational) Missionary Society, says:

From the pastor of the church in Rockport we learn that in that place, "a wonderful temperance reform has been going steadily on for a year and a half. It is believed that no spirit is sold in our village, contrary to law. Many inebriates have been reformed, some of whom are thoughtful on the subject of religion, and speak freely respecting it." It is very painful to learn that in another place, efforts to promote the cause of temperance are to some extent frustrated by the continued indulgence of those habits in professors of religion, which, however they might be winked in days of igorance, ought now, among Christians at least, to be entirely and forever renounced.

☞ Henry Ward Beecher having been charged with being a 'spiritual medium,' answers in the last Independent. He says:

The only thing that connects us with Spiritualism is the publication of every sermon which we preach, in one or the other of the Spiritual papers. But this is their arrangement, not ours. If they can stand our sermons, we can stand their papers.—And, as yet, we have seen no messages from the spirit-world alongside of the sermons which put us to the blush. But this putting every sermon into type is handling a minister rather severely. It gives him no chance for poor sermons. It gives him no chance for preaching his sermons over again. It keeps him to the necessity of good sound work; for there is many a showy sermon that would do well enough if only heard, that would ill bear careful reading.

ERUPTION OF VESUVIUS.—Amidst the excitement and conflagrations of war, Vesuvius will urge its claims on public attention. Its forges are more active than those of the nations united which now are applying the resources of science to the construction of weapons for human destruction. The mountain beats them all; and with the quiet assurance of undisputed power, hourly it is laying waste the rich lands growing with all the promise of harvest. Any one who looks at it from Naples observes a large river of fire actually flowing, but apparently arrested and attached to the side of Vesuvius. Within the last three months it has increased wonderfully in proportion; it is no longer a rill, it is a sheet of fire; it has risen and overflowed its banks, and God help the poor small proprietors who have invested their all in little portions of land now incrusted with lava.

GLOUCESTER.—Last Tuesday as a vessel was lying at anchor in the outer harbor, with her jib hanging loose, nearly touching the water, a horse-mackerel, said to be one of the quickest fish that swims, leaped out of his element, and to the astonishment of all, went directly through the sail and disappeared. Probably the fellow was a star in some submarine circus company "on leave of absence."

On Wednesday, the schooner Ripple, a "baiter," left her wharf for a trip east in pursuit of pogies. When about half way out of the harbor, she came across a fine school of the fish they were seeking. The boat was manned, the "school" surrounded, and nearly every fish, about twenty-seven thousand, were taken. The colors were "set," and the Ripple returned, with one hundred and twenty barrels of pogies on her deck—a profitable day's work.—Gloucester Telegraph.

☞ The Empress Eugenie is busily engaged in collecting autographs of the Bonaparte family. She collects everything they wrote, everything belonging to their history, and has already obtained enough to fill twenty-two volumes, which she has richly bound in her library.

☞ The Oregon Legislature has adjourned without electing a U. S. Senator in place of Delazon Smith. Oregon, therefore, will be represented by Gen. Lane alone in the Senate, until another Legislature shall convene in that State.

GOOD FOR KIDNEY AND BLADDER COMPLAINTS,

and as a Beverage it has no superior in the world. It is manufactured by the proprietor, at Schiedam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spiritous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, Bladder and Kidney Complaints, &c. &c.

Put up in quart and pint bottles, in Cases of one dozen quarts, and two dozen pints, with the proprietor's name on the bottle, cork and label. For sale by all the respectable Country Merchants and Druggists. Look out for counterfeits and imitations, as the whole country is flooded with them

TO THE PUBLIC.

I beg leave to call the attention of the American Public to the following Certificate from the Government Chemist for the Island of Cuba and the Spanish West Indies, and who is known to the Scientific men of London, Paris, Madrid, Cuba and America to be the first Chemist in the world.
UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHEMICAL TESTIMONY.

D. Jose Luis Casaseca, Corresponding Member of the Royal Academies of Madrid and Munich, a Graduate in Sciences of the Faculty of Paris, formerly Professor of Chemistry, as applied to the Arts, of the Royal Conservatorio of Madrid, and of Physic and Chemistry, as applied to the Industry and Agriculture of the country, in the Royal University of this Island, at present H. M.'s Director of the Institute of Chemical Investigation, &c., &c.

Udolpho Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is a spirituous liquid, of a very agreeable aromatic odor, completely transparent and almost colorless, having only a very slight tint of yellowish gray; its flavor is strong and very agreeable to the palate. It marks 20 degrees in Cartier's alcohol weigher or 52 degrees 5 hundredth in Gay Lussac's alcohometre. By the distillation in a balsium maria, with an apparatus consisting of a glass retort and a recipient surrounded with ice, I have collected in this recipient an alcoholic liquid with a very agreeable aroma completely colorless and transparent, which marked 90 degrees in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, or 70 degrees 5 hundredth on Gay Lussac's alcohometre; and which represented as a whole 57 per cent. of aromatic Schiedam schnapps subject to distillation in the retort. This liquid did not soil the transparency of the distilled water in mixing it with the same, and its agreeable aroma is doubtless due to a very trifling amount of an essential oil inseparable from alcohol.

From the remainder of the distillation which was left in the retort, I have obtained, through evaporation in a vaper bath, a substance of a yellowish brown color, clear, and having a bitter taste, which is not disagreeable, and which afterwards becomes aromatic and leaves the mouth perfumed with that fragrance peculiar to the vanilla. I am inclined to believe that to this bitter and aromatic extractive substance, soluble in water and alcohol, the medicinal properties which are attributed to this gin are due. I have not found in Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps any mineral or organic substance other than the extractive one already named and the aromatic one obtained by distillation. Finally, Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps consists simply of an aromatic alcohol of 20 degrees of graduation in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, and of an extractive bitter aromatic substance, which perhaps, is medicinal; and, on account of its not containing any matter injurious to the health, as well as for its odor and good flavor—a fact which no doubt arises from the choice substances employed in its manufacture, and from the peculiar manner of its distillation, it should in my opinion, be preferred to all the Holland, Belgic and German gins which are found in this Island which it has been my business to examine. These gins as I have often proved it, exhale a disagreeable odor, and leave behind more or less disagreeable flavor, some of them having left as was the case with the superior gin from the distillery of Mr. Henry Deetjen (of Bremen,) an residum after evaporation by steam, a substance almost insipid and very trifling aromatic, with flavor of vanilla, but in no wise with the delicious bitter and aromatic flavor of that of Udolpho Wolfe; and others, such as that labelled "Genuine Samaritan," "Extra Superior," Messrs. Traener have furnished me with a very small quantity of a greenish substance, of harsh metallic taste and very disagreeable, which extractive organic matter was mixed with a salt of copper, with signs of iron, owing perhaps, to a bad system of distillation.

I certify that all that is here stated is the truth and agrees with the experiments I have made with the greatest care, and I authorize the house of Gottig & Will, of this city, to give publicity to this certificate, in Spanish and in foreign languages, in all countries where it may suit their interest to do so. JOSE LUIS CASASECA

Morning Chronicle.

☞ On Sunday, while Mr. Jonathan Hall, wife and daughter, of Allenstown, were going down a steep hill in a wagon, in Candia, on their way to church, the breeching hook broke, letting the wagon upon the horse. He ran, and threw them all out.—Hon. Frederick Smyth and wife of Manchester, were ascending the same hill. The road was very narrow and rocky at the sides. It seemed inevitable that the runaaway horse would run into them in his wild career. Mr. Smyth had an excellent, safe, intelligent horse. He struck him, and he sprung, as if knowing what was wanted,out upon the rocks at the side of the road, giving a clear pass to the runaway horse.

AUNT DINAH'S SINGING.—"Old Aunt Dinah was a shouting colored saint, who would sing at the top of her voice and cry glory above all the rest. It was common, at the missionary prayer meeting of the colored people, to take up a collection while singing the hymn, in the midst of which Aunt Dinah always threw her head back, shut her eyes, and sang away lustily till the plate had gone by. The sable collector observed her habit, and one night stopped when he came to her, and said, very bluntly: 'Look a' heah, Aunt Dinah! you needn't be singing 'Fly abroad, thou mighty gospel,' if you doesn't give nothin' to make it fly?"

"Fly abroad, thou mighty gospel"

How many Aunt Dinahs are there among "white folks" who can sing and shout "glory" lustily, but who, when called upon to do something towards sustaining public worship, whether at home or abroad, shut their eyes, and ears too. Many apparently devout worshipers find it much easier to sing and shout, after their own fashion (Aunt Dinah's fashion ?) than to give anything to support singing or preaching. Such worshipers are usually among the most zealous advocates for free seats, free preaching, and the most entirely free and loose congregational singing, not because it is more devotional, but because it costs them nothing.—Reader, whenever you hear a person advocating congregational singing, as many do, because it is cheap, refer them to 2 Samuel, xxiv. 24, and tell them the story of "Aunt Dinah's singing."—N. Y. Musical Pioneer.

THE WEARE BANK AGAIN. — We notice in the New York Police record, published in the Tribune of the 6th inst., that some of the parties who bargained for the Weare Bank of Hampton Falls, N. H., and thereby attempted a swindle upon the public, and who actually received of the Bank $26,000, according to their own statement, are at loggerheads among themselves.—Some of the persons interested, who attempted to cheat others equally interested in appropriating the money, have been arrested for grand larceny, and held to bail in the sum of $5000. Thus proving the "Caution" published by J. Tyler Hodges in his "Journal of Finance and Bank Reporter," to have been timely, and of great service to the public. If the Bank had actually passed into the hands of these New York sharpers, as it appears was the agreement, the public might have been swindled to a large amount.—Herald.

EARTHQUAKE AND DREADFUL LOSS OF LIVES.—The Levant Herald publishes a letter from its Erzeroum correspondent, reporting the occurrence of a most destructive earthquake there on the morning of the 2d ult. The catastrophe, which principally consisted of one terrible shock, lasting some fifteen seconds, had occasioned immense loss of lives and property—more than 1500 human beings, it was roughly calculated, and nearly all the larger buildings of the town having fallen a prey to the calamity. Slight shocks continued to occur up to the evening of the 3d, but the principal damage had been occasioned by the terrible convulsion of the previous morning.

A CAPITAL COLLECTOR.—A grocer in Boston gave a rather slow note to a green New Hampshire man who had come to the city for employment, and promised him half the amount if he would collect it. Accordingly the enterprising youth beseiged the drawer of the note (a boarding house keeper) early and late; passing a considerable portion of his time upon the doorsteps of the debtor's residence and dunning him at unreasonable hours; with what success the result will show. A month or two afterwards the grocer met him in the street, and inquired about it. "Wall," was the reply, "I've got my half of it! I gin him no peace till I'd got that much; but I think it awful doubtful whether he'll ever pay your half!"—Gleason's Line of Battle-Ship.

DOGS AND THEIR MASTERS.—A dog is always like his master. If you have never felt this truth before, take notice now and be convinced of it. How or why is it—whether they gradually grow alike, or whether the similarity occasions the choice of the dog—I cannot tell; but certain it is that the expression you read upon a man's face you will always find plainly transcribed upon that of his dog.

A friend handed us one of the popular Bronchial troches a day or two since—the first we ever tasted—said to be an excellent preventative of hoarseness, bronchial affections, &c. We have not yet decided in our mind which would be the worst to take, the troches or the regular bronchitis. If the latter is more disagreeable than the former, it must be perfectly awful.—Bath Times.

☞ Hon. Erasmus D. Beach, who for four years has occupied the position of the Gubernatorial candidate of the Massachusetts Democracy, gives timely notice that he wants somebody else to take his place.

Henry Ward Beecher pitches quoits—so the papers say. He also writes for the New York Ledger, and somebody insinuates that he is smart enough to keep a hotel.

DR. SWETT'S
SPIKENARD & BONESET,
A remedy unsurpassed for Liver Complaints, such as Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, Universal Debility, and the whole family of Consumptive Complaints.
Hundreds of testimonials might be added, proving the many cures by this pleasant and effectual medicine, especially of people advanced in life, whose debilitated constitutions have been greatly recruited by it. A trial of it is warranted to well pay the aged and dyspeptic. Price 75 cents.
[From Mrs. Ira Burnham, Exeter, N. H.]
I have suffered many years from the liver and heart complaint. By these distressing diseases I was reduced so low, some two years since, that I could not sit up more than ten or fifteen minutes at a time, when I began to take Dr. Swett's Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset, which has so fully restored my health that I now daily labor and attend to the business of my large boarding house. ELIZABETH BURNHAM.
Exeter, June 1, 1859.
This testimony of my wife is correct.
IRA BURNHAM.
[From Mrs. Ebenezer Blazo.]
GREENLAND, Nov. 20, 1858.
DR. SWETT—Dear Sir:—The distressing disease called the heart complaint, with has so long afflicted me, and which has baffled the skill of all my former physicians, has been fully cured by the two bottles of your Cordial which I had of you last spring. Yours with respect,
SALLY BLAZO.
This unequalled medicine, together with others carefully prepared by Dr. SIMEON SWETT, from innocent but effectual vegetables, are for sale by him at No. 12 CABOT ST., Portsmouth, N. H.

The Liver Invigorator.
PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,
COMPOUNDED ENTIRELY FROM GUMS,
Is one of the best PURGATIVE and LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.
One dose will remove a cold, one often repeated will prove a sure cure for CHOLERA MORBUS, and a preventive of CHOLERA.
Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the poison of the fever of BLOOD, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.
BILIOUS FEVERS are cured, and, what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.
One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.
Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents NIGHTMARE.
Only one dose taken at bedtime, removes the bowels gently and cures COSTIVENESS.
One bottle taken after each meal will cure DYSPEPSIA.
One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve SICK HEADACHE.
Only one dose immediately relieves COLIC.
All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.
Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.
PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

CONSUMPTION IS CURABLE!
BY THE USE OF
Winchester's Genuine Preparation of Dr. J. F Churchill's Compound of the
HYPOPHOSPHITES
OF LIME, SODA AND POTASH,
Originally discovered and prescribed by him as a Specific Remedy for CONSUMPTION!
The use of the Hypophosphites in CONSUMPTION, Scrofula, Nervous Debility, Asthma, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Female Complaints, and all other diseases depending upon a DEBILITATED VITALITY is well known to our readers, have proved their INVARIABLE EFFICACY in thousands of cases in Europe and America and established the claim of the discoverer, that they are a SURE PREVENTATIVE, and a
SPECIFIC REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION.
Dr. Churchill says: "In no single instance have I found the remedy fail to produce everything that could be reasonably expected from it. In most instances the benefit derived from it has EXCEEDED what could at first have been hoped for, when taking into account the degree and extent of the injury sustained by the lungs previously to the use of the remedy. * * * * Out of twenty-two cases in the third or last stage, treated at my Dispensary during the past year, EIGHT HAVE COMPLETELY RECOVERED, eight have died, and six are still under treatment. SUCH A RESULT IS ALTOGETHER UNPARALLELED IN THE ANNALS OF MEDICINE."
BE SURE TO PURCHASE WINCHESTER'S GENUINE PREPARATION,
which is certified by Dr. James R. Chilton to be "PROPERLY MADE and chemically pure. My formula agrees with that given by him."
☞ Price $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5, with full directions for use. Write for Circulars, which will give RELIABLE INFORMATION, and save them all possibility of deception. Sold wholesale, at the lowest discount for cash, at the Sole General Depot in the United States, by J. WINCHESTER, at American and Foreign Agency, 49 John street, New York.
Also, of P. H. NILES, Nos. 3 Arch street, Boston, Mass., Agent for the States of Mass., N. H., and Vt., to whom all orders must be addressed.

THE ONLY ARTICLE
UNRIVALLED IN THE MARKET,
WITH IMMENSE
HOME AND EUROPEAN DEMAND.
The reason why, is that by Nature's own process it restores the natural color permanently after the hair becomes gray; supplies the natural fluids, and thus makes it grow on the heads, removes all dandruff, itching, and heat from the scalp, quiets and tones up the nerves, and thus cures all nervous headache, and may be relied upon to cure all diseases of the scalp and hair; it will stop the hair from falling off; makes it soft, glossy, healthy and beautful, and if used by the young two or three times a day will not allow the hair to become gray; then, reader, read the following and judge for yourselves:
NEW YORK, Jan. 8, 1858.
MESSRS. O. J. WOOD & CO.,
Gentlemen: Having heard a good deal about Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and my hair being quite gray, I made up my mind to try and overcide the prejudices which I, in common with a great many persons, had against all manner of patent medicines; and as about three ago I commenced using your article, to test it for myself.
The result has been so very satisfactory that I am very glad I did so, and in justice to you, as well as for the encouragement of others who may be as gray as I was but who having my prejudice without my reasons for setting it aside, are unwilling to give your Restorative a trial till they have further proof, and the best proof being occular demonstration, I write you this letter, which you may show to any such, and also direct them to call further proof, who am in and out of the N. Y. Wire Railing establishment every day.
My hair is now to a natural color and much improved in appearance every way, being glossier and thicker and much more healthy looking. I am, yours respectfully, HENRY JENKINS.
Cor. Columbia and Carroll Sts., Brooklyn.
LIVINGSTON, Ala., Feb. 14, 1858.
PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative has done much good in this part of the country. My hair has been slightly diminishing for several years, caused, I suppose, from a slight burn when I was quite an infant. I have been using your Hair Restorative for six weeks and I find that I have a fine head of hair now growing, after having used all other remedies known, to no effect. I think it the most valuable remedy now extant, and advise all who are afflicted that way to use your remedy.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, &c. S. W. MIDDLETON.
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1857.
PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—was in fact BALD. I have used but 2 half pint bottles of your Hair Restorative and now the top of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours, respectfully,
D. R. THOMAS, M. D.,
No. 464 Vine Street.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more than one dollar's worth of this number; the dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.
O. J. WOOD & CO., Proprietors, 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Nassau St., St. Louis, Mo.
Sold by all good Druggists.
Wholesale agents for Boston, George C. Goodwin & Co., Tufts' Row, Hay & Co., Keith & Co., and J. C. Holman, No. 3 Tremont Temple.

LOTTERIES.
THE LOTTERIES OF
WOOD, EDDY & CO.,
Are chartered by the States of Delaware and Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as though they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Delaware or to Georgia, as the Lotteries of
WOOD, EDDY & CO.,
are authorized by the Legislature of either State.
A Lottery will be drawn every day at Wilmington, Delaware, and also at Augusta, Ga. All orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after same comes to hand.
Whole tickets are $10; halves, $5; and quarters, $2.50.
No ticket sent unless the money accompanies the order. Prizes vary from $20 to $50,000.
Every prize is drawn, and the result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.
☞ Circular showing the plan of receiving it. All communications strictly confidential.
Write your address plainly, and direct to
WOOD, EDDY & CO.,
Wilmington, Delaware.
Or to WOOD, EDDY & CO.,
Augusta, Georgia.
☞ All letters to our address will be promptly acknowledged—and prizes cashed without delay.
NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.
Those who prefer not sending money by mail, can use the "ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY," whereby money for tickets, in sums of ten dollars, and upwards, can be sent us
AT OUR RISK AND EXPENSE,
from any city or town where they have an office. The money and order must be enclosed in an "GOVERNMENT POST OFFICE STAMPED ENVELOPE," or the Express Company cannot receive them.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,
Knowing that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies, who still suffer from the unknown cause, I make bold to visit Portsmouth, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his maladies will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may apply, and receive the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.
Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.
DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three hundred of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.
Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and enclosing a fee from the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.
Be particular in finding Dr. Hughes. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.
This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are invariably led in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.
The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some sanpronce or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.
All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.
The pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—13 Howard street, Boston.
P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jd dly

HEAD'S, 14½ Market Street.

Oleine Diamond Oil.
GREATEST ILLUMINATOR OF THE AGE.

This Oil is entirely free from treachery, so that a lamp may be left burning any length of time desired, without filling a room with lamp-black or soot.

It burns in the common oil lamp, with or without a chimney.

The light is far more pleasant than gas, as it is free from the disagreeable flickerings always attending a gas light, and is cheaper. We claim for this Oil:

1. That it is cheaper than any other artificial light.
2. That it has no odor.
3. That it will not smoke
4. That it will burn with or without a chimney, hence it is portable.
5. That it will stand a lower degree of temperature than any other Oil.
6. That it is free from each of the objections that are brought against every other article heretofore or now being offered to the public for illuminating purposes.

Price $1.25 per gallon.
For sale, wholesale and retail, at
96 Market Street, Portsmouth,
where the public are invited to call and examine for themselves.

Dr. B. S. Goodwin, Indian Physician,

Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the Diseases that man is subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr. G. would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.
ADVICE FREE.

Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are purely Vegetable, and prepared by himself, and are calculated to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.

THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY DR. GOODWIN.—Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Diseases of the Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Palsey, Fits, Gravel, Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsey, Worms, all Diseases incident to Females, Humors of all descriptions, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.

No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blisters!
Our philosophy of practice is founded on the laws of Nature; our theory of Disease the theory of experience and evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 14, 1858.

FRENCH
Steam Scouring and Fancy Dyeing,
IN BOSTON

A. LEWANDO pledges himself, from long study and practical experience in his native country and throughout Europe, in the art of Chemistry and coloring, that he can produce superior fast colors, and his mode of preparing goods for coloring is such that the fabric will retain its former strength and lively virtue, and in no instance assume that dull, decayed look, unavoidably produced by dyers in this country.

Particular attention given to Dyeing and Refinishing, in a NEW and VERY SUPERIOR STYLE Silks, Satin, Velvet, Merino, Thibets and Cashmere Shawls, Canton and Italian Crapes, Gimps, Fringes, Curtains, Piano and Table Covers, Hosiery, &c. Feathers colored and curled—by a newly discovered process, far surpassing anything yet offered to the public. He is prepared to dye and cleanse every kind of Ladies' and Children's Dresses, Silk, Velvet or Wool, plain or embroidered, without removing the trimmings, or taking to pieces.—Spots taken out without fading or changing color.

FRIDAY, JULY 15, 1859.

NASSAU, NEW PROVIDENCE.

A gentleman who recently sailed from New York to Havana, touching at the Island of New Providence, which is out of the track of steamers on that route, writes as follows to friends in this city.

Nassau is the capital town, and I think the only one, of the Island of New Providence. It belongs to the English. It is a nice quiet-looking place, with six negroes to one white inhabitant. The negroes are free, and a more lazy, fat, and (of course) saucy-looking set of beings one never saw. They never work except obliged to do so by the calls of hunger. The people complained very much of the injustice of the British Government, in letting loose upon them such a wild and ignorant set of savages, and leaving them to suffer the consequences.

I saw there a regiment of 500 soldiers, all black, dressed something like Turks. They looked very funny, and I was told, made very good soldiers. Numbers of the black women begged me to take them to Havana with me.

I saw also a negro wedding, in the church. Mr. Cuffy was a soldier, and had four groomsmen,—and Mrs. Cuffy had six bridesmaids; and you may guess that they were dressed in all the colors of the rainbow.—Mrs. C. was very much affected, and it took the united efforts of at least four of the six lovely bridesmaids to comfort her. Mr. Cuffy looked as though he thought the whole thing an excellent joke, and gave a very expressive wink and significant grin occasionally, as a sign of his appreciation of the whole thing. A captain of the Army (and a perfect English gentleman, too) told me that the black soldiers married in order to secure the ration that was allowed to all married soldiers, and troubled themselves very little afterwards about the fair bride.

I saw there some very beautiful shell work, made from shells no larger than a three cent piece. I never saw anything of the kind so beautiful. There were wreaths for the head, necklaces and flowers. It is a great place for shells of all sorts, and they are exceedingly cheap. Sponge, coral and a sort of very beautiful sea-weed, are very abundant and cheap.

A very large majority of all the inhabitants of Nassau live from the miseries and troubles of their fellow creatures,—that is, by wrecking. I was told by the Attorney General, (who was a fellow passenger,) that there were at least five hundred vessels engaged in this very necessary business,—and that probably there was not on the face of the earth a more demoralized and reckless set of people than the wreckers. You of course are aware that the Bahamas are very dangerous for vessels, and a large number are wrecked every year. The above description does not, of course, apply to the English inhabitants, whom I liked very much,—and, like the English generally, appeared very hospitable and kind.

Nassau is very healthy, and a very desirable place of resort for an invalid. The people were very much provoked at an article that appeared in the Atlantic Monthly for May, and especially the Major spoken of there. They thought it "a great shame" that she should speak so of them, after being treated so hospitably,—and I think so, too.

On the whole, I liked the Nassau folks very much, notwithstanding the streets are filled with fat and lazy niggers. But free niggers always were and always will be lazy.

☞ It is mentioned that the French army in Italy is almost without shoes, and that owing to the scarcity of labor in Paris, the Government cannot get them made by contractors. The mayor of each arrondisement has intimated to all the shoemakers, large and small, that the government will require about 70,000 pair to be ready in fifteen days. Every shoemaker will have to send in a certain quantity, according to his means, and it is hoped to collect about a million pair in this manner.

☞ Capt. James Ray, a boatman on the Delaware and Hudson Canal, attempted to fill a lighted lamp with burning fluid, in the cabin of his boat, on Wednesday evening, when the fluid caught fire and the can exploded, and Capt. Ray's wife was so dreadfully burned that she died next day, and her sister was so badly burned that her recovery is doubtful.

BOY DROWNED.—ACCIDENT.—Barnard Donely, an Irish boy about nine years of age, was drowned in Little river, at Haverhill, while bathing, on Tuesday afternoon.

The same day an Irishman employed in Stevens's Woollen Factory, was crushed severely by the falling of a sack of wool, occasioned by the breaking of machinery while hoisting.

☞ Godey, for August, gives his readers the true Lady's Book, as to its literature.—The frontispiece, The Mother's Grave, is the illustration of a touching story.

☞ Burleigh of the Boston Journal says:—

We have now in New York a converted Catholic priest by the name of Chinquy.—He was stationed in Canada. He was sent by his church to Illinois with a colony—there he became converted. Five hundred families in his flock followed him. He became the subject of persecution, and efforts have been made to take away from him his church and his school house. He is now in New York to get money to aid him in the rescue of his house and home. He preached yesterday in the Cooper Institute. The morning service was not large, but the house in the evening was packed. He is a Canadian Frenchman, small in stature, with that round, fat, oily look, peculiar to his class. He speaks the English quite broken-ly; but he tells his touching story with great power.

Rev. Hubbard Winslow, formerly of Boston, has left the church in Genesee, N. Y., and has removed to this city, and proposes again to open a school. The wide field opened in the upper part of the city will secure success to him.

Sunday was very hot. The day passed off quietly. Most of the liquor houses were closed. On Saturday, special prayer was made and thanks given in Fulton street prayer meeting, on account of the resolution passed by the Board of Police Commissioners, to execute the liquor law at all hazards.

FOREIGN ITEMS.—A correspondent of the Siecle says that one of the best shots in Garibaldi's service is an Englishman of 50 years old, who carries a capital Lancaster rifle, and, aided by a pair of spectacles of which he stands in need, he brings down every Tyrolean chasseur that he takes aim at. Somebody lately asked him whether he had been attracted to join the volunteer corps by a strong feeling for the Italian cause, or by a love of sport. He answered very coolly, "I have a great respect for Italian independence, but I am also very fond of shooting."

The Paris correspondent of the Globe says no one there believes that the Austrian army can again make a stand in the open field.

In anticipation of the battle of Solferino, the Austrians removed all the slightly wounded soldiers and made preparations for 30,000 patients.

THE VEILED MURDERESS.—Henrietta Robinson, who, during her connection with the Sing Sing prison has refused to leave her cell or accompany the other prisoners to the workshops, has taken a sudden change and consented to perform the regular duties required from the convicts. She has been the source of considerable trouble in consequence of her refusing to work, but about a week ago she went voluntarily to the hat shop and took a seat alongside the other females and proceeded to work.—She at times appears wrapped up in spiritualism, and has a great idea of her political and religious influence. She shuns observation, always covering her face with her hands when visitors approach.—Traveller.

THREE DOZEN CHILDREN.—At Markheidenfelt, a village situated on the river Main, in Bavaria, there lives a man sixty-eight years of age, named Johannes Schlottenbeck. He is a master chimney-sweep. He is now living with his third wife; and on the 16th of June last his thirty-sixth child was christened at the parish church. By his first consort he had seven; by his second, eleven; and by his third, eighteen children—of whom half are girls, and one-half boys.

☞ The widow of the late Mark P. Taylor, formerly Mayor of Cincinnati, has been called to pass through a trial that will command the sympathies of the community. The scarlet fever entered the family circle, already broken by death, and on Saturday last, four of her children were dead in one room, having within twenty-four hours been torn from their afflicted mother by the same diseases.

PIRACY.—The loss of schooner Enterprise and the death of her captain occurred under circumstances which induced the authorities at Key West, to arrest some of her crew. A letter from Key West of the 8th inst., says:—

The U. S. Commissioner has had before him the men brought down by the revenue cutter Appleton, and from the confession of one of the seamen, a Frenchman, named Gilliot Faustina Eloie, the murder of Capt. Moriantes was committed after the vessel was run ashore. His trunk was then broken open and robbed of $1800 and a gold watch;—he men, four in number, will be tried on a charge of murder and piracy in November next.

☞ Capt. Julius A. Otis, of Bath, Me., was killed in the railway cars while crossing the Isthmus, by being stabbed by a drunken rowdy named Williams, or Teal, of Texas, when endeavoring to prevent the latter from creating a riot by abusing some negroes. Williams was sentenced, to the chain gang, but it was feared he would buy a commutation of his sentence.

☞ A letter from Salt Lake City, June 17, notices the remarkable fact that polygamy is becoming unpopular among the Mormons since the accession of the recent large emigrations from the States; and that Brigham Young is beset with applications for divorce. In consequence of this state of affairs, the "Prophet" has issued orders to suspend the ceremony of "sealing."

☞ The whole number of discount Banks in New Hampshire is 52—capital stock $4,941,000. Number of Savings Banks 23—amount of deposits $4,138,822.

MUTUAL FORBEARANCE.

The kindest and the happiest pair
Will find occasion to forbear,
And something every day they live
To pity and perhaps forgive.
But if infirmities that fall
In common to the lot of all,—
A blemish, or a sense impaired—
Are crimes so little to be spared,
Then farewell all that must create
The comfort of the wedded state;
Instead of harmony, 'tis jar,
And tumult, and intestine war.

The love that cheers life's latest stage,
Proof against sickness and old age,
Preserved by virtue from declension,
Becomes not weary by attention;
But lives, when that exterior grace
Which first inspired the flame decays.
'Tis gentle, delicate and kind,
To faults compassionate or blind,
And will with sympathy endure
Those evils it would gladly cure;
But angry, coarse and harsh expression
Show love to be a mere profession;
Proves that the heart is none of his,
Or soon expels him if it is. [COWPER.

CATHOLIC VIEW OF MR. BROWNSON.—The Pilot, in a notice of Brownson's Quarterly Review, has this just criticism upon the editor:—

It is very strange that Dr. Brownson cannot realize the fact, that the value of his best writings has been almost always greatly impaired by his unrepressed egotism, which leads him to introduce personal considerations into matters which should never be treated from any individual point of view.

BALLOU AND MURRAY.—A marble statue of Father Ballou has just been set up at Mt. Auburn. It is 7 ft. high, and stands on a base of about 7 feet, carrying the head about 14 high. The only inscription is "Ballou."—Near it is the simple Murrray monument, erected by the Universalists in 1837.

It will be a propitious day for liberty and progress in this country when political party conventions, as now constituted, come to be regarded universally as they were viewed by Calhoun and Benton who peremptorily refused to put their names into their keeping as trading capital for political brokers and stock-jobbers.—Bath Times.

☞ On Saturday last, Stephen Cunningham was so badly beaten in a grog-shop in Newark, N. J., by one John Adams, that he died on Tuesday. Adams has escaped.

DOCTRINE OF ENDLESS PUNISHMENT. If any one wishes to know how Unitarians treat this great subject, let them read the article thereon in the Christian Examiner for July. We have been astounded at its positions. Its infidel tendencies would be alarming in any common journal.—Trumpet.

BRIEF THEATRICAL NOTICE.—The New York Journals report that the depressing heat of this week has its usual dispiriting influence on the various places of amusement. The Tribune says, "at the Metropolitan Theatre, on Monday night, 'Bleak House' on the stage was echoed from the front."

FATAL ACCIDENT IN SALEM.—A despatch at the Merchants' Exchange states that Mr. Isaac B. Shepard formerly a shipmaster of Salem, was killed this morning on the Eastern Railroad, about one and a half miles from Salem, by the 9 o'clock train from that place. He was walking towards Linn, when observing a train coming from that place, he stepped on the other track immediately in front of the Salem train and was run over and taken up dead. His age was about sixty.

☞ Rev. Dr. Willard, of Deerfield, now in the 84th year of his age, and who has been blind more than 40 years, preached at the North Church, Salem, last Sunday.

MEXICAN AFFAIRS.—New York, July 13.—The Tribune's Washington correspondent says the Cabinet had Mr. McLane's project of a treaty with Mexico under consideration yesterday, but made no progress in consequence of the difficulty of furnishing money, which is a sine qua non with Juarez.

☞ The continued flow of burning lava from the volcanoes of Hawaii into the water, has had a very disastrous effect upon fisheries of the coast.

THE WRONG TOWN.—Prof. Parsons, in the memoir of his father, gives the name of the parish of his birth, and rarely if ever, mentions Newbury, the town where the father of the Chief Justice was a minister. This singular course has led many readers astray, and "Byfield" has been vainly sought for in Gazetteers. Even the North American Review falls into an error, when speaking of the parents of the Judge: it calls his father "the Rowley pastor."—Transcript.

☞ The annual meeting of the Harmony Association may be expected at Wakefield, on Tuesday, the 19th of July, at 10 o'clock A. M.

☞ An engineer named Perry, an American, for an alleged culpability in allowing an accident to occur on the Havana railway, was thrown into prison kept there for twenty-four days, and fined one hundred dolalrs. There was some talk of garroting him.

☞ A cricket match between eighteen Americans and eleven Englishmen, which was played at Hoboken, ended in an easy victory by the Englishmen.

☞ Mr. John Ellsworth of Gilmanton, N. H., committed suicide on Monday, by hanging himself.

☞ Gov. Hicks of Maryland, has lost his eldest daughter and his youngest son, both within the space of seven days.

☞ Travelers through Pennsylvania report the wheat crop as very heavy, and that the most of it is harvested.

BIGOTRY.—In the days of men's ignorance, the sin of bigotry might be winked at; but at this late day, when all are called upon to repent of what is wrong in themselves, and to admire and copy what is right in others, the claim to election to heaven in one sect, for believing in certain dogmas of faith, and the wholesale damnation of another sect, because they disbelieve in mere opinions, is intolerable. If in a christian country there was ever anybody to be rebuked and condemned, they were such bigots as a few months since set themselves in judgment upon Henry Ward Beecher for delivering a lecture before Theodore Parker's society—or before a literary society attached to that congregation—on a week day. If we have any anxiety about another world, it is to know what becomes of such a class of people. We don't believe that they will be any worse off hereafter than they are now; for the penning up of one's soul into such narrow limits, with high walls around, over which the light and warmth and glory of the sun of charity never can reach—this everlasting spiritual imprisonment, to which they condemn themselves—this banishment from the great world of human kind, where human sympathies can mingle, and human souls, if not of the same exact cast and complexion, yet from the same great Father in heaven, can at least look upon each other—is about as near to hell as is within our mental conception; and if there is any worse punishment, we pray that it may not come to us or to anybody or anything that we love.—Herald.

DEATH OF A MOTHER IN ISRAEL.—Died in New Haven, Conn., on Sunday morning, July 10, aged 83 years and 5 months, Hannah, widow of Rev. Claudius Herrick, who was a well-known teacher of a ladies' school there for upwards of twenty years. She was a daughter of John Pierrepont, who was a grandson to the second minister of New Haven, Rev. James Pierrepont. She was the mother of Mr. Edward C. Herrick, the present Treasurer of Yale College, and the Rev. Henry Herrick of Exeter, N. Y. She also was a mother indeed to upwards of 1800 pupils of her husband, as all the young ladies ever loved her for her maternal regard for them.—Transcript.

Mr. Davenport, a North Carolina editor, shot at Dr. Shaw, and the ball passed through the Doctor's coat and vest, as the papers say—"without doing him any harm." This is an evidence of the worldly prosperity that attends upon those who sell pills.—Passed through his coat and vest without doing him any harm! How unlike the historical Gascon. The Gascon dropped his hat, and a friend not deigning to stoop, but wishing to be polite, stuck the point of his sword into the hat and handed it to the Gascon. "Parfandious," said the Gascon, "I would rather you had stuck the point of your sword into me." "Why?" said the King, who stood within hearing. "Because," said the Gascon, "I have credit with a physician, but none with a tailor." But this is the United States, and Dr. Shaw is not a Gascon.

MARINE DISASTER.—The steamer Daniel Webster, hence for Bangor, ran into a schooner off Gorges Island, about 2 o'clock on Saturday morning, cutting her entirely in two, and sinking her immediately. There were four persons on board the vessel, all of whom were saved. The steamer was under full headway, and the night foggy.—The name of the schooner is not given; she is stated to belong in Orrington, and was about 80 tons burden.—Portland Advertiser.

☞ After the funeral of a fireman in New York the members of two hose companies had a fight. Brickbats, stones, pistols and clubs were freely used for twenty minutes, when the trouble subsided. A squad of police enjoyed the affair quite as much as a large crowd of spectators, deeming it injudicious to attempt any arrests.

We have before us the first number of a new paper from a new and flourishing village in the West, on Lake Michigan; and among the tax notices are only one hundred and fifty four village lots advertised for auction sale to pay the taxes assessed upon them! Such facts tell a tale less flattering sometimes than the stories in the editorial columns.—Bath Times.

☞ The Handel Centenary festival in England was an immense affair. There were 20,000 people at the opening. Figure to yourself, intelligent reader, as the French feuilletonists say, the noise made by a chorus which embraces 2538 voices, viz: 617 sopranos, 718 altos (296 females) 647 tenors, and 565 basses.

SUICIDE.—Mr. John Ellsworth of Gilmanton, N. H., formerly in the employ of A. L. Brooks of Lowell, as a driver of a job wagon, committed suicide by hanging Monday. He removed to Gilmanton last spring and settled upon a farm; he was apparently in good health, was a hard worker, and of good habits. It is supposed that he was temporarily deranged. He leaves a wife and two children and some property.—Lowell Citizen.

MAINE HORSES.—Within the last six or eight months there have been sold, in the town of Farmington, to purchasers from abroad, some sixty horses, the prices amounting to more than $10,000—prices varying all the way from $70 to $800.

A wee laddie was brought before one of the Glasgow bailies, who asked, "Where did you learn so much wickedness?" "Do you ken the pump in Glassford street?"—"No," said the bailie. "Well, then, do you ken the pump in the Briggate?" "Yes, sure," was the reply. "Weel, then, ye may gang there and pump as lang as ye like, for I'm hanged if ye pump me."

☞ The Leavenworth Times says that the Republican majority on the popular vote for members of the Constitutional Convention of Kansas, ranges between 3000 and 5000.

☞ Twenty-four Zouaves have become oneral officers, and two Marshals of France.

DEATH OF HON. RUFUS CHOATE.—Died at Halifax, Nova Scotia, July 12, Hon. Rufus Choate, of Boston, one of the most eloquent and successful pleaders in criminal cases, that ever practiced in the courts of Massachusetts. He was born in Ipswich, on the 1st of October, 1799, and was, therefore, at the time of his death, in the 60th year of his age. He entered Dartmouth College in 1815. He at once took high rank, as a classical scholar particularly,—and he graduated pre-eminently the first scholar in his class.

Mr. Choate was a Senator in Congress from Massachusetts from 1841 to 1845.

He leaves a wife, (Helen, daughter of Mills Olcott, of Hanover, N. H.) and three children.

The Boston Journal says:—"The death of Mr. Choate is attributed to disease of the heart. It is well known, however, that for several years his constitution has been much shattered and his health precarious. His death, though sudden at last, was not unanticipated as the probable early termination of his bodily ailments.

Mr. Choate was the kindest of husbands and fathers, bestowing without stint or alloy upon the family circle that warmth of heart and mirthfulness of disposition which all acknowledged who came into his presence."

Hon. John C. Park, in a notice of him before the Superior Court in Boston, says: "It seemed peculiar that this event should have taken place when the courts were adjourned, and when the members of the Bench and the Bar were taking that needed recreation upon the mountains and at the sea-side—which, if the deceased had enjoyed more, might have prolonged his life. As in these various retreats the sad news shall be heard it will fill many hearts with sadness."

Mr. Choate was a parishioner of Rev. Nehemiah Adams, D. D., who will doubtless sketch his character in a funeral sermon.

☞ The Paris correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce writes as follows:—

"The conduct of the Austrian commanders in first abandoning their strong positions about Castiglione, and retired behind the Mincio, and then re-crossing the river to fight a battle on the very ground they had just relinquished, set all reason and conjecture at defiance. Military authorities are at a loss to assign any better cause than vacillating councils in the first instance and amour propre of the Emperor afterwards. As it is, the battle has been nearly a repetition of that of Castiglione in 1796, between General Bonaparte and Marshal Warmser.

All the 'rebellious' Roman cities appear to have been brought into order, and the Pope has raised the 'Colonel' who sacked Perugia with his Swiss troops, to the rank of a 'General of Brigade!'"

☞ The wife of David Baker, of Leyden, Mass., was thrown from a carriage on the 2d inst., in consequence of the horse taking fright, and striking his head upon a rock, was almost instantly killed.

The number of stockholders in the Bank of New Hampshire is 110; Rockingham, 188; Piscataqua Exchange, 70; Mechanics' & Traders', 40.

The Portsmouth Savings Bank has liabilities $965,995.95, and resources $974,686.03, leaving a reserve balance of $8,690.08.

THE WEARE BANK.—The Commissioners were not satisfied with the condition of this institution,—there being $45,727.50 loaned to a New York party, which they deemed insecure. The officers of the Bank gave security that was acceptable to the Commissioners, for the safety of stockholders, to continue till the Commissioners shall declare the Bank in a safe and sound condition.

THE EXETER BANK, which suspended specie payments two years ago, is reported to be in a deficit of $3,823.17. A couple of brokers in New York named James, owe the concern $37,940.34, for which the Bank has no real security—and unless this is paid the Bank cannot resume business. Four months from June 1st is reluctantly given to improve the condition of the Bank—for the lack of which, the affairs of the Exeter Bank will be wound up October 1st. They have $32,263 of bills in circulation, most of which is in the hands or under control of the above-named brokers.

ACQUITTED.—Cunningham, the Philadelphia policeman who shot and killed a German cigarmaker in that city some two months ago, has just been tried on a charge of murder and acquitted. The Court, in giving the case to the jury, remarked that a police officer in the discharge of his duty need not retreat a single step to avoid killing an assailant.

GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE COMPANY,

No. 18 Summer Street, Boston,

MACHINES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

We have seen one of Grover & Baker's $100 Sewing Machines used to do the Sewing of two families, for the past year or more, to the perfect satisfaction of all concerned—without once getting out of order, or requiring the least repair.—We would not soon try to dispense with a Cooking Stove in a family, as to attempt to get along without a Sewing Machine. Money invested in a good Machine pays much more than legal dividend, in actual cash savings—to say nothing of the higher consideration, of comfort and convenience, nay, even luxury, it affords to the ladies of a household. Whatever may be the experience with other Machines, we never knew a Grover & Baker to be discarded or found wanting.

FRANK W. HILLER.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others.

The Best Medicine in the World.

YES—DECIDEDLY THE BEST—IS

Dr. Langley's Root and Herb Bitters.

They are made from the most valuable Roots, Herbs and Plants in the vegetable kingdom.—They act at once upon the very seat of disease.—They remove all obstructions from the internal organs—regulate the Bowels—purify the Blood—remove Humors—give Life and Power to a healthy action—give strength and tone to the stomach—cure Jaundice and Dyspepsia—create an appetite—increase and renew the circulation—remove all nervous diseases—cure Piles, Headache, Weakness, &c., and are the best medicine ever discovered for all Female Complaints. The purify, heal, strengthen, build up and keep in order "the house you live in."

Doctors' prescriptions, clothed in Latin verbs, Now yield the palm to Langley's Roots and Herbs; Forsake vile drugs and follow Nature's store, As did the Patriarchs in days of yore.
Roots, Herbs and Barks, the best in Nature's store, From Inland Atlantic to Pacific's shore, From North to South, their healing virtues lend, And in these Bitters prove the people's friend. They'll strengthen, warm, your bodies vigorous make,
Rouse drooping spirits and new blood create.

So if you wish to feel well, act well, do well and keep well, use this standard valuable medicine.

Only 50 cts. for a pint, 38 cts. for a large bottle. Sold by all dealers in medicine everywhere.

Orders addressed to J. O. LANGLEY, or to GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., Boston.

Common Sense rules the mass of the people, whatever the misnamed and misanthrope philosophers may say to the contrary. Show them a good thing; let its merits be clearly demonstrated, and they will not hesitate to give it their most cordial patronage. The masses have already ratified the judgment of a physician, concerning the virtues of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, as may be seenin the immense quantities of this medicine annually sold in every section of the land. It is now recognized as greatly superior to all other remedies yet devised for diseases of the digestive organs, such as dizziness, dysentery, dyspepsia, and for the various fevers that arise from derangement of those portions of the system. Hostetter's name is rapidly becoming a household word, from Maine to Texas; from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pacific. Try the article and be satisfied.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

DYSENTERY.—For Dysentery and similar complaints of the Summer season, the PERUVIAN SYRUP has proved a remarkable preventive and cure. By imparting tone to the intestinal mucous membrane, it places this surface in the best possible condition to resist the irritation of crude and indigestible articles of food.

Dyspepsia.

Considering the various forms in which this disease developes itself, it may well be called hydra-headed. In its train follow Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, Heartburn, Water Brash, Costiveness, Piles, Acidity, Oppression after Eating, Jaundice, Flatulency, Torpor of the Liver, Dizziness, Debility, Female Complaints, &c. Some of the first men in our land have given their written certificates relative to the cures effected in their own persons by the OXYGENATED BITTERS; while testimonials from other sources, editorial opinions and voluntary expressions from persons averse to see their names in print, are perfectly overwhelming.

Read the following from a highly respectable Clergyman:

EAST TAUNTON, Mass., Feb. 9, '58.

To the Editor of the Portland Mirror.—Sir:—

OXYGENATED BITTERS.—For more than twenty five years I have been a sufferer from the dyspepsia. Besides trying the patience of my family physicians in the almost useless trial of their various prescriptions, I have tried a great variety of patent medicines with a similar result. Through the kindness of my physician, I received last March, half a dozen bottles of the OXYGENATED BITTERS. I began to use them without any hope of deriving help from them. Being determined to give them a fair trial, I continued their use, but without any perceptible benefit till June.

Since then I have gradually improved in health till I am entirely free from acidity of the stomach, and from the consequent flatulency, and the awful and almost distracting sick headache, which often, for days together, has wholly unfitted me for study and for all other ministerial duties, and rendered life a burden.

I feel that I owe it, as an expression of gratitude to Messrs. Fowle & Co., and also a duty to the public, to recommend their Oxygenated Bitters, as, in my estimation, a sure remedy for the most trying, most vexing, and cruel of all diseases, to which poor human flesh is heir, the dyspepsia. Having suffered so long, and tried so many different remedies with no good result, I can recommend the Oxygenated Bitters with a confidence few others can. If any of the readers of the Mirror are suffering, I beg of them to make trial of these Bitters without delay.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

This Gin, distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the supervision of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, GALLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weakest sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of climate and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st.; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. Seven Octave Piano --- New Scale.

The Subscriber having just received a superior SEVEN OCTAVE PIANO-FORTE, made according to his order by the celebrated firm of HALLET, DAVIS & CO., would offer it for the inspection of persons desirous of purchasing. H. D. & Co. have recently made great improvements in the manufacture of Pianos, the most important of which is the New Scale, which, while obviating the weakness which has hitherto been found in the upper part of Square Seven Octave Pianos, gives the power of tone nearly equal to that of the Parlor Grand.

Having been for several years Agent for the sale of Pianos of the above make, Mr. H. is prepared to state that the instruments which they are now making, far excel any of their former manufacture.

Purchasers will find it greatly to their advantage to call and examine the above mentioned Piano, as it is the only one in Portsmouth which contains the NEW SCALE.

and as a Beverage it has no superior in the world. It is manufactured by the proprietor, at Schiedam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own factory. It is the pure Nature of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spiritous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, Bladder and Kidney Complaints, &c. &c.

Put up in quart and pint bottles, in Cases of one dozen quarts, and two dozen pints, with the proprietor's name on the bottle, cork and label. For sale by all the respectable Country Merchants and Druggists. Look out for counterfeits and imitations, as the whole country is flooded with them

TO THE PUBLIC.

I beg leave to call the attention of the American Public to the following Certificate from the Government Chemist for the Island of Cuba and the Spanish West Indies, and who is known to the Scientific men of London, Paris, Madrid, Cuba and America to be the first Chemist in the world.

CHEMICAL TESTIMONY.

D. Jose Luis Casaseca, Corresponding Member of the Royal Academies of Madrid and Munich, a Graduate in Sciences of the Faculty of Paris, formerly Professor of Chemistry, as applied to the Arts, of the Royal Conservatorio of Madrid, and of Physics and Chemistry, as applied to the Industry and Agriculture of the country, in the Royal University of this Island, at present H. M.'s Director of the Institute of Chemical Investigation, &c., &c.

Do hereby certify, that at the request of the house of Gottig & Will, of this place, I have made an analytical examination of U. Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps, with the object of ascertaining if it contained any substance noxious to health, and to inform them as to its true composition and relative quality with the other gins that are offered in the market, and the results of my observations and experiments are as follows:—

Udolpho Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is a spirituous liquid, of a very agreeable aromatic odor, completely transparent and almost colorless, having only a very slight tint of yellowish gray; its flavor is strong and very agreeable to the palate. It marks 20 degrees in Cartier's alcohol weigher or 52 degrees 5 hundredth in Gay Lussac's alcohometre. By the distillation in a balsium maria, with an apparatus consisting of a glass retort and a receipient surrounded with ice, I have collected in this receiver an alcoholic liquid with a very agreeable aroma completely colorless and transparent, which marked 26 degrees in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, or 70 degrees 5 hundredth on Gay Lussac's alcohometre; and which represented as a whole 57 per cent. of aromatic Schiedam schnapps subject to distillation in the retort. This liquid did not soil the transparency of the distilled water in mixing it with the same, and its agreeable aroma is doubtless due to a very trifling quantity, and continues its possession of healthy vigor, silky softness and luxurious redundancy to the latest period of humun life. DR. SWETT'S

CORDIAL OF DANDELION,

SPIKENARD & BONESET.

A remedy unsurpassed for Liver Complaints, such as Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, Universal Debility, and the whole family of Consumptive Complaints.

Hundreds of testimonials might be added, proving the many cures by this pleasant and effectual medicine, especially of people advanced in life, whose debilitated constitutions have been greatly recruited by it. A trial of it is warranted to well pay the aged and dyspeptic. Price 75 cents.

[From Mrs. Ira Burnham, Exeter, N. H.]

I have suffered many years from the liver and heart complaint. By these distressing diseases I was reduced so low, some two years since, that I could not sit up more than ten or fifteen minutes at a time, when I began to take Dr. Swett's Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset, which has so fully restored my health that I now daily labor and attend to the business of my large boarding house. ELIZABETH BURNHAM.

Exeter, June 1, 1859.

This testimony of my wife is correct

IRA BURNHAM.

[From Mrs. Ebenezer Blaze.]

GREENLAND, Nov. 20, 1858.

DR. SWETT—Dear Sir:—The distressing disease called the heart complaint, which has so long afflicted me, and which has baffled the skill of all my former physicians, has been fully cured by the two bottles of your Cordial which I had of you last spring. Yours with respect,

SALLY BLAZO.

This unequalled medicine, together with others carefully prepared by Dr. SIMEON SWETT, from innocent but effectual vegetables, are for sale by him at No. 12 CABOT ST., Portsmouth, N. H.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.

Sir Jas Clarke's celebrated Female Pills

Prepared from a prescription of Sir Jas. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

Unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject.

TO MARRIED LADIES it is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

Each bottle, price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.

For sale, wholesale and retail, by W. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth, and by Druggists in every town in the United States.

CAUTION.—These Pills should not be taken by females that are pregnant, during the FIRST THREE MONTHS, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at every other time, they are perfectly safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and do not contain any thing hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions accompany each package.

Sole Agent for the United States and Canada, JOB MOSES, ROCHESTER, N. Y.

$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized Agent, will insure a bottle of the Pills by return mail. july9

☞ Capt. Isaac B. Shepard, of Salem, was killed on Wednesday, while walking on the Eastern Railroad track. The Salem Register says:—

Coroner Walton held an inquest, and the jury returned a verdict in accordance with the facts, further finding "that every precaution was used by the officers of the train, and that no blame can be attached to them." Capt. Shepard was a native of Portsmouth, N. H., and about 62 years of age.

☞ In one of his "Preachings upon Popular Proverbs," Timothy Titcomb says—"The truth is that the great brotherhood and sisterhood of sin groan under the uncharitable judgments of those who, but for circumstances interposed by other power than their own, would have been among their number." Rather, bold, that, Timothy, but true.

☞ M. Jullien, the well-known chef d'orchestre, was arrested in Paris in May last, for non-payment of a bill of exchange, but in order to obtain release from jail, had himself declared bankrupt. The tribunal held, however, that having taken the oath of allegiance to the Queen of England, he could not be declared a bankrupt in France, and his application for release was rejected.

☞ A Paris letter of the 28th says "Ex-President Pierce and his lady have arrived and leave for London on Friday. Mrs. Pierce's health appears quite restored, and the General looks ten years younger than while burdened with the cares of office."

We have some Gass stock which we should like to sell, at a liberal discount from its par value; but it is of the kind they spell with the double s!—Concord Patriot.

The above is the first allusion the press of this city has made to the recent failure of the proprietor of the "Democratic Head Quarters." Considering how much the Patriot and party both are indebted to two or three generations of "Gasses," it is a "most unkind cut" which that paper should never have indulged in.—Concord Dem.

The friends and fuglers of Douglas have made rather a bad beginning in the choice of delegates to the National Convention in Maine. Where they expected to secure everything, they have got nothing, or next to nothing. They are beaten on their candidate for Governor, beaten certainly on two, if not all, the delegates at large, and have nothing to console themselves with except some windy declarations in favor of popular sovereignty, which will be whistled down by the wind and spit upon by the very men who adopted them.—Dover Enq.

☞ At one time during the air journey of the great balloon Atlantic, three out of the four inmates were sound asleep.

HEAD'S, 14½ Market Street.

Oleine Diamond Oil.
GREATEST ILLUMINATOR OF THE AGE.
This Oil is entirely free from treachery, so that a lamp may be left burning any length of time desired, without filling a room with lamp-black or soot.
It burns in the common oil lamp, with or without a chimney.
The light is far more pleasant than gas, as it is free from the disagreeable flickering always attending a gas light, and is cheaper. We claim for this Oil:
1. That it is cheaper than any other artificial light.
2. That it has no odor.
3. That it will not smoke
4. That it will burn with or without a chimney, hence it is portable.
6. That it will stand a lower degree of temperature than any other Oil.
6. That it is free from each of the objections that are brought against every other artificial heretofore or now being offered to the public for illuminating purposes.
Price $1.25 per gallon.
For sale, wholesale and retail, at
96 Market Street, Portsmouth,
where the public are invited to call and examine for themselves. JOSEPH HARVEY & SON.

Dr. B. S. Goodwin, Indian Physician,
Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the Diseases that man is subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr. G. would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.
ADVICE FREE.
Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are purely Vegetable, and prepared by himself, and are calculated to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.
THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY DR. GOODWIN.
Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Diseases of the Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Palsey, Fits, Gravel, Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsy, Worms, all Diseases peculiar to Females, Humors of all descriptions, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.
No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blisters!
Our philosophy of practice is founded on the law of Nature; our theory of Disease the theory of experience and evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 14, 1858.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, JULY 16, 1859.

☞ The fathers of the Revolution expressed their idea of rights very clearly, when they said in Congress, July 4, 1776:

We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all men are created equal; that they are endowed, by their Creator, with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

Observe they do not stop to split a hair about the moral or political right,—but simply call it a right, which cannot be alienated! Every man has the right, say they, to life and liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Therefore, no man has or can have any right to take it away from him.

The attempt to make that politically right, which is morally wrong,—reminds Uncle Toby of some old theologians, who used to preach many years ago, about the natural and moral inability of man to obey God and keep his commandments. The amount of the thing was, that if they were unable they could not do it: the name by which they called the inability, was of no consequence.

An ingenious editor asks, Who shall decide, but the people, whether an act in practice is moral or otherwise? We answer by asking, Who but the people of Utah shall say whether polygamy and incest are moral? Does the voice of the outside people cease to condemn that rule of Sodom? And will the voice of the outside free barbarians be hushed to silence because swindlers or soul-drivers wish to extend their dominion under the plea of political right to do a moral wrong?

We think not—and though we may not have the power to prevent such a wrong, nor the privilege to vote directly against it,—we certainly have the right to protest against it, and we think it of no great consequence whether it is called a moral or political right. It is a right we exercise, and that is enough.

THE PITTSFIELD ACCIDENT.—A gentleman from Pittsfield informs the Manchester American that the accident on the night of the Fourth happened thus:—The rockets and other combustibles were placed at a distance, and a man selected to bring them when they were needed. After some of the works had been burned, the man, to shorten his travel, brought up four rockets to within twenty feet, and laid three of them horizontally upon a stick of timber.—When the other was fired it exploded near the ground and fell directly upon the three rockets, which were ignited and discharged in the direction of the spectators. One of them struck Mr. Leavitt, who was standing, in the eye, knocking him senseless. He was so disfigured as not to be recognized till he came to his senses. He will be badly maimed for life. The boy Willey was in his mother's arms, and would have been killed but for his thick shawl. The third person was struck on the back of the head and had his skull fractured, but will recover.

☞ A party of colored men and Germans, who had almost undermined a store in Philadelphia while digging for an iron pot filled with countless treasure, which, according to a dream had by a female friend, was buried there, was arrested Monday night, and, with their divining rods and other conjuring implements, locked up in the station house on a complaint for trespass.

☞ The potato crop in the eastern portion of Maine, as well as elsewhere, has now a very promising look. In this city some families have commenced supplying their tables with new potatoes.

The recent warm weather has pushed forward vegetation with great force, and the prospect now is that the corn crop, though somewhat delayed, will be likely to prove a fair crop and perhaps a large one.

☞ Wednesday was the commencement day at Tufts College, at Somerville, the leading Universalist literary institution in the Eastern States. It now has 55 students, and ten were graduated on Wednesday. The exercise drew together many of the leading men of the Universalist denomination in this section. At the Class Dinner, speeches were made by Gov. Banks, R. Frothingham, Jr. of Charlestown, Rev. A. A. Miner of Boston, and Rev. J. P. Weston from Maine. The society address was by E. G. Parker, Esq., and John G. Saxe recited his poem on "The Press."

THE KANSAS CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.—St. Louis, July 12.—A special despatch to the Democrat says that the Nebraska delegates to the Kansas Constitutional Convention were admitted today with the privilege of speaking and making motions on the questions connected with their mission.

A petition from the New England Emigrant Aid Society, asking indemnity for the destruction of the Free State Hotel at Lawrence, was referred.

The Nebraska delegates presented a memorial praying that the Convention take measures to extend the northern boundary of Kansas to the Nebraska river. Referred to a special committee.

THE SABBATH MADE FOR MAN.

For several weeks past the city of New York has been somewhat excited by the effort to secure a more decent observance of the Sabbath, especially by closing the dram-shops and gambling hells on that day. A large number of the most influential and respectable citizens petitioned the city government to enforce the ordinance against liquor selling on the Sabbath, and the police are said to have been making an effort to abate the nuisance. This had the effect to call out a noisy remonstrance on the part of the lager beer drinking German population, and quite a ferment was gotten up in opposition to the Sunday movement, so called. One or two German newspapers denounced the petitioners for the enforcement of the Sunday liquor ordinance, and threatened all sorts of violence in case any attempt was made to compel the disorderly multitude to observe the Sabbath more strictly; remonstrances were circulated and signed against the movement. An investigation into the character of these rum and anti-Sunday petitions has disclosed some very singular facts.

There were two of these rum remonstrances—one which purported to be signed by Americans only, the other by Germans. It appears, by a comparison of the signatures to the American remonstrance with the Directory, that two hundred and forty-one names, out of four hundred and forty-six, given as residing in various parts of New York city, are not in the Directory; 118 are residents of Jersey, Long Island, &c., including "John Smith, U. S. N.;" 38 are set down in the Directory as "liquorers," "eating houses," "segars," "editors of Sunday newspapers," and other Sunday occupations; leaving but 49, or a very small proportion — one-tenth of the whole—as genuine signatures, or of persons whose remonstrance is entitled to any weight. The German remonstrance, with about eight hundred signatures, is probably not so great a cheat, as a larger portion of that class really disbelieve altogether in the observance of the Sabbath.

These facts prove that, with the masses of the American citizens, there is no sympathy with the anti-Sabbath movement; and that respect and regard for the sacred day even in New York, have not diminished to that degree which renders any organized anti-Sabbath movement likely to do much harm.

We think, (says the Boston Atlas, whence we get this abridged statement,) that ultimately good will grow out of this ebullition; it will teach the better portion of the community the danger of permitting free rum-selling and unlimited pleasure seeking on Sunday, and will tend to make them enforce more carefully and strictly the judicious regulations for a proper and decent observance of the day. It ought also to teach the foreign population who have undertaken to break up and destroy the best of Puritan customs, that they have not the power to establish their loose practices and make them the fashion in American cities. We know of no greater calamity that can befall any community than to have a general disregard of the Sabbath become the fashion; it demoralizes society and inaugurates the reign of disorder, lawlessness and violence. Let any one who would see the difference which the proper observance of the Sabbath makes in a city, observe and compare in this respect the city of Boston with New Orleans, or Albany with Montreal, and he will not be long in deciding that the city where Sunday is most carefully observed as a sacred day, is the better place for a peaceable individual to reside in.

☞ Governor Morgan of New York has commuted the sentence of David Curry from death to imprisonment for life. Curry was sentenced to be hung on May 13, 1859, for murder, in Genesee county, but the Judge who tried him, and other gentlemen urged the commutation on the ground that Curry was insane, and this averment being fully sustained by an examination by medical experts, the commutation was granted.

☞ The Rev. Dr. Wayland has been elected President of the American Peace Society, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of the Hon. Wm. Jay.

☞ The New Hampshire General Association of Congregational and Presbyterian Ministers, commences its session at Boscawen, on Tuesday, Aug. 23, at 10 o'clock A. M.

☞ Eighteen or twenty colored persons, of both sexes, recently arrived at San Francisco from New Orleans, having been manumitted by their owner.

☞ On Monday afternoon the locks to the doors of the Mechanics' Bank in Worcester, got out of order so that the officers could not enter, and the doors had to be cut open with a cold chisel.

☞ A rattlesnake with seventeen rattles, was stirred up by two women who were picking whortleberries in Glastenbury, Ct., on Friday. Instead of running, they got a stake from the fence and killed him.

LATEST FOREIGN NEWS.—The following is the latest news by telegraph from London per Canada.

The house of Rothschilds at Frankfort, A. M., has taken a new five per cent. Hessian Darmstadt loan of 3,000,000 guilders at 93. The Grand Duke of Baden is also about to issue 2,000,000 guilders of four per cents. Railway bonds at 94 1-2.

The Post says that Mr. Cobden came to the conclusion that the consistent purposes of his public life would be best promoted by his remaining an independent member of Parliament, in which capacity, however, there is reason to expect that he will give a friendly support to the present Administration.

The Times remarks that the Liberal party will hear of Mr. Cobden's decision with great regret, and asks how are the middle classes to be represented if such opportunities are thrown away.

The morning Post announces that the vacant office of the Board of Trade will be filled by the appointment of Mr. Milman Gisbon. The Cabinet will thus remain composed of fifteen members.

At Paris there is an impression that the severity of the losses on both sides in the war will increase the prospects of any pacific diplomatic intervention that may be contemplated.

The standard of recruits for the Royal Marines and Light Infantry has been reduced for growing lads of eighteen years to five feet four inches.

The Paris correspondent of the Post telegraphs that the King of Sardinia has refused all dictatorship or protectorate in the Pontifical States, and will confine himself to sending officers charged with the maintenance of good order, and to satisfy certain exigencies of public opinion without in any way interfering with the rights of the Pope.

☞ The Bangor Times states that on the Morning of the 6th inst., when near George's Island, steamer Daniel Webster ran into a dense fog bank, and commenced sounding her whistle. Presently sounds were heard from a vessel, but not in season to prevent a collision. The steamer ran into the vessel's quarter, cutting her two-thirds through and sinking her immediately. The collision caused no jar to the steamer, and no damage. The crew, four in number, were immediately rescued by the steamer's boats. The sunken vessel was the schooner Joseph Helen, Capt. Nickerson, of Orrington, of eighty tons burthen, and thirty-three years old, and almost entirely unseaworthy. A boy, who was asleep in the cabin, was rescued in his shirt, and was reprimanded for being caught in that unsailor-like rig. Nothing was saved from the vessel, and a contribution of $40 was taken up on board the steamer for the crew, who were landed at Hampden. The escape without loss of life or bodily injury, was very fortunate.

☞ Many years ago, the mouth of a river in India was blocked up by immense flood wood, like the Red River raft.—The British government with all their power and wealth were unable to remove the obstruction; but the worms volunteered their services and in a single season so completely perforated the timber that the first rise of the water swept the whole into the sea, and the navigation of the river was then opened.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The Constitution, this morning contains the copy of a despatch from the State Department recently sent to our Minister at Berlin, on the subject of naturalization. The case is that of a naturalized citizen of the United States who is a native of Hanover, who had never been drafted in the Hanoverian army, but who was yet, upon his return to Hanover, deprived of his liberty and compelled to perform military service.—The President and Cabinet concur in the views expressed, taking the ground that the moment a foreigner becomes naturalized his allegiance to his native country is severed. He is no more responsible for anything he may say or do, or omit to say or do, after assuming his new character, than if he had been born in the United States.

Should he return to his native country he returns as an American citizen and in no other character. In order to entitle his original Government to punish him for an offence, this must have been committed while he was a subject and owed allegiance to that Government. The offence must have been committed before his expatriation.—It must have been of such a character, that he might have been tried and punished for it at the time of his departure. Our Minister is instructed to demand the release of the naturalized citizen in question.

While the Gunner's crew were engaged in their usual battery practice at the Washington Navy Yard to-day, a sixty-four pound army gun, which it is said had been thoroughly tested in 1837, burst, killing James H. Wilson and Wm. Nokes. Parts of their heads were blown off and their bodies thrown a considerable distance from the gun platform. Eight others were severely wound and two slightly.

Charles John Gardiner, brother of Dr. Gardiner, of Mexican claim notoriety, and who was indicted for false swearing in his brother's case, and forfeited his bail by absconding; having recently returned to Washington, was to day arrested by the Marshal, and is now in custody.

DEATHS BY LIGHTNING.—New York, July 14.—There were two deaths from strokes of lightning in this city yesterday. One in Fortieth street, where Margaret Willis, a girl nine years old, was instantly killed; the other in Delancey street, where James Waterton was struck, and died during the night. The Railroad Depot on the Ninth Avenue was completely demolished.

☞ Rev. Mr. Patterson, of this city is to preach at Newington, next Sunday, at 5 P. M.

Seven Octave Piano --- New Scale.

The Subscriber having just received a superior SEVEN OCTAVE PIANO-FORTE, made according to his order by the celebrated firm of HALLET, DAVIS & CO., would offer it for the inspection of persons desirous of purchasing. H. D. & Co. have recently made great improvements in the manufacture of Pianos, the most important of which is the New Scale, which, while obviating the weakness which has hitherto been found in the upper part of Square Seven Octave Pianos, gives it a power of tone nearly equal to that of the Parlor Grand.

Having been for several years Agent for the sale of Pianos of the above make, Mr. P. is prepared to state that the instruments which they are now making, far excel any of their former manufacture.

Purchasers will find it greatly to their advantage to call and examine the above mentioned Piano, as it is the one now in Portsmouth which contains the NEW SCALE

The Best Medicine in the World.

YES—DECIDEDLY THE BEST—IS

Dr. Langley's Root and Herb Bitters.

They are made from the most valuable Roots, Herbs and Plants in the vegetable kingdom.—They act at once upon the very seat of disease.—They remove all obstructions from the internal organs—regulate the Bowels—purify the Blood—remove Humors—excite the Liver to a healthy action—give strength and tone to the stomach—cure Jaundice and Dyspepsia—create an appetite—increase and renew the circulation—remove all Bilious diseases—cure Piles, Headache, Weakness, &c., and are the best medicine ever discovered for all Female Complaints. The purify, heal, strengthen, build up and keep in order "the house you live in."

Doctors' prescriptions, clothed in Latin verbs, Now yield the palm to Langley's Roots and Herbs; Forsake vile drugs and cull from Nature's store, As did the Patriarchs in days of yore.

Roots, Herbs and Barks, she has in Nature's store, From broad Atlantic to Pacific's shore,

From North to South, their healing virtues lend, And these Bitters prove the people's friend.

They'll strengthen, warm, your bodies vigorous make,

Rouse drooping spirits and new blood create.

So if you wish to feel well, act well, do well and keep well, use this standard valuable medicine.

Only 25 cts. for a pint, 38 cts. for a large bottle. Sold by all dealers in medicine everywhere.

Orders addressed to J. O. LANGLEY, or to GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., Boston.

Common Sense rules the mass of the people whatever the misnamed and misanthrope philosopher may say to the contrary. Show them a good thing: let its merits be clearly demonstrated, and they will not hesitate to give it their most cordial patronage. The masses have already ratified the judgment of a physician, concerning the virtues of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, as may be seen in the immense quantities of this medicine that are annually sold in every section of the land. It is now conceded to be greatly superior to all other remedies yet devised for diseases of the digestive organs, such as diarrhœa, dysentery, dyspepsia, and for the various fevers that arise from derangement of those portions of the system. Hostetter's name is rapidly becoming a household word from Maine to Texas; from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pacific. Try the article and be satisfied.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

Agent for Portsmouth, J. H. THACHER, cor. of State and Pleasant Sts., and No. 12 Market Sq. Weeks & Potter, Boston, General Agents for the New England States.

DYSENTERY.—For Dysentery and similar complaints of the Summer season, the PERUVIAN SYRUP has proved a remarkable preventive and cure. By imparting tone to the intestinal mucous membrane, it places this surface in the best possible condition to resist the irritation of crude and indigestible articles of food.

Dyspepsia.

Considering the various forms in which this disease developes itself, it may well be called hydra in the Stomach, Heartburn, Water Brash, Costiveness, Piles, Acidity, Oppression after Eating, Jaundice, Flatulency, Torpor of the Liver, Dizziness, Debility, Female Complaints, &c. Some of the first men in our land have given their written certificates relative to the cures effected in their own persons by the OXYGENATED BITTERS; while testimonials from other sources, and a vast array of anonymous expressions from persons averse to see their names in print, are perfectly overwhelming.

Read the following from a highly respectable Clergyman:

EAST TAUNTON, MASS., Feb. 9, '58.

To the Editor of the Portland Mirror,—Sir:—

OXYGENATED BITTERS—For more than twenty five years I have been a sufferer from the dyspepsia. Besides trying the patience of my family physicians in the almost useless trial of their various prescriptions, I have tried a great variety of patent medicines with a similar result. Through the kindness of my physician, I received last March, half a dozen bottles of the OXYGENATED BITTERS. I began to use them without any hope of deriving help from them. Being determined to give them a fair trial, I continued their use, but without any perceptible benefit till June.

Since then I have gradually improved in health till I am entirely free from acidity of the stomach, and from the consequent flatulency, and the awful and almost distracting sick headache, which often, for days together, has wholly unfitted me for study and for all other ministerial duties, and rendered life a burden.

I feel that I owe it, as an expression of gratitude to Messrs. Fowle & Co., and also a duty to the public, to recommend their Oxygenated Bitters, as, in my estimation, a sure remedy for that most trying, most vexing, most of all miserable of diseases, to which poor human flesh is heir, the dyspepsia. Having suffered so long, and tried so many different remedies with no good result, I can recommend the Oxygenated Bitters with a confidence few others can. If any of the readers of the Mirror are afflicted, I advise them to make trial of these Bitters without delay.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

This Gin, distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the supervisance of the Inland Revenue Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restorative of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent Physicians, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and being void of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, GALLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., while the weakest sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, vintners and country merchants, and by apothecaries generally. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st.; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. Smith & Co., 20 Exchange st.; Gilbert, Abbott & Co., 79 Broad st.; Deland & Snow, 84 Elm st. and others in Portland, Me., of H. H. Hay & Co., C. W. Atwell, and C. C. Mitchell & Son.

GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE COMPANY,

No. 18 Summer Street, Boston,

MACHINES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

We have seen one of Grover & Baker's $100 Sewing Machines used to do the Sewing of two families, for the past year or more, to the perfect satisfaction of all concerned—without once getting out of order, or requiring the least repair.—We would as soon try to dispense with a Cooking Stove in a family, as to attempt to get along without a Sewing Machine. Money invested in a good Machine pays much more than legal dividend, in actual cash savings—to say nothing of the higher consideration, of comfort and convenience, nay, even luxury, it affords to the ladies of a household. Whatever may be the experience with other Machines, we never knew a Grover & Baker to be discarded or found wanting.

FRANK W. MILLER.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others.

☞ Why will people go and have a poor miserable picture taken of themselves? Because, all those do not know that they can procure for the same money, a fine finished picture, faithful and true as life itself, at in Congress Block, where the most superior likenesses are taken, and in all cases perfect satisfaction given.

N. B.—The beautiful little "give away" (cheap) pictures, are taken at this establishment, with a double lens Camera, (100 per day) by the celebrated Parisian artist—Monsieur Heavlontiurmenos.

PRIME SOAP WITHOUT MAGIC.—Adams & Curtis, at their Soap Works in Washington street, are manufacturing a superior article of soap for all the purposes for which the magic soap is used—and without magic or miracle it performs the wonderful work of "bringing a clean thing out of an unclean," without destroying the clothing or injuring the hands. This soap is not only better but cheaper than the old fashioned ordinary soap—so the makers say, and you can try it and see.

It is sold by the grocers and by the manufacturers.

☞ Col. Wm. S. Hadley, of the City Hotel, has sold out the lease and furniture of that hotel to Mr. Joseph B. Flagg, formerly of Dover.

Col. Hadley is engaged in the livery business at the Stone Stable. He knows how to "keep a hotel" as well as anybody, and is equally good at stable keeping.

The Sagamore House, beautifully situated at Frost's Point, has been taken by Mr. Stephen J. Fitts, who has had some experience in hotel management, and we have no doubt will keep the "Sagamore" in good style.

Job Jenness & Son turn out a good four-horse team with their beautiful new Omnibus to this city and elsewhere—and this is a cheap and convenient conveyance to Rye Beach.

Mine host Philbrick, of the Atlantic, is on hand as usual, to receive and entertain company in the best shape—and his premises offer rare rural and marine attractions combined.

The Appledore House, by Hon. T. B. Laighton, has no rival in its location,—and it is well kept, as everybody knows; and when such a crack yacht as the Sybil runs to and from the Shoals, it is a luxury indeed to make the trip.

☞ The American Ballot comes to us this week from Exeter, looking much as ever like an old acquaintance, only with a column or so of Exeter advertisements, and a good sprinkling of Rockingham county intelligence. It is published, and hails from "Exeter and Portsmouth." The Ballot is worthy of county patronage, and we have no doubt will get more of it than ever before. Exeter was never before so well supplied with papers as now.

☞ The hay-makers have been busy for some days in securing their heavy crops of grass, and they have been favored with bright and beautiful weather. The use of hay caps has become quite common, and covering the hay from the night dews is found promotive of the good quality of the hay, as well as a saving in the time of making it.

☞ There is no better place in the city to procure Oysters, Ice Creams, and other Refreshments, than at Newell's extensive and elegant Saloons, corner of Congress and Chesnut Streets. See his advertisement.

NEW JUDICIARY LAW.—By the bill reorganizing the judiciary, passed at the late session of the Legislature, the Court of Common Pleas is abolished, and all business heretofore transacted in it, and all now pending therein, is transferred to the Supreme Judicial Court, of which there will be three trial terms in this county annually, two at Exeter and one at Portsmouth.

The nuber of Judges in the Supreme Judicial Court is increased one; and a saving of $2800 per annum in the aggregate salaries of the Judges is effected.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.—Mr. D. F. Stanton, agent for "The London and New York Printing and Publishing Company," is in this city for a few days, to procure subscriptions to "The Pictorial Gallery of Arts" and other valuable works issued by this extensive publishing house. H. A. Brown, 14 Hanover street, Boston, is local agent for the New England States.

GEN. LANE.—The combined efforts of Gen. Lane and Delazon Smith have failed to induce the Oregon Legislature to re-elect the latter to the U. S. Senate. Lane has evidently lost his power over the Democracy of that State. The prospects now are, that next year's legislature will be so constituted as to elect an anti-Lecompton Democrat and a Republican: (Lane's term expiring in 1861.) An Oregon correspondent says that "by that time Buchanan and the crowd around him, who hailed the admission of Oregon only because it was a reliable Democratic State, will learn that Oregon does not belong to Lane, though he has exercised the rights of ownership for the last eight years." The election for Representative to Congress was to take place on the 29th of June. The writer just quoted speaks of the chances of David Logan, the Republican candidate, as favorable. There is much division and personal bickering among the Democracy there.

☞ Dr. Bushnell's resignation of the pastorate of the North Chu ch, at Hartford, has been reluctantly accepted. Individual members of the church have subscribed $10,000, to be paid in five annual instalments for his benefit, or for his family in the event of his demise. The Doctor intends leaving for Minnesota this week.

NEW YORK, July 15.—The American brigade for Mexico is now nearly completed, and will probably be ready for motion in about two months. Two regiments are to be raised,—one in this State and one in California. J. H. Ward, ex-Commissioner General of New York, will be Colonel of the New York regiment. The whole force will be under command of Brigadier General Wheat. The regiments will leave this city and San Francisco simultaneously, to meet at a point in New Mexico, fully prepared to sustain Juarez.

PHILADELPHIA, July 15.—The U. S. sloop-of-war Lancaster will be detained ten days for repairs to her machinery. In consequence of this delay, it is probable that the new flag officer of the Pacific squadron will proceed via Panama, Com. Long returning invalided.

and as a Beverage it has no superior in the world. It is manufactured by the proprietor, at Schiedam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spiritous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, Bladder and Kidney Complaints, &c. &c.

Put up in quart and pint bottles, in Cases of one dozen quarts, and two dozen pints, with the proprietor's name on the bottle, cork and label. For sale by all the respectable Country Merchants and, Druggists. Look out for counterfeits and imitations, as the whole country is flooded with them

TO THE PUBLIC.

I beg leave to call the attention of the American Public to the following Certificate from the Government Chemist for the Island of Cuba and the Spanish West Indies, and who is known to the Scientific men of London, Paris, Madrid, Cuba and America to be the first Chemist in the world.

UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHEMICAL TESTIMONY.

D. Jose Luis Casabera, Corresponding Member of the Royal Academies of Madrid and Munich, a Graduate in Sciences of the Faculty of Paris, formerly Professor of Chemistry, as applied to the Arts, of the Royal Conservatorio of Madrid, and of Physics and Chemistry, as applied to the Industry and Agriculture of the country, in the Royal University of this Island, at present H. M's Director of the Institute of Chemical Investigation, &c., &c.

Do hereby certify, that at the request of the house of Gottig & Will, of this place, I have made an analytical examination of U. Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps, with the object of ascertaining if it contained any substance noxious to health, and to inform them as to its true composition and relative quality with the other gins that are offered in the market, and the results of my observations and experiments are as follows:—

Udolpho Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is a spirituous liquid, of a very agreeable aromatic odor, completely transparent and almost colorless, having only a very slight tint of yellowish gray; its flavor is strong and very agreeable to the palate. It marks 20 degrees in Cartier's alcohol weigher or 52 degrees 5 hundredth in Gay Lussac's alcohometre. By the distillation in a balatum maris, with an apparatus consisting of a glass retort and a recipient surrounded with ice, I have collected in this recipient an alcoholic liquid with a very agreeable aroma completely colorless and transparent, which marked 90 degrees in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, or 70 degrees 5 hundredth on Gay Lussac's alcohometre; and which represented as a whole 57 per cent. of aromatic Schiedam schnapps subject to distillation in the retort. This liquid did not soil the transparency of the distilled water in mixing it with the same, and its agreeable aroma is doubtless due to a very trifling amount of an essential oil inseparable from alcohol.

From the remainder of the distillation which was left in the retort, I have obtained, through evaporation in a vapor bath, a substance of a yellowish brown color, clear, and having a bitter taste, which is not disagreeable, and which afterwards becomes aromatic and leaves the mouth perfumed with that fragrance peculiar to the vanilla. I am inclined to believe that this bitter and aromatic extractive substance, soluble in water and alcohol, the medicinal properties which are attributed to this gin are due. I have not found in Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps any mineral or organic substance other than the extractive substance before named and the aromatic one obtained by distillation. Finally, Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps consists simply of an aromatic alcohol of 20 degrees of graduation in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, and of an extractive bitter aromatic substance, which perhaps, is medicinal; and, on account of its aromatic flavor, is not in any manner injurious to the health, as well as for its odor and good flavor—a fact which no doubt arises from the choice substances employed in its very manufacture, and from the peculiar manner of its distillation, it should' in my opinion, be preferred to all the Holland, Belgic and German gins which are found in this Island which it has been my business to examine. These gins as I have often proved it, exhale a disagreeable odor, and have a more or less disagreeable flavor, some of them having left as was the case with the superior gin from the distillery of Mr. Henry Deetjen (of Bremen,) as residum after evaporation by steam, a substance almost insipid and very crispy aromatic, with flavor of vanilla, but in no way with the delicious bitter and aromatic flavor of that of Udolpho Wolfe; and others, such as that labelled "Genuine Samaritan," "Extra Superior." Messrs. Tracner have furnished me with a very small quantity of a greenish substance, of harsh metallic taste and very disagreeable, which extractive organic matter was mixed with a salt of copper, with gums of iron, owing perhaps, to a bad system of distillation.

I certify that all that is here stated is the truth and agrees with the experiments I have made with the greatest care, and I authorize the house of Gottig & Will, of this city, to give publicity to this certificate, in Spanish and in foreign languages to all countries where it may suit their interest to do so. JOSE LUIS CASABECA.

LAWS OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

PASSED JUNE SESSION, 1859.

An Act providing for the election of Superintending School Committees.

Be it enacted, &c. SEC. 1. The inhabitants of every town in this State may choose by ballot, at any annual meeting, a board of Superintending School Committee, which committee shall consist of three, or any other number divisible by three, and said committee shall have all the powers and be subject to all the liabilities provided by law.

SEC. 2. Every town in this State shall decide, by a vote, of what number said committee shall consist. One third of said committee shall be elected for the term of one year; one third for the term of two years, and one third for the term of three years; after which first election, one third shall be elected annually for the term of three years.

SEC. 3. Whenever, from any cause, any vacancy shall occur in the aforesaid committee, such vacancy may be filled in the same manner as is now provided by law; and any person thus appointed shall have the same powers and duties as if he had been chosen a member of the committee in any other legal manner. Provided, any person appointed to fill any vacancy aforesaid, shall hold office only during the term for which his predecessor was elected.

SEC. 4. Whenever any town shall decide by vote to increase or diminish the number of persons constituting the aforesaid committee, such increase may be effected by adding one or more persons, who shall hold office according to the tenor of the class for which he or they may be elected, and a diminution may be effected by a successive decrease of one or more, as the annual elections shall occur, until one or more of the members of said committee shall be struck off in one year. The same number shall be struck off in each of the two succeeding years, so that the diminution shall equally effect each class.

SEC. 5. The Superintending Committee of any town or city, may, at any regular meeting of said committee, choose one of their number, whose duty it shall be to visit and superintend all the schools; and the person thus elected shall report in doings to the committee at least once each year, prior to the first day of March annually; but in the examination of teachers, and in the recommendation of text books to be used in the schools, a majority of said committee shall be present and act thereon.

SEC. 6. This act shall apply and be in force in all school districts in this State, which are or may be under the Somersworth act, (so called,) and the same proceedings as to the election of committees shall be had in such districts as are herein directed to be had in towns.

SEC. 7. The City Council of each city in this State shall seasonably, and previously to the annual meeting for the election of Superintending Committee, decide of what number such committee shall consist, and said committee shall be chosen by ballot by the City Council, prior to the first day of April annually, and said committee shall thereafter be elected, in the same manner as is herein provided in relation to such committees for towns. Provided, however, that nothing in this act shall prevent any city in this State from electing superintending committees in the same manner as is directed to be had in towns, whenever the City Council shall elect so to do.

SEC. 8. This act shall take effect and be in force, whenever any town, city council, or any district under the Somersworth act, shall vote at any regular meeting thereof so to do.

Approved, June 28.

Resolved, &c. That our Senators and Representatives in Congress be requested to call the attention of the United States Senate and United States House of Representatives to the case and facility of computing by a decimal currency, and of the further ease and facility of computation, if the pound avoirdupois was made the standard of all weight; and if the standards of weight one pound, and of linear measure one foot, were decimally divided, and of the convenience to the people of the United States, if the wine and beer gallons were abolished, and a new standard gallon should take the place of the measures abolished; also that the proper officer be required to notify our Senators and Representatives in Congress of the passage of this resolution.

Decimal System of Weights and Measures proposed.

			Grains
10	Minims	1 Scruple,	7
10	Scruples	1 Drachm,	70
10	Drachms	1 Ounce,	700
10	Ounces	1 lb. avoirdupois,	7000
25	Lbs.	1 quarter,
100	Lbs.	1 cwt.
2000	Lbs.	1 ton.

Decimal System of Measurement.

10 Lines, 1 inch. 10 inches, 1 foot.

The proposed changes do not alter the pound or foot in one as but only their subdivisions.

Approved, June 28.

An Act for the better preservation of the books, maps, manuscripts, and other papers of the State Library.

Whereas, The State Library is the common property of all the citizens of the State, and they are deprived of the common use of the same, when any of said books, maps, manuscripts, and other papers are removed from the library room; and whereas, such removal of said books, maps, manuscripts, and other papers exposes them to great injury and loss, therefore,

Be it enacted, &c. SEC. 1. That hereafter the books, maps, manuscripts and other papers belonging to the State Library, shall not be removed from the room where said Library may be kept, for any purpose whatever, except by members of the Legislature during the session thereof, and that the Librarian shall keep said Library open for the purpose of consulting and reading said books, maps, manuscripts and other papers, in the Library room, at all proper times, by any of the citizens of this State.

SEC. 2. The Secretary of State shall, twice a year, examine said Library, and ascertain what books have been taken away during the year; and the Librarian shall cause all missing books, maps, manuscripts and other papers belonging to said Library, to be returned to said Library room within thirty days thereafter, or pay to the State the value or cost of the same.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect on its passage.

Approved, June 27.

AN ACT relating to the publication of the quarterly reports of the Banks in this State.

Be it enacted, &c. SEC. 1. The Secretary of State shall cause to be published abstracts of the quarterly returns of banks required to be made by chapter one hundred and forty of the Revised Statutes, in the Independent Democrat, and the New Hampshire Patriot and State Gazette, and in no other newspaper.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect on its passage.

Approved, June 28.

Be it enacted, &c. SEC. 1. That a jury shall be empanelled specially for each and every cause, both civil and criminal, hereafter tried in that mode, to be taken and drawn from out of the whole number of jurors in attendance, and not already drawn and engaged in another cause; and either party in all civil causes, and the respondents in all criminal causes, not capital, shall, in addition to challenges for cause, be entitled to two peremptory challenges.

SEC. 2. The Supreme Judicial Court shall from time to time make all such needful rules and regulations in respect to the mode and manner of drawing and empanelling such jurors, and the exercise of the right of peremptory challenges, as shall be required to carry into effect the provisions of this act.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect on the first day of August, 1859. Approved, June 28.

DR. SWETT'S
CORDIAL OF DANDELION,
SPIKENARD & BONESET.

A remedy unsurpassed for Liver Complaints, such as Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, Universal Debility, and the whole family of Consumptive Complaints.

Hundreds of testimonials might be added, proving the many cures by this pleasant and effectual medicine, especially of people advanced in life, whose debilitated constitutions have been greatly recruited by it. A trial of it is warranted to well pay the trifling outlay. Price 75 cents.

[From Mrs. Danie' H. Williams.]

DR. SWETT—Dear Sir—I presume you recollect that when I saw you, about a year since, I was very low, and had been for a long time, will debilitated complaining every day week, with no appetite, and pain in my head, stomach and side, but now my health is comparatively good, and I attribute this great deliverance attributable, mainly, to the use of your "Cordial of Compound Cordial of Dandelion," which you left for me. I consider this the best medicine I ever found for the complaints for which you recommend it on the labels.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA.

A compound remedy in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Pure Sarsaparilla so compounded with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will a complish them must be of immense service to this large class of afflicted fellow citizens. How complete! this compound will do it, has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS AND ULCERATIONS, TUMORS, BLOTCHES, BLEMISHES, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, EXPULSION OF ULCER OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the humors which fester in the blood at this season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud.—Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body, by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting, through the skin in pimples, eruptions or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed or sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disease is felt, people feel better for health, and live live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this impure or life disordered, disease is the inevitable result. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has long deserved much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtues it is claimed for it, but more because many preparations pretending to be concentrated extracts of it contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or nothing else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar, but all these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever; and when the disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly copied, and papers are removed from the library room; and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have grounds for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has won for itself such a renown for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidence of its virtues which have been received. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people that its quality is kept up to the best standard, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR THE CURE OF

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Worms, Gravel, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the Blood.

These are sugar-coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Price, 25 cents per box; five boxes for $1.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen and eminent personages, have lent their names to certify the unparalleled usefulness of these remedies, but our space here will not permit the insertion of a single one. Our pamphlet below named furnishes gratis our American Almanac, in which they are given; with also full descriptions of our preparations, and the best treatment that should be followed for their cure.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations they make more profit on.—Obtain AYER's, and you will receive what you call for.

The Liver Invigorator.

PREPARED BY DR. JOHNSTON,
COMPOUNDED ENTIRELY FROM GUMS,

is one of the best PURGATIVE and LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

It will thoroughly cleanse the foul stomach, remove the offending bile, and invigorating the stomach, causing the food to digest healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing the food to digest well, PURIFYING THE BLOOD, giving tone and health to the whole machinery. Nine tenths of all the cases of disease—cause of disease—effecting a radical cure. Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Piles, cured, and, what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

One dose taken before retiring prevents NIGHTMARE.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently and cures CONTIVENESS.

One dose taken after each meal will cure DYSPEPSIA.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve SICK HEADACHE.

Only one dose immediately relieves COLIC.

Only one bottle is needed to throw out the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

Only one bottle taken for JAUNDICE removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

One dose, often repeated, cures CHRONIC DIARRHŒA in its worst form, while SUMMER & BOWEL COMPLAINTS yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure DROPSY by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for FEVER AND AGUE, CHILL FEVER, and all Fevers of a BILIOUS TYPE. It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

Only one bottle is needed to cure JAUNDICE.

Only one bottle taken for CHRONIC DIARRHŒA.

Only one bottle taken for SUMMER AND BOWEL COMPLAINTS.

Only one bottle taken for DYSPEPSIA.

Only one bottle taken for COSTIVENESS.

☞ A California letter to the Boston Post, gives account of the suicide of Chas. C. Woodward, a printer, and a good man but for drink.

"His only weakness was an over-indulgence in ardent spirits, which occurred at intervals of weeks and even months. About a fortnight previous to his death, he started in upon a course of intemperance, and continued it for several days, and then suddenly ceased. For the last few days he had drank nothing strong, but his nerves were so shattered and his system so disarranged, that his stomach refused food, and his brain became affected with symptoms of insanity." Under this influence he killed himself.

The same letter says:

In the saloon of Thomas Roach, in San Francisco, a stabbing affray occurred in which the notorious Martin Gallagher was stabbed in two places, and mortally. The person who inflicted the stabs was Thomas Roach, the proprietor of the saloon. According to his statement, it appears that there was ill feeling between him and Martin Gallagher in regard to the late Democratic primary election. They were on opposite sides, one Lecompton and the other Anti-Lecompton or Broderick.

MILITARY.—Major Poore, the commander of our Essex North Rifle Battalion, does duty during the winter months under Major Charles O. Rogers, in the columns of the Boston Journal, as its Washington correspondent. Since his return home this summer, he has been agreeably surprised by the receipt of a new and beautiful uniform, a gift from Major Rogers, who has thus expressed his satisfaction with the "Waifs from Washington" which he received during the past session of Congress. The new uniform will of course be worn at the Concord encampment, where the First Battalion of Rifles will appear with full ranks, and will enjoy themselves none the less, we are confident, because the officers anticipated the request of the Commander-in-Chief, and pledged themselves to neither use intoxicating beverages or furnish them to their friends. This is commendable, as a majority of those thus pledged are not connected with any of the temperance movements of the day, yet cheerfully abstain from the use of the worst enemy with which the volunteer militia comes in contact.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ A dozen Custom House officers at Alexandria, Va., have been beheaded for voting against Extra Billy Smith for Congress. They sent a delegation to the President to remonstrate, telling him that the party made no nomination and Smith was no more the regular candidate than Shackelford, for whom they voted. But the President would not hear a word, and there is great excitement among the Alexandria Democracy.

☞ The high court of errors and appeals in Mississippi have decided in a recent case that a free negro in another State cannot take property by will in Mississippi. The decision is based on the Dred Scott dictum that negroes are incapable of becoming citizens, but are of an inferior class, towards whom there is no comity under the law of nations.

☞ Dr. Lallemant, on examining the condition of the Germans recently sent out by the Mucuri Society as settlers to Santa Clara, in Brazil, near the Mucuri River, discovered most of them to have died from the pestilential atmosphere. He caused the survivors (119 out of 260, and only 35 of them in good health) to be removed to Rio de Janeiro.

STABBING.—The Lawrence American says that Burke who was stabbed in that city on the Fourth by an Irishman named Leary, who attempted to pass on him a counterfeit bill, died of his wound on Thursday.

☞ Many of the Austrian prisoners will be dispatched to Algeria, to be employed on the railways.

BACK AND CENTRE
SUSPENSION PANTALOONS.
Patented June 29, 1858.
J. E. HAM & CO.,
Have purchased the right to manufacture the above named Pantaloons. The advantages of this invention over the usual method of making Pants is: they may be made snug to the person, and still be as easy as though they were uncommonly large. Pants that are easy to stand in are easy to sit or stoop in.
Also for sale, GREELEY'S BRACE SUSPENDER—a superior Suspender for Skirts or Pants, and far superior to any other BRACE in the market. may25

Oleine Diamond Oil.
GREATEST ILLUMINATOR OF THE AGE.
This Oil is entirely free from treachery, so that a lamp may be left burning any length of time desired, without filling a room with lamp-black or soot.
It burns in the common oil lamp, with or without a chimney.
The light is far more pleasant than gas, as it is free from the disagreeable flickerings always attending a gas light, and is cheaper. We claim for this Oil:
1. That it is cheaper than any other artificial light.
2. That it has no odor.
3. That it will not smoke.
4. That it will burn with or without a chimney, hence it is portable.
5. That it will stand a lower degree of temperature than other Oil.
6. That it is free from each of the objections that are brought against every other article heretofore or now being offered to the public for illuminating purposes.
Price $1.25 per gallon.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, JULY 18, 1859.

☞ Uncle Toby assures the Gazette that he is no new convert to the doctrine that we should never have had a naturalization law. He has always thought, since he thought on the subject at all, that Americans should rule America,—and though he would treat the new comer with all kindness, he would never set him to making laws, nor expounding them, nor regulating our schools, nor ruling over us in any way.

He thought it was bad enough for a State to send the peppery Frenchman, Soule, to Congress as a Senator, and quite too bad for President Pierce to send him off as Minister to Spain.

And as to the matter of our naturalized citizens going back into their native countries, Mr. Cass is right.

We have made a local naturalization law, giving an Austrian, who comes here, some privileges, under certain conditions: but Austria has made no law releasing her native subject from his liabilities on her soil. Now when this man goes back to Austria, he does not carry our local law with him, but he finds a local law there, which lays hold on him, and makes him go out as a soldier, or pay taxes, or go to prison.

So in the State of Virginia or Carolina, one of "the happiest peasantry in the world" concludes to emigrate to Canada, and when he gets there he is a loyal subject of the Queen, with the powers of a citizen, he becomes a member of the Anglican church, and a soldier in the British Army.—All very well, while he stays there.

But he has a desire to revisit his fatherland, "the land of the free, and the home of the brave," where he used to be a servant, vulgarly called a slave. He would like to remove his family, or make some speculations, or see the fashions in Richmond or Charleston; and is quite indignant when the sheriff puts him in jail as a runaway slave, and sells him at auction to pay the fees.—He says, in Canada I was a British subject, and exhibits proof of it. Oh, says the sheriff,—this is not Canada; their laws are nothing to us. There you might be a man; here you are property.

In this case, Great Britain has no power over the local law of Carolina; nor in the other, have these United States any such power over the local law of Austria.

Our land is a refuge for the oppressed of Europe—but it were folly for us to assert that we can extend that refuge all over the earth.

Canada is a refuge for the oppressed in these States—but it were folly for Great Britain to assert that Canadian law can cover Carolina. She has clearly no political power there. She may treat for the man's release, and we may grant it,—or refuse,—and she may declare war, and compel us to give him up,—if she can!

And so may we do with Austria,—get the man's release by a claim,—or if she refuses, we may fight, and get him,—if we can!—But we have no treaty on this subject,—we do not make laws for Austria,—and we have no more power over serfdom there, than Great Britain has over slavery here.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press says that Mr. Douglas is in that city, preparing another manifesto on the territorial question, which, it is said, will shortly see the light of day, and will be far ahead of anything that has yet emanated from his prolific brain.

THE NASSAU NEGROES.

Messrs. Editors!—I was much interested, and not a little amused, with the article on Nassau, New Providence, in your paper last week.

The writer says:

Nassau is the capital town, and I think the only one, of the Island of New Providence. It belongs to the English. It is a nice quiet-looking place, with six negroes to one white inhabitant. The negroes are free, and a more lazy, fat, and (of course) saucy-looking set of beings one never saw. They never work except obliged to do so by the calls of hunger. The people complained very much of the injustice of the British Government, in letting loose upon them such a wild and ignorant set of savages, and leaving them to suffer the consequences.

The natural consequence of letting loose wild ignorant savages, who had been bound, would be destruction, slaughter and desolation.

But no! "it is a nice, quiet looking place," says the writer.

Then the savages must have been driven away, say you.

No, no: says the writer, they live right on here, "six negroes to one white."

But they must be dangerous and miserable.

No, says the writer, they are "fat, lazy, and saucy looking" people. And he adds:

I saw there a regiment of 500 soldiers, all black, dressed something like Turks. They looked very funny, and I was told, made very good soldiers.

By good soldiers he must mean orderly, obedient, well disciplined.—And when we consider that there is not a white soldier there, and that six-sevenths of all the people are black wild savages let loose,—we admire the "nice quiet looking place" they have made of their residence,—and wonder a little the writer did not see how nicely his facts contradict his opinions.

He closes by saying:—

On the whole, I liked the Nassau folks very much, notwithstanding the streets are filled with fat and lazy niggers. But free niggers always were and always will be lazy.

So we see, after all, that the dreadful consequence of emancipation was no great consequence! Only that Negroes, trained in slavery, and worked under the lash,—when set free, are lazy, fat, good soldiers, and on the whole pretty clever fellows.

Well: it might have been worse.

Gentlemen:—You will please to accept, for yourselves and for the other donors, my grateful acknowledgments, not only for the valuable presents bestowed upon me at your visit on the 8th inst., but also for the good will displayed in their presentation; and for the friendship and faithfulness which you and they have always manifested towards me in our business and social intercourse.

Offering my best wishes for the health, happiness and prosperity of all concerned, I subscribe myself,

Most respectfully, your friend,

THE SEA.

BY MRS. DOWNING.

I love it, I love it,
Whatever its hue—
Be it dark, be it bright,
Be it green, be it blue;
In whirlwind or calm,
Let it change as it will,
In sunshine or storm,
It is dear to me still.

I love it when glassy,
And shadowy and shining,
The bark and the oar
On its wave are reclining—
When late sounds of song
O'er its bosom are stealing—
When lightnings are flashing,
When thunders are pealing.

I love it when resting
In dawn's misty light,
The white sails are cresting
The foam billow's height;
When, dim in the starlight,
It breaks into spray—
When broadly and brightly
'Tis flashing in day.

But oh! when the green
Island shores are at rest;
When the last glowing ray
Fades away from the west,
With silence and moonlight
About and above it,
Then, then, most of all,
Oh I love it! I love it!

Mr. Roobab's agricultural operations are peculiar. When his peas are up high enough to bush, he trims his fruit trees and uses the branches for that purpose. He has just taken down the pieces of bright tin that he hung up in his cherry trees to scare the robins, and finds them covered with birdlime. He didn't pick any cherries himself, to be sure, but he gave the tin experiment a fair trial, and proposes next year to stand under the trees, and shoot as many of the feathered songsters and thieves as he can get sight of. He thinks that whether their crops contain more larvæ and worms than cherries, or more cherries than worms, will make but slight difference as to their merits in a bird-pie. Mr. Roobub's watermelon vines have begun to run, and he finds that he must stop 'em, or else pull up his beets, which were planted too near. "If I stop 'em now," he says, "I shall have no melons, and if I pull up the beets, and let the melon vines run, and they don't set any fruit, I shall have neither beets nor melons." We advise him to let the melons run into the beet bed, and let them both grow together till the harvest. If both fail, he can always find enough in Quincy Market.—Boston Post.

Pilotage Notice.

The Commissioners of Pilotage call the attention of the public to the following act passed at the last session of the Legislature of the State of New Hampshire. Per order. J. W. D. WHIGHT, Sec.

July 16, 1859.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

In the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine.

AN ACT IN RELATION TO PILOTS AND PILOTAGE IN THE RIVER AND HARBOR OF THE PISCATAQUA.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened:

SECTION 1.—Any pilot appointed by the Commissioners of Pilotage for the river and harbor of the Piscataqua, and who has given bonds to the Commissioners of Pilotage for the faithful discharge of his duties, may take charge of any vessels, except coasting and fishing vessels of the United States, of one hundred and fifty Registered or Enrolled tons and under, and shall pilot any such vessel into or out of the river and harbor of the Piscataqua, first showing to the master thereof his appointment, if requested.

SECTION 2.—Any master or owner may pilot his own vessel; but if any pilot shall speak and offer service to any vessel, except coasting and fishing vessels of the United States, of one hundred and fifty Registered or Enrolled tons or under, bound into the river or harbor of the Piscataqua, south of a line drawn east and west from Whale's Back Light House, or shall offer service to any vessel bound out of the River and Harbor of the Piscataqua, except coasting and fishing vessels of the United States, of one hundred and fifty Registered or Enrolled tons and under, he shall be entitled to one-half of the fees specified in his warrant in case the master or owner declines to employ him, and no refusal of payment may sue for and recover the same; and all vessels requiring pilots into or out of the river and harbor of the Piscataqua, shall take branch Pilots, if such offer their services to inward bound vessels south of a line drawn east and west from Whale's Back Light House, and to outward bound vessels before they leave the wharf.

SECTION 3.—All further regulations regarding Pilots and Pilotage, shall be arranged and regulated by the board of Commissioners for the said river and harbor of the Piscataqua.

SECTION 4.—All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION 5.—This act shall take effect on its passage.

Seven Octave Piano --- New Scale.

The Subscriber having just received a superior SEVEN OCTAVE PIANO FORTE, made according to his order by the celebrated firm of HALLET, DAVIS & CO., would offer it for the inspection of persons desirous of purchasing. H. D. & Co. have recently made great improvements in the manufacture of Pianos, the most important of which is the New Scale, which, while obviating the weakness which has hitherto been found in the upper part of Square Seven Octave Pianos, gives it a power of tone nearly equal to that of the Parlor Grand.

Having been for several years Agent for the sale of Pianos of the above make, Mr. P. is prepared to state that the instruments which they are now making, far excel any of their former manufacture.

Purchasers will find it greatly to their advantage to call and examine the above mentioned Piano, as it is the only one in Portsmouth which contains the NEW SCALE.

The Best Medicine in the World.

YES—DECIDEDLY THE BEST—18

Dr. Langley's Root and Herb Bitters.

They are made from the most valuable Roots, Herbs and Plants in the vegetable kingdom—They act at once upon the very seat of disease.—They remove all obstructions from the internal organs—regulate the Bowels—purify the Blood—remove Humors—excite the Liver to a healthy action—give strength and tone to the stomach—cure Jaundice and Dyspepsia—create an appetite—increase and renew the circulation—remove all Bilious diseases—cure Piles, Headache, Weakness, &c., and are the best medicine ever discovered for all Female Complaints. They purify, heal, strengthen, build up and keep in order "the house you live in."

Doctors' prescriptions, clothed in Latin verbs, Now yield the palm to Simples from Herbs;
Forsake vile drugs and cull from Nature's store,
As did the Patriarchs in days of yore.
Roots, Herbs and Barks, the best in Nature's store,
From broad Atlantic to Pacific's shore,
From North to South, their healing virtues lend,
And in these Bitters prove the people's friend.
They'll strengthen, warm, your bodies vigorous make,
Rouse drooping spirits and new blood create.

So if you wish to feel well, act well, do well and look well, use this standard valuable medicine.

Only 25 cts. for a pint, 38 cts. for a large bottle. Sold by all dealers in medicine everywhere.

Orders addressed to J. O. LANGLEY, or to GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., Boston.

Common Sense rules the mass of the people whatever the misnamed and misanthrope philosophers may say to the contrary. Show them a good thing: let its merits be clearly demonstrated, and they will not hesitate to give it their most cordial patronage. The masses have already ratified the judgment of a physician, concerning the virtues of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, as may be seen in the immense quantities of this medicine that are annually sold in every section of the land. It is now recognized as greatly superior to all other remedies for the cure of diseases of the digestive organs, such as diarrhœa, dysentery, dyspepsia, and for the various fevers that arise from derangements of those portions of the system. Hostetter's name is rapidly becoming a household word from Maine to Texas; from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pacific. Try the article and be satisfied.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

Agent for Portsmouth, J. H. THACHER, cor. of State and Pleasant Sts., and No. 12 Market Sq. Weeks & Potter, Boston, General Agents for the New England States.

DYSENTERY.—For Dysentery and similar complaints of the Summer season, the PERUVIAN SYRUP has proved a remarkable preventive and cure. By imparting tone to the intestinal mucous membrane, it places this surface in the best possible condition to resist the irritation of crude and indigestible articles of food.

Dyspepsia.

Considering the various forms in which this disease devolopes itself, it may well be called hydra-headed. In its train follow Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, Heartburn, Water Brash, Costiveness, Piles, Acidity, Oppression after Eating, Jaundice, Flatulency, Torpor of the Liver, Dizziness, Debility, Female Complaints, &c. Some of the first men in our land have given their written certificates relative to the cures effected in their families by the OXYGENATED BITTERS; while testimonials from other sources, editorial opinions and voluntary expressions from persons unknown to us, see their names in print, are perfectly overwhelming.

Read the following from a highly respectable Clergyman:

EAST TAUNTON, MASS., Feb. 9, '58.

To the Editor of the Portland Mirror,—Sir:—

OXYGENATED BITTERS.—For more than twenty five years I have been a sufferer from the dyspepsia. Besides trying the patience of my family physicians in the almost useless trial of their various prescriptions, I have tried a great variety of patent medicines with similar results. Through the kindness of my physician, I received last March, half a dozen bottles of the OXYGENATED BITTERS. I began to use them without any hope of deriving help from them. Being determined to give them a fair trial, I continued their use, but without any perceptible benefit till June.

Since then I have gradually improved in health till I am entirely free from acidity of the stomach, and from the nonsecurable dyspepsia, and the awful and almost distracting sick headache, which often, for days together, has wholly unfitted me for study and for all other ministerial duties, and rendered life a burden.

I feel that I owe it, as an expression of gratitude to Messrs. Fowle & Co., and also a duty to the public, to recommend their Oxygenated Bitters, as, in my estimation, a sure remedy for that most trying, most vexing, and cruel of all diseases, to which poor human flesh is heir, viz: dyspepsia. Having suffered so long, and tried so many different remedies with no good result, I can recommend the Oxygenated Bitters with the confidence few others can. If any of the readers of the Mirror are suffering, I beg of them to make trial of these Bitters without delay.

TO THE CITIZENS OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

This Gin, distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a bouquet of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and best stimulating diuretic in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find it by its stimulation a remedy for those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st.; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. Smith & Co., 20 Exchange st.; Gilbert, Abbott & Co., 78 Broad st.; Deland & Snow, 34 Elm st. and others. In Portland, Me., of H. H. Hay & Co., C. W. Atwell, and C. C. Mitchell & Son.

GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE COMPANY,

No. 18 Summer Street, Boston,

MACHINES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

We have seen one of Grover & Baker's $100 Sewing Machines used to do the Sewing of two families, for the past year or more, to the perfect satisfaction of all concerned—without once getting out of order, or requiring the least repair.—We would as soon try to dispense with a Cooking Stove in a family, as to attempt to get along without a Sewing Machine. Money invested in a good Machine pays much more than legal dividend, in actual cash savings—to say nothing of the higher consideration, of comfort and convenience, nay, even luxury, it affords to the ladies of a household. Whatever may be the experience with other Machines, we never knew a Grover & Baker to be discarded or found wanting.

FRANK W. MILLER.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others.

☞ Why will people go and have a poor miserable picture taken of themselves? Because, all those do not know that they can procure for the same money, a fine finished picture, faithful and true as life itself, at in Congress Block, where the most superior likenesses are taken, and in all cases perfect satisfaction given.

N. B.—The beautiful little "give away" (cheap) pictures, are taken at this establishment, with a double lens Camera, (100 per day) by the celebrated Parisian artist—Monsieur Heavtontutorments.

PRIME SOAP WITHOUT MAGIC.—Adams & Curtis, at their Soap Works in Washington street, are manufacturing a superior article of soap for all the purposes for which the magic soap is used—and without magic or miracle it performs the wonderful work of "bringing a clean thing out of an unclean," without destroying the clothing or injuring the hands. This soap is not only better but cheaper than the old fashioned ordinary soap—so the makers say, and you can try it and see.

It is sold by the grocers and by the manufacturers.

LOCAL.

☞ We copy in another column, from the Gazette, a couple of paragraphs about Bands, in which the Portsmouth Cornet Band is unjustly disparaged. "The difference" between the Gazette's statements and fact, is exactly that between truth and falsehood. And first, the Manchester Mirror is in error: our Band is not trying to get up a subscription at all, though they would of course be very grateful for any such favor; some friends of the Band, and lovers of good music, intend to have some of their capital out-door concerts, if our citizens are liberal and public-spirited enough to subscribe for them. Then, the Portsmouth Band's instruments were not paid for by the City. The instruments cost between $400 and $500; and the City paid but $200, we think—the Band giving a series of concerts for the same, and the City holding the instruments as public property.

That "other and more important difference" may be that the Gazette man thinks the Manchester Band excels ours in playing. Well, the Manchester Band has 26 pieces, and the Portsmouth Band 17; and they are a much older organization, and play each year probably ten times as much as our Band. Make a fair comparison, and our Band need not fear it.

By the way, since our hypercritical friend of the Gazette so much prefers up-country institutions, wonder if he hadn't better have stayed there. As to the Portsmouth Cornet Band, it is by far the best one we ever had, and we think worthy of all encouragement—not more for their own sake, than that of every citizen who loves good music. And we believe it better to notice and assist friends, and to improve all our advantages we may, while we have them, than to lament them after we have lost them by our own neglect.

As to the Manchester Band giving free concerts—they can better afford to, if they please, having a much larger patronage; and yet, if we recollect aright, there was some sort of a bonus given them by the city last year, in the shape of an unexpended appropriation or something of the sort.

FIRE.—On Saturday afternoon, the stable on Green street, adjoining the hotel of Chas. W. Walker, took fire, and was very soon totally destroyed. Contents mostly saved. A portion of the hotel was also destroyed. Stable insured $400, in the Portsmouth Mutual Ins. Co.

and as a beverage it has no superior in the world. It is manufactured by the proprietor, at Schiedam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, Bladder and Kidney Complaints, &c. &c.

Put up in quart and pint bottles, in Cases of one dozen quarts, and two dozen pints, with the proprietor's name on the bottle, cork and label. For sale by all the respectable Country Merchants and Druggists. Look out for counterfeits and imitations, as the whole country is flooded with them

TO THE PUBLIC.

I beg leave to call the attention of the American Public to the following Certificate from the Government Chemist for the Island of Cuba and the Spanish West Indies, and who is known to the Scientific men of London, Paris, Madrid, Cuba and America to be the first Chemist in the world.

UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHEMICAL TESTIMONY.

Don Jose Luis Casaseca, Corresponding Member of the Royal Academies of Madrid and Munich, a Graduate in Sciences of the Faculty of Paris, formerly Professor of Chemistry, as applied to the Arts, of the Royal Conservatorio of Madrid, and of Physics and Chemistry, as applied to the Industry and Agriculture of the country, in the Royal University of this Island, at present H. M.'s Director of the Institute of Chemical Investigation, &c. &c.

Do hereby certify, that at the request of the house of Gottig & Will, of this place, I have made an analytical examination of U. Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps, with the object of ascertaining if it contained any substance noxious to health, and to inform them as to its true composition and relative quality with the other gins that are offered in the market; and the result of my observations and experiments are as follows:—

Udolpho Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is a spirituous liquid, of a very agreeable aromatic odor, completely transparent and almost colorless, having only a very slight tint of yellowish gray; its flavor is strong and very agreeable to the palate. It marks 20 degrees in Cartier's alcohol weigher or 52 degrees 5 hundredth in Gay Lussac's alcohometre. By the distillation in a balnium maria, with an apparatus consisting of a glass retort and a recipient surrounded with ice, I have collected in this recipient an alcoholic liquid with a very agreeable aroma completely colorless and transparent, which marked 90 degrees in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, or 70 degrees 5 hundredth on Gay Lussac's alcohometre; and which represented as a whole 57 per cent. of Aromatic Schiedam schnapps subject to distillation in the retort. This liquid did not spoil the transparency of the distilled water in mixing it with the same, and its agreeable aroma is doubtless due to a very trifling amount of an essential oil inseparable from alcohol.

From the remainder of the distillation which was left in the retort, I have obtained, through evaporation in a vapor bath, a substance of a yellowish brown color, clear, and having a bitter taste, which is not disagreeable, and which afterwards becomes aromatic and leaves the mouth perfumed with that fragrance peculiar to the vanilla. I am inclined to believe that to this bitter and aromatic extractive substance, soluble in water and alcohol, the medicinal properties which are attributed to this gin are due. I have not found in Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps any mineral or organic substance other than the extractive one already named and the aromatic one obtained by distillation. Finally, Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps consists simply of a aromatic alcohol of 20 degrees of graduation in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, and of an extractive bitter aromatic substance, which perhaps, is medicinal; and, on account of its not containing any matter injurious to the health, as well as for its odor and good flavor—a fact which no doubt arises from the choice substances employed in its manufacture, and from the peculiar manner of its distillation, it should in my opinion, be preferred to all the Holland, Belgic and German gins which are found in this Island which it has been my business to examine. These gins as I have often proved it, exhale a disagreeable odor, and have a more or less disagreeable flavor; some of them having left us was the case with the superior gin from the distillery of Mr. Henry Deetjen (of Bremen,) as residum after evaporation by steam, a substance almost insipid and very trifingly aromatic, with flavor of vanilla, but in no wise with the delicious bitter and aromatic flavor of that of Udolpho Wolfe; and others, such as that labelled "genuine Samaritan," "Extra Superior," Messrs. Thacher have furnished me with a very small quantity of a greenish substance, of harsh mineralic taste and very disagreeable, which extractive organic matter was mixed with a salt of copper, with signs of iron, owing perhaps, to a bad system of distillation.

I certify that all that is here stated is the truth and agrees with the experiments I have made with the greatest care, and I authorize the house of Gottig & Will, of this city, to give publicity to this certificate, in Spanish and in foreign languages, in all countries where it may suit their interest to do so.

GROVER & BAKER'S SEWING MACHINES.

Several months have now elapsed since one of these Machines was introduced for our family use. For several weeks, those who attempted to operate it having had no instruction, it was regarded as of little value, although some work could be done.—But no sooner had one of experience taken hold of it, given the proper tension to the cotton, a proper oiling, &c. to the machinery, than it worked admirably—and now for months it goes on like clock work, doing handsomely all the work submitted to it, and accomplishing as much work in an hour as could be done by hand in a long summer's day. These machines are decidedly popular. We have never heard of one being sold to procure another from a different maker,—while we have known others to be laid aside to give place to Grover & Baker's. Any one can operate them after an hour's instruction from an experienced hand.

LARGE POWDER MAGAZINE AT THE NAVY YARD.—Messrs. S. A. & C. F. Trefethen, of Rye, have this week closed a contract with Government to construct a Fire-proof Powder Magazine, of 50 by 100 feet, capable of holding 5000 barrels of powder. They contract to complete it for $24,143. The work is to be under the supervision of B. F. Chandler, Esq. the Civil Engineer of the Yard.—One of the specifications of the contract is, that the lightning rods shall be of Orcutt's construction.—This is no slight expression of the confidence reposed in his rods, which have been in use at our Navy Yard for many years.

NEWCASTLE BRIDGE.—At the annual meeting of the Proprietors of the New Castle Bridge held on the 4th inst.

William Stavers, Eben. Wentworth, James Dodge, Wm. H. Y. Hackett, T. S. Coffin, were elected Directors for the current year. Wm. Stavers was elected President, and Eben. Wentworth Treasurer and Clerk.

The Bridge is now being extensively and thoroughly repaired.

NEW CATERPILLAR.—The Lemon Walnut trees in this city are now being covered by snow-white caterpillar, about half an inch in length, with an irregular dress on the back resembling raw silk or cotton, giving the worms the appearance of white poodles in miniature.

From the N. H. Gazette.

THE DIFFERENCE.—The Band at Portsmouth is trying to get up a subscription of $200 for them to play twelve nights on the public squares of that city. The Manchester Cornet Band gives promenade concerts, on our Commons, each week, free, during the warm weather.—Manchester Mirror.

The instruments used by the Manchester Band were purchased by the members themselves, those of the Portsmouth Band were paid for out of the city treasury—that makes another "difference." We might mention still another and more important "difference" in favor of one of these Bands, but it is hardly necessary to allude to it in this connection.

SUPPORT FROM A NEW QUARTER.—The nervous individuals who are so distressed because there is no "Administration paper" in this County, will be glad to learn that "Uncle Toby" of the Chronicle is about to take up the cudgel in its behalf. In last Wednesday's paper, the Chronicle has an original article in defence of the undemocratic position recently assumed by Secretary Cass (amanuensis for J. B.) in his letters upon naturalization. Indeed, our contemporary goes a little further than the present Federal Administration has yet dared to go, but young converts are apt to be more zealous than discreet. Says Uncle Toby:

The truth is, that we never ought to have had any naturalization laws at all;—but men in the country when Independence was achieved, and when the Constitution was made, should have been citizens;—and those born in the country thereafter should have been citizens. Immigration should have been encouraged by other means,—but never by citizenship and suffrage.

LAWS OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

PASSED JUNE SESSION, 1859.

AN ACT Reorganizing the JUDICIARY.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened:

SECTION 1. That from and after the taking effect of this act, the Court of Common Pleas shall be and hereby is abolished, and all laws, establishing such Court and providing for Justices thereof, shall be and hereby are repealed.

SEC. 2. All judgments, orders, pleadings, records, suits, actions, proceedings, processes, matters and things whatsoever, existing, pending and remaining in the Court of Common Pleas at the time this act takes effect, shall be and hereby are transferred to the Supreme Judicial Court, and may be proceeded on, determined, enforced and carried into execution therein; and writs of reviews, scire facias, and all other writs, processes and proceedings whatsoever, founded thereon or concerning the same, pending in the Court of Common Pleas at the time this act takes effect, shall be had, sustained, taken cognizance of, prosecuted, tried, and determined in the Supreme Judicial Court in like cases, and in the same manner as if the same had been judgments, orders, pleadings, records, processes, proceedings, suits, actions, matters and things of and in said Supreme Judicial Court; and all the records and files of the Court of Common Pleas shall be considered and regarded as records and files of the Supreme Judicial Court to every intent and purpose. All writs, executions, orders, recognizances, petitions, warrants, complaints, and every other matter or thing that shall, before the taking effect of this act, be returnable to or enterable at the Court of Common Pleas or Supreme Judicial Court, at the terms heretofore established, and all persons and parties, witnesses and others, that may be required or directed to appear and attend at the times and places of holding the Court of Common Pleas or Supreme Judicial Court, and all actions, suits, and matters pending in the Court of Common Pleas and Supreme Judicial Court at the time this act takes effect, shall be returned to, entered, appear and attend, have day in, be heard, tried and determined in the Supreme Judicial Court, at the respective times and places by this act established for holding the same in the several counties at the respective trial terms of the Supreme Judicial Court, first to be holden after the taking effect of this act, in the said several counties. All judgments rendered in the Court of Common Pleas, which shall be open to review, or wherein new trials shall have been granted at the time this act takes effect, may be reviewed or tried anew in the Supreme Judicial Court, and the Supreme Judicial Court shall have full power and authority in the respective counties to grant writs of execution, to carry into effect any judgment rendered in the Court of Common Pleas, the same manner and with the same effect as the Court of Common Pleas might have done had this act not been passed.

SEC. 3. The Supreme Judicial Court shall have jurisdiction in all cases of bastardy; of all civil actions in which the proceedings shall be according to the course of the common law, except in cases where justices of the peace or police courts have jurisdiction; of all appeals in civil and criminal cases from justices of the peace and police courts; of all actions commenced before justices of the peace or police courts, where the title to real estate is called in question; of all petitions for the laying out and discontinuing highways in cases provided by law, and in all other cases in and of all other matters wherein the Court of Common Pleas shall, at the time this act takes effect, have jurisdiction.

SEC. 4. The Supreme Judicial Court shall hereafter consist of one chief and five associate justices, with salaries as provided in the act establishing said court, appointed and commissioned as provided by the Constitution; any four of which justices shall constitute a quorum for holding law terms of said court.

SEC. 5. All civil actions, in which judgment shall be rendered in the Supreme Court, wherein any issue of fact shall have been joined, except prosecutions for bastardy, appeals from the Court of Common Pleas, justices of the peace and police courts, probate courts and commissioners of insolvency, and suits upon probate bonds, may be once reviewed under the limitations and conditions contained in chapter 192 of the Revised Statutes; the provisions of which chapter, relating to review as a matter of right, are hereby re-enacted and reenacted as fully and completely as if inserted in this act.

SEC. 6. It shall be the duty of the Judges of the Supreme Judicial Court to prepare for the press and furnish to the Reporter, reports of such cases only as in their opinion establish some new, or settle some doubtful point which has not been adjudicated and reported among the decisions of the courts in this State, or are otherwise deemed by them important to be published.

SEC. 7. For the business of the Supreme Judicial Court other than at the trial terms thereof, the County of Carrol shall be annexed to and constitute a part of Judicial District No. 1, and the County of Belknap shall be annexed to and constitute a part of Judicial District No. 2, and Judicial District No. 4, as heretofore constituted, and the law terms of said court at Ossipee and at Gilford, are abolished. On and after the first day of August next, Judicial District heretofore known and called Judicial District No. 5, shall be called and known as Judicial District No. 4. All processes, matters and things now pending and remaining in the Supreme Judicial Court for Judicial District No. 4, shall be transferred to the said Court, holden within and for districts numbered one and two accordingly.

SEC. 8. Trial terms of the Supreme Judicial Court shall be holden annually in one or more Judicial districts, and at the times and places following: at Portsmouth on the third Tuesday of October, and at Exeter on the second Tuesday of January and the second Tuesday of April, for the county of Rockingham. At Dover on the second Tuesday of February, the last Tuesday of May, and first Tuesday of September, for the county of Strafford. At Gilford on the first Tuesday of February and the third Tuesday of August, for the county of Belknap.

At Ossipee on the third Tuesday of April and the third Tuesday of September, for the county of Carroll. At Concord on the third Tuesday of August and the first Tuesday of February, for the county of Merrimack. At Amherst on the first Tuesday of September, at Manchester on the first Tuesday of January, and at Nashua on the first Tuesday of May, for the county of Hillsborough. At Keene on the third Tuesday of April and the third Tuesday of October, for the county of Cheshire. At Newport on the fourth Tuesday of January and the first Tuesday of September, for the county of Sullivan. At Haverhill on the first Tuesday of April and the first Tuesday of October, for the Western Judicial District, and at Plymouth on the third Tuesday of May and the third Tuesday of November, for the Eastern Judicial District in the county of Grafton. At Lancaster on the fourth Tuesday of April and the fourth Tuesday of October, for the county of Coos.

Provided, That no grand jury shall be summoned to attend the January term of the said court in the county of Rockingham, the May term in the county of Strafford, nor the October term for the Western Judicial District, nor the May term for the Eastern Judicial District, in the county of Grafton, unless the court shall especially order that a grand jury be summoned therein; and no justice of the peace or police court shall order it to be bound over to either of said terms any person charged with an offence exceeding the jurisdiction of such justice or police court to try but such justice or police court may order such person to be bound over to the next succeeding trial term of said Supreme Judicial Court in the county.

SEC. 9. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after the first day of August, 1859; provided, however, that the additional judge of the Supreme Judicial Court, herein provided for may be appointed and commissioned before that period.

Approved, June 28, 1859.

AN ACT providing for a general index to the Pamphlet Laws.

Be it enacted, &c. SEC. 1. It shall be the duty of the State Reporter to prepare a full and complete index of all the subject matters and things embraced in the public laws passed since Eastern session, 1852, including the public laws that may be passed at the present session; said index to be as full and complete as the index to the Revised Statutes and the index to the Compiled Statutes.

SEC. 2. Said index shall be published in the pamphlet edition of the laws of the present session, together with an index of the laws of this session.

SEC. 3. Each session hereafter the State Reporter shall seasonably prepare and revise for publication, in the pamphlet edition of the laws of such session, said general index, so as to include the subject matters and things embraced in the public laws of such session. A separate index of the laws of such session shall also be annually published in the pamphlet edition of the laws of such session.

SEC. 4. For preparing the general index of the laws from 1853 to the present session inclusive, and for preparing such index hereafter, the State Reporter shall receive no compensation in addition to the annual salary which is now paid to him for performing the duties of that office.

SEC. 5. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved, June 28.

AN ACT for the furtherance of justice.

Be it enacted, &c. SEC. 1. Any justice of any court in this State, when the cause of justice will be promoted thereby, is hereby authorized to permit copies of any notes or instruments to be filed in any suit pending in said court, for the purpose of rendering judgment thereon.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect on its passage.

Approved, June 27.

Resolved, &c., That the Secretary of State be and hereby is authorized to procure the publication of the public acts and resolves of the Legislature at the close of each session in every weekly newspaper published in this State, at the rate of compensation established therefor in section four, chapter three of the Revised Statutes.

And be it further resolved, that chapter ten hundred and twenty-three of the Pamphlet Laws, approved July 12, 1859, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Approved June 27.

DR. SWETT'S
CORDIAL OF DANDELION,
SPIKENARD & BONESET,

A remedy unsurpassed for Liver Complaints, such as Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, Universal Debility, and the whole family of Consumptive Complaints.

Hundreds of testimonials might be added, proving the many cures by this pleasant and effectual medicine, especially of people advanced in life. Many old established constitutions have been greatly recruited by its use, and it is warranted to well pay the aged and dyspeptic. Price 75 cents.

[From Mrs. Daniel H. Williams.]

DR. SWETT—Dear Sir:—I presume you recollect that when I saw you, about a year since, I was very low, and had been for a long time, with dyspeptic complaints, being very weak, with no appetite, and pain in my head, stomach and side; but now my health is comparatively good, and I consider this great deliverance attributable, mainly, to the two bottles of your "Compound Cordial of Dandelion," which you left for me. I consider this the best medicine I ever found for the complaints for which you recommend it on the labels.

MARY E. WILLIAMS.

Concord, N. H., May 23, 1858.

[From Mrs. Ebenezer Blazo.]

GREENLAND, NOV. 20, 1858.

DR. SWETT—Dear Sir:—The distressing disease called Salt Rheum, which has been a great trial of me, and which had baffled the skill of all my former physicians, has been fully cured by the two bottles of your Cordial which I had of you last spring. Yours with respect,

SALLY BLAZO.

This unequalled medicine, together with others carefully prepared by Dr. SIMEON SWETT, from innocent but effectual vegetables, are for sale by him at No. 12 CABOT ST., Portsmouth, N. H.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.

$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to our authorized Agent, will insure a bottle of the Pills by return mail. July9

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

A compound remedy in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made, and we have succeeded in extract of Pure Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective remedy for all those complaints for which it is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and those which will eradicate them from the system must be of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow citizens. How completely this compound will do it, has been proven by extensive experiment and by the most cases to be found in the following complaints:—

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, TUBERCLES, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, MERCURIAL ULCERS, OR THE DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the Spring, to expel the foul humors which foster in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can do this for the sake of this remedy, spare themselves from the encurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, from the sickness and disgust of corruptions, and be enabled to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated humors whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions or sores;—cleanse it when you find it is obstructed or sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health and live life longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is healthy; and this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must give way, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by the quantity of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts have been but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or anything else.

During late years the public have been misled by large promises, pretending to give a part of Extract of Sarparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little or no Sarsaparilla, but often no properties whatever. Hence bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly opposed, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall recence the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have grounds for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should hold closely taken accompanying directions on the bottle.

PREPARED BY

DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,

LOWELL, MASS.

PRICE, $1 PER BOTTLE; SIX BOTTLES FOR $5.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has won for itself such a renown for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaints, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to present the evidence of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR THE CURE OF

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Biliousness, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner pill, and for Purifying the blood.

They are sugar-coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Price, 25 cents per box; five boxes for $1.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen and eminent personages, have left their names to certify the unparalleled excellence of these pills, but our space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agent below named furnishes gratis our American Almanac, in which these certificates are given, with full descriptions of the above complaints, and the treatment that should be followed for their cure.

We would be pleased to supply regular dealers with other preparations they make more profit on.—Demand AYER's, and take no other. The sick want the best aid there is for their, and they should have it.

All our remedies are for sale by W. R. Preston, Portsmouth, and by all druggists and merchants in the civilized world. 6m—ja14

The Liver Invigorator.

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD.

COMPOUNDED ENTIRELY FROM GUMS, Herbs and Roots. PURE WINES and LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These GUMS remove all morbid or bad matter, and purify the blood from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, improving the appetite, causing food to digest well, PURIFYING THE BLOOD, giving vigor and long health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a complete cure.

BILIOUS ATTACKS are cured, and, what is better, prevented by a course of the celebrated Liver Invigorator.

Taken after eating, it is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring in the stomach.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents Nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently and cures CONSTIPENESS.

One dose taken after each meal will cure DYSPEPSIA.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve SICK HEADACHE.

Only one dose immediately relieves COLIC.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

HOME AND EUROPEAN DEMAND.

The reason why, is that by Nature's own process it restores the natural color perfectly, after the hair becomes gray; supplies the natural fluids, and thus makes it grow on bald heads, removes all dandruff, itching and heat from the scalp, cools and tones up the nerves, and thus cures all nervous headache, and may be relied upon to cure all diseases of the scalp and hair; it will stop and keep from falling off; makes it grow luxuriantly and beautifully, and if used by the young two or three times a week it will never fall or become gray; and finally, read the following and judge for yourselves:

MESSRS. O. J. WOOD & CO., New York, Jan. 8, 1858.

Gentlemen: Having heard a good deal about Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and my hair being quite gray, I made up my mind to lay aside my prejudices which I had against what so many persons, had against all manner of patent medicines, and a short time ago I commenced using your article; and I find it to be perfect.

The result has been so very satisfactory that I am very glad I did so, and in justice to you, as well as for the encouragement of others who may be as prejudiced as I was but without having tried without my reasons for setting it aside, are unwilling to give your Restorative a trial till they have further proof, and the best proof being ocular demonstration, I write you this letter, which you may show to any such, and also direct them to me for further proof, who am in and out of the N. Y. Wire Railing establishment every day.

My hair is now its natural color and much improved in appearance every way, being glossier and thicker and much more healthy looking. I am, yours respectfully, HENRY JENKINS.

Cor. Columbia and Carroll Sts., Brooklyn.

Brooklyn, L. I., December 8, 1858.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative has done much good in this part of the country. My hair has been slightly diminishing for several years, caused, I suppose, from a slight fever when I was quite an infant. I have been using your Hair Restorative for six weeks and I find that I have a good head of hair, and it is fast growing used all other remedies known, to no effect. I think it the most valuable remedy now extant, and advise all who are afflicted that way to use your remedy.

You can publish this if you think proper.

Yours, &c. S. W. MILLETON.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head where I have been bald, is growing—was in fact BALD. I have used but 2 half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the top of my head is well and bidding fair to a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal experience, it will recommend many others to try it. Yours, respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D.,
No. 464 Vine street.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds about twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion than the medium, and retails for $5 a bottle.

CONSUMPTION IS CURABLE!

BY THE USE OF

Winchester's Genuine Hypophosphites

Compound of the

HYPOPHOSPHITES

OF LIME, SODA AND POTASSH,

Originally discovered and prepared by him as a Specific Remedy for

CONSUMPTION!

The use of the Hypophosphites in CONSUMPTION, Scrofula, Nervous Debility, Asthma, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Skin, or diseases depending upon a DEFICIENT VITALITY IN THE ELEMENTS OF THE BLOOD, have proved their INVARIABLE EFFICACY in thousands of cases in Europe and America, and established the claim of the discoverer, that they are a SUE PREVENTATIVE, and a

SPECIFIC REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION.

Dr. Churchill says: "In no single instance have I found the remedy fail to accomplish everything that could be reasonably expected from it. In most instances the benefit derived from it has FAR EXCEEDED what could at first have been hoped for, when taking into account the degree of debility and the injury sustained by the lungs previously to the use of the remedy. * * * * Out of twenty-two cases in the third or last stage, terminated in Dispensary during the past year, EIGHT HAVE COMPLETELY RECOVERED, eight have died, and six are still under treatment. SUCH A RESULT IS ALTOGETHER UNPARALLELED IN THE ANNALS OF MEDICINE."

BE SURE TO PURCHASE WINCHESTER'S GENUINE HYPOPHOSPHITES

which is certified by Dr. James R. Chilton to be "PROPERLY MADE and chemically pure. My far simile signature is upon every bottle.

The price is $1 per bottle, or four bottles for $5, with full directions for use. Write for Circulars, which will give RELIABLE INFORMATION, and save from all possibility of deception. Sold wholesale, at the lowest cash rates, by the Sole General Depot in the United States, by J. WINCHESTER, American and Foreign Agency, 49 John street, New York.

DR J. B. HUGHES,

Knowing that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain diseases, who are still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines can be forwarded to any place, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by those who have long enjoyed, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and remittance, will overthe country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Hughes. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of knowing that is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female complaints. They will produce in a short certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public against the impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. in person, or they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—13 Howard street, Boston.

☞ A very heavy thunder shower occurred in Worcester county, Mass., on Wednesday afternoon, accompanied by loss of life. A small house near the depot in Milford was struck by lightning, the electric fluid passing down the chimney and out of the door, without the least harm being done, but from there it passed to the second house beyond, entering by an open window, prostrating in its course two females who were in the room, and instantly killing an Irishman named Michael Slattery.

The correspondent who sends the above to the Boston Journal, adds the following amusing reminiscence:

This death is the first one caused by lightning that ever occurred in the town. Some years since an old revolutionary soldier, named Benj. Johnson, was struck, but not killed. For two days he was insensible, when two doctors were called, who said he would die. Just at that moment his speech came to him, and calling his wife by name he said, "I have stood cannon and musket balls and bayonet, and I can stand thunder and lightning if doctors will only let me be"—and sure enough he recovered.

☞ Eight cows were killed by lightning in Wilton and Temple, N. H., Wednesday. In Boylston, Mass., Wednesday, the lightning struck the house of Eli Hastings, in which were five or six persons, shattering the chimney and killing the house dog. A little boy, with his hand upon the dog at the moment it was killed, did not feel the shock. The side of the chimney opposite to that which the lightning chose to follow was guarded by Lyon's twisted copper rod.

BURLEIGH ON SICKLES.—Burleigh says that in New York, "the new position of Mr. Daniel Sickles excites profound indignation. He has, so it is confidently stated, forgiven the past, and is now residing with his wife on the most loving terms, sailing out on the Hudson on moonlight nights, and doing things that create disgust among those who are his political friends, and who stood by him to the death struggle. Squibs, taunts, inuendos and general burlesque await the new turn things have taken. And the last act in the play, this comedy following the tragedy, will exert a wider and deeper influence on his life than the murder of Mr. Key. This is a strange place, this New York. I heard of the matter last week, but I thought it so unlikely that I would not then give place to the rumor. But no one doubts that the reconciliation has really taken place."

☞ CATHOLICS AND PROTESTANTS IN AUSTRIA.—The resolutions taken by the dignitaries of the archiepiscopal see of Vienna, which were approved by the Pope some week ago, were to have been published on Whit-Monday, but, fortunately, the Archbishop did not consider the moment opportune.—I say "fortunately," because the state of public feeling in Vienna is such that it would be imprudent to give the Viennese any new cause of dissatisfaction. One of the new resolutions, which are to be read from the pulpit, is that the Roman Church disapproves Catholics holding commune (Ungang pflegen) with Protestants, Jews, &c., and strongly advises them to avoid doing so. Catholics serving in the families of Protestants, Jews, &c., shall be "punished" (bestraft) by the church—which means that they will be refused absolution when they have confessed their sins to the priest. Is it reasonable that Austria should expect to meet with sympathy in Germany and England? In future, the Jews in the provincial town and villages will not be allowed to marry without having applied for and obtained the consent of the civil authorities.—Times' Vienna Corr.

THE ROMAN QUESTION.—Edmund About has written a volume on the Roman Question, which has been translated and republished. It seems to be witty even in its statistics, if we may judge from the opening paragraph, which we quote: "The Roman Catholic Church, which I sincerely respect, consists of one hundred and thirty-nine millions of individuals—without counting little Mortara."

☞ A coal shaft at Wesley City, Ill., sunk through quicksand, recently caved in, burying one of the workmen. The planking, however, prevented his being smothered, and after twenty-five hours digging the man was reached and rescued unhurt. During his incarceration he fell asleep and slept for several hours. His rescuers knew he was alive by hearing him knock on the plank.

☞ It is said that Jefferson Davis is preparing a bill to bring forward during the next session of Congress, to repeal the laws against the slave trade.

Oleine Diamond Oil.
GREATEST ILLUMINATOR OF THE AGE.
This Oil is entirely free from resinfiery, so that a lamp may be left burning any length of time desired, without filling a room with lamp-black or smoke.
It burns in the common oil lamp, with or without a chimney.
The light is far more pleasant than gas, as it is free from the disagreeable flickerings always attending a gas light, and is cheaper. We claim for this Oil:
1. That it is cheaper than any other artificial light.
2. That it has no odor.
3. That it will not smoke
4. That it burns with or without a chimney, hence it is portable.
5. That it will stand a lower degree of temperature than any other Oil.
6. That it is free from each of the objections that are brought against every other article heretofore or now being offered to the public for illuminating purposes.
Price $1.25 per gallon.

TUESDAY, JULY 19, 1859.

LEGISLATION.—The Union Democrat says:—

As we understand it, nobody asks for any legislation by Congress in behalf of slavery unless the Courts fail to afford it, to the extent which it is claimed the constitution requires. Under this theory, the matter is well enough; for if a case should occur, which should call for an authoritative decision of the Supreme Court, that decision would be sufficient and final, without the action of Congress.

That is very modest, certainly. Congress need not make a slave code, if Judge Taney and his colleagues make it soon enough to answer all the purposes.

☞ Seventy slaves arrived in Canada the other day in one lot, per underground railroad. They had been preceded by twenty-four others. That railway ought to pay well, as the trains appear to be crowded. The moment the slaves got out of a democratic country into one with monarchial institutions, they became men. Odd, isn't it? By the way, is it not time to conquer Canada, when it shows so little regard for the obligations of our Constitution?

LOTTERIES.—We never could see the difference between veritable, so called lotteries, or gambling, and much of the other business of the world which goes by different names—all insurance, speculations, and most of the trade and commerce of the world—in fact, all transactions involving risks, and not absolutely necessary to the welfare and real advancement of mankind. Now we are neither condemning all hazard in trade, nor defending lotteries—let both stand or fall on their own merits; we only say the different descriptions of risks appear more alike to our vision than they seem to, to many others.

But while we regard any lottery as a sufficiently risky way of investing money, to satisfy anybody, even when honestly "cast into the lap," and "the disposal thereof" left entirely "with God,"—we have before us positive evidence that all the Southern money lotteries are not so fairly conducted, though perhaps some of them may be. A prominent gentleman in this city, holding a public office, has recently received "confidential" letters from Spence & Co., and Nyce & Co., Baltimore, of which the following is nearly an exact copy of both. F.

Dear Sir:—We feel anxious to sell you a prize, and create some little excitement in your locality; and in view of the same, will offer you the preference of a finely arranged package of 25 tickets, in the lottery class 87—drawing July 28th—for the cost of only $10.

And to show you our confidence in its success, we will guarantee you another package, free of charge, if the first fails to draw at least a hundred dollar prize. See full scheme within. Please write early.

There has been much speculation as to what became of "the late Whig party." The problem is now solved, as we see by the late advices from Liberia that President Benson has been re-elected as the candidate of "the Whig party." So it seems the Whigs have been all this time carrying the war into Africa," and with success too, as their candidate was elected without opposition."—Transcript.

They seem to have made a mistake in the name; they surely should have been called Black Republicans.

☞ Mr. Charles S. Price of Alexandria has gone down to Mount Vernon for the purpose of making some repairs needed by the premises. These repairs are preliminary to the delivery of possession from John A. Washington, Esq., to the agent of the Ladies' Mount Vernon Association. The Alexandria Gazette says: "The carpenters' tools imported from England by General Washington, during his lifetime, have been preserved, and will, in all probability, be used now in making the contemplated repairs."

☞ The Manchester, N. H. Mirror says: Our readers in New Hampshire and Vermont can find a market for their wool, in in large or small quantities, at the Manchester Mills, at regular market prices. It will save them from the hands of speculators, and they will always feel sure that they get the full value for their wool.

☞ The thunder storm on Sunday was very severe at Hampton, and caused considerable damage. The wind blew a perfect gale, fences were blown down, trees torn up by the roots, &c. Considerable damage was also done to the grain crop. The lightning struck and demolished a tree near the house of Daniel Moulton.

SUPPOSED SUICIDE.—New York, July 18.—At Jamaica, L. I., on Thursday, Mrs. Lane Winton, aged 21 years, and her daughter, aged two, were found drowned in a shallow creek, faces downwards, the child clasped in the mother's arms. The mother had been deserted by her husband, and is supposed to have drowned herself and child purposely while laboring under a fit of temporary insanity.

☞ See Stevens's new advertisements this morning. The "Polar Refrigerator" is the neatest and best thing we have ever seen of the kind.

LATE FROM EUROPE.

By steamer India, we have Liverpool dates to July 6.

There has been no fighting.

The siege of Peschiera by the Sardinians was progressing.

The French were threatening Verona.

Napoleon's headquarters were at Vallegio.

The German Diet had adopted the Regent of Prussia's recommendations to place an Army of Observation on the Rhine.

Private despatches from the French headquarters, dated 3d, say: This morning at 7 o'clock, the Emperor quitted Tolta, in order to cross the Mincio, and establish his headquarters at Vallegio. We are only four leagues from Peschiera, the siege of which was begun two days ago by the Sardinians. Cannons roar night and day in that direction. The Austrian advance post is but a short distance from Villa Franca, which is occupied by the corps of Marshal Niel.

PARTICULARS OF THE BATTLE OF SOLFERINO.—Additional details of the battle of Solferino, published in the London Times' correspondence with the Austrian army, estimates the Austrian loss at 12,000 to 15,000 killed and wounded. No generals were killed, but four or five were wounded. Several colonels and numerous other officers were killed or wounded.

Another account says the total loss of the 2d Austrian army was 230 officers and 9000 privates killed and wounded. About 4000 were missing, most of whom have returned.

The French employed a balloon to give signals when the Austrians were advancing.

The Sardinian loss was 59 officers killed, 167 wounded; 645 men killed, 3400 wounded, and 1250 missing.

The Vienna correspondent of the Times says it is believed that if the Emperor Francis Joseph had not been present at Solferino there would have been a different result.

The Herald's Turin correspondent says 20,000 beds had been ordered down from Milan to Brescia, and 10,000 from Turin.

There are great complaints of scarcity of provisions in the villages occupied by the allies.

KOSSUTH IN ITALY.—Kossuth having arrived on the 22d of June at Genoa, proceeded next day to Turin. At every station on the road crowds of Italians assembled to cheer him. After two long interviews with Cavour at Turin, Kossuth, in company with a confidential friend of the Sardinian Minister, set out for Parma, the headquarters of Prince Napoleon. The same scenes of enthusiasm were witnessed; at Piacenza his carriage was drawn by the people. At Parma he had an interview with Prince Napoleon. On the 28th Kossuth set out for the headquarters of the Emperor Napoleon, provided with letters from Cavour and Prince Napoleon to the Emperor.

PAPAL STATES.—Inquiry into the late disturbances at Perugia has been ordered.

An official condemnation, by the French government of an article which appeared in the Paris Siecle, affirms that respect for Papacy forms part of the programme which the Emperor is carrying out in Italy. The responsibility of the conflict at Perugia is cast upon those who compelled the Pontificial government to make use of an armed force for legitimate defence.

GREAT BRITAIN.—In the House of Commons, Mr. Griffiths inquired whether the British Consul at Rio had exercised his authority to prevent a certain contract for the sale of slaves in Brazil by the British Mining Company from being carried into effect. Lord John Russell said the Company had been informed that they were liable to a penalty if slaves were sold.

Lord Paget said it was intended during the present session to bring in a bill to carry out the recommendations of the Commissioners for manning the navy.

Lord Palmerston reported a statement that no reform measure could be introduced at present.

On the 5th, in the Lords, Lord Stratford de Radcliffe gave notice of a resolution approving the neutral attitude assumed by government, relying on the continuance of that policy, at the same time adopting measures for the completion of the national defences.

Lord Lyndhurst strongly advocates vigorous measures of defence, both on sea and land. He thought that a regular militia force of 100,00 men ought to be maintained, and also an equal force of disembodied trained militia. He regarded the assertion that France had no wish to invade England as undeserving of consideration. England ought to live in perfect independence of French forbearance, relying alone on the vigor of the people.

The 5th of July was celebrated in London by a banquet at St. James Hall. Gen. R. B. Campbell, U. S. Consul at London, presided.

WESTFIELD, Mass., July 17.—The body of a man was discovered in Little River yesterday afternoon, which has since been identified as that of Edmund Morse, who has been missing for over two years. The flesh is all dried on the bones, and the body evidently had not been in the water very long. The case is mysterious.

WASHINGTON NEWS.—Washington, July 18.—Mr. Marston, the New Hampshire treasury clerk, has been removed, after getting temporary leave of absence.

(Tribune Washington correspondence.) The statement that Judge Douglas proposes writing another exposition of his views on the territorial question is unfounded.

No interference is intended to be made by government with the troops raised in this country for the Mexican service.

The President goes to Bedford Springs tomorrow, for a fortnight's relaxation.

The Mexican Minister has a despatch from President Juarez's Minister of Finance, who arrived at New Orleans yesterday. Juarez wants the assistance of from 3000 to 5000 American troops.

☞ Francis Joseph has given up the command of the Austrian army in Italy.—This is bad. He was "the right man in the right place"—for the Allies.

☞ The American Dental Convention is to be holden at Niagara Falls, on the 2d of August.

The democracy intend to do them [the republicans] up brown next March.—N. H. Patriot.

As the Patriot has been telling the same story the last five years, it is possible that it believes it; but it is very certain none of its readers are so verdant.—Dover Enquir.

☞ The gentleman who stood upon ceremony has lost his footing, and now finds he has slipped out of a very pleasant circle.

Seven Octave Piano --- New Scale.

The Subscriber having just received a superior SEVEN OCTAVE PIANO-FORTE, made according to his order by the celebrated firm of HALLET, DAVIS & CO., would offer it for the inspection of persons desirous of purchasing. H. D. & Co. have recently made great improvements in the manufacture of Pianos, the most important of which is the New Scale, which, while obviating the weakness which has hitherto been found in the upper part of square Seven Octave Pianos, gives it a power of tone nearly equal to that of the Horizontal Grand.

Having been for several years Agent for the sale of Pianos of the above make, Mr. H. is prepared to state that the instrument which they now are making, far excel any of their former manufacture.

Purchasers will find it greatly to their advantage to call and examine the above mentioned Piano, as it is the only one in Portsmouth which contains the NEW SCALE.

Pilotage Notice.

The Commissioners of Pilotage call the attention of the public to the following act passed at the last session of the Legislature of the State of New Hampshire. Per order. W. L. DWIGHT, Sec.
July 16, 1859.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

In the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine.

AN ACT IN RELATION TO PILOTS AND PILOTAGE IN THE RIVER AND HARBOR OF THE PISCATAQUA.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened:

SECTION 1.—Any pilot appointed by the Commissioners of Pilotage for the river and harbor of the Piscataqua, and who has given bonds to the Commissioners of Pilotage for the faithful discharge of his duties, may take charge of any vessels, except coasting and fishing vessels of the United States, of one hundred and fifty Registered or Enrolled tons and under, and shall pilot any such vessel into or out of the river and harbor of the Piscataqua, first allowing to the master thereof his appointment, if requested.

SECTION 2.—Any master or owner may pilot his own vessel; but if any pilot shall speak and offer service to any vessel, coasting and fishing vessels of the the United States, of one hundred and fifty Registered or Enrolled tons or under, bound into the river or harbor of the Piscataqua, south of a line drawn east and west from Whale's Back Light House, or shall offer service to any vessel bound out of the River and Harbor of the Piscataqua, except coasting and fishing vessels of the United States, of one hundred and fifty Registered or Enrolled tons and under, he shall be entitled to one-half of the fees specified in his warrant in case the master or owner declines to employ him, and on refusal of payment may sue for and recover the same; and all vessels requiring pilot into or out of the river and harbor of the Piscataqua, shall take branch Pilots, if such offer their services to inward bound vessels south of a line drawn east and west from Whale's Back Light House, and to outward bound vessels before they leave the wharf.

SECTION 3.—All further regulations regarding Pilots and Pilotage, shall be arranged and regulated by the board of Commissioners for the said river and harbor of the Piscataqua.

SECTION 4.—All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION 5.—This act shall take effect on its passage.

NAPOLEON B. BRYANT,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
JOSEPH A. GILMORE,
President of the Senate.

Approved June 27, 1859.
ICHABOD GOODWIN,
Governor.

The Best Medicine in the World.

YES—DECIDEDLY THE BEST—IS

Dr. Langley's Root and Herb Bitters.

They are made from the most valuable Roots, Herbs and Plants in the vegetable kingdom.—They act once upon the Liver, the seat of disease.—They remove all obstructions from the internal organs—regulate the Bowels—purify the Blood—remove Humors—excite the Liver to a healthy action—give strength and tone to the stomach—cure Jaundice and Dyspepsia—create an appetite—increase and renew the circulation—remove all Bilious diseases—cure Piles, Headache, Weakness, &c., and are the best medicine ever discovered for all Female Complaints. The purity, heal, strengthen, build up and keep in order "the house you live in."

Doctors' prescriptions, clothed in Latin verbs,
Now yield the palm to Langley's Roots and Herbs;
Forsake vile drugs and cull from Nature's store,
As did the Patriarchs in days of yore.
Roots, Herbs and Barks, the best in Nature's store,
From broad Atlantic to Pacific's shore.
From North to South, their healing virtues lend,
And in these Bitters prove the people's friend.
They'll strengthen, warm, your bodies vigorous make,
Rouse drooping spirits and new blood create.
So if you wish to feel well, act well, do well and keep well, use this standard valuable medicine.

Only 25 cts. for a pint, 38 cts. for a large bottle. Sold by dealers in medicine everywhere.

Orders addressed to J. O. LANGLEY, or to GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., BOSTON.

Common Sense rules the mass of the people, whatever the misnamed and misanthrope philosophers may say to the contrary. Show them a good thing: let its merits be clearly demonstrated, and they will not hesitate to give it their most cordial patronage. The masses have already ratified the judgment of a physician, concerning the virtues of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, as may be seen in the immense quantities of this medicine that are annually sold in every section of the land. It is now recognized as greatly superior to all other remedies yet devised for diseases of the digestive organs, such as costiveness, dysentery, dyspepsia, and for the various fevers that arise from derangement of those portions of the system. Hostetter's name is rapidly becoming a household word, from Maine to Texas; from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pasific. Try the article and be satisfied.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

DYSENTERY.—For Dysentery and similar complaints of the Summer season, the PERUVIAN SYRUP has proved a remarkable preventive and cure. By imparting tone to the intestinal mucous membrane, it places this surface in the best possible condition to resist the irritation of crude and indigestible articles of food.

Dyspepsia.

Considering the various forms in which this disease developes itself, it may well be called hydra-headed. In its train follow Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, Heartburn, Water Brash, Costiveness, Piles, Acidity, Oppression after Eating, Jaundice, Flatulency, Torpor of the Liver, Dizziness, Debility, Female Complaints, &c. Some of the first men in our land have given their written certificates relative to the cures effected in their own persons by the Oxygenated Bitters; while testimonials from other sources, editorial opinions and voluntary expressions from persons averse to see their names in print, are perfectly overwhelming.

Read the following from a highly respectable Clergyman:

EAST TAUNTON, Mass., Feb. 9, '58.

To the Editor of the Portland Mirror:—Sir:—

OXYGENATED BITTERS—For more than twenty five years I have been a sufferer from the dyspepsia. Besides trying the patience of my family physicians in the almost useless trial of their various prescriptions, I have tried a great variety of patent medicines with a similar result. Through the influence of my family physician, last March, half a dozen bottles of the OXYGENATED BITTERS. I began to use them without any hope of deriving help from them. Being determined to give them a fair trial, I continued their use, but without any perceptible benefit till June.

Since then I have gradually improved in health till I am entirely free from acidity of the stomach, and from the consequent flatulency, and the awful and almost distracting, sick headache, which often, for days together, has wholly unfitted me for study and for all other ministerial duties, and rendered life a burden.

I feel that I owe it, as an expression of gratitude to Messrs. Fowle & Co., and also a duty to the public, to recommend their Oxygenated Bitters, as, in my estimation, a sure remedy for that most trying, most vexing, and cruel of all diseases, to which poor human flesh is heir, the dyspepsia. Having suffered long and long and tried so many different remedies with no good result, I can recommend the Oxygenated Bitters with a confidence few others can. If any of the readers of the Mirror are suffering, I beg of them to make trial of these Bitters without delay.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

This Gin, distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveilance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use. It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of INTERNAL GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, confiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st.; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 67 Blackstone st.; R. LOCAL.

☞ Concerning the fire in Green street, Saturday afternoon, there was considerable talk on Monday.

We hear that two young men named Smith, who lived in the house next the stable, lost all their clothing; and one of them who had just come from sea, had his chest burned, containing all his money and personal effects. A hard case truly.

We certainly think the Fire Department did well to stop the flames where they did—and so do the neighbors who so narrowly escaped a scathing; but an anonymous (and so of course irresponsible) correspondent finds fault with the Chief Engineer for impressing or trying to impress outsiders into the service, &c. We have always regarded the present Engineer as an efficient officer, and shan't change our opinion for any unknown writer.

Another correspondent (whose article we publish because presented personally by a responsible gentleman) complains that Market street was unnecessarily obstructed by the hose; but states to us that the evil was remedied when brought to the notice of the Chief Engineer.

Then there are reports of excessive liquor drinking, which of course was followed by the consequent rowdyism, fighting, &c. We are told there was more than one knock-down between firemen of different companies—but we had no reporter present at the time of the fire.

It is a disgrace to the city in whose employ the firemen are, as well as to the companies themselves and those would-be friends who treat them,—that liquor is dealt out so often and so freely after fires—thus creating or feeding a flame which dies not, but consumeth that which is of more value than all the property engine-water ever preserved. Must these things ever be?

A CARD.—The officers and members of Atlantic Engine Co. No. 6, would return their sincere thanks to Messrs. Jacquith, Hall & Co., and to Edward S. Wendell, Esq., for the bountiful supply of refreshments furnished them at the fire on Green street, on Saturday last; also to our volunteers, for their valuable assistance in drawing the machine to the fire, and working her there. Gentlemen, one and all, should an opportunity occur to return these favors, the Atlantic will not be found wanting.

Per order. JOHN L. RICE, Clerk.

THANKS.—The subscriber wishes to acknowledge his great obligations to his friends and neighbors, the city Fire Department, and the Engine Company from the Navy Yard, for the preservation of his house and other property, from destruction by the fire in Green street, on Saturday. The kind services rendered were all the more grateful, as the danger was imminent and the subscriber himself not on the premises at the time. WM. G. COFFIN.

For the Chronicle.

NOT A CARD OF THANKS.—Have you got the United States Mail? inquired a "stripling" of a man of "grey hairs." Answer—No. Then we shall not let you go across with your stage coach (meaning thereby to stop all other stage coaches, wagons, and teams of every sort on the line between Rye, Greenland, Stratham, Portsmouth, Kittery, Eliot, York, &c., &c.) until we put that fire out. We will not make a five minutes' effort in putting protectors to our hose. The opportunities for exhibiting our skill(?) at engineering are few, and the money compensation for our services is very small, but the glory is the thing,—and if WE can only bring to halt about 500 horses, with the teams and people, in a grand line from Portsmouth Parade on one side to Spinney's Hill on the other, and show to the astonished multitude our mighty power to make people stay in town, or let them go out, as we please; to make them halt till midnight or go round by a doubtful road, so that they shall acknowledge our power, it will be glory enough for one day.

But leaving this mode of treating a little incident which occurred at the fire on Saturday, would it not be well for all persons, youth in particular, who learn how to put out fires, also to learn that they cannot unreasonably obstruct the highway without rendering the town liable for damages? and if they undertake engineering, or whatever else, it is better to understand the rudiments than attempt to "show off."

Blessed indeed are we that live under the christian dispensation, some of the chief features of which are the instruction of the "ignorant," and the reformation of those that are "out of the way;" otherwise (their exact deserts being meted to them) the only position the impertinence above named could have a well-grounded hope of, would be a horizontal one, under the hoofs and wheels of said teams, &c. K. P.

Messrs. Editors:—Among the lost from ship Bolton, which went ashore on the rocks, was Mr. Alexander F. Harrold, first officer, son of Mr. James Harrold of this city—a smart and worthy young man. His age was 24 years, and he has left a large circle of friends and acquaintances to mourn his early loss. **

☞ Now is the time for those concerts by the Cornet Band. The matter will be decided this week—and if the $200 is subscribed, one of the entertainments will be given on Thursday evening. How much will you give? You can answer the question tangibly, when the purse is presented by the canvasser, or at Preston's or Kimball's stores. The circus carried away probably $1000 of Portsmouth money—can't one-fifth as much be raised for our own home amusement and entertainment? We think it can.

LADIES' BATH HOUSE.

Messrs. Editors:—Boys, young gentlemen and old gentlemen, are daily enjoying the pleasure of a cool dip into the refreshing waters of the Piscataqua. On these summer days, at sundown, there is hardly a nook above Portsmouth bridge which has not its group of hilarious divers. There is health and pleasure for the boys, but at present there are no such enjoyments for the girls. Will no one speak for them? If they may skate in the winter, why should they be deprived of one of the greatest every day luxuries of the summer season?

Through the enterprise of a few gentlemen, a salt water bathing house of small pretensions but of great utility, has been placed on the westerly side of Noble's Island, where at a small annual cost, the subscribers enjoy a daily bath in the cooling waters;—but another is wanted for the ladies. Shall they have it?

At a cost of one thousand dollars, an establishment can be erected which would open the way for a new and delightful recreation to hundreds of young persons who are now strangers to the charming exercise of swimming. The "Noble" proprietors of the island aforesaid are willing to grant a similar privilege to that now afforded at the men's bath house,—and thus the cost of maintaining it would be but trifling.

Who is disposed to make a good investment, to live immortal in the grateful hearts of the present and future generations of young ladies? Here is the opportunity to do so, and at the same time to put money into his purse. AQUA.

ISLES OF SHOALS.

A writer in the Newburyport Herald, who has just been there, says of the Shoals:

It is of interest to remark, as showing the prosperous condition of these islands, and the means of education in the 'olden times,' that gentlemen of consideration in some of the principal towns on the sea coast sent their sons there for liberal instruction.

The war of the Revolution produced a disastrous change. It was found by the Whigs that their enemies extorted articles of sustenance as well as recruits for their service, and they ordered the inhabitants to abandon their homes. In obedience to the hard mandate, a large portion removed to towns on the main land, and never returned.

A single incident that occurred early in the contest will serve to illustrate the general situation of islanders previous to their dispersion. An aged woman who lived on Star Island, kept two cows, which were fed in winter on hay cut in summer among the rocks with a knife, and with her own hands. The useful animals were always in excellent order, and to her were invaluable. To her great sorrow, though paid for, they were taken by the British and slaughtered for beef. The population in 1675 was about six hundred.

Winthrop, first resident Governor of Massachusetts, who arrived at Salem June, 1630, and died 1649, aged 61, "worn out by toils and depressed by afflictions," notices the oversetting of a shallop in 1632, and the drowning of three fishermen, whose boat was cast upon the rocks eleven days later. Hubbard speaks of several fishermen who, embarking at the Isles a day or two before Christmas, 1671, to keep the holiday at Portsmouth, perished in going ashore from their vessel. In 1695, many boats and men were lost in a violent gale.

At a time when piracies were committed on the coast, a fisherman of the name of Charles Randall, with others, was taken by some freebooters and whipped with great severity. This act perpetrated, the pirates said, "you know old Dr. Cotton Mather, do you?" "Yes," was the reply, "we have heard of him as a very good man." "Well, then," rejoined the gang, "our orders are to make each of you jump up three times and say each time, 'Curse Parson Mather! otherwise you are all to be hanged.'" Randall and his companions immediately complied.

In 1731, the Rev. John Tucke was ordained; the text was from these words, "I will make you fishers of men." Among the votes passed by the inhabitants at the time of his settlement, was one imposing a fine of forty shillings, old tenor, on all who every fall, when he has his wood to carry, is able to come but will not come.

☞ The Manchester American says,—"The Portsmouth Gazette, having lost its government patronage, is on its last legs,—or in other words, the present editor, Alexander, finds it impossible to meet expenses, and is about to leave."

We know not whether there be any truth in this paragraph—and if any, how much of it is true—but as the first intimation the public here had of Alexander the Great being ordered to this government newspaper station, came through the Manchester papers, it may be that this statement is also correct. At any rate, that old Gazette horse seems to be a dreadful hard animal to ride, for besides being at once tender-mouthed and hard bitted, he is rather stiff in the joints.

☞ The New Masonic Hall is to be dedicated this evening. Members and visiting Brothers will find a very beautiful style of apron, suitable for the occasion, at Chas. C. Harvey's, Exchange Buildings.

and as a Beverage it has no superior in the world. It is manufactured by the proprietor, at Schiedam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spiritous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, Bladder and Kidney Complaints, &c. &c.

CHEMICAL TESTIMONY.

D. Jose Luis Casaseca, Corresponding Member of the Royal Academies of Madrid and Munich, a Graduate in Sciences of the Faculty of Paris, formerly Professor of Chemistry, as applied to the Arts, of the Royal Conservatorio of Madrid, and of Physics and Chemistry, as applied to the Industry and Agriculture of the country, in the Royal University of this Island, at present H. M's Director of the Institute of Chemical Investigation, &c., &c.

Do hereby certify, that at the request of the house of Gottig & Will, of this place, I have made an analytical examination of U. Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps, with the object of ascertaining if it contained any substance noxious to health, and to inform them as to its true composition and relative quality with the other gins that are offered in the market, and the results of my observations and experiments are as follows:—

Udolpho Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is a spirituous liquid, of a very agreeable aromatic odor, completely transparent and almost colorless, having only a very slight tint of yellowish gray; its flavor is strong and very agreeable to the palate. It marks 20 degrees in Cartier's alcohol weigher or 52 degrees 5 hundredth in Gay Lussac's alcohometre. By the distillation in a balnium maria, with an apparatus consisting of a glass retort and a recipient surrounded with ice, I have collected in this recipient an alcoholic liquid with a very agreeable aroma completely colorless and transparent, which marked 90 degrees in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, or 70 degrees 5 hundredth on Gay Lussac's alcohometre; and which represented as a whole 57 per cent. of aromatic Schiedam schnapps subject to distillation in the retort. This liquid did not soil the transparency of the distilled water in mixing it with the same, and its agreeable aroma is doubtless due to a very trifling amount of an essential oil inseparable from alcohol.

From the remainder of the distillation which was left in the retort, I have obtained, through evaporation in a vapor bath, a substance of a yellowish brown color, clear, and having a bitter taste, which is not disagreeable, and which afterwards becomes aromatic and preserves this merit, performed with that fragrance peculiar to the vanilla. I am inclined to believe that to this bitter and aromatic extractive substance, soluble in water and alcohol, the medicinal properties which are attributed to this gin are due. I have not found in Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps any mineral or organic substance other than the extractive one already named and the aromatic one obtained by distillation. Finally, Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps contains 90 per cent. aromatic alcohol of 20 degrees of graduation in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, and of an extractive bitter aromatic substance, which perhaps, is medicinal; and, on account of its not containing any matter injurious to the health, as well as for its odor and good flavor—a fact which no doubt arises from the choice materials employed in its manufacture, and from the peculiar manner of its distillation, it should in my opinion, be preferred to all the Holland, Belgic and German gins which are found in this land which it has been my business to examine. These gins as I have often proved it, exhale a disagreeable odor, and have a more or less disagreeable flavor, some of them having left as was the case with the superior gin from the distillery of Mr. Henry Deetjen (of Bremen,) as residum after evaporation by steam a substance almost insipid and very trifling aromatic, with flavor of vanilla, but in no wise with the delicious bitter and aromatic flavor of that of Udolpho Wolfe; and others, such as that labelled "Genuine Samaritan," "Extra Superior," Hiram Tranner have furnished me with a very small quantity of a greenish substance, of harsh metallic taste and very disagreeable, which extractive organic matter was mixed with a salt of copper, with signs of iron, owing perhaps, to a bad system of distillation.

I certify that all that is here stated is the truth and agrees with the experiments I have made with the greatest care, and I authorize the house of Gottig & Will, of this city, to give publicity to this certificate, in Spanish and in foreign languages, in all countries where it may suit their interest to do so. EASTERN RAILROAD in N.HAMPSHIRE.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire, was holden here on Tuesday. Gov. Goodwin, President of the Corporation, called the meeting to order, and presided. The meeting adjourned from the depot to the Court House. A large number of stockholders were in attendance.

The following report of the Investigating Committee was read by Mr. Rollins.

To the Stockholders of the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire.

The Committee appointed at the last annual meeting "to inquire whether the conditions of the lease between this company and the Eastern Railroad have been complied with, and any other matters they deem expedient," respectfully report that they first directed their attention to the inquiry, whether such dividends had been paid to the stockholders in this company as are required by the terms and intention of the lease? confining their attention on this point, however, to the time that has elapsed since the payment of the last dividend.

By the lease, the net income, so far as the two companies are concerned, is to be ascertained by deducting from the gross income "all charges and expenses that may be incurred by the Eastern Railroad Company in rebuilding, maintaining and keeping in good condition said railroads and the buildings, bridges and other structures and property that may be held or used in connection therewith, and their appurtenances; also all taxes which shall be assessed on the same or on any part thereof during said term; also the rent of such real estate as may be hired by said Eastern Railroad company in conducting the business of said roads, and the tolls, charges and maintenance of any ferry or ferries; also the cost and expense of renewing, replacing and keeping in repair any and all moving power, engines and cars that may be used on said railroads respectively; also the cost and expense of purchasing and procuring fuel; also the salaries, wages and compensation of all superintendents, engineers, agents, clerks, assistants and servants who may be employed by the said Eastern Railroad Company upon said Railroads or either of them, or any part thereof or in any business connected therewith or relating thereto; and all just claims for damages that may be sustained by any person or persons travelling in the cars on either of said railroads, and for the loss, destruction or damage of any property that may be carried in said cars; and all and singular costs expenses and damages which said Eastern Railroad Company may be liable for as common carriers; and generally all charges that may be incurred in the management of the business or concerns of the said railroads, or any part thereof, and all incidental charges and expenses and interest that may accrue on any past or future loans made by said Commonwealth [Massachusetts] or otherwise to said Eastern Railroad Company, and all sums required to be paid as a sinking fund for the redemption of any such loan or loses; "and by the terms of the lease the balance (if any) is the net income to be divided between the two companies in proportion to their respective loans.

If at any time the Eastern Railroad Company should decide not to make a dividend to their own stockholders, they are nevertheless bound to pay over to this corporation its share of the profits, unless they exercise the power given them by the lease to create a reserved fund to be used for the benefit of this corporation; but for this they cannot reserve an amount exceeding ten per cent. of our capital. We are assured by the Treasurer that there is no reserved and no sinking fund, and of course neither can embarrass the calculation of the amount due us.

Calculating the net income according to the terms of the lease, there was due to us

In Dec. 1854,	3½	per cent. or	$17,237 50
In June, 1855,	3	" "	3,693 75
In " 1856,	4½	" "	23,393 75
In " 1857,	5	" "	24,625 00
In " 1858,	4	" "	19,700 00
In " 1859,	5½	" "	28,318 00
Making now due us	23½	" "	116,968 00

Besides interest on those sums from the time when they were due.

In the above account the matter has been considered as if the Eastern Railroad Company was in the same position as in 1840, when the lease was made: but it is not. At that time the Eastern Railroad Co. had a capital of $1,600,000, and the road was finished with a single track, to the extent of their charter, and the lease was entered into under no expectation of any material increase of their capital stock. But the capital of that company is now $2,855,400 and their debt $2,191,752,40, notwithstanding they have within a few years past made very large reductions in the amount of their debts, a considerable part of which have been paid with money belonging to our company. The increase in capital stock and debt has been occasioned in part by the expenditure of more than a million of dollars in the extension of their road into Boston, and more than $900,000 for branches little or no value, besides paying $160,000 more for the worthless stock of the Grand Junction Road and of the Great Falls and South Berwick Branch Railroad. Still another part of this increase is occasioned by the defalcations of an officer appointed by them and under their control, and which should not affect the accounts with us.

We can find no provision in the lease authorizing any such radical change in the position of the parties. If there had been, can it be supposed for a moment that this Company would have entered into the contract?

No! the accounts should be settled as if the Eastern Railroad Company were now in the same condition as in 1840.

Without entering into an exact calculation of this account, it will be sufficient for the present purpose to add to the net income $120,000 per annum, being 6 per cent. on $2,000,000 of the money wasted, and considering their present stock as the proper basis.

This will add 3½ per cent. per annum to the amount due us; making now due to this company 41½ per cent. on its capital, besides the interest on these amounts.

All of the above amounts are really less than the amount due, as an exact calculation will show.

But it has been said that this Company is in debt to the Eastern Railroad Co. though the statements of the amount differ very much.

In the report of the Eastern Railroad Company for 1857, the amount due them is stated at $17,648,17; and in 1858 at the same sum. In the table on page 7 of the report of this year, the same debt is stated as $78,403,59 in May 1857, and $83,063,59 in May 1858; while the Directors of this corporation stated it in May 1858 to be $99,214,35.

Early in May last we called on the Treasurer of the Eastern Railroad Company to state the account. He stated in writing the amount due as $17,648,17. This was made by charges of certain items which the committee did not deem it necessary to examine into, as whether they were proper or not, they have been allowed by the Directors of this Company in the exercise of their legal powers.

The Treasurer also stated that there was a further sum due as the share of this Company in the amount paid for stock of the Great Falls & South Berwick Branch Railroad Co., but that no charge had as yet been made to this Company, as no calculation had been made of the share which we should pay. No part of this is due from us because the Directors of this Company had no authority to make any such purchase. But we are happy to learn by the report of the Directors of the Eastern Railroad Co. the present year, that they claim none of these sums from us.

We deem it our duty to remark, that the transactions with regard to the Gt. Falls & South Berwick Branch Railroad stock have been such that there is a suit now pending against this Company by a creditor of that company who claims that we are liable as a stockholder in that company,—but we are of the opinion that this company will in the end suffer no loss therefrom, except the cost of a law suit.

We would recommend to the stockholders the passage of the annexed resolution.

We are pleased to state that immediately on the appointment of this committee the records of the Stockholders and Directors were opened freely to our inspection, and that Mr. Parker, the Treasurer of the Eastern Railroad Company, has shown himself disposed to facilitate our inquiries in any way in his power.

Portsmouth, July 12th, 1859.

Signed. Wm. H. Rollins, Abbot Walker, William H. Hackett, } Committee

Resolved, That the Directors of this corporation are hereby instructed immediately to take such steps as they may deem expedient to recover from the Eastern Railroad Company the amount due us.

The report occasioned considerable discussion, occupying the forenoon. On motion of W. H. Y. Hackett, Esq. the resolution was so amended as to read as follows:

"Resolved, That the Directors of this Company be instructed to take immediate steps to recover from the Eastern Railroad Company the amount of dividend in said lease, or in such other mode as they shall judge proper, the amount due us, if any."

The resolution as amended was adopted.

"AS OTHER PROPERTY."

DOUGLAS'S BID FOR THE PRESIDENCY.

Mr. Douglas, in his letter on the Presidential nomination, June 22, 1859, says,

"If the Convention shall interpolate, into the creed of the party, * * * * the doctrine that the Constitution of the U. S. either establishes or prohibits slavery in the territories, beyond the power of the people to control it AS OTHER PROPERTY, it is due to candor to say that in such an event I could not accept the nomination if tendered to me."

We are glad to see this letter, for it will put a stop to a great fraud which certain democratic papers are attempting. It is now nearly a year since Mr. Douglas entirely abandoned Popular Sovereignty, surrendered all his Northern guns, retreated on to Southern ground, endorsed the Dred Scott decision, and declared that by that decision a Southerner has the same right to carry his slave into the territories that he has to carry his horse there. Since Dec. 1856, when that decision established slavery as a constitutional institution in all the territories of the United States, Mr. Douglas has never intimated that the people of the territories can pass laws to abolish slavery. He has repeatedly declared, during the past year, that the right of the South to hold slaves in the territories was a constitutional right, and neither he nor any other man ever dared to argue that a constitutional right could be taken away by Congress, by legislatures or by the people, in any way, except by abolition, by Constitutional Amendment, or by revolution. Now he admitted that the right of the South to own slaves in the territories was a constitutional right, of course there was an end to his Popular Sovereignty. Notwithstanding all this, an attempt has been made to cheat the people into the belief that he still occupied his former position of Popular Sovereignty. His last letter exposes and extinguishes totally and forever this attempted deception. Making his last bid for the next Presidential nomination, after long reflection and deliberation, he carefully announces his present position. He says that the Constitution does not establish "slavery in the territories beyond the power of the people to control it AS OTHER PROPERTY." That is, the people in the territories may control slavery as they control "OTHER PROPERTY." For instance, a Southerner moves into a territory with his slave and horse. The question is, can Popular Sovereignty abolish slavery and set that slave free? Mr. Douglas's answer is, that Popular Sovereignty has the same control over the slave that it has over the horse. Popular Sovereignty cannot take the horse from his owner, turn him loose, give him liberty, and thus rob the owner of his horse property. Therefore Popular Sovereignty cannot take the slave from his owner, turn him loose, give him liberty, and thus rob the owner of his slave property. The Constitution, according to Mr. Douglas, gives the Southerners the right to own slaves in the territories the same as horses,—that is, the Constitution establishes slavery in the territories. A slave is there "AS OTHER PROPERTY." Popular Sovereignty is reduced to this—a slave is a horse. Who but a profound statesman, magnanimous philosopher and heroic Little Giant would dare to issue such a proclamation as this—"If the Democratic Convention do not recognize slaves in the territories "AS OTHER PROPERTY,"—if they claim that slave property in the territories, has any higher or stronger constitutional guarantees, or is entitled to greater protection than "OTHER PROPERTY,"—if they claim that a slave in the territories, has any constitutional rights except the constitutional rights of a horse, "it is due to candor to say that in such an event I could not accept the nomination if tendered to me!"—Dover Enquirer.

The Pittsburg Post says of Judge Douglas' recent letter:

In his recent Washington manifesto, Mr. Douglas has taken a bold, manly, and unmistakable position. His platform is that of local Popular Sovereignty in its broadest Democratic sense. Upon no other basis will he consent to be a candidate before the Charleston Convention. He refuses, in advance, to admit the right of that Convention to make a platform of "shreds and patches," and place the Presidential nominee upon it.

* * * It will be the business and duty of that Convention to nominate a candidate for the Presidency, but the Democracy will not permit it to insert a new article in its national platform. The non-intervention doctrines of the party, as declared in the Cincinnati platform, are based upon the constitution, and by them the National Democratic party of the country will stand or fall.

From the N. H. Gazette.

THANKFUL FOR SMALL FAVORS.—We notice that Buchanan's organ, "The Constitution," publishes the resolutions recently shoved through the Democratic caucuses of Vezzie, Winn and a few other one-horse towns in Maine, by the desperate efforts of the Swiss troop of tide-waiters and pap-eaters in the employ of the Administration. But it has not yet noticed the resolutions adopted by the State Convention at Bangor. As "The Constitution" has read Douglas out of the party because of his Dorr letter, it must, to be consistent, read out the whole Democracy of Maine (excepting, of course, Consul General Moore) for they have incorporated the Douglas letter almost verbatim into their platform, and if it was heresy for Douglas to write the letter, it must be the climax of wickedness for the Democratic party of Maine to deliberately endorse its doctrines. But as the Administration is now so near its terminus, it will not probably be deemed worth while to impose the U. S. District Attorney and the few other unterrified and incorruptible Democratic office holders who aided in the business of sticking to Popular Sovereignty. A year ago such deference to the will of the people would have cost them their heads.

DR. SWETT'S
CORDIAL OF DANDELION,
SPIKENARD & BONESET.

A remedy unsurpassed for Liver Complaints, such as Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, Universal Debility, and the whole family of Consumptive Complaints.

Hundreds of testimonials might be added, proving the many cures by this pleasant and effectual medicine, especially of people advanced in life, whose debilitated constitutions have been greatly recruited by it. A trial of it is warranted to well pay the aged and dyspeptic. Price 75 cents.

[From Mrs. Daniel H. Williams.]

DR. SWETT—Dear Sir:—I presume you recollect that when I saw you, about a year since, I was very ill, and had been for a long time, with dyspeptic complaints, being very weak, with no appetite, and pain in my head, stomach and side; but now my health is comparatively good, and I consider this great deliverance attributable, mainly, to the two bottles of your "Compound Cordial of Dandelion," which you left for me. I consider this the best medicine I ever found for the complaints for which you recommend it on the labels.

MARY E. WILLIAMS.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

A compound remedy in which we have labored to produce the most potent alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Pars Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective remedy for the disease Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and those which will a priori seem to defy cure must be of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow citizens. How completely this compound meets the wants of such cases we hope he admitted that the right of the South to own slaves in the territories was a constitutional right, of course there was an end to his Popular Sovereignty. Notwithstanding all this, an attempt has been made to cheat the people into the belief that he still occupied his former position of Popular Sovereignty. His last letter exposes and extinguishes totally and forever this attempted deception. Making his last bid for the next Presidential nomination, after long reflection and deliberation, he carefully announces his present position. He says that the Constitution does not establish "slavery in the territories beyond the power of the people to control it AS OTHER PROPERTY." That is, the people in the territories may control slavery as they control "OTHER PROPERTY." For instance, a Southerner moves into a territory with his slave and horse. The question is, can Popular Sovereignty abolish slavery and set that slave free? Mr. Douglas's answer is, that Popular Sovereignty has the same control over the slave that it has over the horse. Popular Sovereignty cannot take the horse from his owner, turn him loose, give him liberty, and thus rob the owner of his horse property. Therefore Popular Sovereignty cannot take the slave from his owner, turn him loose, give him liberty, and thus rob the owner of his slave property. The Constitution, according to Mr. Douglas, gives the Southerners the right to own slaves in the territories the same as horses,—that is, the Constitution establishes slavery in the territories. A slave is there "AS OTHER PROPERTY." Popular Sovereignty is reduced to this—a slave is a horse. Who but a profound statesman, magnanimous philosopher and heroic Little Giant would dare to issue such a proclamation as this—"If the Democratic Convention do not recognize slaves in the territories "AS OTHER PROPERTY,"—if they claim that slave property in the territories, has any higher or stronger constitutional guarantees, or is entitled to greater protection than "OTHER PROPERTY,"—if they claim that a slave in the territories, has any constitutional rights except the constitutional rights of a horse, "it is due to candor to say that in such an event I could not accept the nomination if tendered to me!"—Dover Enquirer.

The Pittsburg Post says of Judge Douglas' recent letter:

In his recent Washington manifesto, Mr. Douglas has taken a bold, manly, and unmistakable position. His platform is that of local Popular Sovereignty in its broadest Democratic sense. Upon no other basis will he consent to be a candidate before the Charleston Convention. He refuses, in advance, to admit the right of that Convention to make a platform of "shreds and patches," and place the Presidential nominee upon it.

* * * It will be the business and duty of that Convention to nominate a candidate for the Presidency, but the Democracy will not permit it to insert a new article in its national platform. The non-intervention doctrines of the party, as declared in the Cincinnati platform, are based upon the constitution, and by them the National Democratic party of the country will stand or fall.

From the N. H. Gazette.

THANKFUL FOR SMALL FAVORS.—We notice that Buchanan's organ, "The Constitution," publishes the resolutions recently shoved through the Democratic caucuses of Vezzie, Winn and a few other one-horse towns in Maine, by the desperate efforts of the Swiss troop of tide-waiters and pap-eaters in the employ of the Administration. But it has not yet noticed the resolutions adopted by the State Convention at Bangor. As "The Constitution" has read Douglas out of the party because of his Dorr letter, it must, to be consistent, read out the whole Democracy of Maine (excepting, of course, Consul General Moore) for they have incorporated the Douglas letter almost verbatim into their platform, and if it was heresy for Douglas to write the letter, it must be the climax of wickedness for the Democratic party of Maine to deliberately endorse its doctrines. But as the Administration is now so near its terminus, it will not probably be deemed worth while to impose the U. S. District Attorney and the few other unterrified and incorruptible Democratic office holders who aided in the business of sticking to Popular Sovereignty. A year ago such deference to the will of the people would have cost them their heads.

THE ONLY ARTICLE

UNRIVALLED IN THE MARKET,

WITH IMMENSE

HOME AND EUROPEAN DEMAND.

The reason why, is that by Nature's own process it restores the natural color perfectly after the hair becomes gray; supplies the natural fluids, and thus makes it grow on bald heads, removes all dandruff, itching, and heat from the scalp, quiets and tones up the nervous system, cures all kinds of headache, and may be relied upon to cure all diseases of the scalp and hair; it will stop and keep from falling off; makes it soft, glossy, pliable and beautiful, and if used by the young two or three times a week it will never fall or become gray; then, reader, read the following and judge for yourselves:

NEW YORK, Jan. 8, 1858.

Messrs. O. J. Wood & Co.,

Gentlemen: Having found a good deal about Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and my hair being quite gray, I made up my mind to lay aside the prejudices which I had entertained against patent medicines, and a short time ago I commenced using your article, to test it for myself.

The result has been so very satisfactory that I am very glad I did so, and in justice to you, as well as for the encouragement of others who may be as gray as I was, I think it my duty to make the fact out my reasons for setting it aside, are unwilling to give your Restorative a trial till they have further proof, and the best proof being occular demonstration, I write you this letter, which you may show to any such, and also direct them to me for further proof, who am in and out of the N. Y. Water Works establishment every day.

My hair is now its natural color and much improved in appearance every way, being glossier and thicker, and much more healthy looking. I am, yours respectfully, HENRY JENKINS.

Cor. Columbia and Carroll Sts., Brooklyn.

LYNCHBURG, Va., Feb. 14, 1858.

PROF. WOOD—Sir: Your Hair Restorative has done much good in this part of the country. My hair has been slightly diminishing for several years, accompanied, I suppose, from age, but when I was quite an infant, I have been using your Hair Restorative for six weeks and I find that I have a fine head of hair now growing, after having used all other remedies known, to no effect. I think it the most valuable remedy now extant, and advise all who are afflicted that way to use your remedy.

You can publish this if you think proper.

Yours, &c. S. W. MIDDLETON.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 14, 1858.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost had the cotting—cotting in fact. I have used but 2 half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the top of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the effect is a most decided improvement. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours, respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D.,
No. 464 Vine Street.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds a pint and retails for one dollar and a half; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

Knowing that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the country and towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies, who still suffer from false delicacy, rather than call upon a regular physician, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent, by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secresy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year, he has cured more than one hundred and three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Hughes. Do not be lured from your friends by the boastings of quack experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

The medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are universally led in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the therapeutic medicine.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine and only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country by directions. Remember the number—13 Howard street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. je dly

A new college is in contemplation, to be sustained by reformists in educational matters, and a meeting was held on Wednesday, in Lowell to decide upon a place for its location. It was thought that Leominster, Mass., would be the site selected. It will bear the name "New England University," and everything of a sectarian bias will be excluded from its borders. Prof. Otis, the head of the State Normal School, of New Hampshire, has been chosen its first President.—Boston paper.

"We quote the above from a Boston paper," says the Manchester American, "which is a sample of the way a worthless fellow may impose on the community. The people of Weare, New Boston, Marlow and other towns where 'Prof.' Otis has tarried awhile, need no explanation to understand who he is. Neither do the publishers of the Keene and Brattleborough papers, with whom the 'Professor' has left permanent mementoes of his acquaintance. But we see by the Laconia papers that the 'head of the State Normal School of New Hampshire' is in that vicinity, and if anybody wishes to exhibit their verdancy, let him have confidence in the pretensions of the learned 'Professor.'"

☞ The First Church in Newbury have published their covenant and articles of faith, with a list of members, beginning back to Thomas Parker, the first pastor of the church and town. They have had eight pastors, of whom two are living, and two teachers; 22 deacons, of whom four are now living; and 1365 members, of whom 136—47 males and 139 females—still survive.

☞ Capt. Robert Cunningham, father of Miss Ann Pamelia Cunningham, the honored President of the Mount Vernon Association, died on the 7th inst., at his plantation in Laurens district, S. C. Capt. Cunningham was descended of old revolutionary stock. He served as an officer in the war of 1812, and afterwards in Florida.—After leaving the army he was elected to the legislature, and served for a number of sessions.

☞ An exchange says a domestic who "used burning fluid to make tea" was blown up tea-pot and all, her dress ignited and every particle of it burnt off save a skeleton hoop, which relieved but did not conceal the symmetry of her person. Her injuries were not severe, though in her fright she jumped over a garden fence and came heavily to the ground. The next time she will probably give the China herb the preference over camphene.

CURE FOR SUMMER COMPLAINTS.—We have no hesitation in recommending White Oak Bark as a preventive and remedy for summer complaints. It requires no particular preparation. It can be obtained when you are in the woods, and chewed as occasion requires. This remedy has been tried by various individuals, in different latitudes, and we have never known it to fail.—Manchester (N. H.) Republican.

STEAM FIRE ENGINE.—A Steam Fire Engine has been contracted for by the city of Portland, to be built in Manchester, N. H., at a cost of $3300, to be delivered on the 1st of September. It will weigh about 5500 pounds. It will be a very effective machine, steaming up in a very brief time, and throwing water with great force. We have no doubt, says the Advertiser, it will prove the best investment the city ever made.

☞ The daughter of John Rafferty of Cincinnati has been killed in trying to "do the Niagara feat" in a small way, over a porch in the second story of the house.—The rope breaking, she was pitched over the bannisters, and she received fatal injuries by the fall.

☞ The Newark Mercury states that a young man, aged about 25, by the name of Otto Hame, a native of Berlin, Prussia, who was some time a resident of Patterson, some three months since left for Berlin, to take possession of property worth from $15,000 to $20,000, left by an uncle, and on the second day of his arrival he was put into the army.

☞ Henry, only son of Mr. Peltiah Brown, teacher of the South Grammar School of Concord, N. H., a lad about nine years old, was drowned Friday afternoon, in the Merrimack river. His body was recovered on Sunday.

☞ The first vessel has arrived at Gloucester from the Bay fleet. Quite a number of vessels are reported as having been spoken with, and the accounts are very encouraging. The vessels reported had more mackerel than at the same time last season.

☞ The connection of the pastor and the first Congregational Church in East Hampton, Conn., was dissolved less than three years ago. Since that time more than seventy ministers have supplied the pulpit, but no settlement has yet been effected.

GREELEY'S PATENT ELASTIC
BACK AND CENTRE
SUSPENSION PANTALOONS.
Patented June 29, 1858.
J. E. HAM & CO.,
Have purchased the right to manufacture the above named Pantaloons. The advantages of this invention over the usual method of making Pants is: they may be made easy to the person, and still be as easy as though they were uncommonly large. Pants that are easy to stand in are easy to sit or stoop in.
Also for sale, GREELEY'S BRACE SUSPENDER—a superior Suspender for Skirts or Pants, and far superior to any other BRACE in the market. may25

TRUNKS, VALISES, CARPET BAGS.
A good assortment at
HEAD'S, 14½ Market Street.

Oleine Diamond Oil.
GREATEST ILLUMINATOR OF THE AGE.
This Oil is entirely free from truncloy, so that a lamp may be left burning any length of time desired, without filling a room with lamp-black or soot.
It burns in the common oil lamp, with or without a chimney.
The light is far more pleasant than gas, as it is free from the disagreeable flickering always attending a gas light, and is cheaper. We claim for this Oil:
1. That it is cheaper than any other artificial light.
2. That it has no odor.
3. That it will not smoke
4. That it will burn with or without a chimney, hence it is portable.
5. That it will stand a lower degree of temperature than any other Oil.
6. That it is free from each of the objections that are brought against every other article heretofore or now being offered to the public for illuminating purposes.
Price $1.25 per gallon.
For sale, wholesale and retail, at
96 Market Street, Portsmouth,
where the public are invited to call and examine for themselves.

Dr. B. S. Goodwin, Indian Physician,
Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the Diseases that man is subject to, at his residence and office, No. 3 Market Street. Dr. G. would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.
ADVICE FREE.
Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are purely Vegetable, and prepared by himself, and are calculated to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.
THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY DR. GOODWIN. Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Diseases of the Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fever, Fever, Fever, Fever, Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsy, Worms, all Diseases peculiar to Females, Humors of all descriptions, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.
No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blisters!
Our philosophy of practice is founded on the laws of Nature; our theory of Disease the theory of experience and evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 14, 1858.

CONGREGATIONALISTS.

A writer in the Keene Sentinel, on the subject of the late legal decision on the question, Who are Congregationalists in New Hampshire, says:—

Your notice of the decision, in your last, in the case of the Dublin ministerial fund, confirmed the fact, never before, I believe, seriously contested, that a man, or society of the "Congregational persuasion," might be as orthodox as Calvin himself, as Unitarian as Channing, as strong a Baptist as Robert Hall, or Restorationist as Winchester; all being independent of other churches, of consociations, synods, or bishops. But the decision also embraced a still more important question. The fund was given "for the support of the Christian ministry," or "a Christian minister," of the Congregational persuasion." Now, so far as this elaborate and united opinion goes, after long and patient investigation, Dr. Leonard and Mr. Bridge were, and are, Christian ministers! But why this note of exclamation? Who ever doubted the supposed fact? Surely not the Congregational body of Massachusetts, who elect annually their preacher, in proportion to the numbers of each branch, viz: two years in succession from the Orthodox, so called, and then one from the Unitarian. Are the laymen, even in New Hampshire, troubled on this subject? Not at all. Some forty years ago, the question was raised in one or two religious journals; but it soon died out. Still, however, the echo, (or a time even boisterous) now faintly reverberates in the distance. The Dred Scott case was decided by a large majority of judges who were slaveholders, and who decreed that a black man had no rights which a white man ought to respect. In New Hampshire a "higher law" is promulgated by upright laymen, founded in equity and constitutional right.

It should be added here, that the judges of our highest court in New Hampshire, more than 50 years ago, decided that Universalists were Congregationalists in the eye of the law, and must therefore pay taxes to support the settled ministers of the town.

The Universalist General Convention, which was held in 1803, in order to get rid of this difficulty, and for other purposes, organized themselves as a denomination, and adopted the following very brief "profession of belief:"

ARTICLE 1.—We believe that the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments contain a revelation of the character of God, and of the duty, interest, and final destination of mankind.

ART. 2.—We believe that there is one God whose nature is love; revealed in one Lord Jesus Christ by one Holy Spirit of grace, who will finally restore the whole family of mankind to holiness and happiness.

ART. 3.—We believe that holiness and true happiness are inseparably connected; and that believers ought to be careful to maintain order, and practise good works; for these things are good and profitable unto men.

This measure enabled all those persons in New Hampshire, who joined Universalist societies, to avoid the payment of a minister's tax where they chose to do so. But it did not change the structure of the Congregational parishes or societies in the least degree. And as Congregationalism is not a creed, or set of doctrines, but a principle of association, there is no reason why any Congregational body may not legally employ a minister of unitarian or trinitarian, calvinistic or arminian, or universalian sentiments.

Congregationalists hold to the right of private judgment, and to the rights of the people in each congregation to choose their own teachers.

The congregation or people at Dublin chose a unitarian teacher—and the court sustaining their right to do it, confirms their contract with him in all its parts, and gives him and them the benefit of the fund.

☞ The thunder storm of Sunday afternoon, says the Atlas, in Boston, appears to have been a sort of sectional affair, prevailing in streaks as it were. In that city it was partial. At the south end there was not a drop of rain, while in the more westerly portion of the city it came down in torrents. In New Hampshire it was of the same character. A section twenty miles in width, including Concord, Manchester and other places, were unvisited by rain, while other localities were drenched.

In this city, and in several towns, near us, there was a very slight shower only while in Hampton it was very heavy.

☞ At the Fourth of July celebration in Ironton, Missouri, Captain John Hall, one of Marion's men, was present. He is a native of North Carolina, and will be 98 years of age on the 21st of September next. He supports himself by making brooms and baskets, and has never received a pension, though he fought gallantly during the revolutionary war, and distinguished himself at the battle of Guilford Court House, North Carolina, March 15, 1781, where he was lieutenant of a company.

☞ The Lancaster (Pa.) Union says the largest harvest ever secured in that county is now being gathered. It estimates the wheat at four million bushels, and everything else in proportion.

☞ On Thursday last, in Spencer, Mass., Mrs. Annie Pope, died at the advanced age of one hundred and four years and seven months—the oldest female in New England.

She died by the consumption of old age, though her faculties continued clear and luminous to the last. Her immediate death had not been anticipated till within ten days, when she began to decline rapidly, and at last she passed away without disease and almost without pain. Her husband, the Rev. Joseph Pope, was for upwards of half a century, a minister in Spencer, and died many years ago. She remembered distinctly many of the events of the Revolution, which were history to all who surrounded her: could describe the countenances of Whitefield and West; saw Burgoyne's captured army march by her door, with the triumphant American troops; and was accustomed to relate from her rich recollection many other incidents of that interesting period which have never been written, and the memory of which has probably passed with her to the grave.

The mention of one who knew Whitefield's countenance, reminds us of the fact that Mrs. William Boardman, formerly of Newburyport, a venerable lady, at the age of 96 years, living near us, at New Castle.—was dressed and went to meeting at Newburyport in the church where Whitefield was to preach on the memorable Sabbath when he died; and she was there when the news came into the congregation, of his death.—When he was to be buried, she went again; and as she looked at his countenance with the earnest gaze of youth, she always remembered, and has frequently described its appearance. Very few of those who looked on his countenance, now remain on earth.

A FEMALE SLAVE PETITIONS FOR LIBERTY.—At Plymouth, Mass, one of the Judges of the new Superior Court was petitioned for a writ of habeas corpus to obtain the body of Maria Gaskins, colored, alleged to be restrained of her liberty by Wm. Holmes and his wife, of New Orleans, now on a visit to that place. The writ was granted and served, and the woman was brought to Boston, to the Supreme Court. She states she was born in Savannah, is about thirty-five years of age, and was purchased by Mr. Holmes, who took her to New Orleans. Some weeks ago, her master and mistress came North on a visit to Plymouth, and brought her with them. Since her arrival in Massachusetts she has been kept close to the house by her mistress, and only managed yesterday to inform the people of her situation, when measures were at once taken to release her if she desired it.

The woman is free, and has gone with her friends.

THE NAHANT HOUSE. — The Boston Journal states there is no more pleasant locality in New England during the summer months than Nahant. Situated on a peninsula which juts out into the broad ocean, and almost an island in itself, the breezes from all directions are tempered to a delightful coolness. Nahant is one of the most marked and popular places of resort, and the Nahant House is one of the most spacious and comfortable hotels in New England,—and under the management of Thos. Rand & Sons, bids fair to sustain the reputation which Mr. Stevens established.

The steamer Nelly Baker makes four trips from Boston each way every day. The trip among the islands in the harbor and out upon the broad ocean is most delightful. The first hop of the season took place at the Nahant Hotel Tuesday night, Gilmore's Band furnishing the music.

ANECDOTE OF WEBSTER. — A correspondent of the Boston Courier relates the following anecdote of Webster:—

"The petty and impotent scurrility of which Mr. Sumner's oration has been made the occasion in one newspaper, reminds me of a letter which Mr. Webster wrote after continued provocation, to the editor of a newspaper, which referred to his private affairs, and especially to his not paying his debts. He said substantially—'It is true that I have not always paid my debts punctually, and that I owe money. One cause of this is, that I have not pressed those who owe me for payment. As an instance of this, I enclose your father's note, made to me thirty years ago, for money lent him to educate his boys.'"

☞ The Bangor Whig says Mr. George Skofield, of Brewer, was struck by a lath thrown from a circular saw, in that town on Wednesday, last week, the lath striking him in the abdomen. Extreme pain and nausea followed, he was unable to walk, medical aid was sought, the pain was relieved, but soon vomiting commenced, inflammation followed, and death closed the scene on Sunday morning. The deceased leaves a wife and child.

☞ Rev. H. C. Leonard, pastor of the Universalist Society in Waterville, lectured before the Bowdoin Temperance Society, in the Chapel on Monday evening. There is now a very gratifying and hopeful conditions of things now existing among the students, which promises to make the halls and walks of "Old Bowdoin" celebrated for sobriety.

The Georgia papers announce the death of Seth C. Stevens at his residence in Baker county, that State. He was a native of Lyman, N. H., served an apprenticeship as clerk with John L. Rix at Haverhill, N. H., went south twenty-five years ago, and now leaves an estate valued at $100,000.—Manchester American.

☞ Among the honorary degrees recently conferred by the University of Bishop's College, Lenoxville, was that of D. D. on Rt. Rev. Carlton Chase of Claremont, and of M. A. on Rev. Stephens Perry of Nashua, N. H.

William Gordon, a native of New Hampshire, strangled himself in a closet attached to the United States Marine Hospital, at Pittsburg, on Monday last.—He was laboring under mental abberation.

☞ Jonathan Swain, a native of Westmoreland, died at his residence in West Windsor, Vt., June 23d, aged 100 years, 8 months and 28 days. The deceased was a private in Capt. Josiah Fish's Company in Col. Fletcher's Battalion, in the revolutionary war.

☞ The Anti-Lecompton Democracy of California, in their Convention of the 15th ult., passed strong popular sovereignty resolutions, and denounced the Buchanan administration for its numerous sins of omission and commission.

Seven Octave Piano --- New Scale.

The Subscriber having just received a superior SEVEN OCTAVE PIANO-FORTE, manufactured according to his order by the celebrated firm of HALLET, DAVIS & CO., would offer it for the inspection of persons desirous of purchasing. HALLET, DAVIS & Co. have recently made great improvements in the manufacture of Pianos, the most important of which is the New Scale, which, while retaining the weakness which has hitherto been found in the upper part of Square Seven Octave Pianos, gives it a power of tone nearly equal to that of the Parlor Grand.

Having been for several years Agent for the sale of Pianos of the above make, Mr. P. is prepared to state that the instruments which they are now turning out, far excel any of their former manufacture.

Purchasers will find it greatly to their advantage to call and examine this and other unpretending Piano, as it is the only one in Portsmouth which contains the NEW SCALE.

Pilotage Notice.

The Commissioners of Pilotage call the attention of the public to the following act passed at the last session of the Legislature of the State of New Hampshire. Per order. W. L. DWIGHT, Sec.

July 15, 1859.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

In the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine.

AN ACT IN RELATION TO PILOTS AND PILOTAGE IN THE RIVER AND HARBOR OF THE PISCATAQUA.

It is enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened:

SECTION 1.—Any pilot appointed by the Commissioners of Pilotage for the river and harbor of the Piscataqua, and who has given bonds to the Commissioners of Pilotage for the faithful discharge of his duties, may take charge of any vessel, except coasting and fishing vessels of the United States, of one hundred and fifty Registered or Enrolled tons and under, and shall pilot any such vessel into or out of the river and harbor of the Piscataqua, first showing to the master thereof his appointment, if requested.

SECTION 2.—Any master or owner may pilot his own vessel; but if any pilot shall speak and offer service to any vessel, except coasting and fishing vessels of the the United States, of one hundred and fifty Registered or Enrolled tons or under, bound into the river or harbor of the Piscataqua, south of a line drawn east and west from Whale's Back Light House, or shall offer service to any vessel bound out of the River and Harbor of the Piscataqua, except coasting and fishing vessels of the United States, of one hundred and fifty Registered or Enrolled tons and under, he shall be entitled to one-half of the fees specified in his warrant in case the master or owner declines to employ him, and one-half of the payment he may sue for and recover the same; and all vessels requiring pilots into or out of the river and harbor of the Piscataqua, shall take branch Pilots, if such offer their services to inward bound vessels south of a line drawn east and west from Whale's Back Light House, and to outward bound vessels before they leave the wharf.

SECTION 3.—All further regulations regarding Pilots and Pilotage, shall be arranged and regulated by the board of Commissioners for the said river and harbor of the Piscataqua.

SECTION 4.—All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION 5.—This act shall take effect on its passage.

NAPOLEON B. BRYANT,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
JOSEPH A. GILMORE,
President of the Senate.

Approved June 27, 1859

The Best Medicine in the World.

YES—DECIDEDLY THE BEST—IS

Dr. Langley's Root and Herb Bitters.

They are made from the most valuable Roots, Herbs and Plants in the vegetable kingdom.—They act at once upon the very seat of disease.—They remove all obstructions from the internal organs—regulate the bowels—purify the Blood—remove Humors—excite the Liver to a healthy action—give strength and tone to the stomach—cure Jaundice and Dyspepsia—create an appetite—increase and renew the circulation—remove all Bilious diseases—cure Piles, Headache, Weakness, &c., and are the best medicine ever discovered for all Female Complaints. They build up the feeble, build up and keep in order "the house you live in."

Doctors' prescriptions, clothed in Latin verbs,
Now yield the palm to Langley's Roots and Herbs;
Forsake vile drugs and cull from Nature's store,
As did the Patriarchs in days of yore.
Roots, Herbs and Barks, the bounty of Nature's store,
From broad Atlantic to Pacific's shore.
From North to South, their healing virtues lend,
And in these Bitters prove the people's friend.
They'll strengthen, warm, your bodies vigorous make,
Rouse drooping spirits and new blood create.

So if you wish to feel well, act well, do well and keep well, use this standard vegetable medicine.

Only 25 cts. for a pint, 38 cts. for a large bottle. Sold by all dealers in medicine everywhere.

Be sure and address all letters to J. O. LANGLEY, or to GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., BOSTON.

Common Sense rules the mass of the people, whatever the misnamed and misanthropic philosophers may say to the contrary. Show them a good thing: let its merits be clearly demonstrated, and they will not hesitate to give it their most cordial patronage. The message have already ratified the judgment of a physician, concerning the virtues of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, as may be seen in the immense quantities of this medicine that are annually sold in every section of the Union. It is now recognized as greatly superior to all other remedies for diseased states of the digestive organs, such as diarrhœa, dysentery, dyspepsia, and for the various fevers that arise from derangement of those portions of the system. Hostetter's name is rapidly becoming a household word, from Maine to Texas; from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pacific. Try the article and be satisfied.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

DYSENTERY.—For Dysentery and similar complaints of the Summer season, the PERUVIAN SYRUP has proved a remarkable preventive and cure. By imparting tone to the intestinal mucous membrane, it places this surface in the best possible condition to resist the irritation of crude and indigestible articles of food.

Dyspepsia.

Considering the various forms in which this disease developes itself, it may well be called hydra-headed. In its train follow Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, Heartburn, Water Brash, Costiveness, Piles, Acidity, Oppression after Eating, Jaundice, Flatulency, Torpor of the Liver, Dizziness, Debility, Female Complaints, &c. Some of the first men in our land have given their written certificates relative to the cures effected in their own persons by the OXYGENATED BITTERS; while testimonials from other sources, editorial opinions and voluntary expressions from persons averse to see their names in print, are perfectly overwhelming.

Read the following from a highly respectable Clergyman:

EAST TAUNTON, MASS., Feb. 9, '58.

To the Editor of the Portland Mirror,—SIR:—

OXYGENATED BITTERS.—For more than twenty five years I have been a sufferer from the dyspepsia. Besides trying the patience of my family physicians in the almost useless trial of their various prescriptions, I have tried a great variety of patent medicines with a similar result. Through the kindness of my physician, I received last March, half a dozen bottles of the OXYGENATED BITTERS. I began to use them without any hope of deriving help from them. Being determined to give them a fair trial, I continued their use, but without any perceptible benefit till June.

Since then I have gradually improved in health till I am entirely free from acidity of the stomach, and from the consequent headache, and the awful and almost distracting sick headache, which often, for days together, has wholly unfitted me for study and for all other ministerial duties, and rendered life a burden.

I feel that I owe it, as an expression of gratitude to Messrs. Fowle & Co., and also a duty to the public, to recommend their Oxygenated Bitters, as, in my estimation, a sure remedy for that most trying, most vexing, and cruel of all diseases, to which poor human flesh is heir—dyspepsia. Having suffered so long, and tried so many different remedies with no good result, I can recommend the Oxygenated Bitters with a confidence few others can. If any of the readers of the Mirror are suffering, I beg of them to make trial of these Bitters without delay.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

This Gin, distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant now offered to the public.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA; FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the KIDNEYS, BRIGHT'S DISEASE, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS; NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a remedy for those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Gin to be "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

PRIME SOAP WITHOUT MAGIC.—Adams & Curtis, at their Soap Works in Washington street, are manufacturing a superior article of soap for all the purposes for which the magic soap is used—and without magic or miracle it performs the wonderful work of "bringing a clean thing out of an unclean," without destroying the clothing or injuring the hands. This soap is not only better but cheaper than the old fashioned ordinary soap—so the makers say, and you can try it and see.

It is sold by the grocers and by the manufacturers.

☞ Why will people go and have a poor miserable picture taken of themselves? Because, all those do not know that they can procure for the same money, a fine finished picture, faithful and true as life itself, at

SALEN'S DAGUERREAN GALLERY,

in Congress Block, where the most superior likenesses are taken, and in all cases perfect satisfaction given.

N. B.—The beautiful little "give away" (cheap) pictures, are taken at this establishment, with a double lens Camera, (100 per day) by the celebrated Parisian artist—Monsieur Heavtontitorumenos.

LOCAL.

POLICE COURT.

Before Justice Odell, July 14.—Catharine Adams, (wife of Patrick) was found guilty of assault and battery on Susan Chase, widow. She was fined $2; costs $5.74: bonds for good behavior $20. Mittimus issued.

July 18.—Maria Adams, married woman plead guilty to the charge of being a common drunkard; and was sent to the House of Correction for two months.

July 19.—John W. Randall, of Gosport, Isles of Shoals, was brought up and held to bail for trial, on two charges, preferred against him by Christian Johnson of the same Gosport; one for selling two glasses of intoxicating liquor, and the other for being a common seller of the same.

He was held to bail in $400.

While intemperance is a curse in every place where it prevails, it is the peculiar curse of the Shoals: and at the present time there are three or four criminal accusations pending, which have some connexion with it.

Johnson, the complainant in this case, built a house at Gosport, fitted for a fish store below, and for a dwelling above,—but not arranged for a groggery or a gambling saloon. In conformity with the usage of the place, however, he has suffered men there to play, and to drink. These things were proved at a late trial, by men who said, "I have played there."

Johnson, in the present complaints, seems desirous to show that he himself is not the only, nor the principal, offender in these matters.

It would be an excellent thing, if the sale and use of strong drink were swept from the islands. It would improve their finances, politics and morals.

☞ The "difference" between the Gazette's statements as to the Bands, and the facts in the case, are as we said, "only more so". The entire cost of the instruments of the Portsmouth Band was about $1200; (twelve hundred dollars,) toward which the citizens subscribed $200; and the city appropriated $200 more—for which the city government holds the instruments as city property, besides obligating the Band to give that series of public concerts year before last We are also informed that the city of Manchester paid their Band $300 last year, for giving "free concerts." We are glad our city fathers and the citizens generally have shown so much disposition to appreciate and encourage our Band; but as "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," so is the continual expense of time and money, the only inexorable terms upon which good music can be furnished.

BOY OVERBOARD.—A small boy, son of Edwin Tobin on Bow street, fell into the river on Friday, and was carried round in the rapid currents off Church Point, when the outcries of some Irish ladies in the neighborhood attracted the attention of a teamster, who by the aid of a clothes pole, managed to fish the little fellow out of the drink. The boy is thought to have as many lives as a cat, having once before been overboard in the same spot, and coming out all right. On the latter occasion it was a long while before he recovered from the effects of his bath, and got fairly out of danger.

☞ A girl accompanied by three young rowdies, we are told, caused considerable excitement at the West End of the city, Sunday night. Her screams called the neighbors to the field, where the rascals had just fled and left her, after, as she said, they had assaulted her with base intent, &c. Guess they were all no better than they should be, from all reports. An anonymous correspondent wants to know, "where was the watchman?" Can't say—but probably four men can't well be all over the city at once.

☞ The alarm of fire on Tuesday forenoon, was caused by the partial burning of a small barn on Green street. The engines came out, but did not play on the fire, as it was put out by buckets of water. Look out for fires this dry weather.

☞ The new and beautiful Masonic Hall in this city, was dedicated to the use of the Order, in due form, on Tuesday evening.—M. W. Grand Master Paul, of Dover, took chief part in the services. A large company of members, resident and visiting, sat down to a fine supper at the Rockingham House—on which occasion of course mine host Coburn did his guests ample justice, as they his viands.

MASONIC HALL, CONGRESS BLOCK, will be open for the inspection of ladies and gentlemen, on Thursday afternoon, the 21st inst., from 2 till 7 o'clock—provided the weather is pleasant.

Per order of the Committee.

July 20, 1859.

☞ The Hon. Thomas Corwin was serenaded in Indianapolis, Ind., on the 16th instant, and made a speech an hour in length. He disavowed his connection with any party, and appealed to his hearers to emancipate themselves from party trammels.

ONE DAY LATER FROM EUROPE.—Steamship City of Washington, from Liverpool 6th inst., via Queenstown 7th, arrived at New York Monday afternoon.

She brings London dates to noon of the 7th, by telegraph to Queenstown.

The war news is unimportant. A battle was expected on the Adige.

It was reported that the British mail steamers had been requested to prepare to carry an armament.

REPULSE OF THE AUSTRIANS BY GARIBALDI.—Berne, July 6.—News has been received from Bormio, that a corps of 3000 to 5000 Tyrolese chasseurs had been threatening the Val Telline, but the several columns of Garibaldi and Cialdini's corps had repulsed them from Bormio, and driven them as far as the first Canton of the Stelvie Pass. The Austrians suffered severely. Garibaldi's loss was ten severely wounded, and Cialdini's three killed and four wounded.

THE OHIO BLACK LAW DECLARED UNCONSTITUTIONAL.—The Cleveland Herald of the 14th inst. says:—

"The Court of Common Pleas for Cuyahoga county, through Judge Foote, this morning delivered an important decision.—At the last election Freemart H. Morris, tailor, of this city, and having about one-fourth negro blood in his veins, presented himself at the First Ward voting place, and was barred from voting on account of his negro blood. Action was brought against the judges of election, Sanborn, Christian and Garrett, for illegally rejecting the vote. They pleaded in defence the recent action of the Legislature respecting the vote of every person having any negro blood in his veins.

The case was made up and submitted to the Court. This morning Judge Foote declared for the plaintiff, declaring the 'Black Law' to be unconstitutional. The Court held that under the old Constitution of Ohio all persons, having more than half white blood were declared to be legally white.—The new Constitution merely mentioned 'white persons,' without defining what constituted a white person, consequently the definition of a white person, contained in the old Constitution, remained in force, and any law declaring a person having more than half white blood to be a negro, must of necessity be unconstitutional."

A VETERAN.—Amzi Doolittle Esq., of Winchester, visited the Masonic Lodge in this town, on Monday eve. He is now in the 93d year of his age, and was first made a Mason in Jerusalem Lodge, Westmoreland, seventy-one years ago. Mr. Doolittle is erect, and quite active, and appears in no respect, to be over seventy years of age. Is there an older mason in the state?—Keene Republican.

Mr. Doolittle visited our sanctum on Wednesday morning, appearing hale and hearty. He takes the Sentinel, with which he expresses his high satisfaction. He was a little anxious to know if we had an older subscriber on our list. He has been a patron of newspapers for more than seventy years, and reads them with great facility and pleasure.—Keene Sentinel.

MACKEREL FISHERY.—The Newburyport Herald says that a letter received on Saturday from Port Mulgrove, Gut of Canso, dated July 6th, states that but two vessels had arrived from the Bay—one with 118 barrels and another with 150. Last year by this time, several vessels had arrived, some with good fares.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
under the act 1837.
76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL; and as THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to all matters touching the same. Besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here avoided thereby.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, Jan. 1, 1859. R. H. EDDY.

and as a Beverage it has no superior in the world. It is manufactured by the proprietor, at Schiedam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, Bladder and Kidney Complaints, &c. &c.

Put up in quart and pint bottles, in Cases of one dozen quarts, and two dozen pints, with the proprietor's name on the bottle, cork and label. For sale by all the respectable Country Merchants and Druggists. Look out for counterfeits and imitations, as the whole country is flooded with them

TO THE PUBLIC.

I beg leave to call the attention of the American Public to the following Certificate from the Government Chemist for the Island of Cuba and the Spanish West Indies, and who is known to the Scientific men of London, Paris, Madrid, Cuba and America to be the first Chemist in the world.

UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHEMICAL TESTIMONY.

D. Jose Luis Casaseca, Corresponding Member of the Royal Academies of Madrid and Munich, a Graduate in Sciences of the Faculty of Paris, formerly Professor of Chemistry, as applied to the Arts, of the Royal Conservatorio of Madrid, and of Physics and Chemistry, as applied to the Industry and Agriculture of the country, in the Royal University of this Island, at present H. M.'s Director of the Institute of Chemical Investigation, &c., &c.

Do hereby certify, that at the request of the house of Gottig & Will, of this place, I have made an analytical examination of U. Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps, with the object of ascertaining if it contained any substance noxious to health, and to inform them as to its true composition and relative quality with the other gins that are offered in the market, and the results of my observations and experiments are as follows:—

Udolpho Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is a spirituous liquid, of a very agreeable aromatic odor, completely transparent and almost colorless, having only a very slight tint of yellowish gray; its flavor is strong and very agreeable to the palate. It marks 20 degrees in Cartier's alcohol weigher or 52 degrees 8 hundredth in Gay Lussac's alcohometre. By the distillation in a balnium maria, with an apparatus consisting of a glass retort and a recipient surrounded with ice, I have collected in this recipient an alcoholic liquid with a very agreeable aroma completely colorless and transparent, which marked 90 degrees in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, or 70 degrees 5 hundredth on Gay Lussac's alcohometre; and which represented as a whole 57 per cent. of aromatic Schiedam schnapps subject to distillation in the retort. This liquid did not soil the transparency of the distilled water in mixing it with the same, and its agreeable aroma is doubtless due to a very trifling amount of an essential oil inseparable from alcohol.

From the remainder of the distillation which was left in the retort, I have obtained, through evaporation in a vapor bath, a substance of a yellowish brown color, clear, and having a bitter taste, which is not disagreeable, and which afterwards becomes aromatic and leaves in the mouth perfumed with that fragrance peculiar to the vanilla. I am inclined to believe that to this bitter and aromatic extractive substance, soluble in water and alcohol, the medicinal properties which are attributed to this gin are due. I have not found in Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps any other organic substance other than the extractive one already named and the aromatic one obtained by distillation. Finally, Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps consists simply of an aromatic alcohol of 20 degrees of graduation in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, and of an extractive bitter aromatic substance, which, perhaps, is medicinal, and on account of its not containing any matter injurious to the health, as well as for its odor and good flavor—a fact which may be ascribed to the choice of substances employed in its manufacture, and from the peculiar manner of its distillation, it should in my opinion, be preferred to all the Hollands, Dutch and German gins which are found in this Island which it has been my business to examine. There gins as I have often proved it, exhale a disagreeable odor, and have a more or less disagreeable flavor, some of them having left as was the case with the superior gin from the distillery of Mr. Henry Dedjer of Brussels, no residuum after evaporation by steam, a substance almost insipid and very trifling aromatic, with flavor of vanilla, but in no wise with the delicious bitter and aromatic flavor of that of Udolpho Wolfe; and others, such as that labelled "Genuine Samaritan," "Extra Superior." Messrs. Trucher have furnished me with a very small quantity of a greenish substance, of harsh metallic taste and very disagreeable, which extractive organic matter was mixed with a salt of copper, with alum or iron, owing perhaps, to a bad system of distillation.

I certify that all that is here stated is the truth and agrees with the experiments I have made with the greatest care, and I authorize the house of Gottig & Will, of this city, to give publicity to this certificate, in Spanish and in foreign languages, in all countries where it may suit their interest to do so. JOSE LUIS CASASECA.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ From Cincinnati comes a tough little story that a gentleman living in that city, and well to do, married about ten years ago, and after living with his wife some five years, concluded to get a divorce, on account of the unhappiness of their domestic relations. The wife assented, and he applied to the Courts and was successful. A year passed, and he concluded to venture once more into the matrimonial market, and see if he could not find one who would make his home happier than the first. In this he was successful, and a short time afterward his divorced wife applied to him for work in his family in the capacity of servant girl. The situation was given her, and she does the work in the house of which she was once mistress.

☞ The Baltimore Patriot construes the speech of the Hon. A. H. Stephens as an avowal in favor of reviving the African Slave Trade:—

"All this plainly means that Mr. Stephens is in favor of the continued agitation of the pernicious and enervating slavery question; and he is in favor of filibusterism, of acquiring Cuba any how, by incendiary revolution against the wishes of her inhabitants, and in violation of our treaties; and that he is further in favor of some means by which the slave population at the South can be increased, other than by drawing off that population from other slave-holding States; which, we take it, means Cuba and the African slave-trade. The holding such doctrines and the supporting such schemes as these, show how thoroughly democratic' Mr. Stephens has become."

The sharpest citizens of Bridgeport, Cts, have been badly sold by a man who calls himself a sailor, and offered them an "at a fearful loss," only two "Chinese silk coverlets," that "cost $40 each in Hong Kong,"—were "smuggled into this country," and were "the only ones in the United States." A number of gentlemen bought of him, each supposing he held a monopoly of the rare article, at prices from $40 to $5 each, as the sailor was in great need of money. It turns out that the coverlets are worth about two cents each, and that the silky nap is made of the glossy fibers found in the pods of milk-weed! The best of the joke is that the purchasers insisted that the goods were smuggled in after all, and that the Deputy Collector thereupon has seized them for the benefit of government!

UP THE HILL A BERRYING.

On a sunny summer morning,
Early as the dew was dry,
Up the hill I went a berrying:
Need I tell you—tell you why?
Farmer Davis had a daughter,
And it happened that I knew,
On each sunny morning Jenny
Up the hill went berrying too.

Lonely work is picking berries,
So I joined her on the hill;
"Jenny dear," says I, "your basket's Quite too large for one to fill,"
So we staid—we two—to fill it,
Jenny talking—I was still—
Leading where the hill was steep,
Picking berries up the hill.
"This is up-hill business," said Jenny;
"So is life," said I, "shall we
Climb it each alone, or, Jenny,
Will you come and climb with me?"
Redder than the blushing berries
Jenny's cheek a moment grew,
While, without delay, she answered,
"I will come and climb with you."

A BOSTONIAN IN THE ITALIAN ARMY.—The Florence correspondent of the New York Express, speaking of one of the Neapolitan exiles who had received a commission in the allied army, says:—

Strange to say, an American gentleman from Boston joined the company of volunteers under this Neapolitan captain, and he has gone to the war as a private. There is every prospect of his obtaining a commission, but certainly, at present, he is only a high private.

☞ Gen. Paez of Venezuela, it is said, has become so disgusted with civil war now raging in that country, that he has determined to leave it shortly for the United States, to spend the rest of his days in retirement.

☞ The number of emigrants arrived at New York last week was 858, making the number since December 40,003. The number which arrived during the month of June was 12,361, and of these, 2476 arrived in steamers, and 9885 in sailing ships.

☞ Under the caption of Deaths, in the Housatonic, (Mass.) Republican, is the following unusual notice: "In New Boston, of too much liquor, July 3d, John Watson, of Winsted."

☞ Mr. Barey is again in London, taming ferocious horses, giving lessons to cavalry officers and rough riders, and occasionally exhibiting his art in public. When he returns to this country he will bring the famous horse Cruiser with him.

☞ Four or five hundred people from Boston, New York, and other cities, are spending the summer in the beautiful village of North Conway, N. H. Those who stop there live mostly in private houses, built by themselves.

☞ Large plaids have been wholly abandoned among the fashionables of Paris.

DR. SWETT'S
CORDIAL OF DANDELION,
SPIKENARD & BONESET,

A remedy unsurpassed for Liver Complaints, such as Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, Universal Debility, and the whole family of Consumptive Complaints.

Hundreds of testimonials might be added, proving the immense benefit to this pleasant and effective medicine, especially of those advanced in life, whose debilitated constitutions have been greatly recruited by it. A trial of it is warranted to well pay the slight expense. Price 75 cents.

[From Mrs. Daniel H. Williams.]

DR. SWETT—Dear Sir:—I presume you recollect that when I saw you, about a year since, I was very low, and had been for a long time, with dyspepsia, nothing very special, with little appetite, and pain in my head, stomach and side; but now my health is comparatively good, and I consider this great improvement attributable, mainly, to the two bottles of your "Compound Cordial of Dandelion," which you left for me. I consider this the best medicine I ever found for the complaints for which you recommend it on the labels.

MARY E. WILLIAMS.

Concord, N. H., May 28, 1858.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

A compound remedy in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Pure Sarsaparilla, so combined with other vegetables of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is repute to cure. We do not claim that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will a complish their cure must be of immense worth to that class of our afflicted fellow citizens. How completely this compound will do it, has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:—

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, TUMORS, BLOTCHES, BLAINS AND BOILS, TETTER, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR FACE MOURNER, RHEUMATISM, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which lurking in the blood at this season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud.—Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body, by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions or sores,—cleanse it when you find it is obstructed or sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, perhaps enjoy better health, and live livelonger, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or anything else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar, and of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative property whatever. Hence bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly cepised, and has become a byword, a reproach, and synonyme cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall receive the name from the lips of the lovers of honesty rests upon it. And we think we have grounds for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has won for itself such a renown for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidence of its superiority over all other pectorals employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people that the virtues for which it was first and has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.

THE ONLY ARTICLE
UNRIVALLED IN THE MARKET,
WITH IMMENSE
HOME AND EUROPEAN DEMAND.

The reason why, is that by Nature's own process it restores the natural color permanently after the hair becomes gray; supplies the natural fluids, and thus makes it grow on bald heads; removes all heat, druff, itching, and heat from the scalp, quiets and tones up the nerves, and thus cures all nervous headache, and may be relied upon to cure all diseases of the scalp which will yield to any thing; it from falling off; makes it soft, glossy, healthy and beautiful, and if used by the young twenty times a week it will never fall or become gray; then, reader, read the following and judge for yourselves:

NEW YORK, Jan. 8, 1858.

MESSRS. O. J. Wood & Co.,

Gentlemen: Having heard a good deal about Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and my hair being quite gray, I thought my mind was made up the prejudices which I, in common with a great many persons, had against all manner of patent medicines, and a short time ago I commenced using your article, to test it for myself.

The result has been so very satisfactory that I am very glad I did so, and in justice to you, as well as for the encouragement of others who may be as gray as I was but who having my prejudice without my reasons for setting it aside, are unwilling to give your Restorative a trial till they have further proof, and the best proof being ocular demonstration, I write you this letter, which you may have to any such, and also direct them to me for further proof, when I am in and out of the N. Y. Wire Railing establishment every day.

My hair is now its natural color and much improved in appearance every way, being more and thicker and much more healthy looking. I am, yours respectfully, HENRY JENKINS,

Cor. Columbia and Carroll Sts., Brooklyn.

LIVINGSTON, Kings Co., Feb. 14, 1858.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative has done much good in this part of the country. My mother has been slightly afflicted for several years, caused, I suppose, from a slight burn when I was quite an infant. I have been using your Hair Restorative six weeks and I find that she will have a fine head of hair now growing, after having used all other remedies known, to no effect. I think it the most valuable remedy now extant, and advise all who are afflicted that way to use your remedy.

You can publish this if you think proper.

Yours, &c. A. W. MIDDLETON.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative has been of great benefit to me. It not only has saved the back part of my head almost lost its covering—was in fact BALD. I have used but 2 half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the top of my head is well stocked with a healthy growth of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my case, my personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours, respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D.,
No. 434 Vine Street.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for 50 cents per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, and is more, more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

CONSUMPTION IS CURABLE!
BY THE USE OF
Winchester's Genuine Preparation of Dr. J. F. Churchill's Compound of the
HYPOPHOSPHITES
OF LIME, SODA AND POTASH,

Originally discovered and prescribed by him as a Specific Remedy for

CONSUMPTION!

The use of the Hypophosphites in CONSUMPTION, Scrofula, Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Chronic Coughs, Dyspepsia, Female Complaints, and all other diseases depending upon a DEFICIENT VITALITY IN THE ELEMENTS OF THE BLOOD, have proved their INVARIABLE EFFICACY in the treatment of cases in Europe and America and established the claim of the discoverer, that they are a SURE PREVENTATIVE, and a

SPECIFIC REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION.

Dr. Churchill says: "In no single instance have I found the remedy fail to produce everything that could be reasonably expected from it. In most instances the benefit derived from it has FAR EXCEEDED what could at first have been hoped for, when taking into account the degree and extent of the injury sustained by the lungs previously to the use of the remedy. * * * * Many of the worst two cases in the third or last stage, treated at my Dispensary during the past year, EIGHT HAVE COMPLETELY RECOVERED, eight have died, and six are still under treatment. Are chartered by the States of Delaware and Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything was done that was done in good, honest, strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as though they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Delaware or to Georgia, as the Lotteries of

WOOD, EDDY & CO.

are authorized by the Legislature of either State.

A Lottery will be drawn every day at Wilmington, Delaware, and also at Augusta, Ga. All orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after same come to hand.

Whole tickets are $10; halves, $5; and quarters, $2.50.

No ticket sent unless the money accompanies the order. Prizes vary from $20 to $50,000.

Every prize is drawn, and the result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ Scheme sent without the plan of receiving it. All communications strictly confidential.

Write your address plainly, and direct to

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,
Wilmington, Delaware.

Or to WOOD, EDDY & CO.,
Augusta, Georgia.

☞ All letters to our address will be promptly acknowledged—and prizes cashed without delay.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Those who prefer not sending money by mail, can use the "ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY," whereby money for tickets, in sums of ten dollars, and upwards, can be sent us

AT OUR RISK AND EXPENSE,

from any city or town where they have an office. The amount of order must be enclosed in a "GOVERNMENT POST OFFICE STAMPED ENVELOPE," or the Express Company cannot receive them.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

Knowing that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous secrets, and to still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent to any place, free wise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy prescrved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by other physicians have come to his care and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Medicines can be sent by mail addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

In particular in finding Dr. Hughes. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictious remedies at the expense of sickness, when health is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivaled in the world, and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. They are safe, speedy and certain, producing relief in a shorter space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to be wary of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—13 Howard street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jd dly

DYE YOUR HAIR AND WHISKERS

By using Hutchins' Liquid HAIR DYE, you can color Red or Gray Hair to a beautiful Brown or Black. This is the best article in use. A lady says it is cheaper to use it than to by caps to cover her gray hair.

AGRICULTURE IN SWITZERLAND.—A recent traveller in Switzerland, says of farms and farming in that country, that no good terraced land can be had there for less than $4000 to $7000 per acre, and the quantity of such land is one per cent. of the entire territory. No man owns more than ten to fifteen acres of such ground. In that country investments are made for security rather than profit, and two and one-half per cent. is usually satisfactory.

Of the mode of cultivation, the writer gives the following account:—

"The terraces are also chosen with a southern exposure, and are walled upon the lower side with stone and lime. They are generally from 10 to 50 feet wide, and incline at an angle of at least 22 degrees.—They ascend up the sides of the mountain from 500 to 800 feet, and are reached by stone steps, up which the manure and everything else is carried in baskets. Grape culture is the principal use made of these grounds. Thirty days' labor is the required average for every acre of vines, and is as often performed by women as men.—The vines are kept low, and trained to stakes about four feet high. The stakes are taken up every fall, and put down in the spring. Some of the vines are from eighty to one hundred years old, though they prefer to renew them every forty years. Six hundred to seven hundred and fifty gallons of wine is the common product per acre.

This wine is the common beverage of the country, is of two kinds, red and white, is worth the first year from 19 to 28 cents per gallon, the second year, when racked twice, from 37 to 56 cents, and in the same proportion for a longer time. The vineyards are worked with a mattock having the head like that of an axe on one side, and two teeth about six inches apart, and twelve to fifteen inches long on the other. The laborers work slowly, but in summer commence at 3 o'clock in the morning and continue until 7 at night. Other lands than those terraced are used as mountain pastures, and though only used about three months in the year, and seemingly lying at an angle of 45 degrees, command from 500 to 1500 francs per acre. The cattle are taken to these pastures by steep and circuitous paths, and are kept there while the season lasts. The herdsmen remain with them, living chiefly upon milk, and making cheese. Many of the herdsmen's huts on these pastures are at an altitude of from 300 to 500 feet. Above and over all is everlasting snow, and forms a combination of scenery rarely elsewhere seen."

DELUSION SMITH, OF OREGON.—Another great light of the Democracy has been snuffed out. U. S. Senator Delazon Smith, better known for nearly twenty years as "Delusion" Smith, whose term expired last March, intended to be reelected by the Oregon Legislature, but though the party had forty-three out of the fifty members, and though Delusion obtained the caucus nomination by twenty-two to twenty-one, his opponents, joining the Republicans, prevented a joint convention.

There was a little scene between Senator Hale and Delusion last winter, which is too good to be lost, and which we have never seen reported. Senator Hale was opposing an appropriation for Indian war expenses in Oregon, and mentioned that a gentleman from Washington Territory had heard it remarked that money was scarce and times hard, and that they never would be better until somebody got up an Indian war, and the federal government disbursed some cash. Delusion, whose little body gives no more of an indication of his enormous brazen voice than a frog's, rose in great wrath, denied the truth of the story, and demanded the name of Mr. Hale's informant. Mr. Hale demurred, and was unwilling to embarrass the unknown gentleman. "But," said he, "suppose we call him Jones, or Smith, or something of that sort."

Delusion—"Mr. President, that is an evasion. The Senator knows that 'Smith' is no name."

Mr. Hale—(With solemn anxiety)—"Mr. President, can that be true? Is 'Smith' no name at all? Is it possible that we have been laboring under a delusion all this while?"—Hartford Press.

☞ Brigham Young, in one of his sermons in the Tabernacle, gives the following counsel to some of the stray sheep of his flock, by which it would seem that all the virtues have not found refuge at Salt Lake.

"I have placed a low estimate upon the standing and capacity of men, and now let me take the privilege to say a few words to you—to the ladies who have reached the age of thirty years. According to my view of the subject, there is not one in a hundred that knows how to keep a house, as it should be kept. I should judge from, what I have seen, that there are many who do not know the swill-pail from the milk-pail. Others do not know how to make butter and cheese, nor how to keep their children clean. Others again, do not know how to teach their children as they should be taught.

Let me throw the lash at the 'Mormon' Elders a little. Many of you will exchange your last bushel of wheat at the stores for ribbons and gewgaws, when you really need it for breed. And, with shame-facedness I say it, some will take the last peck of their grain to the distillery to buy whisky, and then beg their bread."

☞ The remains of Hon. Rufus Choate are expected to reach Boston Friday and be interred on Saturday of this week.

☞ Mathews & Mitchell, grocers, New York, are reported to have failed with liabilities for $140,000.

Oleine Diamond Oil.
GREATEST ILLUMINATOR OF THE AGE.
This Oil is entirely free from treachery, so that a lamp may be left burning any length of time desired, without filling a room with lamp-black or soot.
It burns in the common oil lamp, with or without a chimney.
The light is far more pleasant than gas, as it is free from the disagreeable flickerings always attending a gas light, and is cheaper. We claim for this Oil:
1. That it is cheaper than any other artificial light.
2. That it has no odor.
3. That it will not smoke
4. That it will burn with or without a chimney, hence it is portable.
5. That it will stand a lower degree of temperature than any other Oil.
6. That it is free from each of the objections that are brought against every other article heretofore or now being offered to the public for illuminating purposes.
Price $1.25 per gallon.

Morning Chronicle.

IMPORTANT QUESTION.—The Portland Advertiser says, "when men of the undoubted talents and influential position of Hon. A. H. Stephens talk thus openly about the expediency of increasing the "African stock" of the South, it is quite idle to deny the Slave Trade is "an element," and a most important one too in "the politics of the country." It will be an issue in the Presidential election of next year, despite the efforts of the Northern Democracy to the contrary. The Charleston Convention will not dare to disapprove the re-opening of the trade, but by a significant silence will connive at it. The Republican Convention on the other hand will take bold decisive ground in relation to the matter, and will involve the sympathy and aid of all honest men who are disposed to keep our nation from relapsing into barbarism. The issue will thus be joined, and no amount of political finesse on the part of the Democracy will enable them to shun it, or to avoid the inevitable losses which it will entail upon them."

DRINKING HYDRANTS.—The City Councils of Philadelphia have at last authorized the erection of free drinking hydrants, and made the necessary appropriation for the work. The same day the New York Aldermen concurred in a similar measure with the Common Council, so that both cities will have public hydrants about the same time. Boston will doubtless follow this good example; and Portsmouth ought to have as many of them as we used to have town pumps.

☞ Hon. A. H. Stephens of Georgia, in his late address to his constituents, admits what is so often denied or ignored, that the fathers of the Republic were opposed to slavery. He says:

"Negro slavery is but in its infancy—it is a mere problem of our government; our fathers didn't understand it. I grant that all the public men of the South were once against it; but they didn't understand it.—It is for us to meet questions with the firmness which they did. The problem is yet unsolved."

The people will still entertain serious doubts as to whether the Revolutionary patriots, who, Mr. Stephens admits, "were all against slavery," did "not understand" the subject quite as well as he does.

☞ The morning after the French occupation of Milan, several journals that had been suppressed by the Austrian government reappeared. One had been suppressed five years, and in the last number had promised the "conclusion" of a story in the next. True to promise, the next, at the end of five years, took up the story where it had been left off, and concluded it.

☞ Blondin walked his rope for the last time on the 14th, in the presence of ten or twelve thousand people, wheeling his barrow over "his private way," which nobody seems inclined to dispute the right of. The wheel had a grooved rim to fit the rope, and the handles of the vehicle were suspended by a cord around his neck. He carried his balancing pole with him while pushing the barrow.

There are no children so prim, so free from improprieties, so perfect in their deportment, so innocent of soiled pinafores and dirty faces, as the children of old maiden ladies. They would never let children of their's romp, and roll in the grass, and make dirt pies, and jump and skip and raise ancient Edward—no never! How glad were we, when a child, that our old maiden aunt was not our mother!

☞ The mower is destined to supersede the scythe. Our New Hampshire hills were supposed by some to be proof against any much advance as a mowing machine; but science has removed the obstacles which have heretofore been in the way of their successful use.

BEST AGE OF SHEEP FOR MUTTON.—A late English writer, in remarking on this subject, says, a sheep to be in high order for the palate of the epicure, should not be killed earlier than when five years old, at which age the mutton will be succulent, of a dark color, and full of the richest gravy; whereas, if only two years old, it is flabby, pale and flavorless.

☞ John Morrison, who lives in Dubuque, was surprised the other night, when about retiring to rest, to find a copper-head snake under his pillow—which he summarily executed with an axe, and found it to measure four feet eight inches in length!

☞ The receipts of the new clipped wool in New York are said to be heavy. The arrivals per Erie Railroad alone have increased 2000 bales for the past week.

DR. SWETT'S
CORDIAL OF DANDELION,
SPIKENARD & BONESET,

A remedy unsurpassed for Liver Complaints, such as Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, Universal Debility, and the whole family of Consumptive Complaints.

Hundreds of testimonials might be added, proving the many cures by this pleasant and delicious medicine, especially of people advanced in life, whose debilitated constitutions have been greatly recruited by it. A trial of it is warranted to well pay the aged and dyspeptic. Price 75 cents.

[From Mrs. Daniel H. Williams.]

DR. SWETT—Dear Sir:—I presume you recollect that when I saw you, about a year since, I was very low, and had been for a long time, with dyspeptic complaints, being very weak, with pain, spasms, and pain in my head, stomach and side; but now my health is comparatively good, and I consider that great improvement attributable, mainly, to the two bottles of your "Compound Cordial of Dandelion," which you left for me. I consider this the best medicine I ever found for the complaints for which you recommend it on the labels.

MARY E. WILLIAMS.

Concord, N. H., May 28, 1858.

[From Mrs. Ebenezer Blazo.]

GREENLAND, Nov. 20, 1858.

DR. SWETT—Dear Sir:—The distressing disease called the heart complaint, which has so long afflicted me, and which has baffled the skill of all my former physicians, has been fully cured by the two bottles of your Cordial which I had of you last spring. Yours with respect,

SARAH BLAZO.

This unequalled medicine, together with others carefully prepared by Dr. SIMEON SWETT, from innocent but effectual vegetables, are for sale by him at No. 13 CABOT ST., Portsmouth, N. H.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.

Sir Jas Clarke's celebrated Female Pills

Prepared from a prescription of Sir Jas. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

Unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject.

TO MARRIED LADIES it is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

Each bottle, price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.

For sale, wholesale and retail, by W. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth, and by Druggists in every town in the United States.

Ladies should not be taken by females that are pregnant, during the FIRST THREE MONTHS, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at every other time, they are perfectly safe.

In cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and do not contain any thing hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions accompany each package.

Sole Agent for the United States and Canada, JOB MOSES, ROCHESTER, N. Y.

$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized Agent, will insure a bottle of the Pills by return mail. July9

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

A compound remedy in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of PARSAPARILLA combined with other vegetables of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed a remedy is now within reach of sufferers from Strumous complaints, and that one which will a complish this cure must be of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow citizens. How completely this compound will do it, has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, TETTERS, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, EPYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. Many feel its invigorating effects in many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud.—Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the encumrance of painful sores and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions or sores—cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this potent agent at command, disease and suffering need not be expected. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed, but more because most of the preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or anything else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been made upon the idea, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Acids, bitter and painful disagreeable ingredients have followed the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and a prejudice established against the preparations with that name, which we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the odium of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have grounds for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure the benefits of this medication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

PREPARED AND SOLD BY

DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,
LOWELL, MASS.

PRICE, $1 PER BOTTLE; SIX BOTTLES FOR $5.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has won for itself such a renown for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidence of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. All it has long been in the habit of doing, to set this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR THE CURE OF

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Worms, Dropsy, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the Blood.

They are sugar-coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Price, 25 cents per box; five boxes for $1.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen and other distinguished men have left their name to certify the unparalleled usefulness of these remedies, but our space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agent below named will furnish the American Almanac, in which they are given; with also full descriptions of the above complaints, and the treatment that should be followed for their cure.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations they make more profit on.—Demand AYER's, and take no other. The sick man the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

All our remedies are for sale by W. R. Preston, Portsmouth, and by all druggists and merchants in the civilized world. 6m—je14

The Liver Invigorator.

PREPERED BY DR SANFORD,

COMPOUNDED ENTIRELY FROM GUMS,

is one of the best PURGATIVE and LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These GUMS remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, and by their tonic effect, PURIFYING THE BLOOD, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

BILIOUS ATTACKS are cured, and, what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating will serve to relieve the stomachand prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring prevents NIGHTMARE.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently and cures Costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure DYSPEPSIA.

A dose of two tea-spoonfuls will always relieve SICK HEADACHE.

Only one dose immediately relieves COLIC.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony to its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

HOME AND EUROPEAN DEMAND.

The reason why, is that by Nature's own process it restores the natural color permanently after the hair becomes gray; supplies the natural nutriment, and thus makes it grow on bald heads, removes all dandruff, itching, and heat from the scalp, quiets and tones up the nerves, and thus cures all nervous headaches, and relieves the brain from all the diseases of the scalp and hair; keeps it soft, glossy, healthy and beautiful, and if used by the young two or three times a week it will never fall or become gray; then, reader, read the following and judge for yourselves:

NEW YORK, Jan. 8, 1858.

MESSRS. O. J. WOOD & CO.,

Gentlemen: Having heard a good deal about Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and I being quite gray, I made up my mind to lay aside the prejudices which I, in common with a great many persons, had against all manner of patent medicines, and a short time ago I commenced using your article, to test it for myself.

The result has been so very satisfactory that I am very glad I did so, and in justice to you, as well as for the encouragement of others who may be as gray as I was but who having my prejudice without my experience to guide them, may be unwilling to give your Restorative a trial till they have further proof, and the best proof being occular demonstration, I write you this letter, which you may show to any such, and direct them to call for further proof, who am in and out of the N. Y. Wire Railing establishment every day.

My hair is now its natural color, and much improved in appearance every way, being glossier and thicker and much more healthy looking. I am, yours respectfully, HENRY PERKINS.

Cor. Columbia and Carroll Sts., Brooklyn.

LIVINGSTON, Ala., Feb. 14, 1858.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative has given good in the place of the gray of the county. My hair has been slightly diminishing for several years, caused, I suppose, from a slight burn when I was quite an infant. I have been using your Hair Restorative for six weeks and I find that I have a fine head of hair now growing, after having used all other remedies known, to no effect. I think it the most valuable remedy now extant, and advise all who are afflicted that way to use your remedy.

You can publish this if you think proper.

Yours, &c. S. W. MIDDLETON.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—was in fact, bald. I have now a fine growth of your Restorative, and now the top of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its touch. I have tried other preparations, without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours, respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D.,
No. 464 Vine Street.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion, and retails therefore at one and a dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

CONSUMPTION IS CURABLE!

BY THE USE OF

Winchester's Genuine Preparation of Dr. J. F. Churchill's Compound of the

HYPOPHOSPHITES

OF LIME, SODA AND POTASH,

Originally discovered and prescribed by him as a Specific Remedy for

CONSUMPTION!

The use of the Hypophosphites in CONSUMPTION, Scrofula, Nervous Debility, Asthma, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Female Complaints, and all other diseases depending upon a DEFICIENCY VITALITY IN THE ELEMENTS OF THE BODY, have proved their INVARIABLE EFFICACY in thousands of cases in Europe and America and established the claim of the discoverer, that they are a SUE PREVENTATIVE, and a

SPECIFIC REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION.

Dr. Churchill says: "In no single instance have I found the remedy fail to produce everything that could be reasonably expected from it. In many instances the benefit derived from it has FAR EXCEEDED what could at first have been hoped for; when taking into account the degree and extent of the injury sustained by the lungs, previously to the use of the remedy. * * * * * Out of twenty-two cases in the third or last stage, treated at my Dispensary during the past year, ninety HAVE COME TO GRAVE, and twenty-eight have died, and six are still under treatment. SUCH A RESULT IS ALTOGETHER UNPARALLELED IN THE ANNALS OF MEDICINE."

BE SURE TO PURCHASE WINCHESTER'S GENUINE PREPARATION,

which is certified by Dr. James R. Chilton to be the purest, most and chemically pure. My facsimile signature is upon every bottle.

☞ Price $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5, with full directions for use. Write for Circulars, which will give RELIABLE INFORMATION, when to, and save from all possibility of deception. Sold wholesale at the lowest discount for cash, at the Sole General Depot in the United States, by J. WINCHESTER, American and Foreign Agency, 49 John street, New York.

LOTTERIES.

THE LOTTERIES OF

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,

Are chartered by the States of Delaware and Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as though they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Delaware or to Georgia, as the Lotteries of

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,

are authorized by the Legislatures of either State.

A Lottery will be drawn every day at Wilmington, Delaware, and also at Augusta, Ga. All orders received by us will be filled in the drawing next to take place after same comes to hand.

Whole tickets are $10; halves, $5; and quarters, $2.50.

No ticket sent unless the money accompanies the order. Prizes vary from $20 to $50,000.

Every prize is drawn, and the result of drawing forwarded to all parties concerned.

☞ A circular showing the plan of receiving it. All communications strictly confidential.

Write your address plainly, and direct to

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,
Wilmington, Delaware.

Or to WOOD, EDDY & CO.,
Augusta, Georgia.

☞ All letters to our address will be promptly acknowledged—and prizes cashed without delay.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Those who prefer not sending money by mail, can use the "ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY," whereby money can be forwarded, in sums of ten dollars and upwards, can be sent us

AT OUR RISK AND EXPENSE,

from any city or town where they have an office. The money and order must be enclosed in a "GOVERNMENT POST OFFICE STAMPED ENVELOPE," or else the Express Company cannot receive them.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

Knowing that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surmundering their lives in the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies, who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, to regular physicians, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secresy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of diseases of the Urinary, Liver, properly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Those who have been treated by ignorance Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing eyes.

Be particular in finding Dr. Hughes. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try inferior medicines, because

Oleine Diamond Oil.
GREATEST ILLUMINATOR OF THE AGE.
This Oil is entirely free from treacle, so that a lamp may be left burning any length of time desired, without filling a room with lamp-black or soot.
It burns in the common oil lamp, with or without a chimney.
The light is far more pleasant than gas, as it is free from the disagreeable flickerings always attending a gas light, and is cheaper. We claim for this Oil:
1. That it is cheaper than any other artificial light.
2. That it has no odor.
3. That it will not smoke
4. That it will burn with or without a chimney, hence it is portable
5. That it will stand a lower degree of temperature than any other Oil.
6. That it is free from each of the objections that are brought against every other article heretofore or now being offered to the public for illuminating purposes.
Price $1.25 per gallon.

FRIDAY, JULY 22, 1859.

LAW AND GOSPEL.—In Brookline, Mass., says the Boston Journal, the Irish portion of the population are, as a general thing, a law-abiding and well behaved class; but it is their misfortune that, having a taste for strong drink, among their number are a few who are determined to get their living by selling liquor. The consequence is that fights and rows are quite common "on the marsh," the locality where the Irish most do congregate. The Catholic clergyman, Father Finatti, has done all in his power to stop the selling and drinking of liquor among his parishioners, but finding his commands and entreaties of no avail, he has at last resorted to the law. Accordingly, on his complaint, Mrs. Devine, Mrs. Joanna O'Neil and Martin O'Day were brought before Justice Aspinwall, at the Town Hall, on a charge of selling intoxicating liquor contrary to law. The charge being sustained, the usual sentence of ten dollars and costs each, and imprisonment in the House of Correction at Dedham, for twenty days was imposed by the Justice, from which the prisoners appealed. Father Finatti was in Court, and stated that for three years he had used every means to induce the Irish to refrain from selling liquor. He had preached against the use of liquor as a beverage, he had denounced the selling of strong drink in public and in private, and he had privately begged and urged those engaged in the practice to desist, but without effect, and he now announced his determination to see that the law was thoroughly enforced. There was no excuse on the ground of poverty for selling liquor, as the reverend clergyman said he had offered to assist all who could not obtain a living without breaking the laws. It is hoped that the firm stand taken by the Rev. Mr. Finatti will not be without its due effect upon the Celtic population of this and the surrounding cities and towns, and we cannot but think it is worthy of imitation by his brother clergyman everywhere.

HARVARD COLLEGE.—Wednesday was Commencement day at Harvard University. The graduating class numbered ninety—the only one from this county being Jacob Abbott Cram, of Hampton Falls. The services consisted as usual, of literary exercises in the First Unitarian Church, dinner at Harvard Hall, and levee in the evening.

Forty-seven were graduated from the Law school, fourteen from the Divinity school, and thirty-seven from the Medical school. The degree of Bachelor in Science was conferred upon nine graduates from the Lawrence Scientific School.

One hundred and forty applied for admission this week. Of these twenty were rejected, forty admitted without conditions, and eighty on condition. About a dozen students, chiefly from Exeter Academy, will apply for advanced standing, and an additional number for admission as Freshmen, at the end of the six weeks vacation, which will make the number of the class from 125 to 130. Last year 122 applied—18 were rejected, 29 admitted free of condition, and the remainder on condition. Six young men from Mr. Carlton's school in this city, were favorably received. They were Messrs. Goodwin, Langdon and Prescott, of this city; Mr. Dinsmoore of Keene; Mr. Bugree of Salem, Ms.; and Mr. Fearing of New York.

REVOLUTIONS IN WAR.—The Emperor Napoleon III., in proving his fitness to lead a great revolutionary change in the politics of Europe by his conduct in a great war, finds troops of defenders. The London Times says:

"He fights his battles with new cannon of his own invention, whisks his men into action by railway, reconnoitres the positions of his enemies with balloons, makes the electric telegraph his aid-de-camp, puts the bayonet and the order of battle of the phalanx in the place of the musket and the lines of the great Frederick. He appeals directly from the throne to the people; diplomatizes by daring to tell the precise truth; and works for his own dynasty by working for nationalities and the independence of whole races of men."

THE FRENCH EMPEROR SUSTAINS THE POPE.—The Paris Siecle has been sharply rebuked by the Administration of the French Government, for attacking the Papacy in consequence of the butchery at Perugia. Respect for the protection of the Papacy, says the rebuke, forms part of the programme which the Emperor is now carrying out in Italy,—and the responsibility of the affair of Perugia must fall upon the people there, not upon the Pope, or the Pope's troops! The Siecle replies as boldly as it dares.

☞ An advertisement of the New York Times will be seen in another column this morning. Mr. Chas. J. Raymond, one of the editors, is at the seat of war, in Europe, and has furnished most reliable accounts of the movements of the hostile armies. The Times is an able and valuable paper.

FOREIGN REGIMENTS OF THE POPE.—John Rapp, Swiss Consulate-General, London, in a letter to the London News, says:

With reference to the alleged outrage said to have been committed by the so-called Swiss troops in the service of the Pope on the inhabitants of Perugia, and which have given rise to comments in the press of this country, of a nature highly derogatory to the character of the people and government of Switzerland, I have, in deference to public opinion and by the authority of the Federal Council, been desired to state in explanation, that the foreign mercenary troops in the pay of Rome and Naples are not "Swiss," but simply "foreign regiments;" that is to say, they are in no way sanctioned or countenanced by the Swiss Government.

The Papal States.—The Independence Belge says:—"The outrageous conduct of the Swiss Guards at Perugia is already producing disastrous consequences for the temporal government of the Holy See. At Bologna, the provisional junta has published a proclamation, recalling all the young men who have enlisted under the flag of Italian independence; because, says the proclamation, if it is a civic duty to take up arms to liberate one's country, there is a greater and more urgent duty still—that of defending our hearths and homes.

In Piedmont and Tuscany public indignation has reached such a pitch that even the clergy are constrained openly to take a part with it. Several pastoral letters have been written protesting against the conduct of the Pope's mercenaries, and laboring to separate the Catholic cause from the doings of its champions. The Court of Rome will very probably find reason to regret the rewards and eulogiums which it has lavished upon the conquerors of Perugia."

"BRISTOL BILL."—According to the correspondent of a Brattleboro' paper, who has lately paid a visit to the Vermont State Prison, this once famous criminal is completely broken down. The writer says:

"In the first shop we visited, our attention was directed to the noted Bristol Bill, who is certainly the last man that one only acquainted with his history would select as the noted burglar, counterfeiter and prison breaker. His appearance is that of a broken down, feeble old man, emaciated and gray-haired; his countenance expresses a hopeless misery, and his whole appearance is calculated to excite the pity of those who see him. He looks neither to the right or left, not even giving the visitor a single glance of his cold grey eye. His work is smoothing off the snaths. I visited his cell, and found a number of books in it, and on his pillow lay a copy of the Bible, open at the story of the Prodigal Son."

AFFAIRS IN UTAH.—It is said that affairs in Utah, agricultural, mercantile and moral, are improving. The number of strangers who have lately resided there has had a beneficial effect upon the Mormons themselves; polygamy is fast becoming unpopular; the women are beginning to see the true position in which they are placed; they find their Gentile sisters look with abhorrence upon the system, and many of them who have been deluded into their present mode of living are about throwing off the chains of sin, abandoning their husbands, and boldly returning to their former homes, habits and names. Even Brigham Young himself has spoken against any more "sealing" or giving more wives than one; he is constantly besieged with appeals for divorce.

A party of eight persons, who left Salt Lake City for Pike's Peak early in April, were, all except one, drowned while crossing the South Platte river.

A correspondent of the Missouri Republican says:—

"A large number of apostate Mormon emigrants have left this territory within the last few weeks. A detachment of troops under the command of Major Lynde passed through this city yesterday, to serve as an escort for a large number of emigrants who were going to California by the northern route. This was deemed necessary, as the church authorities here would strip and rob them on their way, and they have had agents in the canons for weeks, demanding of the poor emigrants their tithing and dues to the 'perpetual emigration fund,' and when it was not paid, or the parties unable to pay it, their property had been taken from them. I know that you cannot appreciate these enormities in the States, and that it falls upon the ear dead and leaden, but you should be here upon the spot if you would wish to see the full force and effect of church tyranny."

☞ Arthur's Home Magazine for August contains its usual variety of attractive and instructive reading. For frontispiece it has a graphic representation of "Crossing the Brook"—one young lady seated on a donkey, driving the sheep and cows; Carlo taking the boy across; several young ladies wade or hop from stone to stone; while baby goes over pick-a-back with mamma.

☞ Mr. Peter Matterson, of Low Dunsford, near Boroughbridge, England, died on the 20th ult. He and his ancestry have been the owners and occupiers of the farm on which he died, for more than eight hundred years. The farm was not entailed, and the owner has always been a Matterson, without adoption.

The father of Passmore Williamson sent one hundred dollars to Prof. Peck as his contribution towards the relief of the imprisoned Oberlin rescuers, while they remained in jail at Cleaveland. Passmore, it will be remembered, endured a long imprisonment for contempt of Judge Kane's United States Court, before which he was brought on a charge of assisting fugitive slaves to escape.

LYNCH LAW.—St. Louis, July 20.—A despatch received to-day from Marshall, in this State, says that three negroes, who were on trial yesterday at that place for rape and murder, were at night taken forcibly from the jail by a mob, and two of them hung and the other burnt at the stake.

FIRST RELIGIOUS SERVICES IN NEW ENGLAND.—The Rev. Edward Ballard, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Brunswick, Maine, lately delivered an able discourse on the "History of the Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Maine." We make the following interesting extract:

"In 1607, a colony, under the command of George Popham, sailed for our shores, and came to a 'gallant island' on the coast of Maine, on which a cross had been planted about two years before, by Capt. Waymouth, who was a member of the English Church. On the 9th of August, which was Sunday, the principal part of the ship's company went ashore on this island, and heard a sermon from the Rev. Richard Seymour, an Episcopal clergyman, who was the chaplain of the enterprise. The colony afterwards built a fort and a church, with dwelling houses, near the mouth of the Sagadahoc, where Mr. Seymour continued to officiate through the winter. The weather was extremely cold. Fire consumed many of the buildings and stores, and their leader died. These discouragements and other disappointments led to the abandonment of the colony the next year.—These religious services were the first held in New England. They were conducted by an Episcopal Minister, who preached the first sermon in this region thirteen years before the landing of the Pilgrims on Plymouth Rock, and some time before any of them had left England for a temporary abode in Holland."

☞ The Paris correspondent of the Boston Traveller renews the report that Gen. Espinassa, whom he says every body in Paris hated—was murdered, instead of being shot by the enemy. He thus states the particulars of his death:—"The moment he reached the battle ground he received a ball through his lungs and fell from his horse, exclaiming to his nephew: "I am a doomed man. You must be the head of the family now." Lieut. de Froidefonds leaped from his horse, and just as he was about to kiss his dying uncle, an Austrian rifle ball passed through his head, and both fell to the ground, dead men."

QUICKEST FOOT RACE ON RECORD.—Two remarkable foot races came off on the Empire Trotting Course, yesterday. Two Indians, named Smith and Bennett, matched themselves to run 100 miles within thirteen hours. During the morning the atmosphere was very sultry, and the mercury, at 10 o'clock, stood at 90 in the shade. Nevertheless, both men started in the race and ran to the 28th mile, when Bennett gave out, leaving his rival to accomplish the feat alone. The first fifty miles were run by Smith in seven hours and twenty-four seconds. He continued the race to the sixty-first mile, when his feet became so swollen that he was almost unable to walk, and he gave up the race. The time occupied by Smith in the sixty-one miles was nine hours, twenty-nine minutes, and thirty-nine seconds, the quickest, for the distance, on record.—Troy Times, 14th.

DIVISION OF THE REWARD FOR A MURDERER.—An order has been reported from the Committee on Claims of the Board of Aldermen, awarding the sum of $1000 offered for the detection of the murderer of the Policeman E. W. Hodgdon as follows:—$300 to the police officers, for their diligent investigation into the facts and unceasing efforts out of the line of their duty; $250 to James Benson, the boy who was confined in the cell with the murderer, McNulty; $150 to Col. Eastman, warden of the New Hampshire State Prison; $50 to City Marshal Patch, of Lynn, and $250 to Col. Palmer and Deputy Sheriff Gibb.—Boston Traveller.

The Laconia Democrat gives mysterious account of a young lawyer at Sanbornton Bridge, the plain English of which is, that he robbed a Bank of $64, and on being detected was compelled to "fork over" every dollar he and his widowed mother could raise, and then leave for parts unknown.—Money had been missing on several previous occasions, and a watch being set he was at the last attempt caught with the money in his pocket. His name is Atwood and he formerly lived at Newport.—American.

Flour has declined three dollars in New York, in three months. How much has it fallen here? The speculators anticipated that the European war would carry it up to extravagant prices; but there is plenty of bread in Europe and excellent harvest, giving no demand for exportations, and flour ought to sink to reasonable—yes, and low prices.

☞ Tight sleeves are inevitable, say the ladies who read the signs of the times in the dial of fashion, and the last letter from Paris says,—"Thirty flounces are necessary on a dress, and basques are entirely hors du combat."

MY PSALM.

BY J. G. WHITTIER.

I mourn no more my vanished years:
Beneath a tender rain,
An April rain of smiles and tears,
My heart is young again.

The west winds blow, and, singing low,
I hear the glad streams run;
The windows of my soul I throw
Wide open to the sun.

No longer forward nor behind
I look in hope and fear;
But, grateful, take the good I find,
The best of now and here.

I plough no more a desert land,
To harvest weed and tare;
The manna dropping from God's hand,
Rebukes my painful care.

I break my pilgrim staff, I lay
Aside the toiling oar:
The angel sought so far away
I welcome at my door.

The airs of Spring may never play
Among the ripening corn,
Nor freshness of the flowers of May
Blow through the Autumn morn;

Yet shall the blue eyed gentian look
Through fringed lids to heaven,
And the pale aster in the brook
Shall see its image given.

The woods shall wear their robes of praise,
The south wind softly sigh,
And sweet calm days in golden haze
Melt down the amber sky.

Not less shall manly deed and word
Rebuke an age of wrong;
The graven flowers that wreath the sword
Make not the blade less strong.

But smiting hands shall learn to heal,
To build as to destroy;
Nor less my heart for others feel,
That I the more enjoy.

All as God wills, who wisely heeds
To give or to withhold,
And knoweth more of all my needs
Than all my prayers have told!

Enough that blessings undeserved
Have marked my erring track—
That whereso'er my feet have swerved,
His chastening turned me back—

That more and more a Providence
Of love is understood,
Making the springs of time and sense
Sweet with eternal good—

That death seems but a covered way
Which opens into light,
Wherein no blinded child can stray
Beyond the Father's sight—

That care and trial seem at last,
Through memory's sunset air,
Like mountain ranges overpast,
In purple distant fair—

That all the jarring notes of life
Seem blending in a psalm,
And all the angles of its strife
Slow rounding into calm.

And so the shadows fall apart,
And so the west winds play;
And all the windows of my heart
I open to the day.

A capital practical joke in reference to Horace Greeley, has been played off with success in California. A paper there started the story that Mr. Greeley was coming to take the command of the fillibusters of that State, and would unite with Walker and Henningsen in invading Mexico and usurping the government of that republic. A copy of this paper fell into the hands of the commander at Mazatlan, and he at once issued a proclamation informing the people that "One Horace Greeley, a most diabolical, bloodthirsty, and unmerciful man—worse than the infamous Walker, or even the minions of Miramon—a man whose very name struck dread to the hearts of thousands in the United States, so many were his crimes, and so terrible was his conduct—is now at the head of the most extensive band of fillibusters ever collected, and on his way to Mexico!" He then exhorts the people to prepare themselves for instant action and concludes thus: "This dangerous man (homme peligrose) is not of the common school of fillibusters; they wish for plunder; he for blood and murderous deeds."

LOCAL.

☞ We have incendiaries among us, beyond a question. Ten idlers might be seen, standing at one corner in a little cluster, on Wednesday—all young men, every one of them sufficiently able bodied to be good hay-makers—but all preferring to be loafers.

On Wednesday night, between eleven and half-past eleven, there was a general alarm of fire, the bells rang, and the firemen turned out with engines and apparatus,—but soon the men and machines returned to their places; and it was commonly reported that the alarm was false. Not so, however; the alarm was true, and being promptly given, saved the town from what threatened to be a great fire.

The fire was undoubtedly set by design, and was burning in the back part of the wooden store 111 Market street, occupied by Messrs. Jaquith, Hall & Co. as a flour store.

The back part, where the fire was set, is not plastered, and is occupied with empty casks, loose boards, and other matters easily burnt. The incendiaries entered by a back door, which was fastened only with a hook, and opened easily. They placed a barrel of shavings on the floor, against a wooden partition, and set it on fire. Above this, among loose boards, was placed a parcel of "excelsior," or hazel, prepared for beds.

This matter made a very brilliant fire, and bade fair to break out shortly; but this back room had no shutters; and the light shone brightly out at the windows.

A man living over the opposite store, happened just then to get out of bed, saw the bright light, and gave the alarm, which saved the neighborhood and town from a great and destructive conflagration.

A few days ago Mr. B. F. Wiggin, who lives in Cass street, found that his barn had been set on fire in the night, by chips and shavings carefully placed against the outside, which was scorched and charred considerably,—but the barn being new, the fire had gone out, doing only slight damage.

It behooves our officers and all good citizens to be watchful against the evil-doers,—and to keep a suspicious eye on all the professional loafers which infest our city.

☞ We were misinformed as to the fire in Mr. Philbrick's barn on Green street, being put out without an engine. No. 4, the nearest tub, was promptly on hand, and by a speedy and liberal supply of water, put out a small mow of hay, and other combustibles.

A CARD.—Engine Co. No. 4 being desirous of expressing their sincere thanks to Messrs. Jaquith, Hall & Co., also Edward S. Wendell for refreshments at the fire on Saturday, the 16th, use this means for so doing. T. J. TRAFTON, Clerk.

☞ The new, convenient and beautiful Masonic Hall in this city, (late Congress Hall,) has excited much attention and admiration from the Masonic fraternity, as well as from outsiders. A large number of ladies and gentlemen availed themselves of the opportunity offered them, to visit the Hall on Thursday—but we believe none of the uninitiated were allowed to see the goat or the other mysterious paraphernalia.

It is rumored that the brethren of the Order in this city, were invited to a collation in the banquetting hall, above the hall proper, on Wednesday evening, by Bro. Frank Fuller; and that upwards of sixty sat down to a capital supper—at which many fine things were said as well as "done to a turn"—all which of course none but those of the mystic tie could be allowed to enjoy.

Free Masonry seems to be widening and strengthening itself in every part of the civilized world.

WEARE BANK, HAMPTON FALLS.—We learn that the directors of this Bank, the condition of which was unsatisfactory to the Bank Commissioners in consequence of the loan of a large amount to a New York party which they deemed insecure, have recovered the amount thus loaned. Their owner has recently been offered $750 for them.—Ballot.

HOW TEETH ARE DESTROYED.

BANEFUL EFFECTS OF SALERATUS AND CREAM OF TARTAR.

As a subject generally interesting and important to the public, I venture to offer some views of my own and others in regard to the articles that head this communication. First, I will give an extract from Mrs. H. B. Stowe's late work on England and Europe. She says (pages 21 and 22):

"How comes it that our married ladies dwindle, fade and grow thin—that their sons decline in sharpness and their elbows in angularity just at the time of life when their island sisters round out into a comfortable and becoming fulness? If it is the fog and sea-coal, why, then, I am afraid we shall never come up with them.

"But perhaps there may be other causes why a country, which starts some of the most beautiful girls in the world, produces so few beautiful women. Have not our close-heated stove-rooms something to do with it? Have not the immense amount of hot biscuits, hot corn-cakes, and other compounds, got up with the acrid poison of saleratus, something to do with it?"

Extract from an article in the Boston Transcript:

"Cream of tartar and carbonate of soda are far inferior to common yeast for making healthy bread. More cream of tartar, carbonate of soda and saleratus are used in Boston in making bread, in one day, than are used in all Europe in one year. It is the extensive use of these articles that is the cause of our young men and young women having dyspeptic teeth. In France, in the large cities, no one makes what we, in this country, call family bread; hence, the government is very strict in its laws suppressing the manufacture of bread by the bakers. Officers are appointed to keep watch over them, and if detected in using or having in their bakeries, ammonia, saleratus, or carbonate of soda, they are subject to a heavy fine. We should have such laws in this city; then those of us who patronize the bakers should find the staff of life much better support than it is."

The well-known Dr. Alcott, in a letter to the Tribune says:—

"Your readers know, perhaps, that we lose about 300,000 inhabitants of the United States every year; and, if they read all that has been written on the subject within a few years, that, in my opinion, not a few of these might have survived had it not been for the effects of saleratus."

He further says:—

"In 1855, a lady in Williamstown took about fifteen boarders—chiefly if not wholly young men attending College at that place. She was ignorant of fashionable cookery, but knew rich food was generally preferred. She had heard of saleratus, and that by many cooks it was freely used. Accordingly, she procured a quantity and freely used it. The warm biscuit were so full of it, as not only to give them a yellow or burnt appearance, but also to render them bitter or nauseous to the taste. Many other articles were filled with it in like manner. In endeavoring to make light puddings, she used so much of the article as to make them almost as heavy as lead.

"The students called the puddings by the name of specific gravity; and when they wished for a slice would ask to be helped to some of the specific gravity. After the lapse of a few months, a disease broke out among the students so severe that many believed it contagious. Of the whole number, thirteen were confined for a long time—the fourteenth slightly affected for a few days. The house became known as the pest house. Two of the patients died, and another hardly escaped death. Eleven finally recovered."

To which is added, that the attending physicians, Dr. Sabin and Dr. Smith, never had any doubt that the whole was caused by saleratus.

To the above it would be easy to add many more cases, but let these suffice for the present. They may be called extreme cases, and I admit it. So is delirium tremens an extreme case of drunkenness, and goes more strongly to prove the horrid and destructive evil. But the more particular object of this communication is, to awaken the attention of the community to the evils of effect of cream of tartar, saleratus and carbonate of soda on the teeth. Having now for about a quarter of a century had an opportunity to witness their effect on these important organs, I think I can speak with some experience.

One of the most common questions asked of the dentist is, "Why do people's teeth decay more now than they used to?" and it is often accompanied by the declaration, "that my father, mother or grand-parents used to have good teeth, and they say there were no dentists in their day;" and they might have added, neither of the articles above referred to was much in use at the time.

It is now about fifty years since saleratus was introduced to the community. At that time there was but one dentist in Boston, and I may say in New England; he was sufficient for accidents, &c., and did a small business. There are probably at this time five hundred individuals in the business, and I should not be surprised (taking an average) that each does more business than he did. Now, why this great addition to the profession? Is it not by some great and general cause of the decay of the teeth? I am aware that a variety of answers might be made to this question, but too numerous to introduce here. I think if there was a sort introduced into the community (under the plea that it was more convenient) that should destroy the fingers, and the community still persist in using it, we should have another profession, called fingerists, that would rise up if loudly called for.

I may be answered that the population has increased. This is true; but not five hundred times. Again, I may be answered that people have more done to their teeth now than they used to. Very good; they have done because they need it done—but when they had "sound teeth" they did not want it. Again, it is said there are new inventions to preserve and supply teeth. Very well; new inventions do not come forth till the mother of invention calls for them. Children come into a dentist's office, from two years old and upward, with sets of decayed and often horribly painful and offensive teeth. Certainly age cannot have much to do with the alarming evil. Something else is the cause. On going on board emigrant vessels, I have generally observed the people have good teeth. After being here some time, they go to h ve their teeth extracted; and they often say that "my teeth did not decay before I came to this country." On asking them if they used saleratus or cream of tartar in their country, their answer has been invariably, "No, never used it till I came here." I have three skulls that came from Paris, all of which have sound teeth. It would be difficult to obtain the like here as to teeth.

Apologists often say that we use but little saleratus, while one open-hearted woman observed, "I used to get it in a box, but I had to send so often I now get it in a firkin." I do not think it is generally known how much of the article is used in the community. To satisfy myself, I took the trouble to ask each of the grocers in Portsmouth how much saleratus and cream of tartar they sold in a year, and the amount of all was—saleratus, 50,198 lbs.; cream of tartar, 15,100 lbs. Thus, over twenty-five tons of the former and more than seven of the latter are probably used in Portsmouth and vicinity in a year! Portsmouth has 10,000 inhabitants.

I subjected a handful of teeth to a strong and warm solution of saleratus for about fourteen days; the consequence was, they became as brittle as burnt bones. The same time I subjected some to a solution of cream of tartar, the consequence was not the same, but equally if not more injurious. This also may be called an extreme case, but subjecting them to common water for fourteen months would have but little or no effect on them. The saleratus removes the gelatine, the cream of tartar removes the lime, the two principal ingredients of the teeth; and between the two evils the teeth stand a poor chance, and hence the result.

Some patients have observed that they have been recommended to put a lump of pearlash or saleratus in a hollow or decayed tooth for the toothache; and on asking them the result, "why, it for a while cured the pain, but in a few days the crown of the tooth crumbled away." It would appear that this one circumstance is sufficient to convince any one, that in the article there is a principle most deadly to the life of the teeth, when it is well known that the crown or enamel of a tooth is by far the hardest of any bone in the body, for after the other bones have returned to dust, this part has been found apparently sound.

Let the importance of the subject be the apology for offering a few words, as they may be profitable to your readers. You will well remember our late venerable citizen, John McClintock, hale and hearty at over ninety. I asked him if he, in his family, used saleratus or cream of tartar? His reply was, "No! THEY ARE BOTH POISON." All the physicians of the place whom I have conversed with, and among them the late Dr. Cheever, have agreed in saying that it was "bad stuff." One gentleman in town, having had a regular medical education, informed me that at the time he attended the lectures, the professors and students went into a course of experiments to inform themselves, and that the result was that they were fully convinced of its hurtful and evil tendency. And when it has such apparently bad effect on the teeth, is it not reasonable to conclude that it has some effect on the other bones, and other parts of the system, and more particularly on the lining, or inner coating of the stomach, and in bringing on the somewhat modern disease, dyspepsia; and, more generally, may it not affect the blood and heart?

One of the dealers observed, when he commenced business, he used to buy some in a firkin, but now he bought it by the ton. He says he was aware of the evil effects of it, and in his family they used but very little.

It may be well to say here that cream of tartar may be and is called an acid; saleratus and carbonate of soda are alkalies; both alkalies and acids in a great variety of shapes and mixtures are prepared, advertised, and recommended for cleaning the teeth. That they will generally do it, and sometimes suddenly, is true; but let me tell those that use for the teeth either acids or alkalies under whatever name or preparation, that it is generally well known, if persisted in a length of time, the general consequence is the destruction of the teeth; therefore, under all circumstances that relate to the teeth, have nothing to do with those ingredients in any shape.

To stop the use of these articles—saleratus, cream of tartar and carbonate of soda, now in so general use in the community—I think would be like trying to remove the White Mountains; but I feel it my duty to do my part toward calling the attention of the public to what seems to be a dreadful evil, of which in my situation, I cannot help being so often and painfully reminded.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The Secretary of the Interior will transmit by the Pacific steamer of August 5th, $264,000 to Oregon and Washington, to satisfy the recently audited claims on account of advances for restoring and maintaining peaceable and more friendly relations with the Indian tribes.

Judge Gillis, of Pa., has been appointed special agent to the Pawnees, with the view so to arrange matters as to prevent further difficulties.

Books and public documents pertaining to the first session of the late Congress are being boxed, to be sent to the various literary institutions throughout the country, according to law. This is one of the reforms which has deprived the members from selling such works, as was formerly practiced, for waste paper, or at nominal sums, to speculating book traders.

GOOD NEWS FROM EUROPE.

By steamer Africa, we have Liverpool dates to the 9th of July. Her news is very important and interesting.

An armistice has been concluded between the Allied and Austrian armies till the 15th of August, and strong hopes of peace are now entertained.

There was great excitement on all the Bourses, and great advances obtained.

The ship Sarah Minot, (of Boston) from New Orleans for Lyons, was burnt at sea June 28. The crew had arrived at Liverpool.

The London Times says, of the armistice,—

All that seems to be well authenticated is that the proposal came from France, and was the result of the Emperor's own determination. That the Emperor should stop short in a career of victory, and make overtures to the foe whom he defeated in two pitched battles, and hurried back to the limits of Lombardy, argues the moderation or the necessities of the French ruler. We can hardly believe that the latter have been the cause of this sudden resolve.

If the next week or two show that Napoleon and Francis Joseph really wish to stop the effusion of blood, and to settle permanently the affairs of Italy, we shall be glad to help them; but it becomes this country not to lower its dignity by pressing her advice, unasked, on two Emperors who have shown no desire that we should share their councils.

OPPRESSION AFTER EATING.—Many persons, after an ordinary meal, feel a sense of weight and discomfort in the region of the stomach, the sure sign of an imperfect digestion, and probably the forerunner of a settled dyspepsia. Nothing will relieve this oppression like the PERUVIAN SYRUP, by the stimulus it gives to the digestive powers.

Common Sense rules the mass of the people, whatever the misnamed and misanthrope philosophers may say to the contrary. Show them a good thing: let its merits be clearly demonstrated, and they will not hesitate to give it their most cordial patronage. The masses have already ratified the judgment of a physician, concerning the virtues of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, as may be seen in the immense quantities of this medicine that are annually sold in every section of the land. It is now recognized as the great of superior to all other remedies yet devised for diseases of the digestive organs, such as diarrhœa, dysentery, dyspepsia, and for the various fevers that arise from derangement of those portions of the system. Hostetter's name is rapidly becoming a household word, from Maine to Texas; from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pacific. Try the article and be satisfied.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

Dyspepsia.

Considering the various forms in which this disease developes itself, it may well be called hydra-headed. In its train follow Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, Heartburn, Water Brash, Costiveness, Piles, Acidity, Oppression after Eating, Jaundice, Flatulency, Torpor of the Liver, Dizziness, Debility, Female Complaints, &c. Some of the first men in our land have given their written certificates relative to the cures effected in their own persons by the OXYGENATED BITTERS; while testimonials from other sources, editorial opinions and voluntary expressions from persons who have to their names in print, are perfectly overwhelming.

Read the following from a highly respectable Clergyman:

EAST TAUNTON, Mass., Feb. 9, '58.

To the Editor of the Portland Mirror,—Sir:—

OXYGENATED BITTERS.—For more than twenty five years I have been a sufferer from the dyspepsia. Having tried the patience of my family physicians in the almost useless trial of their various prescriptions, I have tried a great variety of patent medicines among the rest, the OXYGENATED BITTERS. I began to use them without any hope of deriving help from them. Being determined to give them a fair trial, I continued their use, but without any perceptible benefit till June.

Since then I have gradually improved in health till I am entirely free from acidity of the stomach, and from the dreadful distress, the almost awful and almost distracting sick headache, which often, for days together, has wholly unfitted me for study and for other ministerial duties, and rendered life a burden.

I feel that I owe it, as an expression of gratitude to Messrs. Fowle & Co., and also a duty to the public, to recommend their Oxygenated Bitters, as, in my estimation, a sure remedy for that most trying, most vexing, and cruel of all diseases, to which poor human flesh is heir, namely—Dyspepsia. Having suffered so long, and tried so many different remedies with no good result, I can recommend the Oxygenated Bitters with a confidence few others can. If any of the readers of the Mirror are suffering, I beg of them to make trial of these Bitters without delay.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

This Gin, distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by many eminent men as a cure of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, KIDNEY COMPLAINTS, GENERAL DEBILITY, NERVOUSNESS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is particularly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st.; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Tucker, 20 Elm st.; J. Morse, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. Seven Octave Piano --- New Scale.

The Subscriber having just received a superior SEVEN OCTAVE PIANO-FORTE, made according to his order by the celebrated firm of HALLET, DAVIS & CO., would offer it for the inspection of persons desirous of purchasing. H. D. & Co. have recently made great improvements in the manufacture of Pianos, the most important of which is the New Scale, which, while obviating the weakness which has hitherto been found in the upper part of Square Seven Octave Pianos, gives it a power of tone nearly equal to that of the Parlor Grand.

Having been for several years Agent for the sale of Pianos of the above make, Mr. P. is prepared to state that the instruments which they are now making, far excel any of their former manufacture.

Purchasers will find it greatly to their advantage to call and examine the above mentioned Piano, as it is the only one in Portsmouth which contains the NEW SCALE.

and as a Beverage it has no superior in the world. It is manufactured by the proprietor, at Schiedam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which then becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, Bladder and Kidney Complaints, &c. &c.

Put up in quart and pint bottles, in Cases of one dozen quarts, and two dozen pints, with the proprietor's name on the bottle, cork and label. For sale by all the respectable Country Merchants and Druggists. Look out for counterfeits and imitations, as the whole country is flooded with them

TO THE PUBLIC.

I beg leave to call the attention of the American Public to the following Certificate from the Government Chemist for the Island of Cuba and the Spanish West Indies, and who is known to the Scientific men of London, Paris, Madrid, Cuba and America to be the first Chemist in the world.

UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHEMICAL TESTIMONY.

D. Jose Luis Casaseca, Corresponding Member of the Royal Academies of Madrid and Munich, a Graduate in Sciences of the Faculty of Paris, formerly Professor of Chemistry, as applied to the Arts, of the Royal Conservatorio of Madrid, and of Physics and Chemistry, as applied to the Industry and Agriculture of the country, in the Royal University of this Island, at present H. M.'s Director of the Institute of Chemical Investigation, &c., &c.

Do hereby certify, that at the request of the house of Gottig & Will, of this place, I have made an analytical examination of U. Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps, with the object of ascertaining if it contained any substance noxious to health, and to inform them as to its true composition and relative quality with the other gins that are offered in the market, and the results of my observations and experiments are as follows:—

Udolpho Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is a spirituous liquid, of a very agreeable aromatic odor, completely transparent and almost colorless, having only a very slight tint of yellowish gray; its flavor is strong and very agreeable to the palate. It marks 20 degrees in Cartier's alcohol weigher or 52 degrees 5 hundredth in Gay Lussac's alcohometre. By the distillation in a balnium maris, with an apparatus consisting of a glass retort and a recipient surrounded with ice, I have collected in this recipient an alcoholic liquid with a very agreeable aroma completely colorless and transparent, which marked 90 degrees in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, or 70 degrees 5 hundredth on Gay Lussac's alcohometre; and which represented as a whole 57 per cent. of aromatic Schiedam schnapps subject to distillation in the retort. This liquid did not soil the transparency of the distilled water in mixing it with the same, and its agreeable aroma is not destroyed by a very trifling amount of an essential oil inseparable from alcohol.

From the remainder of the distillation which was left in the retort, I have obtained, through evaporation in a vapor bath, a substance of a yellowish brown color, clear, and having a bitter taste, which is not disagreeable, and which afterwards becomes aromatic and leaves the mouth perfumed with that fragrance peculiar to the vanilla. I am inclined to believe that to this bitter and aromatic extractive substance, soluble in water and alcohol, the medicinal properties which are attributed to this gin are due. I have not found in Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps any mineral or organic substance other than the extractive one already named and the aromatic one obtained by distillation. Finally, Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps consists simply of an aromatic alcohol of 20 degrees of graduation in Cartier's alcoholic weighter, and of an extractive bitter aromatic substance, which perhaps, is medicinal; and, on account of its not containing any matter injurious to the health, as well as for its odor and good flavor—a fact which no doubt arises from the choice substances employed in its manufacture, and from the peculiar manner of its distillation, it should be my duty to recommend it to the Italians, Belgic and German gins which are found in this island which it has been my business to examine. These gins are generally prepared, or extracted, from a disagreeable odor, and have a more or less disagreeable flavor, some of them having left as was the case with the superior gin from the distillery of Mr. Henry Wetjen of Bremen, a residuum after evaporation by steam, a substance almost insipid and very trifling aromatic, with flavor of vanilla, but in no wise with the delicious bitter and aromatic flavor of that of Udolpho Wolfe; and others, such as that labelled "Genuine Samaritan," "Extra Superior." Messrs. Trechner have furnished me with a very small quantity of a greenish substance, harsh metallic taste and very disagreeable, which extractive organic matter was mixed with a salt of copper, with signs of iron, owing perhaps, to a bad system of distillation.

I certify that all that is here stated is the truth and agrees with the experiments I have made with the greatest care, and I authorize the house of Gottig & Will, of this city, to give publicity to this certificate, in Spanish and in foreign languages, in all countries where it may suit their interest to do so. JOSE LUIS CASASECA.

DR. SWETT'S
CORDIAL OF DANDELION,
SPIKENARD & BONESET,

A remedy unsurpassed for Liver Complaints, such as Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, Universal Debility, and the whole family of Consumptive Complaints.

Hundreds of testimonials might be added, proving the many cures of this pleasant and delicate medicine, especially of people advanced in life, whose debilitated constitutions have been greatly recruited by it. A trial of it is warranted to well pay the aged and dyspeptic. Price 75 cents.

[From Mrs. Daniel H. Williams.]

DR. SWETT—Dear Sir—I presume you recollect that when I saw you, about a year since, I was very low, and had been for a long time, with dyspepsia complaints, being very weak, had no appetite, and pain in my head, stomach and side, but now my health is comparatively good, and I consider this great deliverance attributable, mainly, to the two bottles of your "Compound Cordial of Dandelion," which you left for me. I consider this the best medicine I ever found for the complaints for which you recommend it on the labels.

MARY E. WILLIAMS.

Concord, N. H., May 28, 1858.

[From Mrs. Ebenezer Blaze.]

GREENLAND, Nov. 20, 1858.

DR. SWETT—Dear Sir:—The distressing disease called the heart complaint, which has so long afflicted me, and which has baffled the skill of all the former physicians, has been fully cured by the two bottles of your Cordial which I had of you last spring. Yours with respect,

ELIZABETH BLAZO.

This unequalled medicine, together with others carefully prepared by Dr. SIMEON SWETT, from innocent but effectual vegetables, are for sale by him at No. 12 CABOT ST., Portsmouth, N. H.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA.

A compound remedy in which we have laboured to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Pure Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater power, as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from scrofulous complaints, and that one which will a complish this cure must be of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow citizens. We have prepared this compound with the best care we can, and by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:—

SCROFULOUS ENDEMICAL COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR THE DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, DISTRESSING DISEASES AT THE STOMACH, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By their expulsion many of the many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the appearance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions or sores—cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, we suppose health and disease hold so close a balance, that a little push of life disordered, there can be no healthy health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these desired ends, but many has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtues that is claimed for it, but more because the ready preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or anything else.

During years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they generally contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly cepised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. We make this compound with our skill, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall receive the name from the lood of obloquy which rests upon it. We think we have expunged the believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure the speedy expulsion from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,
LOWELL, MASS.

PRICE, $1 PER BOTTLE; SIX BOTTLES FOR $5.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has won for itself such a renown for the cure of every variety of throat and lung complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidence of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR THE CURE OF

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Fever, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and for Purifying the Blood.

They are sugar-coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Price, 25 cents per box; five boxes for $1.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen and eminent personages have lent their assistance to the Diffused usefulness of these remedies, but our space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agent below named has some of these in pamphlet form, in which they are given; with also full descriptions of the above complaints, and the treatment that should be followed for their cure.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations they make more profit on. Demand AYER'S, and take no other. The sick want the best and there is for them, and they should have it.

All our remedies are for sale by W. R. Preston, Portsmouth, and by all druggists and merchants in the civilized world. 6m—je14

THE ONLY ARTICLE

UNRIVALLED IN THE MARKET,

WITH IMMENSE

HOME AND EUROPEAN DEMAND.

The reason why, is that by Nature's own process it restores the natural color permanently after the hair becomes gray; supplies the natural fluids, and thus makes it grow on bald heads, removes all dandruff itching, and heat from the scalp, quiets and tones up the nerves, and thus cures all nervous headache, and may be relied upon to cure all diseases of the scalp and hair; it will stop and keep it from falling off; makes it soft, glossy, silky, and beautiful, and if used by the young two or three times a week it will never fail or become gray; then, reader, read the following and judge for yourselves:

NEW YORK, Jan. 8, 1858.

MESSRS. O. J. WOOD & CO.,

Gentlemen: Having heard a good deal about Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and my hair being quite gray, I made up my mind to lay aside the prejudice which I, in common with a great many persons, had against all manner of patent medicines, and a short time ago I commenced using your article, to test it for myself.

The result has been so very satisfactory that I am very glad I did so, and in justice to you, as well as for the encouragement of others who may be as gray as I was but who having my prejudice to contend with, may be reluctant to give your Restorative a trial till they have further proof, and the best proof being occular demonstration, I write you this letter, which you may show to any such, and also direct them to me for further proof, who am in and out of the N. Y. City Hall building establishment every day.

My hair is now its natural color and much improved in appearance every way, being glossier and thicker and much more healthy looking. I am yours respectfully, HENRY JENKINS.

Cor. Columbia and Carroll Sts., Brooklyn.

LIVINGSTON, Ala., Feb. 14, 1858.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative has done much good in this part of the country. My hair has been slightly diminishing for several years, caused, I suppose, from a slight fever when I was quite an infant. I have been using your Hair Restorative for six weeks and I find that I have a fine head of hair now growing, after having used all other remedies known, to no effect. I think it the most valuable remedy now extant, and advise all who are afflicted that way to use your remedy.

You can publish this if you think proper.

Yours, &c. S. W. MIDDLETON.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—not a hair left. I have used but 2 half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the top of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also reviving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours, respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D.,
No. 464 Tine Street.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

CONSUMPTION IS CURABLE!

BY THE USE OF

Winchester's Genuine Preparation of Dr. J. F. Bigelow's Compound of the

HYPO-PHOSPHITES

OF LIME, SODA AND POTASH,

Originally discovered and prescribed by him as a Specific Remedy for

CONSUMPTION!

The use of the Hypophosphites in CONSUMPTION, Scrofula, Nervous Debility, Asthma, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Female Complaints, and all other diseases depending upon a DEFICIENCY OF VITY IN THE ELEMENTS OF THE BLOOD, have proved their INVARIABLE EFFICACY in thousands of cases in Europe and America and establish the claim of the discoverer, that they are a SUE PREVENTATIVE, and a

SPECIFIC REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION.

Dr. Churchill says: "In no single instance have I found the remedy fail to produce everything that could be reasonably expected from it. In many cases the benefit derived from it has FAR EXCEEDED what could at first have been hoped for, when taking into account the degree and extent of the injury sustained by the lungs previously to the use of the remedy. * * * * * Out of twenty two cases in the third or last stage, treated at my Dispensary during the past year, EIGHT HAVE COMPLETELY RECOVERED, eight have died, and six are still under treatment. SUCH A RESULT IS ALTOGETHER UNPARALLELED IN THE ANNALS OF MEDICINE."

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

Knowing that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, suffering from the lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies, who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaint and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or other wise, to all who may prefer them, provided with true description of the disease be sent by letter, and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Hughes. Do not be lured from the right path, or be induced to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE ANODYNE, or Female Regulator, are unrivaled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged by all to be the best.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a pretious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine can be had.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—13 Howard street, Boston.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, D. C. Established 11 yrs.
76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other place in this land are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full account of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
HON. COX, February 5, 1858.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending, such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, Jan. 1, 1859. R. H. EDDY.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

A compound remedy in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from strumous complaints, and that one which will a complish their cure must be of immeasurable service to this large class of our afflicted fellow citizens. How completely this compound will do it, has been proven by experience in many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:—

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, TUMORS, BLOTCHES, BLAINS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEUTRALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which lurk dormant in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud.—Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the uneasiness of foul eruptions and unsightly sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions or sores—cleanse it when you find it is obstructed or sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with the poisons of the blood disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been seriously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or anything else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend it should be found to give a small recompence the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have grounds for believing it has virtues in the cure of disease which the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has won for itself such a renown for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaint, that it is entirely unnecessary for us to recount the evidence of its virtues, wherever it has been employed. As it has long been in constant use throughout this section, we need not do more than assure the people its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all it has ever been found to do.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR THE CURE OF
Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

They are sugar-coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Price, 25 cents per box; five boxes for $1.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen, and eminent personages, have lent their names to certify the unparalleled usefulness of these remedies, but our space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agent below named furnishes gratis our Ameritan Almanac, in which they are given; with also full descriptions of the above complaints, and the treatment that should be followed for their cure.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations they make more profit on.—Demand AYER'S, and take no other. The sick who the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

All our remedies are for sale by W. R. Preston, Portsmouth, and by all druggists and merchants in the civilized world. 6m—jel4

Oleine Diamond Oil.
GREATEST ILLUMINATOR OF THE AGE.

This Oil is entirely free from treacbery, so that a lamp may be left burning any length of time desired, without filling a room with lamp-black or soot.

It burns in the common oil lamp, with or without a chimney.

The light is far more pleasant than gas, as it is free from the disagreeable flickering always attending a gas light, and is cheaper. We claim for this Oil:

1. That it is cheaper than any other artificial light.
2. That it has no odor.
3. That it will not smoke
4. That it will burn with or without a chimney, hence it is portable.
5. That it will stand a lower degree of temperature than any other Oil.
6. That it is free from each of the objections that are brought against every other article heretofore or now being offered to the public for illuminating purposes.

Price $1.25 per gallon.

SATURDAY, JULY 23, 1859.

AT THE SHOALS.

ON THE ROCKS, APPLEDORE, July 20.

Messrs. Editors:—

It was a languid morning in town, and we resolved to seek a fresher, cooler atmosphere; we must inhale the breath of the ocean, and where could we find it with the least taint of dust and land flavors? To the sea-side involves a dusty ride to and fro. The Sibyl lay at the wharf, with sails flapping heavily, waiting to catch the first breath of ocean air and waft us to those rocky shores of Appledore, mid ocean. We quickly got our traps on board and sailed away with a refreshing breeze. Our yacht spread her wings like a sea gull, and with her prow dashed the waves into a million gems, which sparkled in the sunlight like diamonds, and then fell, seething by us. On we flew, and with two hours of this exhilarating motion, we arrived at our moorings in front of Appledore, in fine spirits, and with an appetite worthy of the dinner hour which had arrived with us. With a welcome from friends on the rocks, we proceeded at once with them to the discussion of the chowder. Our host, Hon. T. B. Laighton, has the knack of giving to this excellent dish a flavor which it has now where else than at his table. It may be that his long experience within the precincts of the cod fish, has given him the ability to adjust more nicely the elements composing a chowder, or it may be due to the appetite inspired by the ocean air—but there is no denying the relish.

Now then, let us look around for something to entertain our rejuvenated man; here are no horses, no dogs, no drives even—except before the wind; here are rocks—sea girt rocks—and the limitless sea meeting the sky all around. Money and merchandise, finance and fancy stocks are forgotten; here is a new stand point on the earth's broad surface. Sit upon this rock, apart and alone, and look around you; you are no longer Mr. So-and-so, merchant of "——port," a member in regular standing of —— parish, credit "beyond question;" no, you are a man, contemplating the glorious world into which you have come to spend a few years.—and the days of your life when you may look upon the sea, may have more to do with the future than you are aware of. A scene like the one before us is worthy of the admiration of the angels, and, as a poet says, worth telling the angels about hereafter. The poorest intellect, the most sordid mind, cannot withstand the thinking which comes unbidden at the sight of the ocean. Why, we heard a man discourse here to-day, after the manner of Socrates, who in the daily avocation of his life on shore, we deemed could never have a thought beyond his ledger and its surroundings.

If a man has any poetry or philosophy about him, it will be sure to stir into life and sound at such a place as this; and if there is a man who has neither, he will not be found here. Is this too complimentary to the men we saw around the dinner table to-day? Well, there are all grades of poets and philosophers in the world, and a few of them are here.

A day, night, morning, sunset, moonrise, dawn and sunrise, witnessed from this rock on which we repose, are themes for volumes of contemplation,—and if the mind tires of these wonders, one has but to stoop and select some of the thousand beautiful sea flowers that lie at his feet—more delicate in the tracery of their fibrous lines than the most exquisite work of art, and with their variety of coloring, presenting an untiring feast of beauty to the eye.

With a longing for more time among these sea wonders of the Shoals, the winding horn warns us that we must bid farewell to the rocks, and plough the ocean wave homeward bound. N.

☞ Scotch journals are trying to make out that Garibaldi is a Caledonian. His father, they say, was a shoemaker at the Auld Brig o'Stirling, and his name was Garrow. His son's Christian name was Baldie—a common Christian name in some districts of Scotland. In consequence of some freak or other, the son went to Italy; and the natives of that sunny clime being unable to pronounce the names of Baldie Garrow, transposed them into the more mellifluous Garibaldi.

☞ A gentleman's leg was amputated Wednesday, at the Massachusetts Hospital, in order that he might have an artificial leg applied by Palmer & Co. The amputated leg was four inches shorter than its fellow, but perfectly sound. The patient has walked for twenty-seven years upon a crutch, but will, in a few weeks, be able to walk so well, with a "Palmer Leg," that his lameness will not be observable.

☞ President Allen of Girard College, Philadelphia, is now on a visit to his numerous friends on the Kennebec, where he is highly and justly esteemed.

NEW LONDON INSTITUTION.—The Atlas reports the anniversary exercises of the "New London Literary and Scientific Institution," which were held on Tuesday and Wednesday. This school is under the patronage of the Baptist denomination of New Hampshire, and is the only institution in their special interest in the state. The school, of which the present is a successor, was established in 1839, with Prof. Dyer H. Sanborn as Principal. It flourished well for some years, and then met the fate of many country academies. But in 1854, after the institution at New Hampton was removed to Fairfax, Vt., the Baptists took the old school here under their patronage. It has now been in operation since 1854, and with extraordinary success. The people of New London take a great interest in it, as do the Baptists of the state generally. A fund of $25,000 has been subscribed, substantial boarding houses have been erected, and it is proposed next year to erect a new and substantial structure for the Academy building, to supply the place of the old one, which is found to be too small. We notice by the catalogue for 1858 that the average attendance per term for that year was 156, while the whole number of different students was 370.

The town of New London, where the school is located, is situated upon the height of land between the Connecticut and Merrimac rivers. The village is on a beautiful swell of land about 2000 feet above the sea, and on the east towers the bald peak of Kearsarge, while to the south rises the Sunapee. The town is the residence of ex-Gov. Colby, one of the principal donors of the school.

☞ The seizure of ship Atlantic, at New Bedford, is making some talk.

The Atlantic was formerly a whaler from New London, but has lately been engaged in the merchant service out of New York. She is a ship of 699 tons, was built in 1836, and is owned by her commander, Capt. Francis J. Silva, a Portuguese, but a naturalized citizen of the United States, who purchased her of Capt. J. S. C. Maciel, master and owner of the ship Comoro, recently arrived at New Bedford from Boston, and now fitting out there for a whaling voyage.

It appears that information concerning both the Atlantic and Comoro has been in the possession of Marshal Rynders, of the Southern District of New York. He was informed that the sum of $20,000 had been sent from a house in Havana to the house of Amedes, Ambreges & Co., of Pearl street, New York, for the purchase of two ships for the slave trade. Marshal Rynders despatched a Deputy Marshal, who discovered the purchase of the ships Atlantic and Comoro, and has been watching their outfit.

☞ The late Thomas Drew, Esq., of Bangor, made a bequest of $20,000, conditionally, to establish in that city a Farm School. One of the conditions is that a certain sum should be raised within the now coming five years. As it is thought that he did not leave a sufficient sum to his widow and daughter, some people in Bangor express the hope that this sum will revert to the heirs.

HORSE STOLEN.—A man calling himself John Cassady, but evidently a man of many aliases, hired a horse and wagon of Henry T. Nichols, Manchester, last Tuesday morning to go to Goffstown, to return that day, and he has not since been heard of. He was about 40 years old, of dark complexion, and light frame. The mare was of small size, low built, and of a bay color, and weighed about 800 pounds.

☞ A Baptist Church in Zanesville, Ohio, has expelled a deputy U. S. marshal from its communion, considering it prima facie evidence that a man, who consents to execute the fugitive slave law, cannot be a good Christian. Slave-catching certainly seems inconsistent with some of Christ's most direct teachings.—Augusta Journal.

☞ The Word of God continually and forever teaches the angels to be more and more heavenly in their character; it is a word which comes down from heaven to earth to lead men up to heaven; and a word which, forever, in heaven and upon earth, teaches the way in which we may go to him who is himself the way, the truth and the life.

☞ When Louis Napoleon left France for Italy, he said: "In a month's time I will date my proclamations at Milan." The promise was fulfilled, and he had a day or two to spare.

☞ The Sons of Malta had a midnight parade at Salem a day or two since. They called Dr. Loring from his sheets, when he made a Cuba acquisition speech. Is this order political?

THE NEW LIBERTY OF ITALY.—The Armonia of Turin has been suspended, by an order of Count Cavour, for publishing an article headed "Let us put an end to the horrors of Perugia."

We run the risk of experiencing the greatest disgust if we observe too closely how government, justice, and cookery are managed.

☞ We copy from the New York Evening Post the following story of a wife fifty-six years of age suing for divorce:

Hester Hopper agt. Charles Hopper. The parties to this suit have been married forty years, and now the wife, at the advanced age of fifty-six years, sues for a divorce from her husband, who is sixty-four years of age. The ground of her complaint is alleged ill-treatment on the part of her husband during the last five years. Last May he accused her of infidelity, and treated her in such a manner that she was forced to leave him and go to the residence of one of her relatives, with whom she is now residing. Mr. Hopper is worth about $100,000, which yields him an income of about $10,000 per year, according to the story of his wife, who today applied for alimony. The defendant, in answer, set up that his wife, by her conduct, provoked him to act as he did, and that she was in the habit of allowing improper persons to visit her; also, that she abused him, threw pokers at him, and sprinkled coffee over him. In conclusion he alleged that his property yielded him but $4500 a year. Justice Clerke made an order allowing the wife $30 per week pending the suit, and a counsel fee of $250.

A SHORT BRIDAL TRIP.—The Milwaukee News is responsible for the following story:—

"On the 7th of July, a heavy business man of Boston—one of the well-off merchants of that city—was married there to a handsome young lady of Boston. He was rich, doing a good business, and forty years of his life had passed before he saw Miss ——, the daughter of his lawyer, and married her. On the morning of the 5th, they started on a western collecting tour, and last week arrived in this city and put up at the Newhall. On this short trip the rose had greatly faded from her cheek, and sadder had turned her eye. No one knows the cause, but last Monday they visited a lawyer of this city, and signed papers agreeing forever to separate—each to go where fancy or inclination might lead, and henceforth to be as strangers to each other. He settled upon her Boston property to the amount of $20,000, gave her besides $1000 in cash, and yesterday she left for Boston. Both parties were well educated, handsome, and apparently well fitted for each other's society, but some cause, unknown to outsiders, led to the above results."

Deputy Sheriff Samuel Potter has paid $12.72 for a barrel of liquor which he destroyed at Charlemont a year ago, while on its way to the man who then didn't want to acknowledge its ownership; but since Judge Shaw has reversed his famous decision, Geo. Mayhew has claimed to be the owner, and demanded compensation for his loss.—The deputy didn't contest, but paid in addition $3.22 costs.

This was in Massachusetts. In Maine, they have a new item in their law, which makes seizure easy and safe.

☞ In Boston in the Superior Court, in the case of Dennis Mullen, for manslaughter in causing the death of Daniel Farrell, one of the crew of the U. S. steam frigate Minnesota, the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

SUDDEN DEATH AT NEW LONDON.—On Tuesday evening last, a young lady by the name of Margaret Lordon, residing at Mr. John Brown's, in New London, as she was dressing to attend a lecture, complained of not feeling very well, and died in a few moments afterwards.—Manchester Mirror.

A renowned barrister having asked a voter the value of a house, the answer was, "That depends upon what sort of a wife there is in it."

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and recommendation of its marvelous virtues. We speak, in this matter, "what we do know, after ten years experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the child is suffering from pain and exhaustion, a single dose of this soothing syrup will at most give immediate relief. Full directions accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York. Price only 25 cents per bottle.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

OPPRESSION AFTER EATING.—Many persons, after an ordinary meal, feel a sense of weight and discomfort in the region of the stomach, the sure sign of an imperfect digestion, and probably the forerunner of a settled dyspepsia. Nothing will relieve this oppression like the PERUVIAN SYRUP, by the stimulus it gives to the digestive powers.

Common Sense rules the mass of the people, whatever the misnamed and misanthrope philosophers may say to the contrary. Show them a good thing: let its merits be clearly demonstrated, and they will not hesitate to give it their most cordial patronage. The masses have already ratified the judgment of a physician, concerning the virtues of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, as may be seen in the immense quantities of this medicine that are annually sold in every section of the land. It is now recognized as greatly superior to all other remedies yet discovered for disease of the digestive organs, such as diarrhœa, dysentery, dyspepsia, and for the various fevers that arise from derangement of those portions of the system. Hostetter's name is rapidly becoming a household word, from Maine to Texas; from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pacific. Try this article and be satisfied.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

Dyspepsia.

Considering the various forms in which this disease developes itself, it may well be called hydra-headed. In its train follow Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, Heartburn, Water Brash, Costiveness, Piles, Acidity, Oppression after Eating, Jaundice, Flatulency, Torpor of the Liver, Dizziness, Debility, Female Complaints, &c. Some of the first men in our land have given their written certificates relative to the cures effected by the use of the OXYGENATED BITTERS; while testimonials from other sources, editorial opinions and voluntary expressions from persons everywhere, are their names in print, are perfectly overwhelming.

Read the following from a highly respectable Clergyman:

EAST TAUNTON, MASS., Feb. 9, '58.

To the Editor of the Portland Mirror,—Sir:—

OXYGENATED BITTERS.—For more than twenty five years I have been a sufferer from the dyspepsia. Besides trying the skill of my family physicians in the almost useless trial of their various prescriptions, I have tried a great variety of patent medicines with a similar result. Through the kindness of my physician, I received last March, half a dozen bottles of the OXYGENATED BITTERS. I began to use them without any hope of deriving help from them. Being determined to give them a fair trial, I continued their use, but without any perceptible benefit till June.

Since then I have gradually improved in health till I am entirely free from acidity of the stomach, and from the consequent flatulency and the awful and almost distracting sick headache, which often, for days together, has wholly unfitted me for study and for all other ministerial duties, and rendered life a burden.

I feel that I owe it, as an expression of gratitude to Messrs. Fowle & Co., and also a duty to the public, to recommend their Oxygenated Bitters, as, in my estimation, a sure remedy for that most trying, most vexing, and cruel of all diseases, to which poor human flesh is heir, the dyspepsia. Having suffered so long, and tried so many different remedies with no good result, I can recommend the Oxygenated Bitters with a confidence few others can. If any of the readers of the Mirror are suffering, I beg of them to make trial of these Bitters without delay.

The Best Medicine in the World.

YES—DECIDEDLY THE BEST—IS

Dr. Langley's Root and Herb Bitters.

They are made from the most valuable Roots, Herbs and Plants in the vegetable kingdom.—They act at once upon the very seat of disease.—They remove all obstructions from the internal organs—regulate the Bowels—purify the Blood—remove Humors—excite the Liver to a healthy action—give strength and tone to the stomach—cure Jaundice and Dyspepsia—create an appetite—increase and renew the circulation—remove all Bilious diseases—cure Bilious Headache, Weakness, &c., and are the best medicine ever discovered for all Female Complaints. The purify, heal, strengthen, build up and keep in order "the house you live in."

Doctors' prescriptions, clothed in Latin verbs,
Now yield the palm to Langley's Roots and Herbs;
Forsake vile drugs and cull from Nature's store,
As did the Patriarchs in days of yore,
Roots, Herbs and Barks, the best in Nature's store,
From Broad Atlantic to Pacific's shore,
From North to South, their healing virtues lend,
And in these Bitters prove the people's friend.
They'll strengthen, warm, your bodies vigorous make,
Rouse drooping spirits and new blood create.

So if you wish to feel well, act well, do well and keep well, use this standard valuable medicine.

Only 25 cts. for a large bottle, or six for a dollar. Sold by all dealers in medicine everywhere.

Orders addressed to J. O. LANGLEY, or to GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., BOSTON.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

This Gin, distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and combines the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and most available medicinal gin in the market.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin of Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever tasted."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the North-ern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st.; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. F. Parker, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. Smith & Co., 20 Exchange st.; Gilbert, Abbott & Co., 78 Broad st.; Deland & Snow, 34 Elm st. and others in Portland, Me. and in New Bedford by Cox & Co., C. W. Atwell, and C. C. Mitchell & Son.

☞ We are informed by a resident in Eliot that a boatman of that place in coming down the river last Wednesday evening, saw ahead of him a boat from Dover, containing four young men. He saw the boat very near Portsmouth Bridge, but did not see her pass through it nor strike it,—(his attention probably being called to his own boat,)—but presently he missed her entirely, and supposes the boat must have struck the bridge and gone down, as he picked up some garments floating, shortly after he passed the bridge.

On enquiry, we find he was right in his guess. The boat did strike and sink, and has not yet been found. One of the young men got hold of the bridge and was saved, the other three were saved by swimming.

A TOUCHING SCENE IN COURT.—At the last term of the Court of Common Pleas at Taunton, Mass., and on the day assigned for sentencing prisoners, there was placed at the bar for sentence Margaret Joyce, a middle-aged woman, from Attleborough, who had been convicted as a common seller of intoxicating liquor in violation of law. She held in her arms an infant apparently some nine months old. Shortly after taking her seat at the bar, she proceeded, with great apparent delicacy, to suitably arrange her dress and administer to the child in her arms that natural solace which is the unfailing panacea for all infantile alarms.

Upon the motion of the district attorney, the case is called for sentence, when the court, having the interesting exhibition of nursing maternity directly before him, inquires if it is not a case where the party should be sentenced to the poor house of the town in which she resided, instead of the house of correction, such being the provision of the statute in regard to women having nursing children convicted of violation of the liquor law. The district attorney, upon view of the interesting exhibition above described in the prisoner's dock, concurs in the suggestion of the court, whereupon the "nursing mother" was sentenced to a term of quiet leisure in the poor house in Attleborough, instead of the same term at hard labor in the house of correction in New Bedford, and left the court room, thanking his honor for his leniency.

It has since transpired that said unfortunate female is a widow of some three years standing; that her youngest child is a stalwart boy of about five years, and that the infant to whose wants she so maternally administered in the presence of the court, was a baby borrowed for the occasion.

☞ The Newburyport Herald speaks thus of the Douglas movement:—

The Douglas movement at the North is growing stronger and stronger every day in the democratic party, and is receiving aid and comfort without the lines of that party. At the same time, as it looms up in the North, it excites more apprehension and greater opposition in the South. For the last two weeks, the southern papers, that are in a greater measure than with us the organs of the active politicians, have been most severe in their denunciations of the "Little Giant," and they leave little hope of his receiving any favor at the Charleston Convention. How will the affair terminate? will he and his friends yield to the southern drivers? will they bolt the convention and repudiate their nomination? what will they do? where will they go?

The democrats in a half dozen of the southern states are shortly to have a meeting to consider their relations to the Charleston Convention. It is suspected that they may let the convention go by default. Possibly they may think there is more strength in standing at a distance and crying disunion, than in standing fairly up to the fight; but that is a cry that has lost all its terrors for northern ears. The people of the free states will not dissolve the Union themselves, and they will see that traitors in no other parts of the country do so. The democratic party, unless they adopt the Douglas platform, are doomed to defeat in the next election, and the fire eaters might as well be prepared for it as not.

A Court Anecdote.—Among our recent representatives abroad was a gentleman hailing from the far West. On his way to the scene of his diplomatic labor he had occasion to visit Paris. Calling upon the worthy old Virginian gentleman who represents us at the Court of Napoleon, he expressed a special desire to "see Eugeny." He was informed that Sunday was the reception-day of the Empress, and that our Minister to France would have great pleasure in presenting him on that day. At the time appointed our western friend made his appearance equipped in the gorgeous uniform of a Colonel of the Iowa militia. He was formally presented to the Emperor as the Honorable Mr. Blank, fully accredited to the Court of Blank. The usual formal salutation having been performed, he was presented to the Empress.

"I'm proud to make yer acquaintance, ma'am," said our representative. "I've heered a great deal of you, by a mootual acquaintance of ourn, who's ben a-traveling in Yewrup, and seen pooty much all the men and wimmin that's worth known'. He says the Emp'ror Nic'las is the very fust man in Yewrup; the very fust, by a long shot; and he says you're the finest woman he ever saw—the very finest. That are mootual friend of ourn is Judge Douglas, of Illinois; an' I tell you he's a fust rate judge of wimmin, he is."—New York Post.

☞ There has been a great flood on the Columbia river, in Oregon. Between June 10 and 13, the Columbia river rose five feet.

Along Main street, (at the Dalles,) the water was about three feet deep. The lower floor of the Umatilla House, of the stores and saloons, were entirely under water—several of them abandoned. Monday morning the side walls of Baldwin Bros.' stone store tumbled out and the roof came rattling in. Goods and every movable thing were carried to the high ground in the rear of the town. Upon the Oregon side of the Cascades, the water has caused the destruction of much property. The fine railroad bridge, constructed within a year for Ruckel & Olmstead, at a cost of $10,000, is entirely swept away. Also, about 330 feet of their portage railway is destroyed, and much other serious damage done.

The water is now above the highest stage reached in 1853, and is constantly and rapidly rising. At the Cascades it is, we are credibly informed, forty-five feet above low water mark. Still, it is said, the present flow is only that from Snake river—that the heavy flood from the Columbia is yet to come. If this be true, the water will rise equal to the great flood of more than twenty years ago, which enabled the men of the Hudson Bay Company to bring their boats within the enclosure at Vancouver.

At Portland the low lands were completely overflowed, and a number of fine gardens, farms and orchards had been devastated. At Vancouvers the water line reaches into the city streets.

A Strange Story. — The following story is from the Troy Budget:—

"We have for some time been cognizant of a persistent piece of cruelty towards a lady of the first respectability in this city, and whom we hoped ere now to find relieved by the interference of friends. It appears that her husband, in a fit of jealousy, something more than a year ago, procured a cage complete of iron, into which he compelled his wife to enter, and although it is impossible for her to stand erect within it, she is never permitted to leave it except at night. The social position of the parties is such that we are persuaded not to mention names at present, but shall not fail to do so within a day or two, unless, in the meantime, we find the lady quietly relieved."

So much for the riddle: now for the solution.

The iron cage in which a New York gentleman caused his wife to be confined, and which "she is never permitted to leave save at night," has been discovered to be a hooped skirt.

☞ The Mobile Tribune confirms the report that a cargo of slaves was recently landed on the Florida coast, and says some of the barbarians are now not far from Mobile.

The Louisville Democrat (which opposes the practical Slave-traffic, very justly remarks of the re-opening of that trade:—

"Judging from the present indications, this is a growing sentiment in the South.—Prominent men, who do not quite consent to the proposition, make but a feeble resistance, and usually concede enough to nullify their opposition."

Seven Octave Piano --- New Scale.

The Subscriber having just received a superior SEVEN OCTAVE PIANO-FORTE, made according to his order by the celebrated firm of HALLET, DAVIS & CO., would offer it for the inspection of persons desirous of purchasing. H. D. & Co. have recently made great improvements in the manufacture of Pianos, the most important of which is the New Scale, which, while obviating the weakness which has hitherto been found in the upper part of Square Seven Octave Pianos, gives it a power of tone nearly equal to that of the Parlor Grand.

Having been for several years Agent for the sale of Pianos of the above make, Mr. P. is prepared to state that the instruments which they are now making, far excel any of their former manufacture.

Purchasers will find it greatly to their advantage to call and examine the above mentioned Piano, as it is the only one in Portsmouth which contains the NEW SCALE.

GOOD FOR KIDNEY AND BLADDER COMPLAINTS,

and as a Beverage it has no superior in the world. It is manufactured by the proprietor, at Schiedam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spiritous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, Bladder and Kidney Complaints, &c. &c.

Put up in quart and pint bottles, in Cases of one dozen quarts, and two dozen pints, with the proprietor's name on the bottle, cork and label. For sale by all the respectable Country Merchants and Druggists. Look out for counterfeits and imitations, as the whole country is flooded with them

TO THE PUBLIC.

I beg leave to call the attention of the American Public to the following Certificate from the Government Chemist for the Island of Cuba and the Spanish West Indies, and who is known to the Scientific men of London, Paris, Madrid, Cuba and America to be the first Chemist in the world.
UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHEMICAL TESTIMONY.

D. Jose Luis Casaseca, Corresponding Member of the Royal Academies of Madrid and Munich, a Graduate in Scientific of the Faculty of Paris, formerly Professor of Chemistry, as applied to the Arts, of the Royal Conservatorio of Madrid, and of Physical Chemistry, as applied to the Industry and Agriculture of the country, to the Royal University of this Island, at present HEAD Director of the Institute of Chemical Investigation, &c., &c.

Do hereby certify, that at the request of the house of Gottig & Will, of this place, I have made an analytical examination of U. Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps, with the object of ascertaining if it contained any substance noxious to health, and to inform them as to its true composition and relative quality with the other gins that are offered in the market, and the results of my observations and experiments are as follows:—

Udolpho Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is a spiritous liquid, of a very agreeable aromatic odor, completely transparent and almost colorless, having only a very slight tint of yellowish gray; its flavor is strong and very agreeable to the palate. It marks 20 degrees in Cartier's alcohol weigher or 52 degrees 5 hundredth in Gay Lussac's alcohometre. By the distillation in a balnium maria, with an apparatus consisting of a glass retort and a recipient surrounded with ice, I have collected in this recipient an alcoholic liquid with a very agreeable aroma completely colorless and transparent, which marked 90 degrees in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, or 70 degrees 5 hundredth on Gay Lussac's alcohometre; and which represented as a whole 57 per cent. of aromatic Schiedam schnapps subject to distillation in the retort. This liquid did not soil the transparency of the distilled water in mixing it with the same, and its agreeable aroma is doubtless due to a very trifling amount of an essential oil inseparable from alcohol.

From the remainder of the distillation which was left in the retort, I have obtained, through evaporation in a vapor bath, a substance of a yellowish brown color, clear, and having a bitter taste, which is not disagreeable, and which afterwards becomes aromatic and leaves the mouth perfumed with that fragrance peculiar to the vanilla. I am inclined to believe that to this bitter and aromatic extractive substance, soluble in water and alcohol, the medicinal properties which are attributed to this gin are due. I have not found in Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps any mineral or organic substance other than those extracts one already named and the aromatic one obtained by distillation. Finally, Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps contains a small alcohol of 20 degrees of graduation in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, and of an extractive bitter aromatic substance, which perhaps, is medicinal; and, on account of its not containing any matter injurious to the health, as well as for its odor and good flavor—a fact which no doubt arises from the choice substance noxious—and its manufacture, and from the peculiar manner of its distillation, it should in my opinion, be preferred to all the Holland, Belgic and German gins which are found in this Island which it has been my business to examine. These gins as I have often proved it, exhale a disagreeable odor, and have a more or less disagreeable flavor, some of them having left as was the case with the superior gin from the distillery of Mr. Henry Deetjen (of Bremen,) a residuum after evaporation by steam, a substance almost insipid and very trifingly aromatic, with flavor of vanilla, but in no wise with the delicious bitter and aromatic flavor of that of Udolpho Wolfe; and others, such as that labelled "Genuine Samaritan," "Extra Superior," Messrs. Trecher have furnished me with a very small quantity of a greenish substance, of harsh metallic taste and very disagreeable, which extractive organic matter was mixed with a salt of copper, with signs of iron, owing perhaps, to a bad system of distillation.

I certify that all that is here stated is the truth and agrees with the experiments I have made with the greatest care, and I authorize the house of Gottig & Will, of this city, to give publicity to this certificate, in Spanish and in foreign languages, in all countries where it may suit their interest to do so. JOSE LUIS CASASECA.

The undersigned take pleasure in announcing to their friends, customers, and the public generally, that for the real need of a thriving place of business, they are compelled to close off their Stock of Goods at a great sacrifice; and will therefore continue to sell at the above mentioned place, cheaper than ever.

Their object is to close out their present Stock, and make a clean board, so as to commence in their new Store in October, with an entire new Stock. Those who have tried them will undoubtedly admit that what they state is no humbug.

Freaks of the Planets.—On the 20th of July, Mars, the god of War, was in conjunction with the Sun—there no doubt to tinge his face with fresh redness at the butchery carried on in Europe.

Just at the time Mars was absent from our sight bathing in bright sunbeams, Jupiter to Venus made a visit, and arose so near to each other on Thursday morning, that a star of like magnitude coming between them would have made all three one shining mass! It was a glorious sight, such as has not been witnessed for a century.

They are daily going from each other, but are yet in beautiful proximity. They may be seen rising just after day-break, about quarter past three in the morning. They are soon hid in the light of day.

It is said that at the time of the birth of the Savior, there was a conjunction of Venus, Jupiter and Mars.

Free Lecture on Italy.—We are pleased to learn that Rev. Dr. Joseph P. Thompson, of New York, will be in Portsmouth next week, and will on invitation give a lecture at the Temple, on Friday evening, on "Italy—its prospects for civil and religious freedom," illustrated by maps. The lecturer is too well known here to require any introduction by us. Although the lecture is free, it might be well to take up a collection for the Patriots.

Brunswick, July 19, 1859,

Dear Journal,—We have returned to Bowdoin for the last time as a student, and find "all college" busy with preparation for the closing exercises of the collegiate year. The yearly examination of the under classes takes place next week on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

On Monday in the afternoon, the public exercises of "Class Day" begin in the Congregational church, where the orationand poem will be delivered. Then proceeding to the "old oak," on the College Grounds, planted there by the first graduating class, in 1804, under its branches the Chronicles of the class will be read, the Prophecies declared, the parting address be spoken, the class ode sung, the Pipe of Peace smoked, and each classmate's hand be shaken in token of a final farewell.

On Monday evening the Junior Class has a public Prize Declamation. The music for the class-day exercises of the Seniors will be by Chandler's Portland Brass Band, and probably, also, for this occasion. For the remaining exercises of the week the Senior Class have engaged the Germania Band of Boston.

Tuesday forenoon, oration before the Phi Beta Kappa by Pres. Sears, of Brown University. In the afternoon, oration before the United Literary Societies by Dr. J. B. Holland, of Springfield, Mass.; and the Poem by Melville W. Fuller, of Augusta, a graduate of '53. In the evening a grand Concert will be given by the entire Germania Band, in pieces. This is always one of the occasions of the week.

Wednesday is Commencement Day proper, and is devoted to the performances of the Graduating Class, the conferring of degrees, and to commencement dinners. The evening is occupied by the President's Levee, and the festive gatherings of the different Secret Fraternities.

The standing of the graduating class, through college has been high, in both scholarship and morality. Of a more advanced average age than most classes, it has reached that degree of soundness, solidity, and strength of intellectual attainment, which is not generally attained by those who graduate at an early age; and yet it has a sufficient sprinkling of youthful members in its ranks to give a healthful spice to its action, and prevent a relapse into old fogydom. It has always been small in numbers, entering, and never numbering over 44, and graduating 36.

Among its good deeds may be mentioned its active instrumentality in abolishing "Initiation" and in establishing a "Temperance" and a "Natural History Society," and "Class Day."

For Commencement Day, S. J. Young, of Pittston, has the Salutatory, which is of the same rank with the English Orations. The New Hampshireites, three in number, (natives and residents, we mean,) have highly honorable appointments at Commencement,—two obtaining first parts (oration), and the other, a third (Literary Disquisition) Twenty-one parts were assigned, in five grades.

The exercises of the week are expected to be closed on Thursday morning by an oration from Prof. F. H. Hedge, D. D. of Cambridge, before the Historical Society.

As this may be our last opportunity of corresponding with you from Down East, will you and your readers accept the best wishes as a farewell, from Bowdoin.

DR. SWETT'S
CORDIAL OF DANDELION,
SPIKENARD & BONESET.

A remedy unsurpassed for Liver Complaints, such as Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side; Universal Debility, and the whole family of Consumptive Complaints.

Hundreds of testimonials might be added, proving the many cures by this pleasant and effectual medicine, especially of people advanced in life, whose debilitated constitutions have been greatly recruited by it. A trial of it is warranted to well pay the aged and dyspeptic. Price 75 cents.

[From Mrs. Daniel H. Williams.]

DR. SWETT—Dear Sir:—I presume you recollect that when I saw you, about a year since, I was very low, and had been for a long time, with dyspeptic complaints, being very weak, with no appetite, and pain in my head, stomach and side; but now my health is comparatively good, and I consider this great deliverance attributable, mainly, to the two bottles of your Compound Cordial of Dandelion," which you left for me. I consider this the best medicine I ever found for the complaints for which you recommend it on the labels.

MARY E. WILLIAMS.

Concord, N. H., May 28, 1858.

EXFIELD, Sept. 8, 1859.

Last spring and Summer I was troubled with the Liver Complaint, which caused my food to distress me badly; and I do not know what cured me, but one thing I do know, and that is, I took one bottle of Dr. S. Swett's Cordial of Dandelion, and the disease left me, and has not returned.

WM. ROBERTS.

This unequalled medicine, together with others carefully prepared by Dr. SIMEON SWETT, from innocent but effectual vegetables, are for sale by him at No. 12 CABOT ST., Portsmouth, N. H.

HOME AND EUROPEAN DEMAND

The reason why, is that by Nature's own process it recovers the natural color permanently after the hair becomes gray; supplies the natural fluids, and thus makes it grow on bald heads, removes all dandruff, fixing it and heat from the scalp, gives tones up the nerves, and thus cures all nervous headache, and may be relied upon to cure all diseases of the scalp and hair; it will stop hair falling, it frequently makes a new growth of hair, glossy, healthy, and beautiful, and if used by the young two or three times a week it will never fall or become gray then, reader, read the following and judge for yourselves:

NEW YORK, Jan. 8, 1858.

MESSRS. A. J. WOOD & CO.:

Gentlemen: Having heard a good deal about Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and my hair being quite gray, I made up my mind to lay aside the prejudices which I, in common with a great many persons, had against all manner of patent medicines, and a short time ago I commenced using your article, to test it for myself.

The result has been so very satisfactory that I am very glad I did so, and in justice to you, as well as for the encouragement of others who may be in doubt as to the propriety of using anything without my reasons for setting it aside, are unwilling to give your Restorative a trial till they have further proof, and the best proof being ocular demonstration, I write you this letter, which you may show to any such, and also direct them to me for further proof, who am in and out of the N. Y. Fire Railing establishment every day.

My hair is now its natural color and much improved in appearance every way, being glossy and thicker and much more healthy looking. I am, yours respectfully, HENRY JENKINS.

Cor. Columbia and Carroll Sts., Brooklyn.

LIVINGWOOD, Ala., Feb. 18, 1858.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative has done much good in this part of the country. My hair has been slightly diminishing for many years, and I supposed it was a slight burn when I was quite an infant. I have been using your Hair Restorative for six weeks and I find that I have a fine head of hair now growing, after having used all other remedies known, to no effect. I think it life most valuable remedy now extant, and advise all who are afflicted that way to use your remedy.

You can publish this if you think proper.

Yours, &c. S. S. MIDDLETON.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1857.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—was in fact BALD. I have used but 2 half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the top of my head is well studed with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own experience and recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours, respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D.,
No. 404 Vine Street.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar a bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars a bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

CONSUMPTION IS CURABLE!

BY THE USE OF

Winchester's Genuine Preparation of Dr. J. F. Churchill's Compound of the

HYPOPHOSPHITES

OF LIME, SODA AND POTASH,

Originally discovered and prescribed by him as a Specific Remedy for

CONSUMPTION!

The use of the Hypophosphites in CONSUMPTION, Scrofula, Nervous Debility, Asthma, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Female Complaints, and all other diseases depending upon a DEFICIENT VITALITY IN THE ELEMENTS OF THE BLOOD, have proved their INVARIABLE EFFICACY in thousands of cases in Europe and America and established the claim of the discoverer, that they are a SUE PRESERVATIVE, and a

SPECIFIC REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION.

Dr. Churchill says: "In no single instance have I found the remedy fail to produce everything that could be reasonably expected from it. In most instances the benefit derived from it has FAR EXCEEDED what could at first have been hoped for, when taking into account the degree and extent of the injury sustained by the lungs previously to the use of the remedy. * * * * Out of twenty two cases so the third or last stage, treated at my Dispensary during the past year, EIGHT HAVE COMPLETELY RECOVERED, eight have died, and six are still under treatment. SUCH A RESULT IS ALTOGETHER UNPARALLELED IN THE ANNALS OF MEDICINE."

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

Knowing that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of that dreadful and terrous maladie, who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any Medicine he advertises will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter, by exposing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Hughes. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivaled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miscreants who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, and better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—he only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—13 Howard street, Boston.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
UNCLAIMED PATENTS 1857.
75 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions, and legal opinions and advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or determining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. In proof of this, below are given the rates that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST TEST OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services more moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides its extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at most reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made no twice rejected applications, BUT GRANTED APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, Jan. 1, 1859. R. H. EDDY.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

A compound remedy in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still potent power as to afford an active and effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one of which will a complish their cure must be of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow citizens. How completely this compound will do it, has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:—

Scrofula and Scrofulous Complaints, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases, Ulcers, Pimples, Blotches, Tumors, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Syphilis and Syphilitic Affections, Mercurial Disease, Dropsy, Neuralgia or Tic Doulourex, Debility, Dyspepsia and Indigestion, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from Impurity of the Blood.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling diseases are nipped in the bud.—Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the encurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed or sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health and live vigorous lives, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtues it is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or anything else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been trashes upon the stock, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly cspised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we believe we have grounds for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to accomplish this result, confidence must be gained by a good article, that the public shall be satisfied that it will do them good, and not harm, as many

PUBLIC ECONOMY.

Messrs. Editors:—It being a truism, that "figures never lie," it may be also said perhaps, that all that is needed in the case of some pretty good and well-meaning people, to make them of sound honest principles, is an acquaintance with or practice in the science of figures.

The science of book-keeping, when thoroughly understood, and practised in all its perfect details, reveals to the student truths of which he would otherwise remain ignorant, although such truths may not always be the most palatable; for the reason that it is far more pleasant to feel ourself to be always in a prosperous state, than to have any prompting from contrary surmises. But this science keeps one or both sides, according as they exist, constantly before the mind.

It can hardly be said of this age, that it is a truth-loving age, in this respect; or that it is very strongly and generally grounded on the love of principle in any respect. If this be true, it can hardly be expected that the truth-speaking index should be very highly regarded:—temporary expediency, conformity to other people's notions, whether according to a standard or no standard at all, place out of sight and of mind the teachings of sound wisdom and experience.

The writer of this feels that he could write and say a great deal in the strain of the foregoing; and this feeling is particularly excited when he reads and hears the common talk about this or that place "going ahead," as it is termed.

There are a great many towns and places, as well as a great many people that need progress, because they have left out of sight first principles:—and it may be also said that they will have to proceed a great deal further than they have yet done; and then they will fall very far short of the mark of some other places and people, that have seemingly done nothing but stand still for years and generations. The movements of the former make a great splash; and why? Because they are striving to get hold of a sound practical principle which eludes their fickleness: while those of the latter have the quietness, the ease, the comfort, always resulting from the consciousness of purposes attained, and a steady disposition to abide in the truth.

Were it not for the fearful significance of the facts, it would indeed be quite amusing to notice the items which are generally set down as constituting the term "progress," in its general acceptation. Prominent among these would be a fearlessness to increase indebtedness. People's ears have got so used to this though very recent practice of pledging towns and counties, &c., that, like some people whom we have read of, that have supposed gain was godliness, so these seem to talk as if that hateful abomination, debt, was in reality a virtue;—and that mortgaged homes and houses were no evil.

But all the dereliction from principle, and depravity of individuals or communities, cannot make wrong right, nor alter the uncontrovertible truth that when a man or a community becomes a debtor, he or they have parted with the dearest of all earthly blessings—liberty.

Let no one tell me that it is a sign of progress for a town or an individual to be increasing interest liabilities; it is, as I regard it, a sign of a retrograde movement; and the destruction which follows in almost all business, sooner or later, that is based upon indebtedness and maintained by large payments of interest, constantly reiterates the power of that wholesome precept of christianity—"Owe no man anything."

But is this practicable? I say, yes; we must not willingly incur an absolute debt, i. e. a debt where there is not a counterpart of available assets and property.

If I buy of another person a piece of convertible property of any kind, I may honestly give him an obligation to pay him the value of the same, whenever I shall dispose of it.

But I should err, if I should be willing on any consideration whatever, to transact a purchase of a piece of non-convertible or destructible property, and make an indebtedness therefor greater than its actual value or my real immediate ability; excepting cases of absolute necessity, in regard to the actual means of subsistence, in which case the creditor takes into view the liability of repudiation.

A town would not do wrong if it should make a purchase of any amount of land that might be needed for any purposes of commons and public squares, or any use the citizens might agree on, provided not more than the lowest actual or supposable value was paid for the same, because the property stands as a counterpart of the debt;—but it would be wrong to pay an inflated price for such property, because in the event of the debt being required to be paid, the loss must fall on unknown parties.

Making this the standard, I do not think it right to incur indebtedness for school-houses or the like; better use such buildings as we can pay for on the spot, and at the time, and thus teach our children one of the most important items of knowledge, i. e. honesty; and not let them have the advantage of using property which does not belong to them or us of this generation,—and which is to be paid for or repudiated by somebody of some future generation, who will not thank us for the imposition of such burdens.

We have the matter of a City Hall discussed. Is it expedient to have one? For one I would say, yes: this or any other building of non-convertible value which our citizens think it best to have; provided they subscribe the money on the spot, and that not the least indebtedness is left upon the city therefor.

But if there is any idea, consonant with sound honesty of principle, that would favor such an enterprise based upon an increase of indebtedness, it is beyond my "ken." I should be very slow and very sorry to charge upon any person who might favor such a scheme, dishonesty of purpose; but must at the same time express my convictions that they thereby betray a great deal of recklessness.

A person does not hazard much in asserting that final repudiation is the only method of discharging an accumulated indebtedness; and on this ground the abounding town, city, county and state securities of the present day require the greatest scrutiny on the part of those who make investments, to ascertain if they are guaranteed by actual, productive and convertible property.

My interpretation, then, of the scripture referred to is, no willing indebtedness whatever; but the principle is not violated when property as above named stands in its place, or in cases of absolute necessity on the part of the debtor, where the creditor understands and accepts the liability of failure of ability.

But it may be said, that if we rely on voluntary subscriptions nothing would be done,—not even the poor provided for. In answer to this I would assert the right to assess and require immediate money payment, as is done—for all necessary uses; but not for an object of doubtful necessity to incur a money debt to be paid in "homesteads." LEGER.

THE PRESIDENCY.—The New York Herald has for sometime past predicted the formation of a Southern Democratic and Southern Opposition party at the South; a Douglas Democratic and Republican party at the North; consequently a scrub race for the Presidency, and an election by the House of Representatives. It assumes that Gov. Wise will put himself at the head of the advocates of a congressional slave code, for the territories, while Douglas will be the representative of popular sovereignty; that the latter will be defeated in his ultimatum at the Charleston Convention, and with his forces will secede and proceed to organize a party at the Northwest equally opposed to the Southern sectional Democracy and Northern Republicans; that the Republicans will support Seward, while the Southern opposition will sustain Goggin or some such man. This it supposes will lead to the election by the House of either Douglas, Seward or Wise. The Herald regards this project with favor, and as the only means of rescuing the Democracy from annihilation.

DESERTION OF MARINES.—The Journal of Commerce says that within a week no less than fourteen marines have run away from the Brooklyn barracks and the receiving ship North Carolina. The runaways assign as the cause of their dissatisfaction that they are not allowed sufficient liberty. They are also said to be deserting from Charlestown.

☞ Mr. Choate's remains arrived at Boston on Friday, and were buried on Saturday. Funeral honors, appropriate to the man and place, were paid by a meeting of citizens on Friday,—by friends at his house on Saturday,—and by his pastor, Rev. Dr. Adams, at the Essex street church.

☞ Arrangements have just been completed for the publication in Washington of a political and literary magazine, to be called the National Democratic Review, under the editorship of Col. Florence, assisted by eminent contributors. It is to be the expositor of the present and all future democratic administrations.

☞ A Philadelphia policeman arrived at Harrisburg, Pa., on Tuesday last, bringing with him his little daughter, aged ten, who was placed in the State Lunatic Asylum.—The child was a very intelligent one, and its close application to study threw it into fits and resulted in destroying the mind.

☞ The Boston Common Council, after a bother of about three weeks, has passed a vote of thanks to George Sumner, for his 4th of July oration. Three Irish Americans were the talkers against it. The Atlas calls their opposition, "the charge of the Irish Brigade."

The grand essentials to happiness in this life are, something to do, something to love, and something to hope for.

STATUE TO JOSIAH QUINCY. — At a meeting of the Alumni Association of Harvard College, on Wednesday, it was resolved to erect a statue to Hon. Josiah Quincy, to be executed by Wm. H. Story, himself an alumnus under the presidency of Mr. Quincy—they being desirous so to express to him their united affection, and their admiration and respect for his long and still continued public services; for his faithful care of the interests of Harvard College and of all good learning; for his life-long devotion to the cause of liberty; for his manly and hopeful patriotism; for the elevation and purity of his principles and his life; for the readiness of his sympathies in every good cause; and desirous furthermore to hold up his example for imitation to the youth of all coming generations.

"If the people of a territory don't want slavery, let them exclude it."—Augusta Age.

"LET them exclude it." By what authority? You hold that Congress will not confer upon the territory the power to exclude it—that it "has just so much and no more power than is conferred by its organic act." That slavery exists in the federal territories under the Constitution, and you provide the right of appeal to the federal judiciary from the legislation of the people upon any question touching slave property, and to determine whether such legislation is in conflict with the Constitution.

Let the people exclude slavery if they can! Will you give them the power to do so as a sovereign political right, subject to no revision! If so, why has not your party said so at any time since the "inauguration of the sound, conservative and constitutional policy of 1854?"—Augusta Journal.

NEW YORK ITEMS.—New York, July 22.—James J. Lyon, architect, was arrested yesterday, on a charge of alleged conspiracy and libel, preferred by Wm. E. Burton, the actor. The libel accused Burton of a design to burn down his theatre on Broadway, and of an attempt to hire the accused, Thomas Ellis, to execute the design. The parties were held to bail.

A despatch from Washington says Mr. McLane's despatches received by the Tennessee, give no encouragement to a solution of the Mexican problem.

A young lady named Beiser, daughter of Capt. Beiser of this city, was drowned yesterday while bathing at Coney Island. Another young lady, her companion, was swept two miles seaward by the receding tide, but was finally rescued.

☞ The late G. W. P. Custis, it is said, liberated his slaves by his will. The will has not been carried out, and the negroes are still held in servitude. Three of them ran away, but were captured and sent back, and whipped.

It seems then, (says the Augusta Journal,) that there are those living as heirs of the Washington family whose love of wealth, as embodied in men and women, is stronger than their sense of justice or their regard for the expressed will of their dead relatives.

The Fugitive Slave Law was enacted to secure the return of those "owing labor and service." But it is used to bring back men and women who owe nothing of the kind—having been released from such obligation by the death-bed liberality of their masters!

☞ The wheat crop of this country, just harvested, is set down at two hundred and one millions of bushels, or about forty millions of barrels, or one and three-fifths for every one of the twenty-five millions of individuals in this country. This would not seem to be a great deal more than our wants would require, and it would not be if we had not the other cereals, and particularly the great crop of Indian corn to help out the supply. Ohio is given a production of 22,000,000 bushels, Pennsylvania 20,000,000, New York 20,000,000, Illinois 20,000,000. They New England States have decreased in their production of wheat, but the West has increased four to one. The amount of land under wheat cultivation this year is thirty-three per cent greater than in 1856.

☞ The N. Y. Journal of Commerce of Thursday P. M., says:

"The foreign news has taken the market by surprise and has produced a 'mixed' effect, no two persons taking exactly the same view of it. Some regard it as unfavorable to the produce business and shipping interests, and therefore look for a depressing influence; others think this will be more than counter-balanced by the effect of peace upon cotton and monetary affairs, and are therefore buoyant and hopeful.

The stock market opened with more buoyancy and some improvement in prices, but this was not sustained, the croakers predicting the falling off in railroad receipts owing to the stoppage of war supplies, and most of the advance was lost; in some cases prices fell below yesterday's rates."

☞ The price of flour ought to fall rapidly. Peace in Europe and abundant harvests there; and a large crop in this country and no foreign demand for it; what now is to keep it up?

☞ The Salisbury Mills Company held their annual meeting in Amesbury on Tuesday last, when a semi-annual dividend of ten per cent. was declared. The stock now sells in Boston at about 20 per cent. above par.

☞ Mr. Winthrop Sargent of Philadelphia has in preparation a memoir of Major Andre, for which he has, it is said, obtained new and interesting materials.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

OPPRESSION AFTER EATING.—Many persons, after an ordinary meal, feel a sense of weight and discomfort in the region of the stomach, the sure sign of an imperfect digestion, and probably the forerunner of a settled dyspepsia. Nothing will relieve this oppression like the PERUVIAN SYRUP, by the stimulus it gives to the digestive powers.

Common Sense rules the mass of the people, whatever the mismamed and misantirope philosophers may say to the contrary. Show them a good thing; let its merits be clearly demonstrated, and they will not hesitate to give it their most cordial patronage. The masses have already ratified the judgment of a physician, concerning the virtues of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, as may be seen in the immense quantities of this medicine that are annually sold in every section of the land. It is now recognized as greatly superior to all other remedies yet devised for diseases of the digestive organs, such as diarrhœa, dysentery, dyspepsia, and for the various fevers that arise from derangement of those portions of the system. Hostetter's name is rapidly becoming a household word, from Maine to Texas; from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pacific. Try the article and be satisfied.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

Dyspepsia.

Considering the various forms in which this disease developes itself, it may well be called hydra-headed. In its train follow Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, Heartburn, Water Brash, Costiveness, Piles, Acidity, Oppression after Eating, Jaundice, Flatulency, Torpor of the Liver, Dizziness, Debility, Female Complaints, &c. Some of the first men in our land have given their written testimonies relative to the cures effected in their own persons by the OXYGENATED BITTERS; while testimonials from other sources, editorial opinions and vilionary expressions from prominent men to see their names in print, are perfectly overwhelming.

Read the following from a highly respectable Clergyman:

EAST TAUNTON, MASS., Feb. 9, '58.

To the Editor of the Portland Mirror.—Sir:—

OXYGENATED BITTERS—For more than twenty five years I have been a sufferer from the dyspepsia. Besides trying the patience of my family physicians in the almost useless trial of their various prescriptions, I have tried a great variety of patent medicines with a similar result. Through the kindness of my physician, I received last March, half a dozen bottles of the OXYGENATED BITTERS. I began to use them without any hope of deriving help from them. Being determined to give them a fair trial, I continued their use, but without any perceptible benefit, till June.

Since then I have gradually improved in health till I am entirely free from acidity of the stomach, and from the consequent flatulency, and the awful and almost distracting sick headache, which often, for days together, has wholly unfitted me for study and for all other ministerial duties, and rendered life a burden.

I feel that I owe it, as an expression of gratitude to Messrs. Fowle & Co., and also to the public, to recommend their Oxygenated Bitters, as, in my estimation, a sure remedy for that most trying, most vexing, and cruel of all diseases, to which poor humanity is heir, the dyspepsia. Having suffered so long, and tried so many different remedies with no good result, I can recommend the Oxygenated Bitters with a confidence few others can. If any of the readers of the Mirror are suffering, I beg of them to make trial of these Bitters without delay.

Dr. Langley's Root and Herb Bitters.

They are made from the most valuable Roots, Herbs and Plants in the vegetable kingdom.—They act at once upon the seat of disease.—They remove all obstructions from the internal organs—regulate the Bowels—purify the Blood—remove Humors—excite the liver into healthy action—give strength and tone to the stomach—cure Jaundice and Dyspepsia—create an appetite—increase and renew the circulation—remove all Bilious diseases—cure Fever and Fever and Ague, Weakness, &c., and are the best medicine ever discovered for all Female Complaints. The purify, heal, strengthen, build up and keep in order "the house you live in."

Doctors' prescriptions, clothed in Latin verbs,
Now yield the palm to Langley's Roots and Herbs;
Formerly drugs and cruel doses were Nature's store,
As did the Patriarchs in days of yore.
Roots, Herbs and Barks, the best in Nature's store,
From broad Atlantic to Pacific's shore,
From North to South, their healing virtues lend,
And in these Bitters prove the people's friend.
They'll strengthen, warm, your bodies vigorous make,
Rouse drooping spirits and new blood create.
So if you wish to feel well, act well, do well and keep well, use this standard valuable medicine.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

This Gin, distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveliance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic for medical use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrimonious flavor, rendering the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHILLS and FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

MRS. WINSLOW,
An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,
For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay all PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, of it, that we have never been able to say of any other medicine, — NEVER HAS IT FAILED IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of the highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak, in this matter, what we do know, after ten years experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the child is suffering from pain and exhaustion, from fifteen to twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST EXPERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England and has been used with THOUSANDS OF CASES. never failing success, in

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the BEST and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—Do not let your own prejudices, or the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that is ABSOLUTELY SURE to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York.

GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC,

Price only 25 cents per bottle.

LOCAL.

☞ At a special meeting of the Common Council, Friday evening—Mr. Goodall in the Chair—the plan for School House in Cabot street, accepted by the Aldermen, was also accepted and adopted by the Common Council. This building is designed to be of wood, one story, 93 feet by 40 we think, 18 feet posts, with two entrances on State street. It was voted that the building be advertised for contract and awarded to the lowest responsible Portsmouth bidder—the limit being $4500; and to be completed by December 1st.

Mr. Clark, from the committee on city buildings, reported that it was inexpedient to put the aqueduct into the Brick Market. Adopted.

A resolution was passed for concurrence, appointing a joint committee to consider the expediency of procuring a Steam Fire Engine for this city—and Councilmen Clark and Miller appointed.

POLICE COURT, July 21.—Before Justice Rollins.—Timothy Splodin, one of our adopted fellow citizens, plead guilty to a charge of assault on Miranda Hart; and was fined $1; costs $7.62.

Timothy Murphy, another adopted citizen, plead guilty to a charge of indecent assault on the same person, and was fined $6; costs $7.62.

Both paid their fines and costs, and gave bonds in $100 to keep the peace.

☞ We print on our fourth page, the manifesto of Alexander the Great, announcing his abdication, &c. Poor fellow! He has "fought, bled and died" for the true blue Democratic (party) principles; and has won neither glory nor honor—not even sympathy or respect,—no, and not even pelf.

It is really laughable for us, to see a hunker lawyer thus whining about political proscription for principle—when everybody knows there's precious little of that article current among political partizans of any hue. The only moral we can draw from the whole matter, is—it is best to let well enough alone, and never allow private personal pique or preference to lead us into any indiscretion or injustice to public business men. The Gazette man has always belonged to the party which shouts "to the victors belong the spoils"—so what has he to complain of?

Mr. Gray, who now takes the Gazette, will make it go as no man has done since our recollection—which runneth not back through the list of lawyers and other non-printers, to the days of its prosperity in the hands of the craft. Wonder when the world will learn that a knowledge of printing is absolutely indispensable to the successful proprietorship of country newspapers? One good typo in such a position, is worth all the lawyers and literary impracticables who have ever cumbered a sanctum.

Mr. Gray is a good printer and editor, and a fair and square business man—and for four years was connected with us in the publication of the Chronicle. We wish him all success in his new position—and have no doubt he will attain it. F.

☞ A recently deceased cotemporary, (whose initials, if changed so that the last two were the double of the middle, would exactly express his character,) kicks round rather wildly in his last struggles, but hits nobody. He raves of "skim-milk"—probably signifying that his pap is gone. He talks of lotteries—perhaps having on his mind the recollection of being personally engaged in a certain "drawing" last winter—which we hope he did fairly. Finally he gasps out that he is not smart enough to print a newspaper down this way; well, we could have told him that before he begun—especially if he was going to dictate terms of political action to his superiors. Suffice it to say he was badly thrown from that political hobby, and perhaps it is no wonder he feels sore.

☞ We had a smart shower in this city and vicinity, on Friday night. During the shower, the lightning struck the barn of Mr. Jenkins, near Eliot Depot,—and the building was entirely consumed. The light was visible here.

FROM WASHINGTON.—New York, July 28.—The Times Washington correspondent says Mr. McLane's private Secretary has arrived from Mexico, with the treaty negotiated with the Liberal government. Mr. McLane estimates the church property of Mexico at $100,000,000, of which about one-half is within the control of Juarez.

☞ The Kansas Constitutional Convention has decided that women shall have the same control and management of all school matters as men; that in all school elections, and the exercises of all the duties of school officers, no distinction be made between them. The closing vote that settled this point stood 28 for to 21 against,—all the 17 Democrats in the Convention being of the latter number.

ISLAND OF NAUSION, July 22.—A telegraph cable was successfully laid yesterday, connecting this island with Tarpaulin Cove and the main land. Communication is perfect. The terminus of the line in Boston is at Palmer's News Room, 83 State street.

SICKLES, PER SE.

Hon. Daniel E. Sickles says of himself:

My reconciliation with my wife was my own act, done without consultation with any relative, connection, friend, or adviser. Whatever blame, if any, belongs to the step, should fall alone upon me. I am prepared to defend what I have done before the only tribunals I recognize as having the slightest claim to jurisdiction over the subject—my own conscience and the bar of Heaven. I am not aware of any statute, or code of morals, which makes it infamous to forgive a woman; nor is it usual to make our domestic life a subject of consultation with friends, no matter how near and dear to us. And I cannot allow even all the world combined to dictate to me the repudiation of my wife, when I think it right to forgive her, and restore her to my confidence and protection.

If I ever failed to comprehend the utter desolate position of an offending though penitent woman,—and the hopeless future, with all its dark possibilities of danger, to which she was doomed when proscribed as an outcast—I can now see plainly enough in the almost universal howl of denunciation with which she is followed to my threshhold, the misery and perils from which I have rescued the mother of my child. And although it is very sad for me to incur the blame of friends and the reproaches of many wise and good people, I shall strive to prove to all who feel an interest in me, that if I am the first man who has ventured to say to the world an erring wife and mother may be forgiven and redeemed, that in spite of all the obstacles in my path, the good results of this example shall entitle it to the imitation of the generous and the commendation of the just.

There are many who think that an act of duty, proceeding solely from affections which can only be comprehended in the heart of a husband and father, is to be fatal to my professional, political and social standing—if this be so, then so be it. Political station, professional success, social recognition, are not the only prizes of ambition; and I have seen enough of the world in which I have moved, and read enough of the lives of others, to teach me, that if one be patient and resolute, it is the man himself who indicates the place he will occupy; and so long as I do nothing worse than to reunite my family under the roof where they may find shelter from contumely and persecution, I do not fear the noisy but fleeting voice of popular clamor.

In conclusion, let me ask only one favor of those who, from whatever motive, may deem it necessary, or aggreeable to comment in public or private upon this sad history; and that is to aim all their arrows at my breast, and for the sake of my innocent child to spare her yet youthful mother, while she seeks in sorrow and contrition the mercy and the pardon of Him, to whom sooner or later, we must all appeal.

A SECOND DANIEL COME TO JUDGMENT.—"I am not aware of any statute or code of morals which makes it infamous to forgive a woman."—Daniel E. Sickles to the Herald.

Does he know of any statute or code of morals which makes it infamous to forgive a man!—N. Y. Evening Post.

FROM CALIFORNIA.—New Orleans, July 21.—Steamship W. H. Webb has arrived with Minatitlan dates of the 18th inst., and California of the 5th.

Steamships Golden Gate and Cortez, had $2,200,000 in treasure for New York, and 900 passengers.

Business was depressed at San Francisco, and there had been two large failures. The prices of leading goods were tending downwards. The money market was easy.

The news from the mines was favorable. The grain harvest promised to be abundant.

The Fourth of July was celebrated throughout the state with unusual enthusiasm.

The news from Mexico is interesting. Gen. Marquesa had robbed the conducta from Guanaguata to San Blas of $600,000.

A conspiracy had been discovered in the city of Mexico to place Marquesa in power, who subsequently declared in favor of Santana at Guadalagara.

Miramon had made a complete change in his Cabinet, on account of a change in his policy, viz: giving liberty to the press, an amnesty for political offences, and a partial confiscation of the church property.

The church had declared for Marquesa, who was at Guadalajara with 2000 men.

GREELEY AT THE GOLD DIGGINGS.—The following glimpse of the gold diggings is from the pen of the editor of the Tribune, who is on his way over the plains:

The "Denver House," which is the Astor House of the gold region, has walls of logs, a floor of earth, with windows and roof of rather flimsy cotton sheeting, while every guest is allowed as good a bed as his blankets will make. The charges are no higher than at the Astor and other first-class hotels, except for liquor—25 cents a drink for dubious whiskey, colored and nicknamed to suit the taste of customers, being the regular rate throughout this region. I had the honor to be shaved there by a nephew (so he assured me) of Murat, Bonaparte's King of Naples—the honor and the shave together costing but a paltry dollar. Still, a few days of such luxury surfeited me, mainly because the drinking room was also occupied by several blacklegs as a gambling hall, and their incessant clamor of "Who'll go me XX? The ace of hearts is the winning card. Whoever turns the ace of hearts wins the $20," &c., &c., persisted in at all hours up to midnight, became at length a nuisance, from which I craved deliverance at any price. Then the visitors of that drinking and gambling room had a careless way, when drunk, of firing revolvers, sometimes at each other, at other times quite miscellaneously, which struck me as inconvenient for a quiet guest with only a leg and a half, hence in poor condition for dodging bullets. So I left.

Seven Octave Piano --- New Scale.

The Subscriber having just received a superior SEVEN OCTAVE PIANO-FORTE, made according to his order by the celebrated firm of HALLET, DAVIS & CO., would offer it for the inspection of persons desirous of purchasing. H. D. & Co. have recently made great improvements in the manufacture of Pianos, the most important of which is the New Scale, which, while obviating the weakness which has hitherto been found in the upper part of Square Seven Octave Pianos, gives it a power of tone nearly equal to that of the Parlor Grand.

Having been for several years Agent for the sale of Pianos of the above make, Mr. P. is prepared to state that the instruments which they are now making, far excel any of their former manufacture.

Purchasers will find it greatly to their advantage to call and examine the above mentioned Piano, as it is the only one in Portsmouth which contains the NEW SCALE.

and as a Beverage it has no superior in the world. It is manufactured by the proprietor, at Schiedam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spiritous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, Bladder and Kidney Complaints, &c. &c.

Put up in quart and pint bottles, in Cases of one dozen quarts, and two dozen pints, with the proprietor's name on the bottle, cork and label. For sale by all the respectable Country Merchants and Druggists. Look out for counterfeits and imitations, as the whole country is flooded with them

TO THE PUBLIC.

I beg leave to call the attention of the American Public to the following Certificate from the Government Chemist for the Island of Cuba and the Spanish West Indies, and who is known to the Scientific men of London, Paris, Madrid, Cuba and America to be the first Chemist in the world.

UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHEMICAL TESTIMONY.

D. Jose Luis Casaseca, Corresponding Member of the Royal Academies of Madrid and Munich, a Graduate in Sciences of the Faculty of Paris, formerly Professor of Chemistry, applied to the Arts, of the Royal Conservatorio of Madrid, and of Physics and Chemistry, as applied to the Industry and Agriculture of the country, in the Royal University of this Island, at present H. M's Director of the Institute of Chemical Investigation, &c., &c.

Do hereby certify, that at the request of the house of Gottig & Will, of this place, I have made an analytical examination of U. Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps, with the object of ascertaining if it contained any substance noxious to health, and to inform them as to its true composition and relative quality with the other gins that are offered in the market, and the results of my observations and experiments are as follows:—

Udolpho Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps is a spirituous liquid, of a very agreeable aromatic odor, completely transparent and almost colorless, having only a very slight tint of yellowish gray; its flavor is strong and very agreeable to the palate. It marks 20 degrees in Cartier's alcohol weigher or 52 degrees 5 hundredth in Gay Lussac's alcohometre. By the distillation in a balnium maria, with an apparatus consisting of a glass retort and a recipient surrounded with ice, I have collected in this recipient an alcoholic liquid with a very agreeable aroma completely colorless and transparent, which marked 90 degrees in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, or 70 degrees 5 hundredth on Gay Lussac's alcohometre; and which represented as a whole 57 per cent. of aromatic Schiedam schnapps subject to distillation in the retort. This liquid did not soil the transparency of the distilled water in mixing it with the same, and its agreeable aroma is doubtless due to a very trifling amount of an essential oil inseparable from alcohol.

From the remainder of the distillation which was left in the retort, I have obtained, through evaporation in a vapor bath, a substance of a yellowish brown color, clear, and having a bitter taste, which is not disagreeable, and which afterwards becomes aromatic and leaves the mouth perfumed with that fragrance peculiar to the vanilla. I am inclined to believe that to this bitter and aromatic extractive substance, soluble in water and alcohol, the medicinal properties which are attributed to this gin are due. I have not found in Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps any mineral or organic substance other than the extractive one already named and the aromatic one obtained by distillation. Finally, Udolpho Wolfe's aromatic Schiedam schnapps consists of an aromatic alcohol of 20 degrees of graduation in Cartier's alcoholic weigher, and of an extractive bitter aromatic substance, which perhaps, is medicinal; and, on account of its not containing any matter injurious to the health, as well as for its odor and good flavor—a fact which no doubt arises from the choice substances employed in its manufacture and from the peculiar manner of its distillation, it should in my opinion, be preferred to all the Holland, Belgic and German gins which are found in this island which it has been my business to examine. These gins as I have often proved it, exhale a disagreeable odor, and have a more or less disagreeable flavor, some of them having left as was the case with the superior gin from the distillery of Mr. Henry Deetjen (of Bremen,) as residuum after evaporation by steam, a substance almost insipid and very trifling aromatic, with flavor of vanilla, but in no wise with the delicious bitter and aromatic flavor of Udolpho Wolfe's gin; and others, such as that labelled "Genuine Samaritan," "Extra Superior," Messrs. Tracner have furnished me with a very small quantity of a greenish substance, of harsh and disagreeable aromatic odor, which extractive organic matter was mixed with a salt of copper, with signs of iron, owing perhaps, to a bad system of distillation.

I certify that all that is here stated is the truth and agrees with the experiments I have made with the greatest care, and I authorize the house of Gottig & Will, of this city, to give publicity to this certificate, in Spanish and in foreign languages, in all countries where it may suit their interest to do so. JOSE LUIS CASASECA.

From the N. H. Gazette.

To the Patrons of the Gazette.

Having disposed of the New Hampshire Gazette establishment to a party who is now ready to assume its management, our connection with the same as editor and proprietor closes with the present number. Various considerations have united in influencing us to take this step; some of them it is fitting and desirable that we should state, and in so doing we will endeavor to speak frankly and with distinctness.

In the first place, then, the paper has not paid. We knew it would not quite pay expenses when we took it, but we thought the salary of Inspector of Customs, would enable us to live, while by our exertions we might rescue this old organ of the Democracy from the death to which it was hastening, and eventually make it self-supporting. But we soon found that humiliating conditions were to be the price of the government office we held; that to advocate Democracy as understood in this State; as understood and affirmed by the National Convention; as endorsed and expounded by the leaders of the party, from James Buchanan down to the humblest editor or stump-speaker in the land, was not just the service required of those who would enjoy the favors and the patronage of the Administration. We had ever been a Democrat; were born one, educated one; no Federal, Whig nor Black Republican blood can be found in us, nor in any of our relatives, till you get away among our second cousins. We have ever been proud of the history of the Democratic party, and we have ever felt an ardent attachment to its holy principles; and we have never neglected, upon all fitting occasions, to speak, write, and contribute in every other way, to the extent of our humble ability and means, in furtherance of the success of the principles and the candidates of this party of our early, only choice. But when we found an Administration indebted to the Democracy for its existence, proving false to our Platform of Principles, striving to substitute the odious dogmas of Negro Despotism for the pure and honest doctrines of Popular Sovereignty; when we saw the head of the Administration exerting every nerve of the mighty power possessed by virtue of its enormous patronage, first to force a State into the Union against her will, a State whose Constitution came before Congress "reeking with blood and fraud," and, failing in that scheme, turning like a baffled tiger with yells and howls and gnashing teeth,—with blind rage endeavoring to destroy the man whose clarion voice and strong will had saved the Democracy from everlasting disgrace and destruction, and even the nation from revolution and civil war;—when we saw these things, we could not fail to express our condemnation of them, and to prove that the party did not, and could not, and would not sustain an Administration in the further prosecution of this suicidal and wicked work. Of course, our offence was deemed an unpardonable one, a sort of political "blasphemy against the Holy Ghost," and the consequences followed, of which our readers are aware. Deprived first of our office, and then of the government contract advertising, we have gone on in the publication of this paper as long as we deem it for our pecuniary interests to do so. Had we been willing to

"Whose very name our heart blood warms,"

"Crook the pliant hinges of the knee"

before the sacrificial altar, to utter week after week statements we knew to be false, and advocate principles abhorrent to all our notions of justice and honor, we might to-day have been in the enjoyment of the emoluments and the disgrace which an official station retained by such means would insure. We chose our course, and have nothing to regret.

It is a source of pleasure to us that we leave the Gazette in a much better condition than we found it. Without any special exertions, we have increased its subscription list nearly fifty per cent., have much increased the value of its advertising patronage, and brought the concern into a position where it will be much more nearly remunerative to its owner than it has been at any former period during the past quarter of a century.

Samuel Gray, Esq., who has been for several years Foreman in this office, and is well known to the larger portion of the patrons of the paper, is to be our successor. He is an excellent printer, and a good writer; we are confident he will spare no pains to improve the Gazette in every respect, and make it an acceptable and valuable organ of the Democracy; and we bespeak for him a better encouragement and a more liberal reward for his labor than has fallen to the lot of some of his predecessors. We sincerely hope that the Democratic party in this city and county will feel it to be their duty to support their local paper, for we are confident that their success depends, in a great measure, upon so doing.

One word more, and we have done. There is now a very large amount due us for subscriptions, job work and advertising; all that has accrued since we took the office, together with that which was contracted to its former publishers, the same having been assigned and transferred to us. In the aggregate it is a large amount, much more than all the cash we have received since we entered the business; but it is distributed in small sums among a great many people, and over a large territory. We shall soon make out bills and send them by mail to all who are owing, and shall expect an immediate response. Should there be what appears to us an unreasonable delay in the payment of these bills, the costs of collection will be paid by the debtor, provided he is solvent. Our own necessities and liabilities will compel us to take this course.

By arrangement with the new publisher, all our contracts with advertisers, advance paid subscribers, &c., will be recognized and adopted by him.

Grateful for many favors, we are

Respectfully yours,

AMOS S. ALEXANDER.

(From Mrs. Daniel H. Williams.)

DR. SWETT—Dear Sir:—I presume you recollect that when I saw you, about a year since, I was very low, and had been for a long time, with dyspeptic complaints, being very weak, with no appetite, and pain in my head, stomach and side; but now my health is comparatively good, and I consider this great deliverance attributable, mainly, to the two bottles of your "Compound Cordial of Dandelion," which you left for me. I consider this the best medicine I ever found for the complaints for which you recommend it on the labels.

MARY E. WILLIAMS.

Concord, N. H., May 28, 1858.

ENFIELD, Sept. 8, 1859.

Last spring and Summer I was troubled with the Liver Complaint, which caused my food to distress me badly; and I do not know what cured me, but one thing I do know, and that is, I took one bottle of Dr. S. Swett's Cordial of Dandelion, and the disease left me, and has not returned.

A. K. CURRIER.

This unequalled medicine, together with others carefully prepared by Dr. SIMEON SWETT, from innocent but effectual vegetables, are for sale by him at No. 13 CABOT ST., Portsmouth, N. H.

UNRIVALLED IN THE MARKET,

WITH IMMENSE

HOME AND EUROPEAN DEMAND.

The reason why, is that by Nature's own process it restores the natural color permanently after the hair becomes gray; supplies the natural fluids, and thus makes the growth healthy, removes all dandruff, itching, and heat from the scalp, quiets and tones up the nerves, and thus cures all nervous headache, and may be relied upon to cure all diseases of the scalp and hair; it will stop and keep it from falling off; makes it soft, glossy, healthy and beautiful, and if used by the young two or three times a week it will never fail or become gray; then, reader, read the following and judge for yourselves:

NEW YORK, Jan. 3, 1858.

MESSRS. O. J. WOOD & CO.,

Gentlemen: Having heard a good deal about Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and my hair being quite gray, I made up my mind to lay aside the prejudices which I, in common with a great many persons, had against all manner of patent medicines, and a short time ago I commenced using your article, to test it for myself.
